I. BACKGROUND

Providing a true and thorough account[1] of any topic or period is a difficult endeavor, but it is especially so when one is not afforded the luxury of declassified documents or the passage of time which seems to clear the air of any contemporary—often political—hurdles to the truth. In fact, there appears to be an inverse relationship between the recency of events (scandalous, as is this account, or not) and the willingness of the associated parties to speak about them. The Marco Polo[2] nonprofit research group set out in September 2021 to write a comprehensive Report on the Biden Laptop—which it possessed a copy of—fully cognizant of these limitations. Nevertheless, the group intends for this Report to stand the test of time for its thorough and sober explanation of the situation: the blatant social media oligopoly suppression,[3] intelligence community (IC)[4] and corporate media[5] gaslighting, and cowardice of federal law enforcement to deliver justice to those who obviously committed crimes.

The Department of Justice (DOJ), specifically the Federal Bureau of Investigation (FBI), took possession of an Apple laptop previously used by Hunter Biden (Hunter) on 12/09/2019, following months of back-and-forth with a computer repair shop owner named John Paul Mac Isaac.[6] Hunter had abandoned the device at Mac Isaac's shop in Wilmington in April 2019. Based out of the Wilmington Resident Agency of the Baltimore[7] Field Office (BAFO), FBI Special Agents Mike Dzielak[8] (1-267-273-6744; DOB: 03/16/1971) and Josh Wilson[9] (1-973-699-5695; DOB: 05/09/1978), both[10] child pornography investigators, took weeks to respond to Mac Isaac, who wanted the device out of his shop because he believed it contained evidence of felonies. When the FBI agents finally acquired the laptop, their subpoena was issued under the pretense of a money laundering investigation.

This Report would not have been necessary if law enforcement had done its job. Dereliction of duty is nothing new for the FBI, as its government-sponsored[11] cover-up occurred with Anthony Weiner's devices.[12] Additionally, besides a few notable exceptions, news outlets and think tanks in America have been unwilling to investigate and expose the hundreds of crimes and conflicts of interest on the Biden Laptop which—as you will read—definitively implicate the sitting pResident, Joe Biden (Joe).

After the FBI slow-walk[13] came to light just before the 2020 pResidential [s]election, Agent Dzielak deleted his Facebook[14] account and other online information. It is unclear whether the fact that Hunter lobbied the U.S. Congress on behalf of Agent Dzielak's alma mater (Saint Joseph's University in Philadelphia, which awarded Joe an "honorary degree"[15] and where Dzielak's son, Luke,[16] is a student) factored into Dzielak's decision to not act on the Bidens' numerous federal and state felonies.[17] Information about the other fed, Agent Wilson, was difficult to locate, as if he, too, had intentionally scrubbed his online presence. We do know that Agent Wilson previously served[18] at the FBI Headquarters (FBI HQ) as the Coordinator for the Child Abduction Rapid Deployment (CARD) Team. Shown below is Agent Wilson's signature from an unrelated complaint he filed regarding child pornography offenses, along with the subpoena[19] he signed on 12/09/2019, which sought the laptop:

In 21st-century America, crimes and/or scandals involving electronic devices owned by public officials and their families are becoming an alarming trend. In fact, Hunter having abandoned his infamous water-damaged laptop at Mac Isaac's repair shop[20] was merely the latest in a string of national embarrassments. Our research group would not be concerned with such embarrassments if they did not provide America's many enemies—both foreign and domestic—with considerable blackmail.[21] Discontented with the many limited hangouts[22] released so far, this Report was our effort to give a true, complete, and lasting account of the Biden Laptop and its contents, which span over a decade.

To illustrate a point previously alluded to, the non-exhaustive list below of various electronic device scandals and public officials illustrates this national embarrassment:

- A laptop—along with an iPhone and iPad—that belonged to former Congressman Anthony Weiner (D-NY-11)[23] contained sexually explicit images he exchanged with a 15-year-old girl[24] from North Carolina. The devices contained evidence of other felonies, including classified emails[25] between Huma Abedin, Weiner's then-wife, and then-U.S. Secretary of State, Hillary Clinton
- Former Congressman Chris Lee[26] (R-NY-26) used his cell phone to take explicit photos and sent them through Craigslist to strangers
- Former First Lady Hillary Clinton illegally[27] used a private email server, which she had installed in a closet in her home in New York, for official government work while she was the U.S. Secretary of State. As a result, 38 public officials were "cited for violations" in the criminal conspiracy[28]
- Former FBI agents and philanderers, Peter Strzok and Lisa Page, exchanged hundreds of text messages on government-issued devices about everything from their hatred of Donald Trump and their "insurance policy"[29] about his election to the logistics of their trysts
- Former Congresswoman Katie Hill (D-CA-25) recorded and photographed[30] her sex and drug[31] binges with staff and her now ex-husband, which led to her resignation from Congress and a failed lawsuit against the outlets that exposed her degenerate and illegal behavior
- Ed Buck, a former mega-donor to Congressman Adam Schiff (D-CA-28)—and a member of the Electoral College in 2016 for the state of California—filmed and photographed his drug and sex benders with indigent Black men, which led to his conviction after two of the men died as a result of Buck injecting them with lethal doses of methamphetamine[32]
- Thousands of emails from John Podesta, Hillary Clinton's presidential campaign manager, revealed his associates' participation in séances[33] and secret engagements with international bankers

Especially relevant to the Biden Laptop scandal and this Report was Apple's iCloud feature and its capabilities.[34] As a general rule, any picture taken on Hunter's iPhone (and iPad) appeared on his laptop via the iCloud Photos application, which automatically synced the photos across his devices. From Marco Polo's perspective, this iCloud feature provided gigabytes of extra material to investigate, but it also presented challenges to establishing the basic "five Ws": who, what, when, where, and why.[35] For example, determining which iPhone device belonged to which member of the Biden family was critical, as who took a particular picture was as important as the actual image. Case in point: sexually suggestive photos of Hunter's niece were not synced to his laptop via iCloud, but were rather manually downloaded to his laptop when he "backed-up" his niece's and sister-in-law's phones to his laptop with the Dr. Fone tool.[36] This fact opened up multiple lines of questioning: Why did Hunter's sister-in-law have sexually suggestive photos of her own daughter on her iPhone? Why did Hunter want them? How were they not prosecuted for possessing them? With the Biden Laptop, questions like these were answered but—as is often the case—new lines of inquiry arose from those answers. Marco Polo is confident this Report will spur more answers to these and many other questions.

The volume of material on the Biden Laptop—from iPhone location data and internet browsing history to rental leases and insurance verification cards, in every file type imaginable—made the cover-up and slow-walk from the press, the IC apparatus, and law enforcement all the more enraging. The contacts, spreadsheets, photos, videos, messages, and other files (approximately 200 gigabytes)[37] confirmed there was no plausible way the material was forged. Shortly after the corporate media's pre-election cover-up[38] was complete, liberal publications[39][40] began allowing their writers to ask basic questions. For instance, Joe said that he had "never spoken" with Hunter about his businesses. Why, then, did Joe meet with Tony Bobulinski[41] in the Beverly Hilton for nearly an hour on 05/02/2017?[42] Instead of asking simple questions that would have revealed his complicity, mainstream reporters discount[43] whistleblowers[44] and ask softball questions, which allows Joe to easily avoid the issue.[45]

Forensic analyses[46] of the Biden Laptop—by a former federal investigator—were commissioned:

Konstantinos "Gus" Dimitrelos
DOB: 02/14/1967
gus@cyberforensics.com

"I am a retired US Secret Service agent[47] and began cyber forensics in 1996 getting certified by the … US Treasury CIS2000 program. In addition to 11 other Secret Service agents, I was the first in the United States to become certified as a computer forensics specialist and have been conducting forensics examinations while employed or contracted by various government agencies and in the private sector continuously for 26 years … I have been contracted since 2007 by the US Department of Justice-US Attorney's Office to conduct cyber investigations and cyber and cellular forensics …

- I discovered RHB [Robert Hunter Biden] owns an Apple iPhone with the serial number G0NXF19JKPFY which was in use on and before March 2019. The iPhone cellular IP Address of 107.77.223.136 is consistent with his cellular provider AT&T. …
- In addition to selfies with Geo-location data, there were approximately 39,189 iMessage chat conversations which were syncing and backed-up …
- The last usage of the MacBook by RHB was on March 17, 2019 which coincides with the Mac Repair shop drop off date April 12, 2019. …"

Based on my analysis and overwhelming data confirms Hunter Biden's MacBook Pro was not hacked and the data contained on the hard drive is authentic.

Based on the data I examined, there was no manipulation of any photographs, emails, documents or other user activities.

If I was able to obtain specific information from Cloud, Financial Providers, Cellular Carriers and other companies identified during my analysis, I would be able to prepare an affidavit for any requesting party or agency including any related testimony.

FURTHER AFFIANT SAYETH NAUGHT.

[46] "A copy of Hunter Biden's hard drive obtained by the Washington Examiner is indisputably authentic, and there is no evidence of any hacking or file manipulation, according to an examination conducted by a former Secret Service agent who has testified as a cyberforensics expert in over 100 classified, criminal, and civil matters at the state, federal, and international levels … Using a technique he developed called 'digital sandwiching,' Dimitrelos cross-referenced thousands of emails, documents, business records, text messages, Apple Notes, photos, geolocation data, travel records, and other information on the drive to conclude that Biden is the only person capable of producing the data."

Another forensic analysis of the Biden Laptop was conducted by an LA-based[48] firm named Maryman & Associates:

"The firm's founder, Brad Maryman, was a 29-year veteran of the FBI, served as a Chief Information Security Officer and founded the bureau's cyber forensics unit.[49] His partner, Dr. Joseph Greenfield, is an associate professor at the University of Southern California and helped write their degree program in intelligence and cyber operations."[50] After an extensive analysis of the hard drive, Greenfield and Maryman produced a high-level report which detailed their findings. A summary of the report is below:

- "They found emails for multiple accounts on the laptop dating back to 2009, and other data [that] 'appear[] to be related to Mr. Biden' between 2016 and 2019.
- The report's findings were consistent with the known timeline for the hard drive. A Wilmington, Delaware computer store work order with Hunter's signature shows he left his 2017 MacBook Pro laptop there on April 12, 2019.
- The Maryman & Associates report said the original 'Macintosh HD' drive was created on March 28, 2018.
- Hunter's iCloud email address was added to the laptop's system on October 21, 2018, as well as his work email at his firm Rosemont Seneca on February 2, 2019.
- The same day, a Gmail address he used to log onto sex cam sites, and another personal Gmail address belonging to Hunter, were also added.
- Beau Biden's old Gmail account was added on February 7, 2019.
- Emails addressed to Hunter's various email addresses dating from December 2009 to December 2020 were found on the system.
- An iPad with the name 'Hunter's iPad' and three email addresses associated with the Biden family was backed up on the laptop and on iCloud in January 2019 and again a month later.
- Greenfield found 818 call logs in this iPad backup with timestamps from June 2016 to February 2019.
- There were 8,942 entries in the iPad's contacts book, created between April 2016 and January 2019.
- In February 2019 an iPhone XS was also synced with the laptop. Its serial number was consistent with the timestamps of the data on the phone."

In conclusion: 'The operating system timestamps appear to be authentic, and no evidence was found to suggest that the timestamps or data were altered or manufactured … No indications were found that would suggest the data was manufactured.'"[51]

According to their former and current colleagues who have come forward as whistleblowers[52] to U.S. senators, FBI HQ Supervisory Intelligence Analyst (SIA) Brian Auten[53] and Assistant Special Agent in Charge (ASAC) of the Washington Field Office (WFO) Tim Thibault[54] were the so-called "tip of the FBI spear" in D.C handling the Biden Laptop slow-walk operation. Auten evidently opened a so-called "assessment" in August 2020—just three months before the presidential election—which threw cold water on the Bureau's already-beleaguered investigation, which was being managed by the BAFO. Auten's "assessment" was then utilized[55] by ASAC Thibault—who re-posted numerous vile and derogatory[56] messages about his then-boss, President Trump—as a justification for ordering investigative activity to cease.

SIA Auten also played a central role in the Russian collusion hoax and bogus Steele dossier. In other words, a single analyst has stood in the middle of two of the most consequential FBI scandals of the 21st century.[57]

The Honorable Merrick Garland
Attorney General
Department of Justice

The Honorable Christopher Wray
Director
Federal Bureau of Investigation

Dear Attorney General Garland and Director Wray:

On May 31, 2022, I wrote to you regarding likely violations of Federal laws, regulations and Federal Bureau of Investigation ("FBI") guidelines by Assistant Special Agent in Charge ("ASAC") Timothy Thibault of the Washington Field Office ("WFO") based on a pattern of active public partisanship in his then public social media content. In that letter, I noted that Congress has a constitutional responsibility to ensure that the Executive Branch executes the law and uses taxpayer money appropriated to it in accordance with congressional intent. In furtherance of that constitutional responsibility, Congress has an obligation to investigate the Executive Branch for fraud, waste, abuse and gross mismanagement – acts which undermine faith in the American people's governmental institutions. Those constitutional and legislative responsibilities apply to this letter to you. My letter also invited individuals, including current and former government employees, to contact me and my office to confidentially report allegations of fraud, waste, abuse and gross mismanagement by FBI and Justice Department ("Department") officials including, but not limited to, ASAC Thibault. In response, my office has received a significant number of protected communications from highly credible whistleblowers.

The information provided to my office involves concerns about the FBI's receipt and use of derogatory information relating to Hunter Biden, and the FBI's false portrayal of acquired evidence as disinformation. The volume and consistency of these allegations substantiate their credibility and necessitate this letter.

First, it's been alleged that the FBI developed information in 2020 about Hunter Biden's criminal financial and related activity. It is further alleged that in August 2020, FBI Supervisory Intelligence Analyst Brian Auten opened an assessment which was used by a FBI Headquarters ("FBI HQ") team to improperly discredit negative Hunter Biden information as disinformation and caused investigative activity to cease. Based on allegations, verified and verifiable derogatory information on Hunter Biden was falsely labeled as disinformation.

Third, in October 2020, an avenue of additional derogatory Hunter Biden reporting was ordered closed at the direction of ASAC Thibault. My office has been made aware that FBI agents responsible for this information were interviewed by the FBI HQ team in furtherance of Auten's assessment. It's been alleged that the FBI HQ team suggested to the FBI agents that the information was at risk of disinformation; however, according to allegations, all of the reporting was either verified or verifiable via criminal search warrants. In addition, ASAC Thibault allegedly ordered the matter closed without providing a valid reason as required by FBI guidelines. Despite the matter being closed in such a way that the investigative avenue might be opened later, it's alleged that FBI officials, including ASAC Thibault, subsequently attempted to improperly mark the matter in FBI systems so that it could not be opened in the future.

The aforementioned allegations put a finer point on concerns that I have raised for many years about political considerations infecting the decision-making process at the Justice Department and FBI. If these allegations are true and accurate, the Justice Department and FBI are – and have been – institutionally corrupted to their very core to the point in which the United States Congress and the American people will have no confidence in the equal application of the law. Attorney General Garland and Director Wray, simply put, based on the allegations that I've received from numerous whistleblowers, you have systemic and existential problems within your agencies. You have an obligation to the country to take these allegations seriously, immediately investigate and take steps to institute fixes to these and other matters before you.

During the same month that SIA Auten cooked up his baseless "assessment," two other operatives from the FBI HQ—Nikki Floris[58] and Brad Benavides—were busy spreading falsehoods to the aforementioned U.S. senators who were approached by the whistleblowers. Specifically, Floris (who met multiple times with Joe's top lawyer in the West Wing) and Benavides (who "retired" following the exposure of his role in the FBI conspiracy and took an executive position with Amazon) briefed a U.S. Senate committee on 08/06/2020 about how legitimate inquiries into the Bidens' foreign business deals were enabling a "Russian disinformation campaign." Naturally, the briefing's details were leaked to the Washington Post, which is owned by Jeff Bezos, the founder of Benavides's new employer.

Dear Ms. Floris and Mr. Benavides:

On August 6, 2020, as we were finishing our September 23, 2020, report on Hunter Biden's financial connections to foreign governments and questionable foreign nationals, you provided a briefing to us on behalf of the FBI and Intelligence Community.[1] As we have publicly and privately stated to you and Director Wray since that briefing, the briefing was unnecessary and was only done because of pressure from our Democratic colleagues, including Democratic Leadership, to falsely attack our Biden investigation as advancing Russian disinformation.[2]

way.[8] We also made clear our concern that the briefing would be subject to a leak that would shed a false light on the focus of our investigation. Indeed, on May 1, 2021, the Washington Post did exactly that and so did the other inaccurate media articles during the course of our investigation which falsely labeled our investigation as advancing Russian disinformation.[9] Moreover, whistleblowers have recently alleged that in August 2020, the same month you provided the briefing to us, FBI officials initiated a scheme to downplay derogatory information on Hunter Biden for the purpose of shutting down investigative activity relating to his potential criminal exposure by labeling it "disinformation."[10] Whistleblowers have also alleged that local FBI leadership instructed employees not to look at the Hunter Biden laptop immediately after the FBI had obtained it.[11]

At the briefing as well as after, we requested relevant records relating to what happened at the briefing, including the 302 or similar summary, the intelligence basis for the briefing and the personnel involved in making the decision to brief us. On August 12, 2020; May 3, 2021; July 25, 2022; and August 11, 2022, those requests were made.[12] The FBI has consistently failed to respond in full to each request and failed to provide those critical records which casts further doubt on the true purpose for the briefing.

Simply put, the unnecessary FBI briefing provided the Democrats and liberal media the vehicle to spread their false narrative that our work advanced Russian disinformation. Although you stated that the FBI didn't intend to "interfere" in our investigation, the practical effect of such an unnecessary briefing and the subsequent leaks relating to it created interference, which frustrated and obstructed congressional oversight efforts.

Investigations and operations:

Our Foreign Influence Task Force partners with the 56 field offices across the country on open FBI investigations with a foreign influence nexus. Think of the Task Force as the hub, with spokes out to our 56 field offices, and our expansive front line agents, analysts, and professional staff. Investigations with a cyber nexus are worked collaboratively with our Cyber Division and the Cyber Task Forces throughout the nation to quickly respond to these threats to protect systems and work with the Intelligence Community to determine attribution.

Our investigative approach also seeks to affirmatively impose costs on our adversaries, particularly key influencers or enablers. Just last fall, we charged Elena Khusyaynova, a Russian national, with criminal violations stemming from her efforts to influence the 2016 and 2018 elections in her role as Chief Accountant for Project Lakhta—a Russian disinformation

AT A HEARING ENTITLED
"SECURING AMERICA'S ELECTIONS PART II: OVERSIGHT OF GOVERNMENT AGENCIES"

Relationship with the private sector:

Technology companies have a front-line responsibility to secure their own networks, products, and platforms. We have provided actionable intelligence to help them address abuse of their platforms by foreign actors. In turn, social media companies have passed to FBI several hundred previously unknown accounts being used by bad actors, which we, in turn, have shared with our partners in the wider Intelligence Community.

In the run up to the 2018 mid-term elections, social media companies deactivated more than 1,000 inauthentic social media accounts linked to malign foreign influence actors. The companies made these decisions informed by dialogue and information exchanges with the FBI and other government agencies.

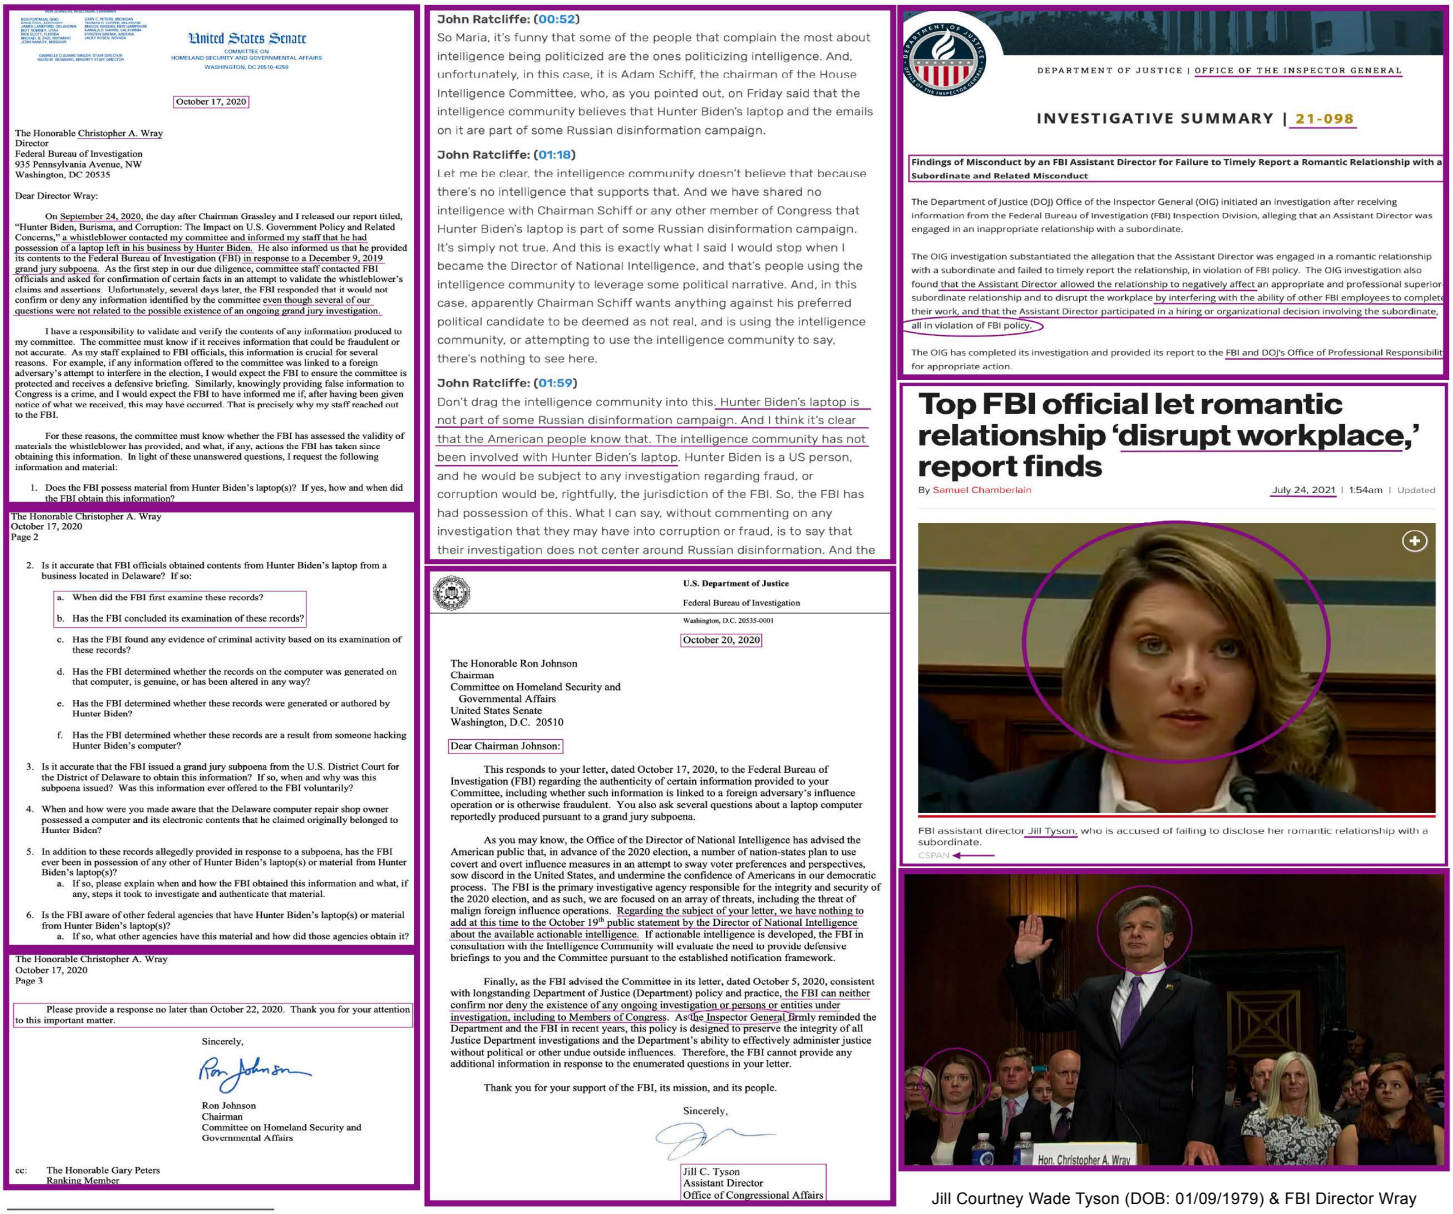
Three weeks before the 2020 [s]election, the New York Post published a story proving that not only were the Bidens' foreign business deals unrelated to a "Russian disinformation campaign," but also that the FBI had been in possession of the Biden Laptop since December 2019.[59] When the same U.S. senators who were approached by the aforementioned whistleblowers wrote a letter to the Director of the FBI inquiring about this blatant gaslighting, FBI official Jill Tyson[60] responded on behalf of the Bureau and said it had "nothing to add" and could not "provide any additional information[.]" At the same time Tyson penned the response letter, she was engaging[61] in an "inappropriate" "romantic relationship with a subordinate" which "disrupt[ed] the workplace[.]"[62] Tyson still works at the FBI.[63]



United States Senate
COMMITTEE ON HOMELAND SECURITY AND GOVERNMENTAL AFFAIRS
WASHINGTON, DC 20510-6250

October 17, 2020

The Honorable Christopher A. Wray
Director
Federal Bureau of Investigation
935 Pennsylvania Avenue, NW

Dear Director Wray:

On September 24, 2020, the day after Chairman Grassley and I released our report titled, "Hunter Biden, Burisma, and Corruption: The Impact on U.S. Government Policy and Related Concerns," a whistleblower contacted my committee and informed my staff that he had possession of a laptop left in his business by Hunter Biden. He also informed us that he provided its contents to the Federal Bureau of Investigation (FBI) in response to a December 9, 2019 grand jury subpoena. As the first step in our due diligence, committee staff contacted FBI officials and asked for confirmation of certain facts in an attempt to validate the whistleblower's claims and assertions. Unfortunately, several days later, the FBI responded that it would not confirm or deny any information identified by the committee even though several of our questions were not related to the possible existence of an ongoing grand jury investigation.

I have a responsibility to validate and verify the contents of any information produced to my committee. The committee must know if it receives information that could be fraudulent or not accurate. As my staff explained to FBI officials, this information is crucial for several reasons. For example, if any information offered to the committee was linked to a foreign adversary's attempt to interfere in the election, I would expect the FBI to ensure the committee is protected and receives a defensive briefing. Similarly, knowingly providing false information to Congress is a crime, and I would expect the FBI to have informed me if, after having been given notice of what we received, this may have occurred. That is precisely why my staff reached out to the FBI.

For these reasons, the committee must know whether the FBI has assessed the validity of materials the whistleblower has provided, and what, if any, actions the FBI has taken since obtaining this information. In light of these unanswered questions, I request the following information and material:

1. Does the FBI possess material from Hunter Biden's laptop(s)? If yes, how and when did the FBI obtain this information?

The Honorable Christopher A. Wray

2. Is it accurate that FBI officials obtained contents from Hunter Biden's laptop from a business located in Delaware? If so:
   a. When did the FBI first examine these records?
   b. Has the FBI concluded its examination of these records?
   c. Has the FBI found any evidence of criminal activity based on its examination of these records?
   d. Has the FBI determined whether the records on the computer was generated on that computer, is genuine, or has been altered in any way?
   e. Has the FBI determined whether these records were generated or authored by Hunter Biden?
   f. Has the FBI determined whether these records are a result from someone hacking Hunter Biden's computer?
3. Is it accurate that the FBI issued a grand jury subpoena from the U.S. District Court for the District of Delaware to obtain this information? If so, when and why was this subpoena issued? Was this information ever offered to the FBI voluntarily?
4. When and how were you made aware that the Delaware computer repair shop owner possessed a computer and its electronic contents that he claimed originally belonged to Hunter Biden?
5. In addition to these records allegedly provided in response to a subpoena, has the FBI ever been in possession of any other of Hunter Biden's laptop(s) or material from Hunter Biden's laptop(s)?
   a. If so, please explain when and how the FBI obtained this information and what, if any, steps it took to investigate and authenticate that material.
6. Is the FBI aware of other federal agencies that have Hunter Biden's laptop(s) or material from Hunter Biden's laptop(s)?
   a. If so, what other agencies have this material and how did those agencies obtain it?

John Ratcliffe: (00:52)
So Maria, it's funny that some of the people that complain the most about intelligence being politicized are the ones politicizing intelligence. And, unfortunately, in this case, it is Adam Schiff, the chairman of the House Intelligence Committee, who, as you pointed out, on Friday said that the intelligence community believes that Hunter Biden's laptop and the emails on it are part of some Russian disinformation campaign.

John Ratcliffe: (01:18)
Let me be clear, the intelligence community doesn't believe that because there's no intelligence that supports that. And we have shared no intelligence with Chairman Schiff or any other member of Congress that Hunter Biden's laptop is part of some Russian disinformation campaign. It's simply not true. And this is exactly what I said I would stop when I became the Director of National Intelligence, and that's people using the intelligence community to leverage some political narrative. And, in this case, apparently Chairman Schiff wants anything against his preferred political candidate to be deemed as not real, and is using the intelligence community, or attempting to use the intelligence community to say, there's nothing to see here.

John Ratcliffe: (01:59)
Don't drag the intelligence community into this. Hunter Biden's laptop is not part of some Russian disinformation campaign. And I think it's clear that the American people know that. The intelligence community has not been involved with Hunter Biden's laptop. Hunter Biden is a US person, and he would be subject to any investigation regarding fraud, or corruption would be, rightfully, the jurisdiction of the FBI. So, the FBI has had possession of this. What I can say, without commenting on any investigation that they may have into corruption or fraud, is to say that their investigation does not center around Russian disinformation. And the

The Honorable Ron Johnson
Chairman
Committee on Homeland Security and Governmental Affairs
Washington, D.C. 20510

Dear Chairman Johnson:

This responds to your letter, dated October 17, 2020, to the Federal Bureau of Investigation (FBI) regarding the authenticity of certain information provided to your Committee, including whether such information is linked to a foreign adversary's influence operation or is otherwise fraudulent. You also ask several questions about a laptop computer reportedly produced pursuant to a grand jury subpoena.

As you may know, the Office of the Director of National Intelligence has advised the American public that, in advance of the 2020 election, a number of nation-states plan to use covert and overt influence measures in an attempt to sway voter preferences and perspectives, sow discord in the United States, and undermine the confidence of Americans in our democratic process. The FBI is the primary investigative agency responsible for the integrity and security of the 2020 election, and as such, we are focused on an array of threats, including the threat of malign foreign influence operations. Regarding the subject of your letter, we have nothing to add at this time to the October 19th public statement by the Director of National Intelligence about the available actionable intelligence. If actionable intelligence is developed, the FBI in consultation with the Intelligence Community will evaluate the need to provide defensive briefings to you and the Committee pursuant to the established notification framework.

Finally, as the FBI advised the Committee in its letter, dated October 5, 2020, consistent with longstanding Department of Justice (Department) policy and practice, the FBI can neither confirm nor deny the existence of any ongoing investigation or persons or entities under investigation, including to Members of Congress. As the Inspector General firmly reminded the Department and the FBI in recent years, this policy is designed to preserve the integrity of all Justice Department investigations and the Department's ability to effectively administer justice without political or other undue outside influences. Therefore, the FBI cannot provide any additional information in response to the enumerated questions in your letter.

Thank you for your support of the FBI, its mission, and its people.

Findings of Misconduct by an FBI Assistant Director for Failure to Timely Report a Romantic Relationship with a Subordinate and Related Misconduct

The Department of Justice (DOJ) Office of the Inspector General (OIG) initiated an investigation after receiving information from the Federal Bureau of Investigation (FBI) Inspection Division, alleging that an Assistant Director was engaged in an inappropriate relationship with a subordinate.

The OIG investigation substantiated the allegation that the Assistant Director was engaged in a romantic relationship with a subordinate and failed to timely report the relationship, in violation of FBI policy. The OIG investigation also found that the Assistant Director allowed the relationship to negatively affect an appropriate and professional superior subordinate relationship and to disrupt the workplace by interfering with the ability of other FBI employees to complete their work, and that the Assistant Director participated in a hiring or organizational decision involving the subordinate, all in violation of FBI policy.

The OIG has completed its investigation and provided its report to the FBI and DOJ's Office of Professional Responsibility for appropriate action.

Three[64] days after Tyson penned the FBI's bogus[65] response letter, the aforementioned Bobulinski[66] spent more than five hours in a room at the FBI WFO detailing precisely what went down with the Bidens' business activities with CCP-linked operatives. Coincidentally (or not), Joe's brother (Jimmy) actually called Bobulinski via WhatsApp during the FBI interview. ASAC Thibault[67] was not in D.C. that day, but four of his colleagues—SAC of the Criminal and Cyber Division Jim Dawson,[68] Supervisory Special Agent (SSA) Giulio Arseni,[69] Bill Novak, and Garrett Churchill—met with Bobulinski. Novak and Churchill even videotaped Bobulinski's interview and impounded his devices. Following the interview, ASAC Thibault repeatedly assured Bobulinski's attorneys that the FBI agents Tony met with would follow up with him regarding the evidence he provided—the agents never did.[70]

He was met by James Dawson, then-special agent in charge of the Criminal and Cyber Division, and FBI Supervisory Special Agent Giulio Arseni. They turned him over to two younger agents, William Novak and Garrett Churchill, who conducted the videotaped interview and provided a receipt for Bobulinski's digital data. … Even if the FBI was reluctant, after its 2016 Hillary email debacle, to take action that could be deemed political during an election campaign, there is no excuse for not following up with Bobulinski afterward. The FBI's failure to do so amounts to interference-by-omission in the 2020 election."

If Wray needed to leave on business, Grassley noted, 'you've got your own plane,' referring to the taxpayer-funded Gulfstream G550 jet used to ferry the head of the FBI around the country privately. … To be fair, an extended appearance only would have resulted in more non-answers and political spin."

In essence, there was a multi-vector suppression campaign at the FBI—the Bureau did not follow the facts and enforce U.S. law. In addition to the FBI HQ and FBI WFO, the aforementioned Wilmington Resident Agency under the direction of the BAFO evidently told staff that they "will not look at that Hunter Biden laptop" because the FBI was "not going to change the outcome of the election again."[71] Furthermore, the DOJ OIG watchdog—led by Michael Horowitz and his top lawyer, Adam Miles—has also done nothing in terms of accountability for the repeated and verifiable FBI policy violations.[72]

Dear Senator Johnson:

I am writing in response to your letter dated October 21, 2020, in which you requested the Department of Justice (Department) Office of the Inspector General (OIG) to investigate the Federal Bureau of Investigation's handling of a laptop allegedly belonging to Hunter Biden. After receiving your letter, we informed your office of our efforts to assess whether any response from our office to you would interfere with any pending law enforcement activity.

Subsequently, in December 2020, Hunter Biden publicly stated that the United States Attorney's Office (USAO) in Delaware advised his legal counsel that the USAO was investigating his tax affairs. Earlier this month, the Department announced that the U.S. Attorney in Delaware was one of two U.S. Attorneys asked to remain in his role in the new administration. In light of these circumstances, and consistent with the OIG's practice, we will not take actions that could interfere with an ongoing investigation.

Thank you for your support for the OIG's work. If you have any questions, please feel free to contact me or Adam Miles, Senior Counselor to the Inspector General, at (202) 514-3435.

individuals with knowledge of the FBI's apparent corruption. After the FBI obtained the Hunter Biden laptop from the Wilmington, DE computer shop, these whistleblowers stated that local FBI leadership told employees, "you will not look at that Hunter Biden laptop" and that the FBI is "not going to change the outcome of the election again." Further, these whistleblowers allege that the FBI did not begin to examine the contents of Hunter Biden's laptop until after the 2020 presidential election—potentially a year after the FBI obtained the laptop in December 2019.[5]

While I understand your hesitation to investigate a matter that may be related to an ongoing investigation, it is clear to me based on numerous credible whistleblower disclosures that the FBI cannot be trusted with the handling of Hunter Biden's laptop. I hope you understand that the longer your office stands on the sidelines and delays investigating the FBI's actions, the harder it will be for you to uncover the truth and hold individuals accountable for wrongdoing. I call on you to immediately investigate the FBI's handling of Hunter Biden's laptop and begin by obtaining the history of the investigative actions taken by the FBI on Hunter Biden's laptop which should be available on the FBI's case management system, Sentinel. This case file should provide valuable information about the steps the FBI took to examine the laptop.

The American people deserve transparency and expect allegations of government corruption to be fully and immediately investigated. Thank you for your attention to this important request.

To add more injury to the insult of gaslighting, the DOJ HQ under the leadership of Bill Barr—and specifically the U.S. attorney[73] for Delaware, David Weiss—slow-walked[74] the investigation into the Biden family's crimes.[75] The reasons for slow-walking the investigation put forth by the DOJ HQ were about "avoiding election politics,"[7677] yet the DOJ HQ's delay was itself a political decision, as it withheld key information from voters. Said differently: If not for the Biden surname, members of the family would have been treated much differently. Justice delayed was justice denied; Barr and Weiss delayed justice.[78] President Trump responded[79] to these revelations by lamenting the fact that the "Justice" Department denied to the American people the very thing it was charged to deliver by delaying subpoenas and otherwise hindering the normal course of law enforcement. As was the case in many[8081] previous instances, Hunter's surname[82] got him out of a serious pinch—at least for now.

Hunter Biden's prosecutor rejected moves that would have revealed probe earlier

Veteran U.S. attorney David Weiss, known for his willingness to take on powerful Delaware figures, kept his investigation into Biden's son out of the 2020 campaign.

The probe had reached a point where prosecutors could have sought search warrants and issued a flurry of grand jury subpoenas. Some officials involved in the case wanted to do just that. Others urged caution. They advised Delaware's U.S. Attorney, David Weiss, to avoid taking any actions that could alert the public to the existence of the case in the middle of a presidential election."

Having received cover from the DOJ until after the 2020 [s]election[8384] certification vote on 12/08/2020, Hunter released a statement filled with doublespeak.[85] To ensure that the federal investigation went nowhere uncomfortable for Hunter, Joe appointed the colleague of Hunter's attorney to be the chief deputy of the DOJ's criminal division on his first full day in office.[86] Tellingly, Nick McQuaid[87] has refused to recuse himself from the investigation into the Bidens.[88] To map out how this illegal influence operation worked: Chris Clark, Hunter's attorney, and Nick McQuaid both worked at Latham & Watkins, a law firm. The pair argued cases together, so spin doctors in the media cannot reasonably claim that Latham & Watkins is just a huge international law firm where Clark and McQuaid barely interacted. In one of his very first acts as pResident, Joe appointed McQuaid to help oversee the division investigating his own family; the criminal division at DOJ HQ oversees the U.S. Attorney's office in Delaware. In short, McQuaid likely violated 28 CFR § 45.2 by not recusing[89] himself from the investigation; McQuaid's boss at the DOJ HQ, Ken Polite, did not publish an opinion stating that McQuaid's participation in the case "would not create an appearance of a conflict of interest likely to affect the public perception of the integrity of the investigation or prosecution."[90]

BIDEN-HARRIS TRANSITION

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE
December 9, 2020

Statement by Hunter Biden

I learned yesterday for the first time that the U.S. Attorney's Office in Delaware advised my legal counsel, also yesterday, that they are investigating my tax affairs. I take this matter very seriously but I am confident that a professional and objective review of these matters will demonstrate that I handled my affairs legally and appropriately, including with the benefit of professional tax advisors.

Statement from the Biden-Harris Transition

President-elect Biden is deeply proud of his son, who has fought through difficult challenges, including the vicious personal attacks of recent months, only to emerge stronger.

Re: Holliday, as Trustee of the LB Litigation Trust v. Brown Rudnick LLP, 1:19-cv-10925 (PAE)(SN)

Dear Judge Engelmayer,

I am writing the Court to respectfully request that I be relieved as counsel for Defendant Brown Rudnick LLP ("Brown Rudnick") in the above-referenced matter. I previously appeared and represented Brown Rudnick in this matter on behalf of Latham & Watkins LLP ("Latham & Watkins") along with my colleagues Christopher J. Clark, Michael S. Bosworth, and Jason R. Burt. My last day at Latham & Watkins was January 20, 2021.

Following my departure from Latham & Watkins, Mr. Clark, Mr. Bosworth, and Mr. Burt will continue to serve as counsel for Defendant in this matter. Thus, my withdrawal will have no material effect on the schedule in this matter, nor will it cause prejudice to any party. In light of the foregoing, I respectfully request that the Court relieve the undersigned as counsel for Defendant Brown Rudnick LLP and that the official court docket be amended to reflect this change.

Thank you for your attention to this request.

Respectfully submitted,

Hunter has moved on to other shady[91] activity by joining perhaps the only industry that is more corrupt than his lucrative gig in the Ukrainian energy sector: art dealing. Hunter's dealer, a portly sinophile[9293] and bankrupt[94] former felon[95] named Georges Berges, boasted about his "group of about 25 collectors, most of them overseas," and that he has been "inundated with calls from collectors eager to buy Biden's art."[96] Hunter has plans to host an exhibit with the self-pitying title of "Under the Microscope," which will be sponsored by Berges's gallery.[97] Even with well-documented money laundering issues and other criminal activity that has occurred in the art industry for many decades, Berges considers Hunter's artwork to be more consequential than Joe's public office: "I believe that he's [Hunter] [is] going to be considered a great artist of this century. His father [Joe] will be known, of course, as a US president, but most importantly as the father of a great artist."[98]

With Hunter's new scheme all set up, it was richly ironic that his own father's administration released a report[99][100] in December 2021 that actually told the truth: the art industry has a "built-in opacity, lack of stable and predictable pricing, and inherent cross-border transportability of goods sold, [which] make[s] the market optimal for illicit value transfer, sanctions evasion, and corruption." Equally ironic, a similar report[101] was released less than five months before the 2020 [s]election by none other than a longtime ally[102] of the Biden family and Joe's former colleague, U.S. Senator Tom Carper (D-DE).[103]

We're supposed to trust a merchant in an industry that's fertile ground for money laundering, as well as unknown buyers who could tell Hunter or WH officials?"

It is important for Marco Polo to make clear—especially to law enforcement agencies—that this Report was prepared with an extremely attentive eye towards 18 USC § 119,[111] having seen the lengths[112] the FBI[113] and other entities in the apparatus have gone to harass citizens who expose corruption.[114] Said differently, we redacted whatever was legally required to be redacted in this Report and absolutely nothing more.[115] Marco Polo does not break the law—we expose those who do.

§119. Protection of individuals performing certain official duties

(a) IN GENERAL.-Whoever knowingly makes restricted personal information about a covered person, or a member of the immediate family of that covered person, publicly available-

(1) with the intent to threaten, intimidate, or incite the commission of a crime of violence against that covered person, or a member of the immediate family of that covered person; or

(2) with the intent and knowledge that the restricted personal information will be used to threaten, intimidate, or facilitate the commission of a crime of violence against that covered person, or a member of the immediate family of that covered person, shall be fined under this title, imprisoned not more than 5 years, or both.

(b) DEFINITIONS.-In this section-

(1) the term "restricted personal information" means, with respect to an individual, the Social Security number, the home address, home phone number, mobile phone number, personal email, or home fax number of, and identifiable to, that individual;

(2) the term "covered person" means-

(A) an individual designated in section 1114;

(B) a grand or petit juror, witness, or other officer in or of, any court of the United States, or an officer who may be, or was, serving at any examination or other proceeding before any United States magistrate judge or other committing magistrate;

(C) an informant or witness in a Federal criminal investigation or prosecution; or

(D) a State or local officer or employee whose restricted personal information is made publicly available because of the participation in, or assistance provided to, a Federal criminal investigation by that officer or employee;

(3) the term "crime of violence" has the meaning given the term in section 16; and

(4) the term "immediate family" has the meaning given the term in section 115(c)(2).

Additionally, 18 USC § 4 requires[116] that any person who has "knowledge of the actual commission of a felony" must report it "as soon as possible" to "some judge or other person in civil or military authority." In plain-speak, this statute required us to expose the felonies and other crimes contained on the Biden Laptop and send the Report to law enforcement agencies across the nation at the federal and state levels. Furthermore, Marco Polo unequivocally disclaims any intention to cause any threat, intimidating action, or incitement of harm to any person covered by 18 USC § 119 and we do not condone, encourage, intend, or have any knowledge that any other person will or may use the information in this Report for any unlawful purpose. As we will demonstrate, Marco Polo's motive is to see justice delivered—to all criminals—by those whose responsibility it is to carry out that duty.

[115] Marco Polo made a good faith attempt to redact information which appears to be restricted information. In several instances, the information was already in the public domain by disclosure from another source. Because no action has been taken by law enforcement, that information—by implication—does not meet the definition of "restricted" under the applicable statute. Nevertheless, any disclosure of restricted information in this Report was unintentional.

MOTIVE

President Nixon's spokesman, Ron Ziegler, called Watergate a "third-rate burglary."[117] He was correct in his assessment then, and he is still correct today—over fifty years later. The illegality contained on the Biden Laptop surpasses whatever the "Committee for the Re-election of the President"[118] supposedly did. Nevertheless, the corporate media is still obsessed with Watergate.[119][120] A key reason for writing this Report—and establishing a nonprofit entity to organize it—was to give the small minority of honorable law enforcement officers and reporters a proper object[121] for their obsession.

The Biden Laptop was a modern Rosetta Stone of white and blue collar crime under the patina of "the Delaware Way."[122] Prior to the discovery of the Rosetta Stone, a number of ancient languages were mere gibberish and hash marks.[123] Similarly, with the laptop, we were able to illuminate previously convoluted network webs of the people leading the charge for global governance. Additionally, the metadata on the laptop can inform other investigations; truly, the Biden Laptop can be considered a translation tool for Open-Source Intelligence (OSINT) gathering into the future. After poring over 200 gigabytes of data, Marco Polo concluded, perhaps contrary to popular belief, that there are not two or three boogeymen pulling the strings of America's decline, but rather a legion[124] of hangers-on and grifters who rely on Joe and the entire Biden political mafia for introductions, jobs, prestige, and access. Because of the contemporary nature of this material, a Report was the best medium for exposure. As you will see, exhibits drive the Report. Books[125][126] already written about the Biden Laptop, although extremely enlightening, featured no exhibits; a movie, also, did not feature any exhibits.[127] This Report was our research group's tour through the Biden political mafia, and all of the narrative in this Report is in service to the exhibits. The Biden Laptop, along with material brought forth by Bobulinski and others whistleblowers, was akin to a 3,000-piece puzzle but with many pieces missing. Marco Polo's mission was to put as many puzzle pieces together as we could; a report was the second-best medium behind a documentary, which would have delayed the release into 2023.

As stated previously, Marco Polo redacted only that which was legally necessary to redact.[128] Shown below was a sampling of the indisputable identifying images found on the laptop that illustrated Hunter's ownership.[129] The Biden Laptop contained a trove of personal identifiable information (PII) that established beyond a reasonable doubt that it belonged to the family. Evidently, one of the many "live photos"[130] Hunter took was to assure a prostitute that it really was Hunter Biden with whom she was to meet. Needless to say, any foreign intelligence agency with the laptop would be able to commit identity theft[131] of Joe's entire immediate family, which apparently did not concern the junta.[132]

Hunter's $3,000,000 life insurance policy from John Hancock—with his ex-wife Kathleen as the beneficiary—was also among the plethora of primary source documents from the laptop that confirmed its authenticity. The ex-couple's Marital Settlement Agreement[133] (MSA) was also on the laptop, which alluded to this exact life insurance policy. A large portion of the background research for the writing of this Report was verifying—through public records[134] and other tools—the authenticity of the laptop's documents. Said differently, anyone with access to the Biden Laptop (approximately 75 people, per Marco Polo's internal research) can publish the documents and images; however, it takes a tremendous amount of time and a coherent research strategy to explain what the documents and images mean and how they can be corroborated to withstand accusations of Russian tampering.[135][136]

A copy of Hunter's "Certificate of Birth" issued by Delaware's Board of Health with an embossed, raised seal was also on the laptop, dated 06/18/1985. Joe's law firm[137] at the time, Aerenson and Balick, was listed on the certificate, along with a reference to Joe's first son, Beau. The Certificate of Birth also alluded to a stillborn (or perhaps aborted) child who Hunter's mother (Neilia, from upstate New York near the Finger Lakes) previously delivered; it is unclear whether Joe fathered that child.[138]

SOCIAL MEDIA OLIGOPOLY

In the early morning on 10/14/2020, the New York Post published an article[139] which conclusively proved that Joe repeatedly lied[140] about his knowledge—and participation in—Hunter's foreign business dealings. The article, in summary, recounted a dinner that Hunter organized for his father and foreign business partners on 04/16/2015 at the Cafe Milano restaurant in Washington. As was common with Hunter's rendezvous, the dinner with Joe was purposely left off Joe's public schedule. Twitter, with no evidence, declared that the emails from Hunter's laptop—which exposed the meeting and, thus, Joe's lies—violated their "hacked materials" policy. The fact that Twitter's pronouncement lacked any factual basis did not matter to them, as they were merely scrambling to cover for their preferred candidate.[141] Twitter not only locked the New York Post's account, but also blocked the URL in tweets and direct messages.[142] Knowing that his initial task of suppression and censorship was complete, Twitter CEO Jack Dorsey—in a classic limited hangout—made a small concession and tweaked Twitter's "hacked materials" policy.[143] This concession, of course, did literally nothing to rectify the situation or otherwise clear Mac Isaac's name; after all, Mac Isaac was bombarded at his repair shop with animal feces, threats, negative reviews, and accusations of being a Russian plant.[144] Twitter's unofficial in-kind campaign contribution to the Biden camp was not their only form of support; executives at the company donated almost exclusively—and handsomely—to Joe and Democrats.[145]

More of the same suppression occurred at Facebook. CEO Mark Zuckerberg (during his sworn testimony to Congress) gave clues as to what went down behind the scenes. Zuckerberg admitted that the IC, federal law enforcement, and other executive agencies proactively contacted Facebook to let them know about the incoming reports concerning Biden and to view them "with suspicion."[146] Andy Stone, Facebook's then-"Policy Communications Director" and a former press secretary for the Democratic Congressional Committee, was ecstatic to receive this "tip" from the IC, and he worked to suppress the story. The false information laundering can be displayed by the following diagram:

The false information laundering was perpetrated by Laura Dehmlow and Elvis Chan[147] from the FBI, among many[148] others. Dehmlow supervises the Orwellian-themed "Foreign Influence Task Force" (FITF)[149] along with Chan, the ASAC at the San Francisco Field Office.[150] Dehmlow believes it is her civic duty[151] to censor—she told other feds that "critical thinking seems to be a problem currently."[152]

Ms. Laura Dehmlow — FBI

There was discussion between team members related to organizational information sharing between public/private sector; how to collaborate across channels; driving resiliency building and education about MDM; with FBI focused on foreign efforts, how do we disentangle foreign actors embedded in the MDM process; and, what is the government's strategic approach related to MDM? Ms. Dehmlow was asked to provide her thoughts or to define a goal for approaching MDM and she mentioned "resiliency". She stated we need a media infrastructure that is held accountable; we need to early educate the populace; and that today, critical thinking seems to be a problem currently. [redacted] Senior Advisor for Homeland Security and Director of the Defending Democratic Institutions Center for Strategic and International Studies (CSIS), stated that civics education should be provided at all ages.

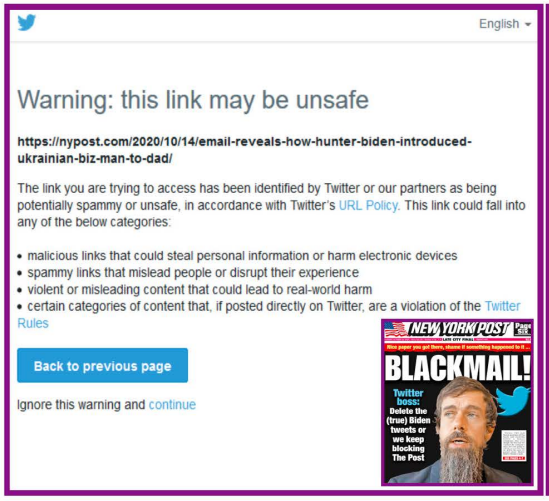
To add another injury to the insult of censorship, Twitter locked the White House Press Secretary's account.[153] In a scene that could have been plucked straight out of an Orwell novel, Twitter allowed the following message from the former Malaysian Prime Minster, Mahathir MOHAMAD, to stay up on their platform just two weeks after their scheme favoring Biden: "Muslims have a right to be angry and to kill millions of French people for the massacres of the past."[154] The platform even released an accompanying message: "This Tweet violated the Twitter Rules about glorifying violence. However, Twitter has determined that it may be in the public's interest for the Tweet to remain accessible." After a day or so, Twitter finally[155] relented, but the double standard was clear: Whenever damaging material was released about those who favor global governance, they censored the material with Pavlovian dog-like speed. When those in a "protected class" sanctioned genocide, they allowed it.



The technology and social media oligopoly's censorship, although abhorrent, is still legal. It has been going on for a decade. Republicans, who waxed ad nauseam[156] about the oligopoly's censorship, controlled the federal legislative branch for two years preceding the situation.[157] Therefore, hearings and crocodile tears shed after the fact did little to convince would-be supporters of their sincerity.[158] This oligopoly is harmful in every respect to the American republic—their antics are Bolshevistic and blatantly one-sided. Nevertheless, those currently in power who complained about the egregious suppression of the Biden scandal(s) did nothing to prevent it.[159] This situation will continue to deteriorate until an honest legislator reads about the history of public utilities in the United States.

INTELLIGENCE COMMUNITY GASLIGHTING

Five days after the tech and social media oligopoly suppression conspiracy began, a legion of former U.S. intelligence apparatus bureaucrats and spies—led by none other than James Clapper—released a "Public Statement"[160] in which they declared that the "arrival on the US political scene of emails purportedly belonging to Vice President Biden's son Hunter, much of it related to his time serving on the Board of the Ukrainian gas company Burisma, has all the classic earmarks of a Russian information operation." Even for the genre of bureaucrat doublespeak, this "Statement" was wanting. For one, they did not define what the "classic earmarks" were or how they were relevant to Joe's lies about Hunter's foreign business dealings. Furthermore, several of the signees declared themselves as technical experts, but they did not even attempt to verify the emails, which "anybody with minimal computer expertise"[161] could have done by analyzing the cryptographic signatures inside the emails' metadata.[162] This was not the first time Hunter's behavior needed a quick and easy scapegoat; in August 2015, he lied and said his account on Ashley Madison (which facilitated "affairs for married people") was "not the first time that someone has used my name and identity to try to discredit me."[163]

Hunter Biden story is Russian disinfo, dozens of former intel officials say

More than 50 former intelligence officials signed a letter casting doubt on the provenance of a New York Post story on the former vice president's son.

The charade was a bipartisan[164] operation by former spooks[165] to run interference for the corrupt and blackmailed son of the Democrat candidate for President. There was absolutely no proof that the Russians or any of their proxies had anything to do with the release of the now-confirmed emails, but that did not matter. The signatories to the "Statement" had a different mission in mind: They simply made it up out of thin air in order to provide then-candidate Joe with an opportunity—at the final presidential debate on 10/22/2020—to use their contrived letter to dismiss legitimate inquiries about his foreign entanglements, both political and financial. In fact, it was the only fall back Joe had in Nashville: "Look, there are 50 former national intelligence folks who said that what this, he's accusing me of is a Russian plan."[166] A full copy of the "Statement" is in the ENDNOTES section of this Report.

CORPORATE MEDIA WHACK-A-MOLE

The third prong of the operation was to get national "papers of record"[167] to cast doubt on Hunter's emails and otherwise tamper the stories that were (expectedly) proliferating about them. Greg Sargent at the Washington Post declared the New York Post's story a "fake new Biden scandal."[168] To bolster his claims, Sargent used—you guessed it—another Washington Post story in which Hunter's attorney, George Mesires, declared that Joe's dinner with Hunter's foreign business partners "never happened." That was a lie, and photographic proof[169] of Joe meeting with the Kazakh oligarch and prime minster was shared the following day. The New York Times[170] used President Trump's own administration against him by invoking Treasury Secretary Steven Mnuchin's labeling[171] of Ukrainian lawmaker Andrii DERKACH as a Russian agent involved in a deceitful "disinformation campaign." The New York Times finally conceded that—17 months after the cover up—the laptop was authentic.[172]

He also pledged last year that his family would not engage in any foreign business activities if he is elected president."

Guerrilla journalists at Project Veritas infiltrated CNN and listened to their internal conference calls.[173] During those calls, biased media operators, such as David Chalian,[174] gave marching orders to the CNN news desk, calling the Biden emails an effort "to throw stuff at the wall in these closing days of the campaign" and that CNN "obviously" was not going to cover the story. Additionally, on the morning of the final presidential debate, NBC[175] was using the exact same talking points from the former spooks' "Statement" in order to lie to their viewers, calling the emails "hallmarks of foreign disinformation." On CBS This Morning, John Dickerson and his co-panelists shrugged off the Biden family's numerous scandals, asserting that they "[didn't] think it matters a great deal with voters."[176]

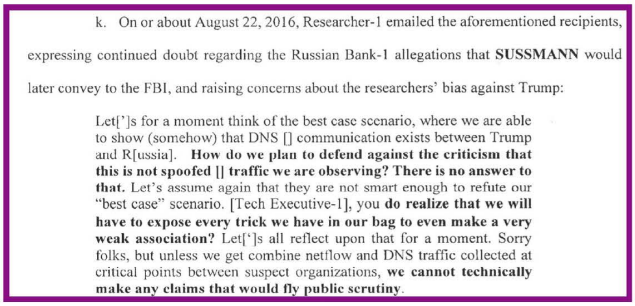
'I've seen Vice President Biden saying he never talked to Hunter about his business. [176] "Dickerson's promise of a complicit 'news cycle' seemed to echo Meet the Press moderator Chuck Todd, during NBC's post-debate special, confidently declaring that most people didn't know anything about the scandal because every left-wing media outlet has censored the story. When President Trump released the full video of his interview with 60 Minutes on Thursday, it showed him confronting correspondent Lesley Stahl on CBS's refusal to cover or investigate the Biden scandal. Once again, the leftist media cover up bad news to help Democrats and then congratulate themselves for making sure voters are uniformed."
See Kyle Drennen, "CBS's Dickerson Promises 'News Cycle' Will Bury Biden Corruption," Media Research Center, October 2020, archive.ph/praNY (dickersonj@cbsnews.com)

While the aforementioned outlets received hardly any public funds, NPR[177] was a creation of the largesse in local and state government budgets—and the U.S. Congress. So what did the Managing Editor at NPR call the verified lies by Joe and his campaign? A "pure distraction"[178] that was "not really" a story, even though the acting Director of National Intelligence stated[179] that no intelligence existed to suggest that the Biden Laptop was a result of foreign influence. NPR still covered[180] for the Bidens six months later, although it quietly issued a correction about the laptop being "discredited."

As demonstrated below, there was a sophisticated three-pronged, sequential operation in play:

- On 10/14/2020, Twitter completely censored the story and suspended the New York Post's account, followed by Facebook and other social media platforms suppressing the revelations
- On 10/19/2020, former spooks and bureaucrats declared the emails "Russian disinformation" and engaged in numerous ad hominem logical fallacies against Rudy Giuliani and others
- On 10/22/2020, Joe used the media interference of the preceding days to dismiss inquiries during the final presidential debate, relying solely on the "Public Statement" from the former spooks

Compare the labeling of the Biden Laptop scandal as Russian disinformation to the merciless, three-year Russian collusion hoax surrounding Trump and his team, which was based on "spoofed" internet traffic.[181] The current state of the American republic and its media environment is a direct result of this double standard.[182]



k. On or about August 22, 2016, Researcher-1 emailed the aforementioned recipients, expressing continued doubt regarding the Russian Bank-1 allegations that SUSSMANN would later convey to the FBI, and raising concerns about the researchers' bias against Trump:

> Let[']s for a moment think of the best case scenario, where we are able to show (somehow) that DNS [] communication exists between Trump and R[ussia]. How do we plan to defend against the criticism that this is not spoofed [] traffic we are observing? For those wondering how Hunter simply forgot to pick up his laptop from a repair shop, keep in mind that he lost two other laptops within the same year—in the summer[183] and fall[184] of 2018. For those who are still unconvinced, the following 600 pages will shed light on Hunter's state of mind. Along with smoking shards of Parmesan cheese and "picking through rugs"[185] to find any extra droppings, he conceded that he was incapable of ensuring that he was wearing pants.[186] The contents of the Biden Laptop confirmed Hunter's admission—he lost his iPhone at least 57 times, according to his email inbox.[187] The Biden family displayed such horrendous "OpSec"[188] that they are a confirmed national security threat. Here is but one example: Hunter saved a photo of the gate code and Wi-Fi password (on stationery Joe snagged from the Naval Observatory before leaving in January 2017, no less) at Joe's palatial estate, a rental home[189] along the Potomac River on Chain Bridge Road in McLean.[190] As you will read in this Report, the pimps that Hunter patronized and the women he used would exploit his carelessness and could still—to this day—use similar information to America's detriment.

The Biden family and their associates—and their sprawling political syndicate—continue to leave a horrendous digital trail. Within months of Joe's pResidential oath, the family's personal Venmo accounts were found within ten minutes of searching because the accounts were not concealed in any way—they possessed conspicuous and easy-to-guess usernames.[191] Said differently, anyone with an Internet connection and a checking account in America would have been able to construct a link analysis of who the Biden clan was paying for which products and services, for what purpose, and when. Luckily, the establishment media alerted the White House before such a scenario arose. In fact, Venmo even changed their source code to guard against this kind of negligence in the future.[192]

Take the example of Hunter losing his wallet, passport, and Joe's "DOD card." Hunter got lucky, and the person who found them called the Yale Club to return the items. The email below did not say that the items were found at the Yale Club; for all we know, Hunter could have lost them in the streets of Manhattan. The director[193] of member services at the Club merely stated that someone had found the items, including Hunter's membership card. With this backdrop, consider the following statement from the pResident: "He [Hunter] is the smartest man I know—I mean, from a pure intellectual capacity."[194]

In spite of the fact that the family's patriarch is now the most powerful man on Earth, the carelessness that the clan exudes has continued unabated. Earlier this year, Hunter's daughter, Maisy, dropped[195] her wallet—replete with PII and other sensitive information—in a parking lot in LA. Again, Joe's progeny lucked out: the person who found the wallet did not seek to capitalize on it but returned it.[196]

TIMELINE

With the foregoing background in mind, this is a comprehensive timeline of the Biden Laptop saga:

2010

- March 2: John Paul Mac Isaac registered The Mac Shop, Inc. in Delaware[197]

2013

- May 7: Hunter received two waivers—for his age and a previous cocaine offense—in order to be commissioned as an ensign in the Navy reserves to a sedentary post in the public affairs unit
- June: On the very first day of his Navy duty in Norfolk, Virginia, Hunter failed a drug test
- December 2: Hunter flew with Joe on Air Force Two to China and met with his business partners, which included executives at the state-owned Bank of China, and introduced Joe to one of them[198]

- February 16: Hunter and his attorney, Thomas Gallagher, were notified by the Assistant Secretary of the Navy, Juan Garcia III, that Hunter had been administratively discharged for cocaine use
- February 21: After months of Western-backed protests, the Ukrainian parliament voted to oust President Viktor YANUKOVYCH; in the following days, YANUKOVYCH sought exile in Russia
- March 16: In response to an article[199] that Hunter emailed to his longtime business partner, Devon Archer, entitled, "Joe Biden Lurks Behind Every U.S. Action on Ukraine," Archer responded: There is a "unique timing here in this upcoming opportunity. One door closes [and] another opens."
- April 1: Archer joined the board of Burisma, a Cypriot-registered gas company in the Ukraine which was co-founded by Mykola ZLOCHEVSKY—who served as an advisor to YANUKOVYCH—even though Archer had no experience working in the Ukraine and did not speak the language[200]
- April 12: The White House released a statement announcing Joe would visit the Ukraine in ten days to "consult on the latest steps to enhance Ukraine's short- and long-term energy security."[201]
- April 12 at 11:43 PM EDT: Hunter emailed Archer an extremely long memo about leveraging Joe's position as the "public face" of the U.S. administration's policy in the Ukraine: "The [Burisma] contract should begin now- not after the upcoming visit of my guy [Joe]. That [Burisma contract] should include a retainer in the range of [$]25k p[er]/m[onth] w/ additional fees where appropriate for more in depth work to go to BSF [Boies Schiller Flexner LLP] for our protection"[202]

- April 14: Archer visited Joe at the White House under the pretense of his son's school project[203]
- April 18: Hunter joined the board of Burisma, even though he, too, had zero experience working in in the energy sector, or the Ukraine, and did not speak the language[204]
- April 21: Joe arrived in the Ukraine; during the transatlantic flight, Joe's staff briefed[205] reporters about the U.S. plan to help the Ukraine extract their "unconventional" gas resources, for which only Burisma held a current license
- April 23: Archer gave an interview, which was later posted[206] on Burisma's website, about how Archer "knows" the U.S. Secretary of State (John Kerry) and Joe[207]
- April 25: Joe was reported as the "public face of the administration's handling of [the] Ukraine"[208]
- April 28: Authorities in the United Kingdom froze $23 million from the London bank accounts of ZLOCHEVSKY, one of Burisma's key owners[209]
- May 12: Burisma publicly announced that Hunter joined its board[210]
- May 13: Burisma posted a photo of Joe and Archer at the White House on their website. Joe's lawyer demanded that Burisma remove the photo; eventually, Burisma complied with the demand[211]
- September 10: Archer committed one of his many FARA violations by advocating to U.S. officials at the U.S. embassy in Kyiv as an unregistered agent on behalf of Burisma, his foreign principal

- February 16: Hunter violated the FARA and lobbied the U.S. State Department on behalf of ZLOCHEVSKY to strong-arm the Mexican government in an effort to secure safe passage for ZLOCHEVSKY's trip to Mexico (ZLOCHEVSKY was justifiably worried about being denied entry)
- April 17: Vadym POZHARSKYI, an in-house advisor to Burisma's board, thanked Hunter for the opportunity to meet with Joe the previous evening at the Cafe Milano restaurant in D.C. The sitting Prime Minister of Kazakhstan, Karim MASSIMOV, who was recently arrested[212] for treason, was invited to the dinner as well, alongside Kazakh oligarch Kenes RAKISHEV[213]
- December 2: Hunter and Archer, along with their ever-present handler, Eric Schwerin, received real-time White House conference call notes regarding Joe's upcoming travel to the Ukraine from Blue Star Strategies, whose leaders—Sally Painter and Karen Tramontano—were illegally representing Burisma by not registering as agents of a foreign principal (Burisma) with the DOJ, per the FARA
- December 6: Joe's own staff recommended that he "not … get into naming names or accusing individuals" in response to the potential question, "Do you think ZLOCHEVSKY is corrupt?"[214]
- December 8: The New York Times published a story about Hunter and the investigation into Burisma by Ukrainian prosecutors: "The credibility of the vice president's anticorruption message may have been undermined by the association of his son, Hunter Biden, with one of Ukraine's largest natural gas companies, Burisma Holdings, and with its owner, Mykola Zlochevsky"[215]

- February 18: The White House released a statement[216] praising Ukrainian President, Petro POROSHENKO, for firing the Ukrainian prosecutor, Viktor SHOKIN, mere weeks after Joe threatened POROSHENKO by withholding a $1 billion loan guarantee if SHOKIN—who was investigating[217] Burisma at the time—were not fired[218]
- May 26: John Flynn, an advisor to the vice president, emailed (ordinarily classified) notes about Joe's impending phone call with POROSHENKO to Hunter's business email address[219]

- April 12 at ≈6:50 PM EDT: An inebriated Hunter dropped off three[220] Apple laptops at The Mac Shop for repair; one laptop was unable to be salvaged, the second needed an external keyboard, which Mac Isaac provided, while the data on the third laptop (Serial #: FVFXC2MMHV29)[221] would be able to be transferred to an external hard drive, which Hunter agreed to provide
- April 17 ≈AM: Hunter returned to The Mac Shop with a new Western Digital external hard drive (Serial #: WX21A129ATFF3) on which to transfer the data from the third laptop[222]
- April 17 ≈PM: Mac Isaac completed the data recovery (The Mac Shop internal invoice #: 6077)[223]
- April 25: Joe announced his candidacy for President of the United States[224]
- July 25: President Trump called Ukrainian president Volodymyr ZELENSKYY[225]
- September 24: Congresswoman Nancy Pelosi (D-CA-12) announced the commencement of a presidential impeachment inquiry[226] into President Trump's call with ZELENSKYY
- October 9: Mac Isaac's father, Richard Stephen (Steve) Mac Isaac, a graduate of the U.S. Air Force Academy and retired colonel, was rebuffed[227] and told to "lawyer up" at the FBI's Albuquerque Field Office after he offered to give an agent at the FBI a copy of the hard drive
- November 1: Agent Wilson called Steve Mac Isaac to request contact information for his son
- November 21: Agent Wilson and his colleague, Agent Dzielak, went to Mac Isaac's home and spoke with him in his living room about the laptop. Agent Wilson asked Mac Isaac "if [he] had seen any child pornography on" the Biden Laptop. Afterwards, Agent Dzielak sent John Paul Mac Isaac a text message and requested a "timeline of the events leading up to reaching out to the FBI"[228]
- December 9 at ≈9:52 AM EDT: Agent Dzielak asked Mac Isaac for the serial number of the external drive. He responded: "Western digital - my passport for mac S/n WX21A129ATFF3"
- December 9 at ≈11:00 AM EDT: Agents Wilson and Dzielak appeared at Mac Isaac's shop and handed him a subpoena for Hunter's laptop and the external hard drive that the laptop data had been transferred onto. When leaving, Agent Dzielak told Mac Isaac: "In our experience, nothing ever happens to those that don't talk about these things." Mac Isaac was so thrilled that the laptop was leaving his shop that he "didn't hardly notice the odd instructions or the thinly-veiled threat." An hour later, Agent Dzielak called Mac Isaac as the agents (inexplicably) needed help accessing the drive, indicating that the drive was never sent to the FBI forensics lab near Quantico, Virginia

- December 18: President Trump was impeached by the U.S. House of Representatives[231]

- February 5: President Trump was acquitted on both impeachment counts by the U.S. Senate[232]
- February-March: After exasperating rebuffs, Steve Mac Isaac spoke with a staff member for Senator Lindsey Graham (R-SC) about the laptop situation and the FBI slow-walk; after ignoring Steve for a week, the staff member refused to cooperate with Mac Isaac and did not follow up
- May 19 & 21: John Paul Mac Isaac's uncle, Ron Scott, who was also a retired Air Force colonel, sent a one-page summary email and fax to Judicial Watch about the laptop and included a redacted copy of the subpoena; Scott received no response from Judicial Watch or its president, Tom Fitton
- May 29: Scott sent a fax to the office of Senator Ron Johnson (R-WI) about the laptop and, again, included a redacted copy of the subpoena; Scott received no response from Sen. Johnson's office
- August 28: Mac Isaac sent Robert "Bob" Costello—an attorney in New York who counted Rudy Giuliani as a client—a copy of the hard drive[233]
- September: The IC alerted Facebook in "private meetings"[234] of a "foreign manipulation attempt" involving a "trove of documents" and directed Facebook to "view [the trove] with suspicion"
- October 14: The New York Post published a story about an email[235] on the Biden Laptop which proved, beyond a reasonable doubt, that Joe met with Hunter's foreign business partners, exposing the lie that Joe had "never discussed" Hunter's "overseas business dealings"
- October 19: Former U.S. IC spooks released a "Public Statement on the Hunter Biden Emails"[236]
- November 2: Mac Isaac was forced to shut down in-person consultations at his repair shop due to the numerous threats that he received
- December 31: Mac Isaac—through his longtime business agent, Lori Wardell—filed papers entitled "Dissolution-Short Form" for The Mac Shop, Inc., thereby closing his repair shop[237]

[229] "Similarly, there is no legitimate basis for President Trump to claim former Vice President Biden behaved improperly in calling for the removal of Ukrainian prosecutor general Viktor Shokin. When he called for Mr. Shokin's removal, then-Vice President Biden acted in accordance with and in furtherance of an official United States policy and the broad consensus of various European countries and the International Monetary Fund. Indeed, in late 2015, the International Monetary Fund threatened Ukraine that it would not receive $40 billion in international assistance unless Mr. Shokin was removed."

The text at the bottom of Hunter's signed invoice clearly stipulated the consequences if he did not return to the repair shop to pick up the laptop: "Equipment left with the Mac Shop after 90 days of notification of completed service will be treated as abandoned and you agree to hold the Mac Shop harmless for any damage or loss of property. In the event of nonpayment, The Mac Shop reserves the right to remove any equipment or parts installed."[253]

As was the case with his longtime business partner and felon, Devon Archer, Hunter graduated from Yale around the same time as Lesley Wolf.[260] Lesley's husband, Daniel Wolf, just so happens to be a professor[261] at the same school where Joe ran the Biden Center for Diplomacy and Global Engagement: the University of Pennsylvania. A self-congratulatory man, Dr. Wolf teaches at the medical school.[262] The university, which controlled the funding and budget for the Biden Center, received more than $22 million[263] from anonymous Chinese donors, a whopping $15 million of which came in just a two month span from March to May of 2018, thereby repeatedly and blatantly violating 20 USC § 1011f(e).[264] The statute does not allow anonymity to foreign donations over $250k.[265]

National Legal and Policy Center

Dear Secretary DeVos and Mr. Moore:

The National Legal and Policy Center (NLPC) hereby requests that the Department of Education conduct a full Investigation and Records Request of all monetary gifts and contracts that have been received by the University of Pennsylvania and its Penn Biden Center for Diplomacy and Global Engagement from China sources, many of which are listed as Anonymous in their semi-annual reports, and thus is in clear violation of Section 117 of the Higher Education Act, 20 U.S.C. 1011f, that all gifts or contracts exceeding $250,000 must disclose the foreign ownership and control of the gift or contract.

Moreover, NLPC requests that the Department obtain and inspect all copies of the monetary gifts and contracts, whether or not listed as Anonymous, in order to determine what if any conditions or restrictions were or are placed on those gifts or contracts, which is also required to be disclosed by federal law and to release them to the public as required by 20 U.S.C. 1011f(e).

The final document exchanged between the FBI and Mac Issac was a "Receipt for Property" form.[266] The Case ID, 272D-BA-3065729, confirmed the money laundering investigation was being conducted by the BAFO.[267][268] Besides inadvertently misspelling the surname of Agent Wilson, the Twitter threads shown below—from Adam Housley and two anonymous users—turned out to be extremely precocious and thorough. If not but for Mac Isaac's courage, the feds could have buried the Biden Laptop under Rule 6(e), the grand jury secrecy guidelines from the Rules of Criminal Procedure.[269]

After Hunter realized that he had, in fact, forgotten to pick up his laptop, he dispatched[270] his lawyer and fixer, George Mesires, to call Mac Isaac and ask—very diplomatically, we are sure—what in the hell was going on. Apparently, Mesires had been contacted by the New York Post to comment on the materials[271] that the Post would publish the next day (10/14/2020). Hunter needed Mesires to run interference—and quickly! Hunter evidently told Mesires that he dropped off the laptop in 2017, which Mesires then conveyed to Mac Isaac. In fact, Hunter had abandoned the laptop two years later in 04/2019. Third-party sources confirmed the authenticity of the email below; in a republic with even the patina of an impartial press corps, the email below would've inspired curiosity and fresh reporting.[272]

Dear Hunter, thank you for inviting me to DC and giving an opportunity to meet your father and spent some time together. It's realty an honor and pleasure.
As we spoke yesterday evening, would be great to meet today for a quick coffee. What do you think? I could come to you office somewhere around noon or so, before or on my way to airport.

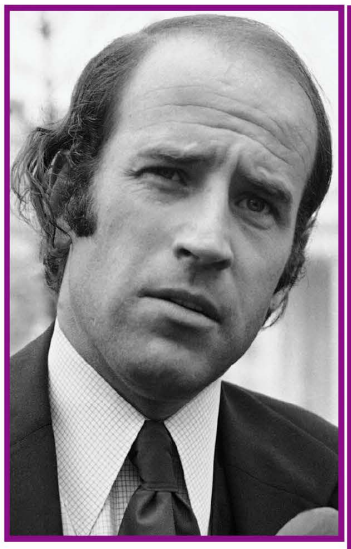
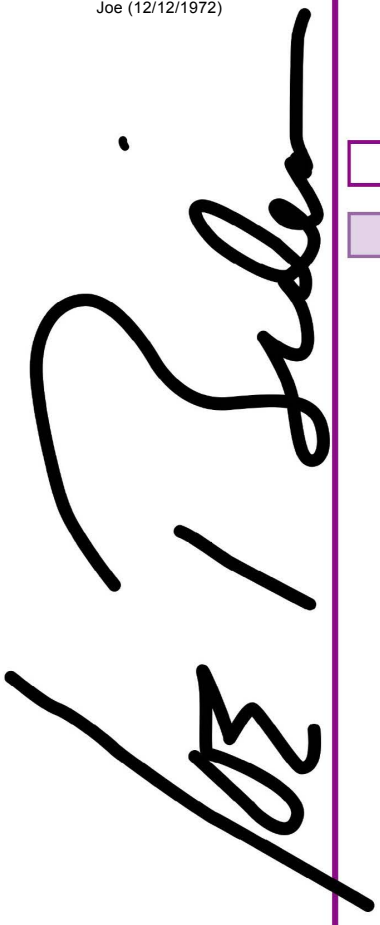
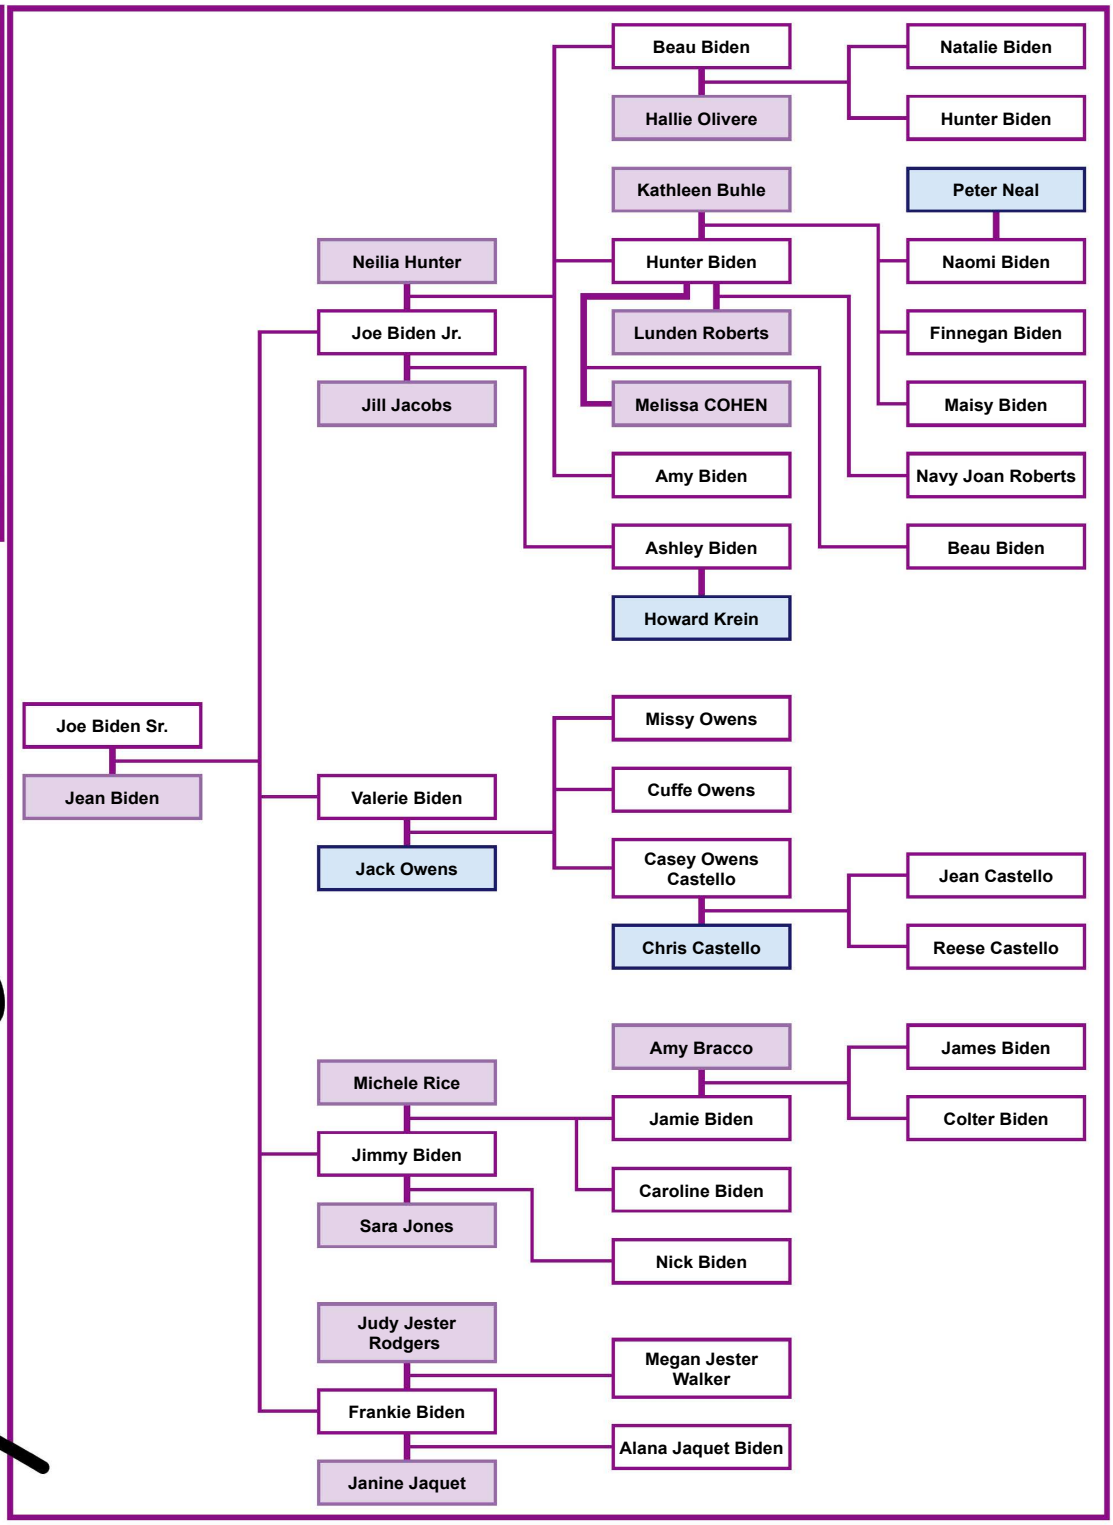
THE FOUR FAMILIES

According to Joe's biographer, Jules Witcover, the Biden family puts loyalty "above all other considerations." Ergo, it is not only prudent but also necessary to get a firm grasp of the so-called "four families." The four children of Joe Sr. and Jean Biden—and their progeny—are shown below. The ENDNOTES section of this Report contains a comprehensive family diagram with full names, photos, birthdays, anniversaries, and other relevant biographical information and PII. Marco Polo included only those individuals with whom the four siblings have procreated in the diagram below:



Joe (12/12/1972)





It is not particularly helpful to think of the Biden political mafia as a spider web; you will get bogged down in the voluminous tentacles of the enterprise. Instead, consider the family as four packs of ravenous hyenas that, like the structure and makeup of a mafia, get larger as you move down the trunk of the family tree. Like any mafia—whether in construction, steel, or oil—the Bidens have had their fair share of arrests and brushes[273] with the law. Even though the family's currency is different (instead of pizza parlors or painting services, the Bidens use "government relations" and "consulting"), what is being purchased is the same: power and influence. Below is a mere sampling of the always[274] nepotistic, oftentimes corrupt, and sometimes illegal schemes orchestrated by Joe and his family:

- Beau Biden, Joe's son, gave a sweetheart deal to a member of the du Pont family (whose eponymous company has been connected[275] to Joe for more than five decades) who had raped his own three-year-old daughter; the rapist received only probation and served no time in prison[276]
- Ron Olivere, Beau Biden's father-in-law, received an $80,000+ annual contract for "event planning services" from the Beau Biden Foundation for the Protection of Children, even though Olivere was a longtime dry cleaner with zero discernible experience in event planning
- Joel Secundy, Beau Biden's brother-in-law, was a White House liaison at the Department of Commerce during Joe's vice-presidency[277]
- Ashley Biden, Joe's daughter, was arrested in Chicago in 2002 for obstructing a police officer (after Ashley's friend threw an object at the officer), but Ashley faced no consequences[278]
- Howard Krein, Joe's son-in-law, promoted his venture capital firm while on Air Force Two[279]
- Valerie Biden Owens, Joe's sister, and Valerie's daughter, Casey Owens, funneled over $50,000 from Joe's campaign to their consulting business in a single Senate election cycle[280]

McCabe, who served as Biden's communications and projects director between 1987 and 1995 and as deputy administrator of the EPA at the end of the Clinton administration, led DuPont's defense of the toxic PFAS chemical PFOA. … Asked about the EPA's highly favorable statements about PFOA in his December 2007 deposition, McCabe insisted that they were 'not a quid pro quo' for the DuPont's agreement to phase it out."

- Jack Owens, Joe's brother-in-law, helped Jimmy Biden, Joe's younger brother, secure a half-million dollar loan in 1975—worth $2,583,000 in 2022—which Jimmy then defaulted on[281]
- Missy Owens, Joe's niece, secured a top job in the U.S. Department of Commerce when Joe was vice president and then became a six-figure lobbyist and representative for Coca Cola (and GM)[282]
- Cuffe Biden Owens, Joe's nephew, also a lawyer,[283] has organized his mother Valerie's speaking engagements[284] for years and helped negotiate her lucrative book called Growing Up Biden[285]
- Casey Owens, Joe's niece, was the Special Assistant to the Senior Coordinator for China[286] during her uncle's vice-presidency and even made appearances in diplomatic cables[287]
- Jimmy Biden, Joe's younger brother, secured over half a million dollars in private mortgage loans for a vacation home in Florida from John Hynansky,[288] a donor to Joe, immediately following Hynansky's multimillion dollar loan from the U.S. government to sell luxury cars in the Ukraine[289]
- Frankie Biden, Joe's youngest brother, became a U.S. Capitol elevator operator during Joe's first year in the Senate[290] and subsequently secured government loans for a Costa Rican solar farm[291]
- Frankie Biden flaunted his family's last name in an advertisement[292] for a charter school scam[293]

A reporter from Delaware, Sam Waltz, recorded the Bidens' political and business operation as it was described by Joe's own Senate staff: "Joe says that when someone helps his family, it's just like helping Joe."[294] Indeed, from vacation homes to shell corporations, anything even adjacently touching the Bidens was a family affair. Stunned with this behavior, Tony Bobulinski* quipped early on in their ill-fated[295] venture to another would-be Biden partner, James GILLIAR, about Jimmy's encroachment: "[W]hat is the deal w[ith] Jim Biden … he wasn't [a] part of the discussion[,] but now seems [like] a focal point[?]" GILLIAR said that "[W]ith H[unter's] demons, [it] could be good to have [Jimmy as] a back up … he strengthens our U[nique] S[elling] P[roposition] to [the] Chinese as it looks like a truly family business[.]" All that GILLIAR could muster up—in response to Tony's repeated questions—was that Jimmy was an unsolicited "consultant." On what matters did Jimmy consult for the team? When it came to detailed business strategies and operations, precisely nothing. Jimmy wanted to use Joe's relationships with foreign leaders and oligarchs—forged through Joe's public office—for the benefit of the Biden family via their One Belt One Road (OBOR) joint-venture with CEFC Energy, SinoHawk. What Bobulinski did not realize is that, in the Biden clan, the spoils would go to all.[296] As the Report will demonstrate, Jimmy's behavior was akin to a pack of hyenas after one of them had made a kill.[297]

Like any pack of hyenas, the Bidens had to deal with internal fighting. Shortly after Beau's death, Hunter and Beau's widow, Hallie Olivere Biden, began an affair, which Joe praised in March 2017: "We are all lucky that Hunter and Hallie[298] found each other as they were putting their lives together again after such sadness. They have mine and Jill's full and complete support and we are happy for them."[299] Hunter's then-wife, Kathleen, had kicked Hunter out of the family home on Loughboro Road in D.C. the previous summer. Based on screenshots of articles and Hallie's iMessages with Hunter's daughters, Hunter was aware of the press coverage and stress his adulterous relationship caused.

Needless to say, Hunter and Kathleen's divorce was not simple or pretty. One particularly ugly dispute featured Hunter's attorney, Sarah Mancinelli, drafting an incredible letter to Kathleen's attorney, Rebekah Sullivan, which denounced a supposed blackmail attempt by Kathleen and Hunter's classmate at Georgetown, Chris D'Amato, concerning Joe's financial prospects after leaving the vice presidency: "Hunter has learned that Kathleen intends, upon advice of Hunter's former close friend, and now a de factor [sic] advisor to Kathleen, Chris D'Amato, [the son of former three-term U.S. Senator from New York, Alfonse D'Amato], to release purportedly compromising photos of Hunter to the media. … In addition to the continued threats to release photographs to the media, Hunter has learned that Kathleen's settlement posture is premised on her expectation that Hunter's father will backstop any financial arrangement eventually reached between the parties. Indeed, Kathleen's expectation has even been communicated to Hunter's father. … Given that her support is forever tied to Hunter's ability to earn an income, Kathleen should be as committed to Hunter's success as he is."

Re: Biden Family Matter

Canon EOS 5D Mark III_20160516_150520.jpg

Dear Rebekah:

I have worked with Hunter to revise the Agreement to reflect those terms which remain agreeable to him. Enclosed is a copy of the revised Agreement -- signed by Hunter -- for Kathleen's signature.

The events of the last several days require attention and discussion. Notwithstanding the parties' agreement to resolve this matter privately, Hunter has learned that Kathleen intends, upon advice of Hunter's former close friend, and now a de factor advisor to Kathleen, Chris D'Amato, to release purportedly compromising photos of Hunter to the media. The rationale for that decision is unclear but the reasons that have been offered have included coercing Hunter to accept Kathleen's settlement proposal, and embarrassing and sullying Hunter's business reputation. Regardless of the purported rationales, the threat to release compromising photos is entirely unacceptable, and likely actionable under the District of Columbia's blackmail statute. See D.C. Criminal Code 22-3251; 22-3252. We trust this conduct will immediately cease, and we seek your assurances that your client will refrain from such an ill-advised strategy.

Kathleen's conduct is tantamount to bad faith negotiations and belies her stated desire to settle this matter in a private, dignified, and family-focused manner. Further, I can only assume that Kathleen understands and appreciates that the release of compromising photographs would be as economically harmful to her and girls as it would be to Hunter. Given that her support is forever tied to Hunter's ability to earn an income, Kathleen should be as committed to Hunter's success as he is.

In addition to the continued threats to release photographs to the media, Hunter has learned that Kathleen's settlement posture is premised on her expectation that Hunter's father will backstop any financial arrangement eventually reached between the parties. Indeed, Kathleen's expectation has even been communicated to Hunter's father.

Kathleen's misplaced expectations have seemingly clouded her ability to recognize the reality of the couple's tenuous financial position, and Hunter's actual financial abilities. Again, we view this as contrary to good faith bargaining. It puts Hunter in an untenable position, both with respect to his ability to negotiate an arms-length agreement, and the expectations that are placed on him to achieve a settlement. Simply put, there is no "blank-check." Any settlement must be economically feasible.

Hunter has no obligation to, and no intention of, relying on anyone except himself to implement a settlement decree. While there is no doubt he will have to borrow money to meet the immediate debt service he is required to undertake per the terms of the attached Agreement, that money will have to be repaid. If Kathleen is assuming that Hunter's father will perform Hunter's obligations, she is woefully misinformed and that mindset will hamper our ability to bring this case to closure.

Finally, as you are aware, Roxanne Roberts is writing a feature story in the Washington Post about Hunter and Kathleen. Hunter has not spoken to Roxanne and has no intention to. We assume Kathleen will likewise not participate in the story. Renewed press attention is only going to further alienate the parties and create an impediment to settlement. Please confirm by Noon today that Kathleen will not speak to Roxanne, or any other press outlet about this matter, unless such communication is a joint-written statement agreed to by the parties.

We trust the enclosed Agreement will bring matters to a close. I look forward to receiving those copies signed by Kathleen by the close of business on _____.

Sincerely,

Sarah E. Mancinelli

One year after kicking Hunter out of the house, Kathleen sent him the following email: "Not only did you cheat on me, Viagra[,] and Cialis, [but] you actually bought her [Hallie] expensive gifts." Kathleen also (understandably) mourned the fact that she had "lost the family that I thought was mine."

Hunter,

You cheated on me.

You continued to cheat on me while I worked with Kolmac, Debbie, etc to get you help.

Not only did you cheat on me, Viagra and Cialis, you actually bought her expensive gifts.

I am stronger than you think. I'm not standing by while you treat me like dirt.

I lost Beau, I lost my husband, I lost the family that I thought was mine.

I continue to try and continue to feel like I am making things worse.

I am finished.

Over three years later, Kathleen's relationship with Hunter was still rocky, as she badgered him about expenses for the girls—and her monthly payment—that he was legally required to pay. Even though they continued to come together for birthdays, their relationship had completely deteriorated due to Hunter's spending and addictions.[300] In an iMessage to Joe on 02/06/2019, Hunter complained about Kathleen's insistence[301] that he follow the terms of their divorce settlement: "I cashed Maisy's college fund to which she said 'I don't care where you get the money[—]tuitions are your responsibility[,] too.'"

Yes. I am with Maisy having dinner. Sorry I was completely distracted with Kathleen's threats to file unless she got her full alimony plus lawyers fees. I was able to do January (I cashed Maisy's college fund to which she said "I don't care where you get the money tuitions are your responsibility too."). LY

Hello Edward,

Happy New Year.

I wanted you to know, that in an email from Hunter he asked that the 529 plan be closed and the check sent to the California address on his WF accounts. He asked me to let you know.

300 "Biden had his first glass of champagne when he was 8. In his 20s, he started drinking heavily after work ('I could always drink five times more than anyone else'). He went to rehab and relapsed after seven years — not long after his father joined the Obama ticket, effectively ending his son's lucrative lobbying career. Biden went back to rehab again, then relapsed in 2016 after Beau died."

After the New York Post broke the news about their (truly family) affair, Hunter and Hallie moved in together and rented a waterfront home[302] in Annapolis, Maryland, in August 2017. Along with the posh rental home, the expected cash windfall from Beau's life insurance payout (MetLife, Account Number: 4064974559) of $2,045,558.17 definitely afforded Hallie and the family other amenities, including a new BMW X5 SUV. While she lived in Annapolis, Hallie sent her two children (Natalie and Hunter Biden II) to the upscale Key School. Even though there was documented evidence of liquid assets and hundreds of thousands of dollars for fur coat shopping sprees and drugs, Hallie did not pay tuition for her children at the posh day school. Hallie was subsequently sued[303] and, after several months, quietly settled the case. Only one media outlet in the nation, the Capital Gazette, covered the debacle, which was resolved just three months after Joe announced his candidacy for pResident.[304] vs.

Plaintiff
HALLIE BIDEN
404 Hillside Road
Wilmington, DE 19807-2248
Defendant

Case No.: C-02-CV-19-000777

COMPLAINT
Breach of Contract

Plaintiff, THE KEY SCHOOL, INC, (hereinafter KEY SCHOOL) by and through its attorney, CATHERINE A. CRONIN, sues Defendant, HALLIE BIDEN, (hereinafter Defendant BIDEN), and represents as follows:

1. Plaintiff KEY SCHOOL is a private school incorporated in the State of Maryland. It is engaged in the business of providing elementary and secondary education to students in Pre-School through the 12th grade and charges tuition to do so. It is located in Annapolis, Anne Arundel County, Maryland.

2. Defendant BIDEN is an adult and a resident of Wilmington, Delaware. At the time of the contracts between the parties, Defendant was a resident of Annapolis, Anne Arundel County, Maryland.

3. On or around May 18, 2018, Defendant BIDEN entered into two Enrollment Contracts charge of 1.5% per month (18% annual rate) on all unpaid balances received after the due date.

7. The Enrollment Contracts provided that in the event of Defendant BIDEN'S default for failure to pay, KEY SCHOOL shall be entitled to all reasonable costs of collection, including reasonable attorney's fees.

8. KEY SCHOOL has incurred a loss of Fifty-Five Thousand Seven Hundred Forty Dollars ($55,740.00), as a result of the breach by Defendant BIDEN.

WHEREFORE, KEY SCHOOL demands judgment against Defendant BIDEN in the amount of Fifty-Five Thousand Seven Hundred Forty Dollars ($55,740.00), plus pre-judgment interest and post-judgment interest at the contractual rate of eighteen percent (18%), attorney's fees, and costs.

Respectfully submitted,

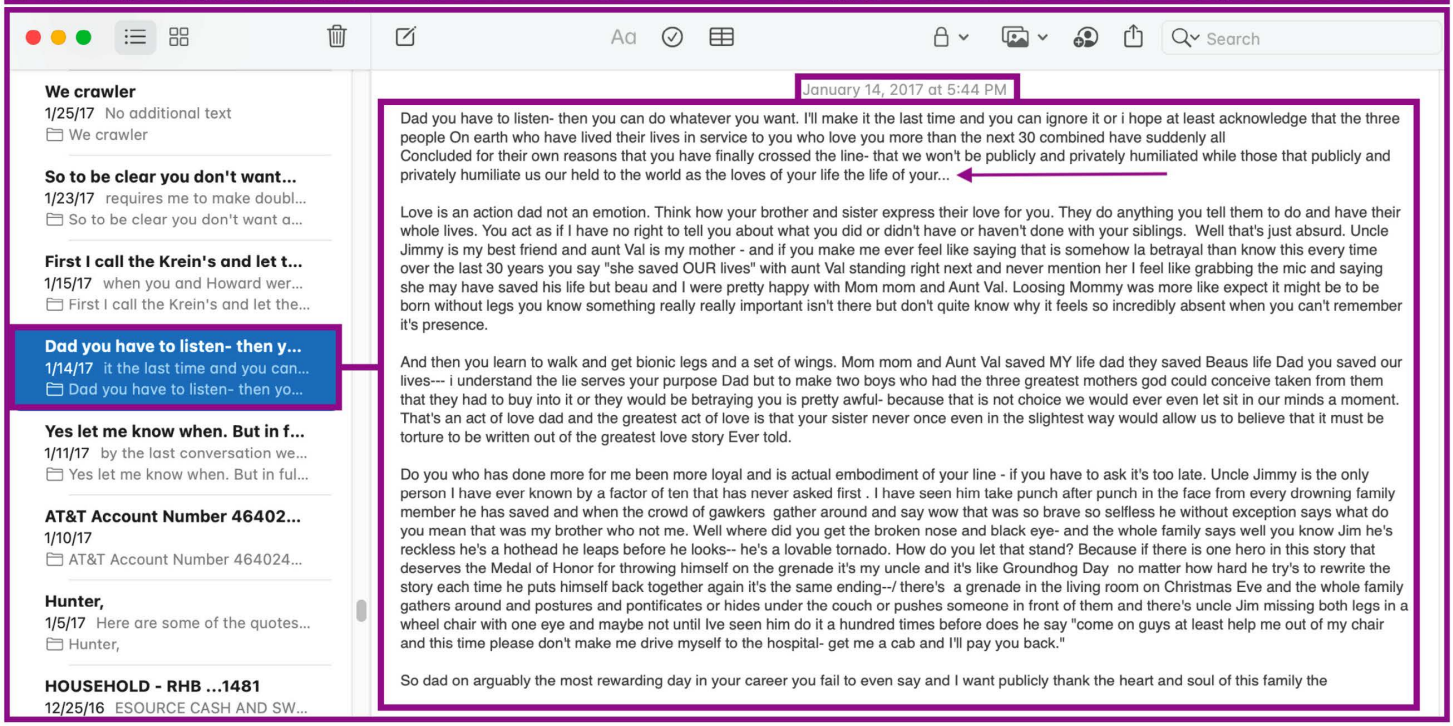
Even in the midst of hideous family controversies, Hunter still treasured his clan. Two days after Joe received[305] the Presidential Medal of Freedom from Obama, Hunter defended his aunt Valerie[306] and uncle Jimmy from what he thought was Joe's unfair characterization of them in his acceptance speech. Hunter's note to Joe—which he saved in his laptop notes—accused him of "finally cross[ing] the line" and that he and Joe's younger siblings wouldn't "be publicly and privately humiliated while those that publicly and privately humiliate us our [sic] held to the world as the loves of your life[.]"



Despite the divisions within what has been dubbed the #JerrySpringerFirstFamily, Hunter summed up the Bidens' modus operandi quite well: "I don't belong to an administration—I belong to a family."[307]

II. BUSINESS-RELATED CRIMES

The following three sections of this Report are in order of their relative importance to the American citizenry. Naturally, the Biden family's business crimes came first, as what the family sold—influence over the direction of public policy and access to the people who directed it (whether overtly or, as in many cases, covertly)—affects every American citizen, regardless of how he or she feels about, say, marijuana laws or judicial philosophy. Said differently, the family's numerous sex and drug-related crimes are critical to understanding them, particularly their egregious hypocrisy and double standards; however, an impartial view of the situation clearly showed how their entanglements in international business and politics were the paramount national security threat on the laptop. In fact, the Bidens' dealings changed the course of history, particularly America's relationship with its most formidable opponent: the Chinese Communist Party (CCP). Do not take Marco Polo's word for it; in this section, the exhibits themselves—many taken directly from the Biden Laptop—will confirm our statement.

Joe's longtime confidant and "wise man" who replaced him in the Senate when he became vice president, Ted Kaufman, described the environment which produced these business crimes (both large and small) as the "Delaware Way." In fact, Kaufman credited Joe as "kind of the person who helped create the Delaware Way."[308] And while many commentators[309] posit that Beau was the spitting image of his father, Hunter edged out Beau at Joe's corruption tango. Indeed, Hunter's entire life, not just his professional career, was a kaleidoscope[310] of shell companies, large round-dollar wire transfers, and corrupt foreign (and domestic) oligarchs.[311] American history is replete with white and blue collar crime families, and the Bidens are a unique mix of both. The family was involved in both petty and elaborate[312] financial corruption schemes, eastern European energy companies, and multimillion dollar "consulting" contracts with firms run by CCP-linked operatives. Said differently, shell companies are as common with the Bidens as shellfish off the coast of Nantucket, where the Bidens spend every Thanksgiving.[313] This section was written with the goal of cracking open these numerous shells. The media—and the U.S. Congress—bathe in Bucket #1 below. Many so-called conservative writers typically reveal findings from Bucket #2, but Marco Polo strove to write a comprehensive Report about Bucket #3—the bucket that really matters to the American people and their future.

He had most closely followed in his father's footsteps into a career in service, serving as the attorney general of Delaware, and, at the time of his death, preparing for a run for governor. And unlike his brother Hunter, Beau lived a fairly scandal-free life."

What did Bucket #3 contain after a comprehensive review of the Biden Laptop? Only a table with four columns adequately conveyed the contents. The business crimes[314] listed below are in the order in which they appear in the Report. Unless stated otherwise, Hunter was involved in the criminal act and those listed in the third column are his accomplices (or, in some cases, Hunter's co-conspirator(s)).

The business model for Hunter and Joe's siblings was simple but required walking a high and delicate tightrope: sell Joe's influence over the American government as its pResident (and previously as its vice president and the senior Senator from Delaware) and execute the "Delaware Way" while attracting as little law enforcement attention as possible. This tightrope required scant knowledge in the nitty-gritty of business operations; after meticulously reviewing 128,000+ emails on the Biden Laptop, Marco Polo is confident in confirming that Hunter did almost nothing in the way of day-to-day business management. Instead, he served in puff positions[317] as a figurehead for an array of vanilla organizations—such the Center for National Policy—all the way down to the gutter of American politics: lobbying on behalf of online gambling companies.[318] One of Hunter's few public speaking engagements was on 11/04/2015—he accepted an award on behalf of his deceased brother, Beau.[319]

FIXERS

So, who actually made all of this work? An operation of this size cannot be managed by one family alone. The Bidens' band of loyal fixers is extremely large. We explored the key ones:

The husband of "one of the most powerful women in the entertainment industry"[320] paid off a nearly $3M bill for back taxes that Hunter owed to the IRS. Kevin Morris—the husband of Gaby Morgerman, an agent for Miley Cyrus and other former A-list celebrities—has been a legal fixer for the upper brass in Hollywood for decades. When not gallivanting around the globe with his client, Matthew McConaughey, Morris negotiates[321] on behalf of Southpark's creators, whose show has made the Pennsylvania native wealthy. On the side of those moneymaking endeavors, Morris threatens[322] those who he sees as Hunter's opponents[323] and cooks up ridiculous PR and media strategies for his defense.[324]

[321] "Kevin Morris had just negotiated a landmark deal that set Hollywood buzzing, giving the creators of 'South Park,' Matt Stone and Trey Parker, a precedent-setting 50 percent stake in the cartoon's success on the Web and other emerging media. For Morris, an attorney and entertainment agent, this might have been the coup of a career. But he is already onto his next project: trying to build bridges between Hollywood and Silicon Valley. … Though Morris's clients include the likes of Mike Judge, Minnie Driver, Mike Newell and Matthew McConaughey, it is hard to imagine that there would have been much interest in his conference had he not just cut the 'South Park' deal soon after his firm helped set up FunnyorDie.com, an attention-getting comedy site created by Will Ferrell and Adam McKay."

One of the strategies that Morris employed—with the help of filmmakers, Jason Kohn and Robb Bindler—involved infiltrating the set of the aforementioned biopic, My Son Hunter. Morris took advantage of the kind but gullible producer of the biopic, an immigrant named Phelim McALEER.[325]

Phelim,

Thanks for taking the time to meet with us and for your consideration. I'm fully aware our presence and this ask is coming out of nowhere, but as I'm sure you can understand, we are moving on "production time."

As we discussed, below is our wish list:

-- Interviews with yourself, Robert, Lawrence and John (and anyone else you think might be essential). Stylistically, it would be great to do these interviews informally on set during gaps in production. For example, we could talk to Lawrence as he sits in the make-up chair or between set-ups on set.

-- B-roll imagery of a few scenes with Lawrence as "HB" to help bring the character to life and to document Lawrence's process.

-- B-roll of Robert directing. Any shots, whether on set or prepping for production would be great.

-- B-roll of John playing "Joe."

As of now, we are planning to leave for Kiev on Thursday so timeing is sensitive, but we're obviously willing to work around your schedule. We would also welcome any opportunities for face-time offset, perhaps at the hotel in the morning.

We also understand your very real concern about our documentary "scooping" your film. Assuming you will be releasing your film within the coming year we don't see a conflict. We are at least one year out. This is also a conversation that we're happy to continue once back stateside.

Kevin, Jason and I are all very transparent and you can find plenty of information on our careers online but here are some links that might be helpful:

Jason Kohn - (www.kilofilms.com)
Kevin Morris - (https://www.nytimes.com/2007/09/10/business/media/10morris.html)

Below is a note I sent to Lawrence a couple days ago:

Mr. Fox...

I'm a doc filmmaker making a film about Hunter Biden and would love to sit with you and discuss your views and take on HB. After seeing your fantastic tweets as HB I think your perspective is an invaluable part of the overall story; who better to speak with than someone so fully immersed in his character! I understand this request is coming fast and out of nowhere - happy to discuss - but I just found out you were taking on the role and wanted to reach out before your production ends. I would love to interview you (ideally) while you are in the hair/make-up chair or some such getting into HB mode. Trying to keep this brief but I'm a dedicated filmmaker and want to give you a voice in the film. Was on the way to Kyiv (aka Burisma!) but stopping in Belgrade and can come by as soon as you say is cool. I've reached out to the producers but haven't heard back. Hope to hear from you!

Best, Robb Bindler (for texting 3102277888).

NOTHING LASTS FOREVER
Official Selection Berlinale 2022

Hidden from public view, a war is raging inside the diamond industry. When filmmaker Jason Kohn infiltrates this highly secretive world, he uncovers a vast, far-reaching crime that threatens the value of every diamond ever mined. At stake is nothing less than the universal symbol. of love and commitment - the engagement ring. Featuring some of the most colorful and powerful industry insiders, Nothing Lasts Forever launches us deep inside a criminal investigation and forces us to reconsider the creation of value itself.

Based on the obviously deceptive tactics that Morris and his co-schemers[326] perpetrated, McALEER filed a complaint with the State Bar of California—Morris broke three codified rules, at the very least.

Statement of Complaint

My wife, Ann McElhinney, and I are journalists, writers and film producers. We have worked for numerous major newspapers and television stations covering wars, crime and conducting in-depth investigative journalism projects. I have worked for the Irish News and the UK Sunday Times during the Troubles in Belfast. I was a foreign correspondent for the Financial Times in Romania, Moldova and Bulgaria. I also covered Eastern Europe for The Economist. Afterwards, my wife and I have worked both internationally and in the United States on a range of projects. Our investigative journalism has resulted in real world results, including two people serving lengthy jail sentences for operating a "Baby Selling Ring" in Indonesia.
We also write and produce books, plays and movies about matters of politics and public interest.

One of our current projects concerns a movie - a biopic - about Hunter Biden and his past – which has been the topic of widespread public interest and extensive media coverage. The movie is called My Son Hunter. I am the producer of the movie. It has been reported widely that Mr Biden is facing several criminal investigations, including tax evasion, corruption, failing to register as a foreign agent and lying in a firearm application. This complaint concerns Kevin Morris' misconduct in relation to our creation of this biopic. At the time the events described below occurred, I was unaware that Mr. Morris was serving as Hunter Biden's attorney. Further, I was not represented by counsel during the events discussed below.

That same day, I called the phone number on the business card and spoke with Mr. S.R. Bindler. Mr. Bindler repeated to me the representations that were made to Mr. James – i.e., that he was part of a documentary film crew connected with the creators of South Park and were making a documentary about Hunter Biden.

I subsequently met with Kevin Morris, S.R. Bindler and Jason Kohn. We had a one hour conversation in a nearby Belgrade cafe. I decided to record part of it for my own protection. Collectively, they reiterated that they were an independent documentary film crew connected with the creators of South Park and were making a documentary about Hunter Biden. They said they had just flown in on a private jet. During the conversation, Mr. Morris detailed his past work serving as the lawyer for the creators of South Park. He said thetis and other deals had made him financially comfortable and able to afford luxuries such as the jet. He claimed this level of success meant he had stepped back from being an active lawyer to pursue his first passion for making documentaries which would also help fill South Park's need for content under their new massive and lucrative streaming deal. Mr. Morris and his team wanted access to the film, the set, the production, the producers and the actors. I asked Mr. Morris if his documentary was being produced under the "Trey Parker and Matt Stone South Park documentary banner". Mr. Morris responded "I'm their lawyer. For 25 years. They're good guys." Mr Morris further added that he was "confident" the documentary would be part of a future "South Park streaming". Mr. Bindler further represented that the documentary crew was making a "straight up documentary" and that its theme would be "corruption is corruption" - to which Mr Morris agreed. Mr Morris also said they were hoping to interview Hunter Biden for the documentary but had not spoken to him as yet.

After this meeting, I received additional email correspondence from Messrs. Bindler and Kohn regarding their purported documentary that reiterated their request for access to our film set. A film set is a very controlled

In short, Kevin Morris was Hunter Biden's lawyer who used deception and misrepresentation to spy on a movie project about his client to gather information to help his client. He used deceit to secure such access by not disclosing he was Mr Bidens lawyer. Mr. Morris used his cover as a documentary filmmaker to conceal this true purpose: performing legal investigative work on behalf of his client, Mr. Hunter Biden.

. It is my understanding that Mr. Morris' conduct potentially constitutes a violation of the Rules of the State Bar of California Rule 4.1(a), 4.3(a) and 8.4(c).

Rule 8.4(c) of the Rules of the State Bar of California ("RSBC") prohibits lawyers from engaging in "conduct involving dishonesty, fraud, deceit, or reckless or intentional misrepresentation." There is an exception for "lawful covert activity" when investigating "violations of civil or criminal law or constitutional rights." However, the lawyer's conduct during such covert activity must be "in compliance with these rules and the State Bar Act." In other words, lawful covert activities must comply with the other rules of the RSBC. This clause "does not apply where a lawyer advises clients or theirs about, or supervises, lawful covert activity in the investigation of violations of civil or criminal law or constitutional rights, provided the lawyer's conduct is otherwise in compliance with these rules and the State Bar Act." Id., comm. 5.

Here, Mr. Morris violated RSBC Rule 8.4(c) by using deceit and dishonesty to infiltrate and gather information on the production of My Son Hunter, along with the sources I used for the film. Further, as illustrated below, Mr. Morris' activities were not "lawful covert activity" – because his conduct violates RSBC Rules 4.1(a) and 4.3(a) – as discussed below.

behalf." Id., comm. 1. The "nondisclosure" of a material fact is "the equivalent of a false statement of material fact" where a lawyer "makes a partially true but misleading material statement or material omission." Id.

Here, Mr. Morris violated RSBC Rule 4.1(a) by knowingly: (1) misrepresenting to me that he had no connection to Mr. Hunter Biden as part of Mr. Morris' scheme to infiltrate the production of My Son Hunter and obtain information on the sources I used for the film; and (2) making partial representations to me that implied he was making a independent documentary associated with Trey Parker and Matt Stone and not there because he represented Mr. Hunter Biden.

RSBC Rule 4.3(a) states that, when a lawyer communicates "on behalf of a client with a person who is not represented by counsel, a lawyer shall not state or imply that the lawyer is disinterested. When the lawyer knows or reasonably should know that the unrepresented person incorrectly believes the lawyer is disinterested in the matter, the lawyer shall make reasonable efforts to correct the misunderstanding." "The rule is intended to protect unrepresented persons, whatever their interests, from being misled when communicating with a lawyer who is acting for a client." Id., comm. 1. In other words, attorneys speaking to unrepresented persons on behalf of a client cannot give the appearance they are disinterested.

Here, despite representing Mr. Hunter Biden, Mr. Morris portrayed himself to me as a neutral (and even supportive) third-party. I was not represented by counsel at that time. Mr. Morris knew I incorrectly viewed him as a neutral third-party when I asked him if he was working on behalf of Trey Parker and Matt Stone, and he said that he was their lawyer for 25 years. Mr. Morris further reinforced my misunderstanding by claiming he never met Mr. Hunter Biden – despite being his attorney at the time.

In my 30 years as a journalist I have never encountered a lawyer who behaved in such an unethical manner. This was not a spur of the moment fraud. It was a planned deception and carried out over several days. It was California or anywhere and am asking that he faces severe sanctions from the California Bar including disbarment.

Please feel free to contact me for further information, including documentary evidence of the above.

A convicted felon who was sentenced[327] to a year in federal prison, Devon Archer has been by Hunter's side for decades, as they overlapped at Yale in the late 1990s. A former Abercrombie & Fitch model from Long Island, Archer was described by Hunter as his "best friend in business." Archer was the vice chairman of finance for John Kerry's failed 2004 presidential campaign, where he teamed up with his college pal Chris Heinz, Kerry's stepson. Hunter and Archer traversed the globe together with Secret Service protection and secured state-backed financing from communist and post-Soviet regimes. No business risk was off the table for the two, which eventually scared away Heinz (and others). In fact, Archer even used his son's grade school assignment[328] as a pretext to meet with Joe at the White House.[329] In Hunter's mind, Devon was a part of the family: "That[']s the way Bidens are different and you are a Biden. It[']s the price of power [] and the people questioning you truly have none whereas you do through perseverance and poise."

[329] "Archer has since been convicted of securities fraud, which he perpetrated against the Oglala Sioux tribe at the same time of his West Wing meeting with Biden. The e-mail is also the first documented meeting to date, within the White House itself, between Joe Biden and the Burisma Boys, Hunter and Devon. … The most egregious example is perhaps Adam Entous, a reporter with the New Yorker … In a September 23, 2020 tweet, no longer available, Entous insisted [that the] meeting between [Joe] and Devon and Luke Archer was for a school art project. From the looks of it, they supplied him with a brief video that advanced their narrative. Entous, of course, mindlessly amplified it. With this newfound evidence of Hunter's presence for what he published was an 'art project' discussion, maybe Entous can admit he was manipulated by the Bidens into covering for them."

ERIC SCHWERIN

Hunter also met Democrat political and business operative, Eric Schwerin, in the late 1990s when they were both at the Commerce Department, where Hunter was the "Executive Director of E-Commerce Policy Coordination" (even though he had zero experience in e-commerce).[330] The partnership they forged in government bled into the so-called "private sector," although their work after their stint in the executive branch was almost completely untethered to free markets. Functionally, Eric was a well-paid babysitter for Hunter: he maintained and curated guest lists for White House functions, shared a joint bank account with Joe and paid his bills, and negotiated[331] the settlement and alimony agreement with Hunter's first wife, Kathleen. Schwerin was deeply embedded in Hunter's personal life and the Biden political machinery for nearly twenty years, even sitting next to Joe in public at campaign events.[332] For his handler services, Schwerin was rewarded with a patronage gig: membership on the Commission for the Preservation of America's Heritage Abroad.[333] However, by January 2019, Hunter was threatening Schwerin (and their aide Joan Mayer) with a lawsuit and nondisclosure agreement if Schwerin touched "one dime" of their Q4 Distribution from Eudora Global, LLC lest Schwerin lose his stake in their broker-dealer firm, RSPI.[334]

JEFF COOPER

Jeffrey Scott Cooper
DOB: 08/05/1969

St. Louis Street
Edwardsville, IL

A two-time[335] failed congressional candidate from Illinois, Jeff Cooper made a small fortune from the asbestos litigation gravy train with his old law firm, SimmonsCooper. He finagled his way into the inner Biden orbit by sending legal work to Beau Biden in the aughts; at that time, Joe was—conveniently, for Cooper and his partners—blocking asbestos litigation reform in the Senate.[336] Joe made sure to pay back Beau's benefactor in more ways than one by hosting Cooper and his soon-to-be[337] ex-wife for a state dinner at the White House with the South Korean president.[338] Cooper was instrumental to Hunter's businesses and appeared to provide the acumen required to manage them.[339] Along with frequently sending wire transfers to Hunter, Cooper rode on Air Force Two when the pair tried to broker a deal with Carlos SLIM, the world's then-richest man.[340]

For now, the nation is fixed on his recovered laptop and whether father Joe Biden will answer questions about potentially incriminating emails before the looming election. But from 2012 to 2014, Hunter listed himself as a manager of Eudora Global, an investment firm that lawyer Jeffrey Cooper set up in Edwardsville. … Jeffrey Cooper first connected his name to the family of Vice President Joe Biden on public record in 2005, not through Hunter but through Joe's late son Beau. The asbestos firm that Cooper and John Simmons led, Simmons Cooper, began filing suits in Delaware in association with Beau's firm. At the time, Joe Biden served as U.S. Senator in Delaware. Biden, in his position on the Senate judiciary committee, blocked reform of asbestos litigation. In 2008, the Los Angeles Times reported that Simmons Cooper employees had donated about $200,000 to Joe Biden's campaigns since 2001."

WALKERS: ROB AND BETSY

John Robinson
"Rob" Walker
DOB: 07/16/1970

Nancy Elizabeth
"Betsy" Massey Walker
DOB: 11/18/1972

Country Club Lane
Little Rock, AR

The husband-and-wife duo of Rob and Betsy Walker has been in the shadows of American public life for three decades. They have, in their own way, been loyal foot soldiers for both the Clinton and Biden political syndicates. Hailing from Arkansas, Rob worked on the Clinton campaign and in Bill's administration in the 1990s, and Betsy worked as the personal assistant to Jill Biden (Jill) through 2014. The most accurate portrait of Rob's role was described by Rob himself: "I've generally been acting as a surrogate for H[unter] around the country and abroad pursing opportunities and…. I see myself continuing to do that."[341] Aside from being Hunter's globetrotting stand-in, Walker has traversed Latin America with Bill Clinton. Pilot Growth Equity, a firm owned, in part, by Walker, also invested heavily in a pandemic tracking company called Metabiota, the value of which has appreciated significantly since COVID surfaced.[342] After her time working for Jill, Betsy ran a design business.[343]

Hunter used Rob for facilitating payments, including and especially illegal ones, that Hunter did not want to be tied to directly. Rob's shell company received[344] $6 million from a CCP-linked firm, State Energy HK Limited, one month after Joe left the vice presidency. A U.S. Senate report described it as such: "[O]n February 23, 2017, and March 1, 2017, a Shanghai-based company called State Energy HK Limited[345] sent two wires, each in the amount of $3,000,000, to a bank account for Robinson Walker LLC."[346] A Suspicious Activity Report (SAR)[347] noted that it "[wa]s unclear what the true purpose is behind these transactions and who the ultimate beneficiary is."[348] In short, Hunter was laundering money through Walker's account and emailed Walker days before the first $3 million wire from YE's company hit Walker's account: "Can you do another [$]20[k] to my account pl[ea]s[e][?]"

Hi Hunter,
Per my previous email last week, just an update on a few bills that require IMMEDIATE attention.

1. Sidwell Tuition- $7,687 is withdrawing from Wells Fargo on Friday and there is no money there to cover it. Boies is supposed to pay tomorrow but I wasn't sure if you resolved the pay issue with Chris or not.

2. Life Insurance- $8,995.75
You will need to pay this by Friday so the policy does not lapse.

Total needed: $16,682.75

-I'm a co-founder in Pilot Growth Equity Fund, which is a growth tech fund. I plan to become an advisor to the fund and minimize my role as I plan to spend all my time on SinoHawk. I don't see an advantage of dropping it all together as I franking think it looks good on my resume, although they may ask me to step away. we will see.

-I do some NGO work on behalf of CARE that requires a lot of time in Africa, Middle East, Central America, but I've transferred all contracts to a friend. I only plan to support CARE if we collectively believe there's a benefit with regards to the countries visited or if we identify individuals as key people to know in the traveling delegation, i.e General Wesley Clark or CEO of a company or fund, etc.

-Upcoming travel/conflicts:

The only things solid that I have a commitment for is June 8th.....Need to be in DC. Family vacation first week in August. Im usually very avail and down for most anything.

Sorry for the shorter email and I can put it in more detailed form if preferred. This is more stream of consciousness while I'm on the plane. will add a bit tonight. Happy to discuss all or more in detail. Just landing in Atlanta and about to transport a three year old through the airport to the next flight. Talk soon. Rob

MEL MONZACK

Melvyn Irwin Monzack
DOB: 11/26/1940
SSN: [redacted]-8297

Chadds Ford, PA

For over five decades, Mel Monzack has been behind the scenes of the Biden political operation.[349] Based on the contents of the Biden Laptop, Mel was the most discreet mover and shaker, with a digital trail that Hunter should have envied. Monzack and Joe co-founded a law firm[350] in Wilmington in the early 1970s and he has been, since 1987, Joe's power of attorney.[351] He also served as the treasurer for Joe's failed 2008 presidential campaign, which ended with multiple guilty pleas, hefty fines, and Monzack's admission of fraud to the Federal Election Commission.[352][353] Monzack also served as treasurer for Beau Biden's Attorney General campaign, along with other campaign slush funds.[354]

The back scratching has gone both ways: Monzack received a shoutout during Joe's Presidential Medal of Freedom ceremony.[355] He—along with his wife, Ann, who is a fundraiser[356] for Jewish groups—also attended a state dinner at the White House in 2011 for the General Secretary of the Chinese Communist Party.[357] Monzack's daughter, Nina,[358] worked at the Delaware Department of Justice when Beau Biden was the Attorney General of Delaware.[359] His son, Juddson, is an overt supporter[360] of a Marxist[361] organization called Black Lives Matter. Mel's niece, Elyssa Monzack, happens to be the current chief of staff in a division at the National Institutes of Health (NIH).[362]

Monzack's law firm was the registered agent for both Joe and Jill's S-corps[363][364] and Ashley Biden's sweatshirt grift, "Livelihood."[365][366] The Bidens' S-corps, which Monzack organized, shielded[367] them from hundreds of thousands of dollars in income taxes.[368] Monzack's firm is also the registered agent for the Robinson Walker LLC[369] which, as previously noted, received $6M from a CCP-linked entity less than one month after Joe ended his term as vice president. The point is this: From the most sensitive and important matters (power of attorney and campaign treasurer) for the Bidens to the mundane (insurance bookkeeper), Monzack was always there. Mel was hardly mentioned—until now.

The laptop confirmed the close relationship that Monzack shared with the entire clan, from wiring money to Hunter on Joe's behalf (Hunter responded, "Thx love you") to legal issues with the family's so-called charity, the Beau Biden Foundation for the Protection of Children.[370] Monzack also managed trusts[371] based in the Cook Islands with David Walsh I, another former Biden law partner.[372]

GEORGE MESIRES

The Biden brothers and George Mesires[373] go back decades, as Mesires attended the Syracuse University College of Law in the early 1990s at the same time as Beau. A graduate of the tony Deerfield Academy prep school in Massachusetts, George is also a former assistant attorney general of New York.[374] Mesires is from a family of lawyers whose love, according to George himself in an iMessage to Hunter, "was conditioned." George's sister, Christina Mesires Fournaris, is a highfalutin lawyer in Philadelphia at Morgan Lewis.[375]

Mesires was often deputized to publicly and privately lie[376] on Hunter's behalf on a wide range of issues—from Ukrainian oligarchs and Chinese private equity fund remunerations to Archer's shell corporations and excuses to Kathleen for why Hunter's alimony payments to her were repeatedly late. Hunter and Mesires[377] had an extremely unconventional relationship and often talked about the latest rap songs and Hunter's many operating agreement disputes with Schwerin during the same conversation. For example, on 01/02/2019, Hunter told Mesires, his $845/hour lawyer (and surfing[378] partner), that a song entitled, "break da law,"[379] was in an album that described Hunter's "life without exaggeration for the past 3 years[.]"

376 Based on the contents of the Biden Laptop, Marco Polo can prove that the following statement was a blatant lie: "Because of Burisma's stated commitment to corporate best practices, it was able to attract well-qualified board members, including the former president of Poland, Aleksander Kwasniewski, a leading advocate of democratic principles in the region. President Kwasniewski, familiar with Hunter's work on behalf of Burisma, recommended that Hunter join the board." In reality, Hunter joined Burisma's board due to the Kremlin-tied Alex KOTLARSKY. In fact, for the first 10 months of his board membership, Hunter paid KOTLARSKY one third of his board payments as a "Finders Fee."

To demonstrate just how unconventional this particular lawyer-client relationship was between the two men, consider that Hunter took after his father[380] by using an extremely pejorative term for Blacks four different times on two separate occasions.[381] In the morning on 12/13/2018, Hunter complained to George about his fees: "Becaause [sic] nigga you better not be charging me Hennessy rates[,]" to which Mesires jovially shot back: "That made me snarf my coffee." This sordid exchange between the pResident's son and his attorney already has an entry on the tongue-in-cheek site, Urban Dictionary.

A few weeks later, on 01/01/2019, Hunter used the term in a statement describing his atheism: "nigga did you just [use] a fictional character [God] from the imagination of the collective frightened and my dead brother[']s unconditional love is what I should rely on and my kids aren't children[,] George[.]"[382]

In the preceding section, we compared the Biden political syndicate to a mafia—that comparison was certainly not hyperbole. From the legendary white-collar crime boss John Galanis to Boston's Winter Hill Gang, Hunter's direct[383] and indirect[384] connections with mobsters runs the gamut. In fact, the nephew of the infamous leader of the Winter Hill Gang, "Whitey" Bulger, was one of Hunter's key business partners. James Bulger, known as "Jimmy," was actually named after his serial killer uncle, who was convicted[385] of murdering at least eleven people. Jimmy Bulger sat on the board of BHR with Hunter.[386] BHR was the state-backed Chinese investment fund that was registered just twelve days after Hunter joined his father on Air Force Two for a visit to China in December 2013. Jimmy's firm, Thornton Group LLC, is deeply embedded with CCP cells in the United States and abroad.[387][388] Bulger and Hunter can be seen below relaxing with XIE Guoliang, who called Hunter a "close friend."

Whitey Bulger (06/30/2011)
© Stuart Cahill

Incredibly, in spite of the serial killing, Jimmy declared that Whitey was "not the monster they made him out to be."[389] One writer did not mince words about Jimmy's father, the longtime Democrat leader of the Massachusetts Senate who refused to cooperate with federal authorities: "The [Ted] Kaczynski brother decided it was more important that his brother be captured and not kill any more than to stay loyal to him… Bill Bulger [Whitey's brother], in the face of a God-awful amount of horror, has made a different choice."[390]

The preeminent foot soldiers of the Biden political syndicate—those who have served on the inside of government—have a combined 130 years of service to Joe. The day-to-day operations of the American executive branch are being handled by these extremely guarded operators, all of whom have stuck with Joe through his multiple plagiarism scandals in the 80s, campaign finance violations in the aughts, and his (basement) campaign in 2020. The chairman of that campaign was Steve Ricchetti, a fixture in influential circles on the left since the early days of the Clinton White House, where he was hip-to-hip with John Podesta.[391] Ricchetti has relished his new position in the Biden administration, where he has secured employment for three[392] of his children under the watchful eye[393] of Ron Klain, the chief of staff at the White House. The "chief strategist" for the aforementioned campaign was Mike Donilon, who has been described as Joe's "conscience."[394] Mike's brother, Tom Donilon, was Obama's national security advisor.[395] Tom's wife, Catherine Russell, was the longtime chief of staff to Jill and was Joe's director of the White House personnel office for the first year of his pResidency; Russell became the executive director of UNICEF in February 2022.[396] However, Ted Kaufman is in a league of his own, having served on Joe's first Senate campaign in the 70s[397] and was both his successor in the U.S. Senate and chairman of the Biden Foundation.[398]

CORE OF THE CRIMES

Several small volumes[399] have been written about the Biden Laptop and the scandals therein, and rightfully so. However, most of those volumes have been primarily dedicated to the aforementioned Buckets #1 & #2, along with the family's moral depravity, while paying special attention to Hunter and Hallie. What these exposés omitted were the hundreds of documented crimes (both felonies and misdemeanors) and the necessary information to thoroughly expose and prosecute them. The Bidens' nepotism, although egregious, was not easily actionable under U.S. law. These omissions have served as a classic limited hangout for the family, who benefitted from the milquetoast research put forward by most of the press. Nearly everyone who has written about these matters has buried the lede by missing—like ships passing in the dead of night—a statute that was written with Hunter and his ilk in mind: the Foreign Agents Registration Act (FARA).[400] The FARA requires those acting as an agent for a "foreign principal" to register with the DOJ. FARA does not prevent any otherwise legal relationship or transaction between the parties; it merely requires the agent to register and declare for which foreign principal he is acting as an agent. Because the bar to comply with the FARA is so low, the penalties for violating the statute are relatively steep, including fines and up to five years in prison.

Hunter and his business partners flagrantly violated this law for nearly a decade. Do not take Marco Polo's word for it; the exhibits in this section will clearly illustrate the aforementioned "5 Ws." Even with the FARA's low bar of mere disclosure, the DOJ OIG in the Obama-Biden regime released a report[401] detailing how the DOJ lacked "a comprehensive FARA enforcement strategy."[402] The OIG explicitly stated that many FBI agents do not even understand the law and are frustrated with the lack of guidance and overall communication between the FBI and the National Security Division in the DOJ. Nevertheless, this lack of "a comprehensive FARA enforcement strategy" did not stop the DOJ from using this exact law to prosecute Paul Manafort.[403] In a sickeningly ironic twist, Joe's feds[404] used the FARA to "investigate" Rudy Giuliani's quest to expose the Bidens' crimes in the Ukraine.[405]

Although repeatedly misattributed[406] to Saul Alinsky, Joe's apparatchiks in the FBI were actually following Hunter's modus operandi taken[407] from Joseph GOEBBELS: accuse others of what you are, in fact, guilty[408] of doing or covering up.[409] The Bidens have blamed their laptop debacle on the Russians, Giuliani, and other actors supposedly working at the behest of foreign principals, for which they have no evidence.[410] At the very same time, the Biden clan and their partners[411] were actually unregistered agents for a plethora of foreign principals.[412] The irony was not lost on Schwerin after he read an article[413] about Obama's chief of staff: "I wonder why we stress about this [FARA] so much."

SUBPOENA—MAY 2019

The Bidens and those in their orbit had good reasons to worry—more than a million of them, in fact, as their financial statements and wire transfers revealed. During the course of writing this Report, a whistleblower—after realizing a purposeful delay from the DOJ was afoot—approached Marco Polo with a copy of a grand jury subpoena[414] (an "external referral" in financial compliance industry parlance) issued by the aforementioned U.S. Attorney for the District of Delaware, David Weiss. The whistleblower was a party to the subpoena, dated 05/15/2019, which sought Hunter and his partners' financial transactions and other business records. The cover letter to the subpoena—which was signed by Assistant U.S. Attorney (AUSA) Jamie McCall—bore the name of Lesley Wolf, who, because of her husband's employment[415] at Penn, should have recused herself per 28 CFR § 45.2.[416]

Re: Grand Jury Subpoena 19-3-LFWS-V-32

To Whom it May Concern:

Attached is a subpoena duces tecum issued by the Federal Grand Jury requiring the production of certain specified items. The Right to Financial Privacy Act specifically exempts grand jury subpoenas from those provisions of the Act which require notice to a bank customer prior to compliance with a subpoena for production of that customer's records. 12 U.S.C. § 3413(i). Furthermore, you should be aware that 18 U.S.C. § 1510(b)(2) makes it a federal crime for "an officer of a financial institution" to notify either "directly or indirectly . . . (A) a customer of that financial institution whose records are sought by a grand jury subpoena; or (B) any other person named in that subpoena about the existence or contents of that subpoena or information that has been furnished to the grand jury in response to that subpoena[.]"

The return date on the subpoena is for Tuesday, June 25, 2019; however, I would appreciate receiving the responsive documents at your earliest convenience.

In addition, please complete the enclosed Certificate of Authenticity of Business Records upon production of the requested documents. However, you may also substitute this Certificate with one that your company routinely issues when complying with grand jury subpoenas.

Your cooperation in this matter is appreciated and will help safeguard the integrity of the federal grand jury system. If you have any questions regarding this subpoena request, please do not hesitate to contact me at (302) 573-6148, or via email at, Lesley.Wolf@usdoj.gov.

Wolf[417] issued the wide-ranging subpoena in case 19-3-LFWS-V-32, seeking records from Joe's son and brother, Jimmy. Fifteen companies, mostly shells used for money laundering, were included on the document. Predictably, most of the companies listed below will be on exhibits in this Report. The order demanded all transfers emanating to and from Account #453365557784 at the Bank of China[418] (BKCHCNBJ), presumably alluding to Foreign Bank Account Registration violations (31 USC § 5314) that Hunter and his partners committed. In fact, the DOJ used this exact statute to indict Paul Manafort two years earlier: "United States citizens who have authority over certain foreign bank accounts -- whether or not the accounts are set up in the names of nominees who act for their principals -- have reporting obligations to the United States."[419] If the respondent from JP Morgan Chase had questions about the subpoena, they were to contact IRS Special Agent Joe Ziegler.[420] JP Morgan was directed to send the responsive documents to Stefania Roca, a registered[421] Democrat.

With this subpoena, we have definitive proof of a miscarriage of justice—because Marco Polo possessed a copy of the Biden Laptop, we can be certain that the bank, when it responded to the subpoena, would have produced evidence of multiple felonies. Regardless of whether it was Barr or Weiss who made the call to blatantly slow-walk the investigation, someone must be held accountable.

Do not disclose the existence of this subpoena to the individual or any third party.

The lack of accountability can be explained, in part, by the makeup and presumed biases of the law enforcement investigative team and their associates. For example, Ziegler's partner is connected—at least socially—with Joe's Monkeypox spokesman, Demetre Daskalakis, likely from Demetre's stint at the CDC in Atlanta, where Ziegler and his partner are based.[422] The wife[423] of Jamie McCall is also an ardent supporter of the Marxist-inspired Black Lives Matter riots, which Joe heavily promoted in 2020.

SUSPICIOUS ACTIVITY REPORTS

Marco Polo was also provided two SARs which had been submitted to the U.S. Department of Treasury as a supplement to JP Morgan Chase's response to the aforementioned subpoena.[424] The SARs revealed the international business networks and human trafficking rings that Hunter and his associates facilitated and patronized. More detail will be provided later in the Report, particularly in the SEX-RELATED CRIMES section, but, in the interest of complete transparency, the SARs are pasted below as-is. Footnotes and highlights were added for reference and clarification purposes:

SAR #1

JPMorgan Chase Bank N.A. ("JPMC") and J.P. Morgan Securities LLC ("JPS") is filing this Suspicious Activity Report ("SAR") to report transactions involving current, former and non-customers of JPMC and J.P. Morgan Securities LLC; ROBERT HUNTER BIDEN ("ROBERT"), DEVON D. ARCHER[425] ("DEVON"), and THORSDALE FIDUCIARY AND GUARANTY COMPANY LTD[426] ("THORSDALE"), ERIC D SCHWERIN[427] ("ERIC"), ROSEMONT SENECA BOHAI LLC,[428] ROSEMONT SENECA ADVISORS, OWASCO P.C ("OWASCO"), BURISMA HOLDINGS LIMITED ("BURISMA"), and BOHAI HARVEST RST (SHANGHAI) EQUITY INVESTMENT FUND MANAGEMENT CO LTD[429] ("BOHAI HARVEST") for 93 wires between 02/03/2014 and 08/02/2019 totaling $2,461,962.60. The SAR is being filed to report wire activity involving parties linked to a Politically Exposed Person[430] ("PEP") with negative media for possible political corruption; as well as, alleged business conflicts involving related companies and individuals.

After receipt of an external referral,[431] JPMC conducted a review of focal subjects ROBERT, DEVON, ERIC, OWASCO, ROSEMONT SENECA ADVISORS, ROSEMONT SENECA BOHAI LLC, and BOHAI HARVEST. No counterparties will be listed as subjects in the filing because the transaction activity for the counterparties is expected activity, with the exception of THORSDALE, who was listed as a subject in a prior SAR with DEVON.

[431] A grand jury subpoena, known in financial compliance industry parlance as an "external referral," prompted JP Morgan Chase to submit the SARs to the U.S. Department of Treasury.

Internal records revealed ROBERT is a former JPMC customer. Research revealed he is an American lawyer and PEP, as he is the second son of former U.S. Vice President Joe Biden. Negative media was found on Robert for alleged business conflicts. For example, ROBERT worked for a U.S.-based company which received monthly transfers exceeding $166,000 per month from BURISMA (a natural gas company in the Ukrainian oil and gas market) while the vice president was leading the U.S. policy with the Ukrainian government. (ijr.com/biden-questioned-after-forcing-out-ukrainian-official-investigating-his-son).[432]

Internal records revealed DEVON is a former JPMC and JPS Customer. Research revealed Devon is Robert's business associate and has been convicted of conspiracy and securities fraud. According to the SDNY press release, Devon and two other defendants were convicted of orchestrating a scheme to defraud investors and a Native American tribal entity of tens of millions of dollars. However, in 2018 a federal judge overturned the conviction. (justice.gov/usao-sdny/pr/three-convicted-manhattan-federal-court-fraudulent-issuance-and-sale-more-60-million;[433] reuters.com/article/us-usa-crime-tribalbonds/judge-overturns-montana-mans-conviction-in-tribal-bond-scheme-idUSKCN1NK341)[434]

Third party web presence revealed OWASCO[435] is a law firm associated with ROBERT. However, very little information could be found on the law firm.

ROBERT, along with DEVON and ERIC, founded several companies using the name Rosemont Seneca. ROSEMONT SENECA ADVISORS and ROSEMONT SENECA BOHAI LLC appear to be related companies in the investment field.

There are allegations that ROBERT received funds from the Chinese government that coincided with the former vice president negotiating issues with China. (thefederalist.com/2019/05/02/bidens-alleged-financial-ties-u-s-enemy-china-overshadow-2020-bid)[436]

Although ERIC is not directly listed in any of the wires included in the SAR filing, internal records revealed ERIC is listed as the only signer for ROSEMONT SENECA ADVISORS. As it is unknown if ERIC is the signer of the external account for ROSEMONT SENECA ADVISORS, no account will be associated to him in this SAR filing.

Per web presence, BURISMA is a natural gas firm that appointed ROBERT to its board of directors in 2014.[437]

Per web presence, BOHAI HARVEST is ROBERT'S investment company in China that has pooled money, largely from state-owned venture capital, to buy or invest in a range of industries in the U.S. and China. BOHAI HARVEST allegedly operates and works with a number of funds and the structure brought ROBERT into close proximity to influential Chinese government[438] and business figures. SAR #2

JPMorgan Chase Bank (JPMC) is filing this Suspicious Activity Report (SAR) which originated from an external referral for transactions involving non-JPMC accounts held by a Politically Exposed Person (PEP) who remitted funds to various JPMC and non-JPMC customers, some of the recipients have ties to the adult entertainment industry, while others were unknown, or were listed in prior SAR filings related to human trafficking (HT). Additionally, the source of funds for the transactions is unknown and inconsistent with the known line of business. This activity was transacted by non-JPMC customers ROBERT HUNTER BIDEN ("HUNTER") and his law firm OWASCO PC. Activity being reported totals $149,843.00 (rounded up) between the dates of 10/24/2016 and 05/10/2019.

OWASCO PC was identified to be a sole proprietorship law firm owned by HUNTER and established in 2006. Per internet research, the law firm specializes in intellectual property and international law. HUNTER is a former JPMC customer who previously held a home mortgage that was paid off in 2017, as well as a credit card that was closed by JPMC due to non-payment in 2016.

OWASCO PC (WELLS FARGO #9084065142) and HUNTER (using unknown account, as well as WELLS FARGO #729109035738578) sent electronic fund transfers (EFT) and checks totaling $149,842.44 to 13 JPMC customers and non-customers between 10/24/2016 and 05/10/2019. Two of the JPMC customers were listed in prior SAR filings by JPMC reporting transactions consistent with possible Human Trafficking which are detailed below. Also, three of the JPMC Customers have KYC and/or public media and social media ties to the adult entertainment industry. The other recipients have no identifiable relationship with either HUNTER or OWASCO PC which would explain the activity being reported.

ANNA DEKHTIAR[445] (JPMC 356067030 (closed 06/14/2019)) is a Miami FL non-resident alien and Ukrainian citizen. KYC reflects student born in 1995. She received a wire for $5,100 on 12/10/2018 from OWASCO PC which was reported in SAR_NA_114256858 filed on 04/19/2019. On the same day, 12/10/2018 HUNTER also sent $1,300 to ANNA DEKHTIAR via three (3) EFTs. The funds ANNA DEKHTIAR received from OWASCO PC and HUNTER were subsequently remitted to Oksana Naratovska located in the Ukraine[446] via a $7,000 wire on 12/13/2018. The wire to Oksana Naratovska and Oksana Naratovska were reported under the prior SAR filing and are only being discussed here to show the full flow of funds.

OLESIA KUDASHKINA[447] (JPMC 270297812, closed on 04/30/2019) is a Russian citizen and [a] non-resident alien residing in Manhattan, NY. She [was] born in 1984 and listed "Zara"[448] as her employer. She received an EFT from HUNTER for $1200.00 on 03/11/2019. Those funds were subsequently included in a wire to an individual in Russia. This activity was reported under SAR_NA_124521834 filed on 07/16/2019, but is also being included in this filing to show the full source and use of funds.[449]

PAOLA A MARTINEZ[450] (JPMC 266779283), ZOE G KESTAN[451] (JPMC 755098626) and LEHUA M ALAMA-JORDAN[452] (JPMC 290390167) each appear to be in the adult entertainment industry and are receiving payments from HUNTER and OWASCO PC. It is unclear what relationship HUNTER or OWASCO PC have with these individuals, and based on public media it appears possible the payments may be associated to prostitution or adult entertainment services.

PAOLA A MARTINEZ is a NY resident, and employed at Scores NY[453] a high end gentleman's club. She received three (3) quickpays for $3500.00 from Hunter between 12/28/2017 and 03/26/2018.

ZOE G KESTAN is a NY resident, and employed as "freelance." Per internet research, she is a social media influencer and adult entertainer. She received six (6) quickpays for $6250.00 from HUNTER between 03/29/2018 and 11/20/2018.

LEHUA M ALMA-JORDAN[454] is a CA resident, and is employed with "Cali Girls," a gentleman's club.[455] She received two (2) wires totaling $6,000.08 from OWASCO PC between 07/24/2018 and 08/27/2018, and three (3) quickpays for $2500.00 from HUNTER between 08/27/2018 and 10/05/2018.

Erin N Straughter[456] is a CA resident currently employed with "FSS Management." Between June 2018 and October 2018, Erin N Straughter was employed by OWASCO PC as evidenced by her receipt of bi-weekly payroll remittances from OWASCO PC. However, during this same period of time Erin N Straughter also received large round dollar wires[457] from OWASCO PC which referenced "new hire," "8k wage," "10k golf member," and "Pay." Erin N Straughter received five (5) wires totaling $44,500.08 in a 4 month period between 06/12/2018 and 10/02/2018.

SAR CORROBORATION: A SMALL SAMPLE

Because Marco Polo did not have access to the attached CSV files alluded to in the SARs, corroborating every transaction listed on the SARs with the Biden Laptop's contents was not feasible. However, we were able to corroborate many of the transactions. Below are a just couple of them:

When	Where (Venue)	Who	What
11/21/2017ff	S.D.N.Y.	1-929-238-5753	SAR #2—18 USC § 1952(b)(i)(1) & NY PL § 230.00

Confirmed by a request sent to Hunter via Zelle[464] in his emails, a female featured in SAR #2 requested a commensurate amount around the front end of the time period listed in the SAR. Additionally, a .numbers document on the laptop entitled, "Checking2RHB," featured a transaction indicating that Hunter paid the female $1,400 on 11/21/2017. Verification of the transaction is below:

[464] "Frequently Asked Questions," Zelle, archive.ph/2eI0N

When	Where (Venue)	Who	What
06/12/2018ff	D.D.C.	1-714-812-5463	SAR #2—18 USC §§ 1952(b)(i)(1), 2422(a) & DC Code § 22–2701

The relationship between Hunter and the female[465] shown below was an egregious ethical lapse, as iMessages between the two revealed that Hunter would make up for the female's "back pay" if—and only if—she performed sexual acts in person or via FaceTime. The Wells Fargo transactions featured below (from Hunter's business brokerage account) were initiated only after the female traveled from Los Angeles to D.C., where Hunter and the female engaged in a multi-day (photographed) sex binge.

In the Nation's capital, Hunter solicited—and took explicit photos of—a female who was described in SAR #2, which was, as a reminder, submitted to the U.S. Department of Treasury. This particular solicitation will also appear in the NON-CONSENSUAL PORNOGRAPHY subsection of this Report.

CHINA

Hunter viewed himself as an unfulfilled artist, and he said as much in his semi-fictional memoir, "Beautiful Things." In fact, art was the "only thing" to have "kept [Hunter] sane." It was no surprise, then, for Marco Polo to discover that—when carefully analyzing the 128,000 emails+ on the Biden Laptop—almost none of Hunter's free time or private conversations were about business strategy or private equity market entry ideation. You will recall that Hunter graduated with a bachelor's degree in history, wrote a poem, of all things, for his application to Yale Law School, and did not even attempt to enter high finance until his dad was preparing to be vetted for the V.P. slot by Obama (after Obama's folks told Joe's son to drop his shameless registered lobbying grift). When Hunter was gifted a portion of a hedge fund in 2006 called Paradigm by a trusty donor to Joe (the aforementioned Jeff Cooper), former executives at Paradigm testified in a lawsuit that Hunter and his uncle, Jimmy, had absolutely no clue what they were doing. The vignettes[468] offered in Lotito v. Biden[469] were a perfect illustration of the chasm that existed between Hunter's actual business acumen and the coveted positions he held for decades. In fact, after Hunter and Jimmy conducted a takeover of Paradigm and fired the incumbent leader, Jimmy assured the rest of the employees with the following pep talk: "Don't worry about investors. We've got people all around the world who want to invest in Joe Biden. We've got investors lined up in a line of [Boeing] 747s filled with cash ready to invest in this company."[470]

With that verified principle in mind—Hunter's employment was untethered to his natural or cultivated abilities—we explored the Bidens' financial entanglements with the communist Chinese. You can think about those entanglements in two tranches, or deals, with a plethora of interjecting people splattering the periphery. Other writers[471] have done a tremendous job of explaining the obvious conflicts of interest emanating from these two deals; Marco Polo was focused on the verifiable crimes[472] committed in the course of facilitating and leveraging these deals. Immediately after Hunter, Archer, and Kerry's stepson (Chris Heinz) established their influence peddling firms with variations of the name Rosemont Seneca, they were courted by the financial elite in China who—according to China's own laws—serve at the direction of the CCP.[473] With zero discernible quantitative skills, Hunter secured multimillion dollar carveouts with the Chinese state-backed entity, BHR, and the CCP's crown jewel overseeing their One Belt One Road (OBOR) project, an energy conglomerate called CEFC.

[468] "At the time that Lotito and the two Bidens hired Fasciana, he was awaiting sentencing on a 2005 fraud conviction. All I had to do to find those two DOJ press releases was to google John Fasciana — didn't the Bidens do any due diligence in this $21 million deal? Apparently not[.]"

Ltd. (CEFC). The records also show that CEFC was an extension of the Chinese government and that CEFC intended to alter U.S. policy and public opinion to its benefit and that the Chinese government would be the principal beneficiary of those actions."

When	Where (Venue)	Who (Accomplices)	What
01/08/2011	D.D.C.	Devon Archer & Eric Schwerin	18 USC § 371

A debate over whether Hunter and his business partners violated the FARA (and/or conspired to do so) was made simpler when one of them—Archer, in this particular case—used the precise wording in an email to the other partners: "He [ZONG Qinghou] came to NYS looking for powdered milk and we've done an initial pitch with him in NYC in Dec[ember] over lunch on Real Estate. China's richest man, literally.[474] We're going to do a follow-on real estate pitch and just general 'we can be your agent in US' convo." The last line confirmed the group had the unregistered agent of a foreign principal game down to a science, as Archer did not need to elaborate on what his "agent in US convo" with ZONG would entail. Before flying to the middle kingdom, Archer snagged three copies of Joe's book, Promises to Keep,[475] to hand out to ZONG and other big wigs at two state-backed entities: China International Trust and Investment Corporation (CITIC)[476] and China Investment Corporation (CIC).[477]

As noted, Hunter's lobbying did not stop when Joe became vice president—he merely (and illegally) stopped registering. He violated lobbying laws by assuring Randy Russell[478] of his (unregistered, and therefore illegal) back channels to the CCP: "I just had dinner with the Chinese DCM [Deputy Chief of Mission, DENG Hongbo] here in DC and we've developed a little bit of a relationship- so once the visa is issued I can contact him directly."[479] But before Hunter pulled out the big guns, he offered to advocate on Russell's behalf to John Kerry's aide-de-camp, David Wade, and/or someone in Joe's entourage: "Should I have someone from jrb's office weigh in or is that overkill. And/or should I send email or call personally. … I am willing ready able to do all of the above or none of the above at your direction. How about David Wade[480] on Kerry's staff?" Hunter also spoke with YANG Jiechi, the CCP's top foreign minister and Politburo member, the CCP's most powerful decision-making body.[481]

Dear Mr. Zhou,

I am following up on my email correspondence with Minister Yang regarding a request I'd like to make on behalf of Guardian Realty Investors, LLC to host a dinner at your Embassy.

Minister Yang asked me to follow up with you directly. You will be receiving a formal request from Guardian's Chairman, Marvin Lang, shortly but I wanted to put forward some dates that work on their end: May 5, 12, or 19. We look forward to working with you and thank you for your help and consideration.

10/19/2011ff	D.D.C.	Devon Archer & Gary Fears	18 USC §§ 2, 219 & 22 USC § 612

A flamboyant online and Indian gambling industry huckster named Gary Fears finagled Hunter and Archer to join him as an unregistered agent for the China Entrepreneur Club (CEC). The CEC had the reputation of being "a second foreign ministry"[482] for the CCP, and the group brought nearly thirty billionaires to the White House on 11/14/2011. Eager to claim plausible deniability, Hunter tasked Archer with facilitating a meeting between Joe and the group, which it later bragged[483] about in a report. In fact, quite a few members of this "private sector" junta would be Hunter's future partners.[484]

Maggie Cheng|程虹
Secretary-General, China Entrepreneur Club

Maggie Cheng has been General Manager and Secretary-General of the China Entrepreneur Club (CEC) since its establishment. She is also President of Daonong Centre for Enterprise, and Executive Publisher of Green Companies magazine.

Cheng has 15-years of experience in the media industry, serving as a journalist, editor, hostess, producer and other managerial posts. In 2006, Cheng was a core founder of the CEC and has been General Manager and Secretary-General ever since. As an NGO, the CEC has developed into the most influential and representative organization for business leaders in China in the past seven years.

Cheng has been actively devoted to promoting the internationalization of Chinese private businesses and populating the spirit of entrepreneurship in China. She initiated the annual International Visits of the China Entrepreneur Club, which have become one of the CEC's most important projects, with successful business missions to the United States (2011), the UK (2012) and France/Belgium (2013). The delegation was received with the highest respect and greatest hospitality by the host countries, marked by meetings held with international political leaders such as U.S. Vice President Joe Biden, Under Secretary Robert Hormats, former State Secretary Madeleine Albright and General Colin Powell, British Prime Minister David Cameron, French President Francois Hollande, United Nations Secretary-General Ban Ki-moon, and President of the European Commission José Manuel Barroso. The Annual Summit of Green Companies, a general non-profit initiative founded by Cheng has become one of the most well-known economic forums in China for international business leaders to explore sustainable development and business integrity. The Summit has been successfully held for six years, attracting more than one thousand participants from all around the globe each year.

G,
This could be a good opportunity for Patty to have potentially outstanding new clients. I know it is political season and people are hesitant but a group like this does not come along everyday. A tour of the white house and a meeting with a member of the chief of staff's office and John Kerry would be great. I will let you think about it. If we can set up meetings even with Romney or non elected officials might be easier. (Not sure if one has to be registered to to this).
Their mandate is to let the U.S know that the Chinese "private sector" is ready and willing to invest in America. I think it is a soft diplomacy play that could be very effective. Please read everything carefully and let me know your thoughts.
I would be with them all the time and we would have good access to them for any deal in the future.
The China Entrepreneurs Club will be in New York on the week of the 7th of November for meetings with American Captains of industry which will culminate with a Summit on the 9th at the New York University Club at which the Chairman and CEO of The Coca Cola club will be the keynote speaker from the American side.
The following week they will be in D.C for meetings with political figures to state their mandate as an NGO

The delegation included approximately thirty members, according to White House visitor logs. But those records also obscure perhaps the most important item for the Chinese delegation: a meeting with Vice President Joe Biden himself. … But the Vice President's off-the-books meeting was revealed by one of the core founders of the CEC. … CEC Secretary General Maggie Cheng alleges that she facilitated the CEC delegation meetings in Washington in 2011 and boasts of the Washington establishment figures that CEC met with. BOHAI HARVEST RST (BHR)

BHR, a Chinese state-backed fund that Hunter helped form, was the biggest payoff for the Biden family—that is, if Hunter actually divested from the fund. Through his fixer and lawyer, Chris Clark, Hunter has repeatedly[485][486] assured the press that he does not either "directly or indirectly" own a portion of BHR, although he has provided zero evidence to support that claim. There are, however, multiple[487][488] sources—governmental[489] and private—showing that a shell company he controls, namely Skaneateles LLC, still owns 10% of the fund. BHR, not by mere conjecture or presumption but as a matter of public record and governmental financial data, is an organ of the Chinese state. More than a controlling portion of its shares are owned by entities under the purview of the CCP's Ministry of Finance and, in its most critical deals, BHR has partnered with state-owned enterprises (SOEs). In fact, the fund's head honcho explicitly stated as much and bragged about it: "LI Xiangsheng, CEO of BHR, told local media that the fund's strong government background would allow it to make super-big investments, saying the fund could take loans from its shareholders such as China Development Bank and Bank of China to complete transactions."[490] In U.S. media, the ostensible mission of BHR is to facilitate "cross border" transactions, but this vanilla description was purposely obscure. Rather, BHR has repeatedly acquired sensitive technologies that the CCP sought. Again, BHR does not hide this fact and a revelatory interview with LI and WANG Xin on BHR's own website testified to this imperialistic economic mission.[491] LIN Junliang "Michael"[492] and Hunter have been partners for over a decade[493] under the watchful eye of the aforementioned Bulger, and LIN helped facilitate BHR. Before getting on the bad side of XI Jinping and disappearing in June 2015, CHE Feng, known to Hunter as the "Super Chairman," served as the ring leader who promised funding and facilitated introductions to state-supported financial firms who eventually backed BHR.[494]

Hunter's emails confirmed that he has lied to numerous media outlets about the timeline and chain of events surrounding BHR—from the date he was introduced to the CCP-supported proxies to when crucial agreements were signed.[495] Hunter was so enthusiastic about working with LI Jonathan that in April 2011, more than two years before BHR was put in Shanghai's business registry, he gushed to LI: "You are the best … Just give me my marching orders." When Hunter tagged along with Joe to China in December 2013 on Air Force Two, he orchestrated a meeting between Joe and LI in Joe's hotel.

Jonathan and I had a phone chat. He talked to Mr. Che yesterday again. According to Jonathan, 1) Che is pleased to get us engaged in this deal, 2) Che wishes to get Jonathan involved in this important transaction, and 3) Jonathan will soon help come up with the deal intro./info. and let us know the cooperation mechanism among us.

Thanks and regards,

Hunter agreed and, after seeing CHE's proposed term sheet, he elatedly wrote to Archer: "[B]ottom line is if I/ you and me get around 7% of this fund it could be in many ways the end all be all. I dont believe in lottery tickets anymore, but I do believe in the super chairman. … if we were 20% owners of a CIC [China Investment Corporation] super chairman backed fund I think the sky's the limit." Agreed without hesitation. We do need to sit down next week and lay out all of the irons on both sides of the fire and plot a course here going forward. We have to think about the future cash-flow, wealth creation home runs, etc. and likelihood of success and level of underlying risk for each effort we are undertaking and going to undertake.

Regardless- if this is for real (moved from 5% to 25% chance) you and I have to have a long talk about how we divide things going forward. My opinion is that everything I do since we became partners is equally your's as it is mine. CHE, the son-in-law[496][497] of former People's Bank of China governor DAI Xianglong, had shamelessly wined-and-dined Hunter, an alcoholic, and Hunter's colleagues at the Four Seasons in Hong Kong. Remember: According to Hunter himself, CHE's courtship and generosity had "everything to do with" the Biden surname. LIN—who had been ingratiating[498] himself with sinophilic American officials and political operatives alongside Bulger for a decade—nonchalantly told Hunter: "When secret service wish [sic] to call to check things as they always do, pl[ea]s[e] make them call [LI] Jonathan or me."

Whitey Bulger's nephew wanted to keep the fund hush-hush until a formal agreement was signed: "Please remember that I have not informed anyone in my office about the reason for my trip to Hong Kong last week. … I want to keep this effort quiet until we have a contract." Hunter lied[499] about not owning equity in BHR until Joe was done with the vice presidency; additionally, Bulger and Hunter's "effort" required zero money down from Hunter! His attorney, Ken Levinson, explained it in an email from April 2016: "$361,168 (payoff/down of Devon's loan to fund Hunter's investment in BHR)[.]"[500]

Eric, All

Here are the cash "numbers" I referenced in our call this morning; these were derived (hopefully accurately) from Eric's email of April 11th (his was time stamped at 4:50 PM EDT; we got it from George via email time stamped 5:23 PM that day).

Given Eric's description of the $51,835 "over draw" by Hunter in 2015, I have accounted for that amount below both as a "receipt" and as a subset of the "taxes" account/payout. However, as Eric clarified in our call today, the "taxes" hold back (whether constituting the gross amount of $245,498, or the "net" amount after "repayment" of the overdraw (the net being $193,663 per Eric's email)) was NOT actually paid to the IRS by or on behalf of Hunter during 2015.

Based on the calculations and assumptions shown below, it appears there is a "net" unexplained difference that I can't identify (thus far) for 2015 of +$222,944. I'm hoping Eric's more experienced and knowledgeable eyes will let us know what I am missing.

In any case, here are my calculations from last night:

Hunter receives/is owed:
- $833,333 (10 months of Burisma tracked through RSB)
- 51,835 (the "excess draw" taken out by Hunter from RSB)
- 166,666 (2 months of Burisma payments to Owasco)

$1,051,834

Hunter pays out:
- $361,168 (payoff/down of Devon's loan to fund Hunter's investment in BHR)
- 222,224 (per Eric, which works out to 30%/mo, $27,778, paid to Alex for 8 months as Finder's Fee)
- 51,835 (repayment attributable to Hunter out of "taxes" Hold Back to repay "over draw" from RSB)
- 193,663 (balance of "taxes" Hold Back of $245,498 remaining after repayment of "over draw" to RSB)

$828,890

2015 cash payments attributable to Hunter not accounted for: $222,944 (the difference between $1,051,834 and $828,890)

What am I missing?

Thanks for any input from any of you, especially Eric…

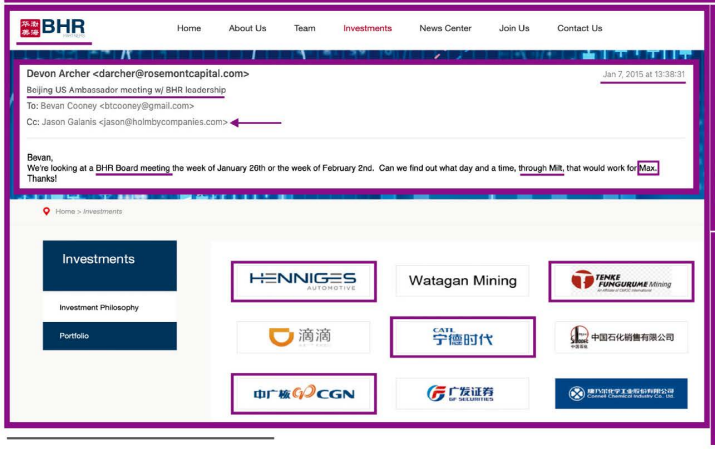
A schematic in a BHR pitch deck touted its global connections—from the former Lord Mayor of London to George Soros's money changer, Paul Sohn.[501] Jason Sugarman, who would be charged by the SEC in relation to the Indian bond fraud that brought down Archer and others, was also intimately involved.[502] BHR enjoyed Ambassador-level access made possible by Joe's relationship in the Senate with Max Baucus.[503][504] With seemingly endless liquidity from the Bank of China and other SOEs, BHR was a billion dollar fund whose returns were not merely financial, but also political.[505]



501 "As often happens when hedge fund managers get on opposite sides of a trade, it got personal, with Bill Ackman complaining to the SEC that Soros had violated insider trading laws and Sohn bragged about his boss Soros, 'George Soros broke the bank of England, and George Soros can break the back of Ackman.'"

As noted previously, the grooming[506] process by LIN and other handlers started before 2010 and culminated in December 2013. The Chinese rolled out the red carpet for not only Hunter but also the CEO of Rosemont Realty (RR), on whose advisory board Hunter sat. Dan Burrell, for his connections to American princelings, was given special treatment and flowery photo ops.[507] Another 2004 Kerry presidential campaign alumnus and Yale graduate, Burrell facilitated the large commercial real estate firm's pump-and-dump sale to the Chinese SOE-linked Gemini.[508] Burrell[509] worked closely with Archer to court foreign cash—in fact, over $200M poured in from the wife of the former mayor of Moscow.[510] RR's sale to Gemini provided hundreds of thousands of dollars to Hunter and millions to Burrell, who is also a divorcé and is said to have repeatedly indulged in cocaine and prostitute binges.

Dan Burrell, Jimmy Bulger, Hunter, Archer & LIN (2011)

Rosemont Realty

Background	Rosemont Realty is a player in the commercial property acquisition and asset management space operating in over 25 states. The company is headquartered in Santa Fe, New Mexico. The current Rosemont portfolio comprises over 16 million square feet and is heavily weighted to the office sector. It has over 200 properties. Rosemont Realty is the largest private holder of commercial real estate in New Mexico. Founded in 1991, Rosemont Realty has eight regional offices in Albuquerque, Atlanta, Dallas, Denver, Houston, New York, San Antonio and Washington D.C. Rosemont Realty LLC was earlier known as BGK Group (largest real estate holder in New Mexico). Rosemont Realty LLC operates as a subsidiary of Rosemont Solebury Capital Management LLC, a private equity arm of Solebury Capital Group LLC specializing in buyouts, growth equity, recapitalizations, and large-cap privatizations.
Management	Daniel Burrell, CEO: Prior to being appointed as CEO, Mr. Burrell was a Partner of Rosemont Capital, L.P, where he managed the firm's fixed income and real estate operations. Before joining Rosemont, Mr. Burrell was President of DCB Private Equity, a boutique firm specializing in real estate debt and equity financing. Prior to DCB Private Equity, Mr. Burrell was a Vice President at Brentwood Capital Partners, a LA based real estate opportunity fund. Mr. Burrell has also held positions in the Domestic Policy Council of the White House during the Clinton Administration and as an advisor to Senator John Kerry during his 2004 presidential campaign. Mr. Burrell received a Bachelor of Arts degree from Georgetown University, a General Course Degree from the London School of Economics, and a J.D. from Yale Law School. Mr. Burrell recently served as Vice Chairman of New Mexico's Mortgage Finance Authority and Chairman of its Contract Services Committee.

In response to questions, Mr. Archer further commented on his personal wealth and business relationships and stated that he expected the sale of his real estate business to realize a significant amount of money (in the many millions) and noted his friendship with Chris Heinz. He further stated that he believed his personal net worth likely exceeded that of Mr. Sugarman. Mr. Archer again confirmed he was not beholden to Mr. Sugarman in any way.

Mr. Archer further discussed the possible sale of his company and the revenues that might be realized, which he said would be a big liquidity event for him, as well as his connections with Bohai, which he said was sponsored by major banks and institutional investors in China. He also discussed his client relationship with Yelena Baturina, who he said had invested over $200 million dollars in his various investment funds. Mr. Archer emphasized that he had ample funding, but that the investors wanted to be efficient.

Key Considerations

- Over 20 years of experience in real estate investments.
- Portfolio value currently stands at approximately $1.5billion. Goal is to increase value to over $2 billion by 2014.
- Significant activity in the last 12 months with over $500 million of investments made in more than 4 million square feet of Class A/B office space.
- Hunter Biden (son of Vice President Biden) is on the advisory board.

508 "So what if China did launch an investigation into the Bidens' dealings in that country? What would they find? Well, one of the pins on the string board could be placed in Santa Fe. The connecting thread, perhaps thin, runs through a hugely successful City Different company once known as the BGK Group and later as Rosemont Realty and which has now moved its headquarters to Los Angeles under the name Gemini Rosemont – following [the] purchase of a majority stake in the company by a Chinese firm. The backstory contains elements of wealth, crime and intrigue, and a cast of characters worthy of a novel by sometimes Santa Fean Stuart Woods. The story starts with Eddie Gilbert, the Santa Fe real estate magnate who died in 2015, four days short of his 93rd birthday. Gilbert's life was recorded by Richard Wittingham's 2003 biography 'Boy Wonder of Wall Street[.]'"

509 "Burrell was able to tap into some of the families and funders he met on the campaign circuit. 'There is no networking experience on earth like being a senior member of a presidential campaign,' he said. In 2009, he came to New Mexico for a Diane Denish campaign event and met some of the managers at BGK Properties — and eventually Eddie Gilbert himself, the former New York financier whose life on Wall Street was documented in Boy Wonder of Wall Street, the 2003 book by Richard Wittingham. Gilbert came to Santa Fe when he was in his mid-60s to rebuild his life and business and was in his mid-80s when he met Burrell."

BHR's portfolio[511] includes companies who owned critical dual-use technologies that have been harnessed by the CCP for OBOR's imperialistic economic mission.[512] A sample of these companies, shown in the table below, included Face++ which—according to the U.S. government—has "been implicated in human rights violations and abuses in China's campaign targeting Uighurs and other predominantly Muslim ethnic minorities in the Xinjiang Uighur Autonomous Region (XUAR)."[513][514] Put bluntly, the son of the sitting pResident was invested in a sanctioned company that profiled ethnic minorities.[515][516] BHR was also invested in a Chinese nuclear energy company whose engineer (HO Szuhsiung "Allen," who lived just five minutes from Joe in Delaware) was convicted—and subsequently deported—for stealing nuclear technology and conspired to act as an agent for the CCP.[517] Hunter's firm bragged about being the "cornerstone investor in CGN's Hong Kong IPO."[518]

Until Hunter and Schwerin had a falling out, the latter held a 2.5% stake in BHR and was a corporate "supervisor" for the fund. Schwerin sent Hunter a note about how BHR's sale of Didi[519] stock was going to put over $300,000 in their pocket.[520] Another "significant distribution" was BHR's application in 2019 to sell their shares of the Chinese lithium-ion battery manufacturer, CATL.[521] Correlation does not imply causation, but it was certainly an advantageous development for CATL when their stock price appreciated more than 50% after Joe announced[522] a U.S. evacuation from Afghanistan, where lithium deposits are plentiful and Chinese extractors are ready to feast upon the natural resource.[523]

See below from Xin re: a potential Didi Exit. Based on the math it should mean approx. $600K per 10% ownership share.

We are looking at divesting our Didi stake, particulars below, please keep all information confidential:
- we own 729,230 shares and we are looking to sell all of our shares (buy-in price was US$27.5)
- our ask price will be north of US$47.50 (around 24% premium over last round's pricing but at a discount of next round's expected valuation)
- historically, each round of fundraising has seen an increase of around 40% in valuation
- Didi's most recent round of fundraising which included Tim Cook investing US$1 billion was at about US$38.22 per share with post-money valuation of US$26.5 billion
- we are entitled to 20% carried interest on this investment, any sale would be subject to existing shareholders' pre-emptive purchase rights and the new investor would become a direct investor in Didi
- please let us know if anyone might be interested

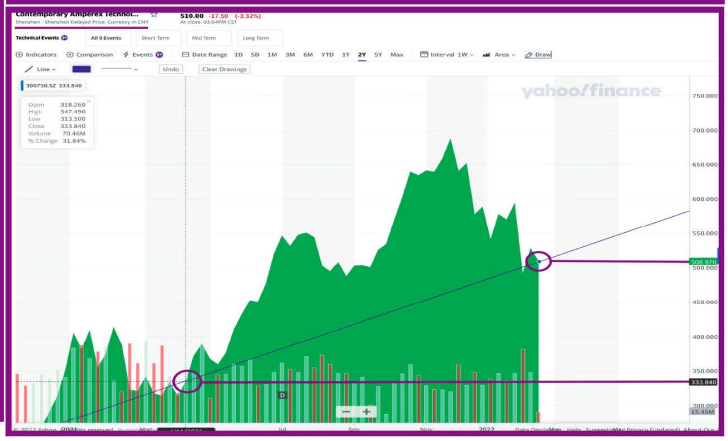
Hunter,

1) Xin reached out to me last night checking in on the loan extension document for BHR. I don't believe you have any issues with this but don't want to execute it without your confirmation.

2) More importantly, can you give me an idea when you can provide a response on Redemption Agreement? Haven't heard from you or George on this. There's no reason we should leave this to the end of the year.

Also, just so you are aware, the way it is structured gives you more than 75% of the current assets of Skaneateles going forward. This includes 100% of BHR for you - and BHR is due to have a significant distribution in 2019 because of the CATL exit.

There will be some administrative work required to finalize everything but Joan and I can work with Katie to get that done before the end of 2018 if we can sign and finalize the agreement in the next few weeks.



519 "Apple Invests $1 Billion in Didi, Uber's Rival in China," Wall Street Journal, May 2016, archive.ph/UPp6W

520 "One of BHR's first major portfolio investments was a ride-sharing company like Uber called Didi Dache—now called Didi Chuxing Technology Co. That company is closely connected to Liu Chuanzhi, the chairman of the China Entrepreneur Club (CEC) and the founder of Legend Holdings—the parent company of Lenovo, one of the world's largest computer companies. Liu is a former Chinese Communist Party delegate and was a leader of the 2011 CEC delegation to the White House. His daughter was the President of Didi. Liu has long been involved in CCP politics, including serving as a representative to the 9th, 10th, and 11th sessions of the National People's Congress of the PRC and as a representative to the 16th and 17th National Congress of the Chinese Communist Party."
See Peter Schweizer and Seamus Bruner, "'This is China, Inc.': Emails Reveal Hunter Biden's Associates Helped Communist-Aligned Chinese Elites Secure White House Meetings," Breitbart, October 2020, archive.ph/sv60c

521 "An even earlier investor in CATL was a Chinese private equity company connected to Hunter Biden, the American president's son. The firm, known as BHR, bought a 0.4 percent stake in 2016, paying roughly $15 million. In 2019, when BHR applied to sell the stake, it was valued at roughly $76 million."

In truth, what we know about BHR's vast portfolio was limited by the secrecy of the Cayman Islands and other tax havens. In a document marked[524] "Confidential" that was distributed to board members before the quarterly meeting (for which Hunter sent Whitey Bulger's nephew as his proxy), the list of BHR's offshore subsidiaries looked like an invoice from Gene Hackman's character in The Firm.[525]

Given the secret code name of "Project Hanson," BHR's takeover of Henniges Automotive—an American manufacturer of critical dual-use, anti-vibration technologies—was enabled by Hunter and his business partners' repeated violations of the FARA. The sale required interagency approval by the Committee on Foreign Investment in the United States (CFIUS)[526] and for BHR—along with the Aviation Industry Corporation of China (AVIC), BHR's partner—to prove they did not pose grave national security threats.[527] The question of whether Hunter used his father's influence to grease the wheels of CFIUS was not ascertainable from the laptop; however, it was abundantly clear that Hunter's representation of BHR—for months—was illegal given that he did not register with the DOJ.

[526] "The direct involvement of Mr. Hunter Biden and Mr. Heinz in the acquisition of Henniges by the Chinese government creates a potential conflict of interest. Both are directly related to high-ranking Obama administration officials. The Department of State, then under Mr. Kerry's leadership, is also a CFIUS member and played a direct role in the decision to approve the Henniges transaction. The appearance of potential conflicts in this case is particularly troubling given Mr. Biden's and Mr. Heinz's history of investing in and collaborating with Chinese companies, including at least one posing significant national security concerns. This history with China pre and post-dates the 2015 Henniges transaction." See "Grassley Raises Concerns Over Obama Admin Approval of U.S. Tech Company Joint Sale to Chinese Government and Investment Firm Linked to Biden, Kerry Families," U.S. Senator Chuck Grassley, August 2019, archive.ph/8W3tX

"Project Hanson" was mentioned in 25 separate emails on the Biden Laptop; accordingly, Hunter was intimately involved in the transaction beginning, at least, in February of 2015. He inquired about which law firm in the U.S. BHR had hired. Just seven months later, WANG apparently had advance notice that BHR's deal was going to be approved by CFIUS—in her words, the approval was "expected by Tuesday NY time." WANG even used acquisitive language to describe the purchase: "On BHR's side, Xinzhong and the key deal team members … will be in Detroit to celebrate this milestone together with AVIC Auto officials and the Target company [Henniges]." Not even a year later, WANG bragged about the deal in a somewhat candid interview[528] with LI: "Henniges is our typical business model. We set up a joint venture with AVIC[529] - they own 51% and we own 49% - and did the acquisition together. AVIC has industry experience, operations in China, and it knew Henniges well."[530] Firstly, who would have given BHR advance notice to "expect" CFIUS to approve the deal and, secondly, how would WANG have known a specific time for the approval? A contact card on the laptop for a Michael Goodwin from the "CFIUS Office" at the U.S. Commerce Department could provide answers.

Dear Devon, Jimmy and Hunter,

I want to check your availability for attending the upcoming Project Hanson closing ceremony, tentatively scheduled for Sept. 10, 2015 in Detroit (venue to be decided). By way of status report, we have received all LP funds (and management fees) and pending receipt of the official CFIUS approval (expected by Tuesday NY time) and also pending BHR's one final registration with the PBOC to allow our LP funds to be transferred to the Delaware SPV, we are on schedule to close the Hanson acquisition by Sept. 8. On BHR's side, Xinzhong and the key deal team members (Huiping Zhou, Bo Xiang and Felix Yu) will be in Detroit to celebrate this milestone together with AVIC Auto officials and the Target company. We would be delighted to have all of you join the celebrations as well.

The report warned about 'the overlap between civil and military programs as a commercial endeavor beneath the single umbrella of AVIC' and the 'involvement with dual-use applications' of some of AVIC's subsidiaries."

Hunter's divorce proceedings with Kathleen referenced his ownership share in Henniges and other extended arms[531] of the CCP, which ultimately controlled AVIC, BHR's majority partner in their Henniges joint venture. Despite these and other generous handouts[532] and state-backed investments, the potential consequences for Hunter's tax evasion and money laundering crimes were at the top of his mind. In fact, Hunter recounted Schwerin's statement to his attorney: "I believe you [Hunter] can do better but if it is a question of going to jail or not I [Schwerin] think $750,000 is the right number."

I asked Erik to give me the income that I 110% could rely on now coming through this is his response:

"110% absolute income now is $225K a year from Burisma. (That is if you split the $500K 50/50 with Devon. I am deducting $25K from your $250K because you have approx. $2K in expenses through Owasco, PC.)

As for potential income, I wouldn't feel comfortable saying you can for sure make more than $62,500 a month by mid-2017. That equates to $750,000 on annual basis. (I believe you can do better but if it is a question of going to jail or not I think $750,000 is the right number."

My ability to secure new business now is incredibly difficult and in my line of work this is the season to pick up clients so once we hit April May it's even more difficult. To make it from here to there i'm relying on to uncertainties the first is a windfall from citizens are asked the mound of four to $600,000 and hustling to maintain the few remaining and maybe pick up A couple more. If I knock it out of the park and make $2 million next year almost the entire tea of my share to go to servicing debt.

Rosemont Seneca Advisors (Owasco, LLC owns 75%) holds equity in:

- Harves Group: 5% in Harves Amusement Parks, initially 6 Parks to be opened in China in a JV with China Development Bank and Parques Reunidos, one of the largest amusement park companies in the world. Also includes Ownership in Harves Sports and Entertainment which has signed an LOI to partner with Kobe Bryant on a series of academies in China.
- Africa Business Development (ABD) Projects: 30% of ABD's interest in six Energy, Infrastructure and Healthcare projects in Western Africa.

RSP Investments (Owasco, LLC owns 75%):

- RSPI is the Broker-Dealer. It owns no equity but obviously has potential for success fees from underlying projects. Currently, success fees are funding expenses.

BHR (once share transfer is complete Owasco, LLC will own 7.5%)

- BHR owns interests in companies such as Didi, Henniges and other Chinese and Overseas (U.S., Australia, Europe) investments.

Eudora Global (Owasco, LLC owns approx. 3%):

- CitizensRx: A pharmacy benefits management company 35% owned by North Carolina Blue Cross/Blue Shield.
- ePlata: A mobile payments company focused on providing cross-border remittances to the unbanked (FYI, Owasco, LLC owns an additional 5.25% of ePlata).
- LineUp Media: A media company focused on podcasting, streaming internet content and original filmed content.

Tadich Grill (Owasco, LLC owns .75% of a share): The DC location of a San-Francisco, CA restaurant.

RSTP I, RSTP II Alpha and Bravo (ownership percentages vary but approx. 15% each): Investment vehicles for ownership in Counsyl a genetic testing company.

Equity Distribution Trust (not sure of ownership percentage): Trust vehicle to share in legal cases referred to Beau. We believe that they have all paid out and there shouldn't be anymore distributions. However, it is possible there could be minimal distributions in future years. There hasn't been an audit of pending cases.

Rosemont Realty (not sure of ownership percentage): Interest has been sold. We believe all distributions have been made, but there may be a remaining hold-back amount to come. It would be minimal.

American Well (not sure of ownership percentage): Shares held in start-up technology company delivering telemedicine.

Please Note: Owasco, LLC owns 75% of Skaneateles, LLC and many of these ownership entities are held via Skaneateles. But they ultimately all pass through to Owasco, LLC.

Hunter, Archer, and Bulger violated the FARA when they acted on BHR's behalf in an ill-fated effort to secure Bill Clinton as a speaker for an event, which required registration with the DOJ.[533] Indeed, the FARA guidelines could not be more clear about this scenario: one must register as a foreign agent when one "[a]cts within the United States as a public relations counsel, publicity agent, information service employee, or political consultant" for a "foreign principal."[534] In this case, the foreign principal sought—through Hunter and his business partners—access to a former U.S. president. Perhaps the Chinese side knew that former president Clinton had intervened for Hunter in the past, going so far as to (unsuccessfully) plead from the Oval Office to the dean of Yale Law School to admit Hunter.[535]

Thank you and some additional homework:

1- EDP – does anyone know Capital Group (or its sub - Capital Research and Management). We would like to know if they are looking to sell all or part of their stake in EDP
2- Bombardier – we are also interested Bombardier's railway divestiture if someone can connect us with Bombardier
3- SOE Fund – should we be speaking to other agents in lieu of Burnham or is there hope that they may reconcile themselves with our counteroffer?
4- U.S. office hire – any interest in any of the resumes we sent around?
5- Bill Clinton – what do we have to do to get the former POTUS to come to the Shanghai Forum?

Kazakh deal is more of an update for you guys, thought it was referred through one of your intermediaries. The Hanson bid will be decided within these few days we believe, will keep you posted. Danke and good night.

Dear Hunter,

We totally agree with your thoughts. We think this arrangement will be very helpful for our deal sourcing and fund raising in US. The budget is ok for us, but the person we wants to hire should be proficiency in both English and Chinese, so it will be efficient for our communication. Please send us the candidates' resume first and we can have an interview with the candidates. Mr. Xinzhong Li is currently in US, and he can do the interview if some candidates is ready.

Attached is a rough budget for the proposed BHR employee to be housed here in Washington DC. The responsibility of this individual would be to coordinate on a full time basis with the Beijing staff on behalf of the U.S. Partners of BHR.

I think we all feel it is critical to have someone at this level engaged on a full time basis to assist in coordinating the U.S. Teams input and communications to and from Beijing. This would include monitoring all deals and advising where the U.S. Team could add value, and keeping the Beijing Team informed as to our fund raising and other efforts.

This person would also be responsible for handling all expense reports, travel arrangements and any other necessary "reporting" requirements or duties we deem important.

The office space is directly connected to the Rosemont Seneca offices, with a separate entrance, but it will be re-branded as a BHR US office. There is space for additional personnel if the need arises as we grow.

We would like to have this individual hired and in office beginning March 1st. Once they are acclimated here (10 days or so) he or she will travel to China to spend 30 days or so with the Beijing BHR team.

Please let me know your thoughts- and if we are all in agreement I will identify the person for our approval and we can make the hire and arrange for the office space. Best, Hunter

The General Secretary of the Chinese Communist Party, XI Jinping, was planning to visit Los Angeles in September 2015. BHR would receive a "one-time advisory fee" if Hunter and Archer "orchestrate[d] a stop by" for XI to a Chinese-controlled electric vehicle[536] facility, Faraday Future. This planned quid pro quo violated the FARA and was merely another attempt by BHR to ingratiate itself with American politicos—as they had done with their partner[537] GUO George—to achieve their corporate (and state) objectives.[538] In summary, Hunter depended on CCP-backed firms for his planned BHR exit.[539]

Devon and Hunter,

Further to your conversation with Jonathan regarding a possible arrangement for President Xi to visit LeTV's facilities in Los Angeles during his upcoming trip to the U.S. in September/October 2015, Jonathan and I had an interesting meeting with LeTV.s founders – Mr. Jia Yueting (CEO) and Mr. Liu Hong (Co-Founder and Vice-Chairman of the Board) yesterday.

LeTV's Request – arrange for President Xi to visit LeTV's L.A. facilities
President Xi will be making a stop in L.A. during his visit where LeTV has recently acquired an R&D center committing to invest between US$3-5 billion towards the research and design of electrical cars and intelligent vehicles. LeTV has enlisted our help to arrange for President Xi to visit their L.A. facilities, or, if that cannot be arranged, for Mr. Jia Yueting to speak at any of the meet-and-greet functions to be attended by President Xi, whether in L.A. or San Francisco or elsewhere.

Next Steps
LeTV will be sending over relevant materials in the coming days which I will compile and summarise for everyone and we can then discuss how to best process this delicate request using our resources.

What's in it for BHR and its shareholders
A one-time advisory fee payable to BHR is being discussed and we would be provided with the opportunity to co-invest with LeTV and Beijing Automotive Group (BAIC) and become a shareholder in the L.A. / Silicon Valley businesses. More importantly, this would mark the beginning of a long-term and comprehensive cooperation with LeTV and an opportunity to participate in all of its future activities. LeTV has been busily expanding its empire through overseas acquisitions, this year alone, it has acquired significant stakes in two HK-listed companies, 18% in CoolPad for US$350 million becoming its second largest shareholder, and 35% in Beijing Media becoming its largest shareholder.

About LETV
Some quick background on the Company:

- founded in 2004 by Jia Yueting, it is one of China largest growing entertainment companies offering vertically integrated ecosystems through a combination of devices, platforms, content, terminals and applications

- listed on the Growth Enterprise Market with a market capitalization in excess of RMB80 billion (more than US$12 billion as of July 29, 2015)

- recently acquired R&D center and facilities in L.A. for the manufacturing of intelligent vehicles, also established a U.S. headquarter in Redwood City and rapidly building a Silicon Valley-based team

- the L.A. / Silicon Valley investments constitute one of the largest direct investments by a Chinese company in the U.S. and has been positively received by U.S. officials including the governors of Nevada and California, both of whom will be visiting the L.A. facilities in the coming weeks

CEFC China Energy Company Limited (CEFC Energy)

Starting in early 2015, Hunter and his partners were setting up a deal with CEFC Energy whose founder, YE Jianming, was the former deputy secretary-general[541] of a branch of a CCP-funded[542] organization known as the China Association for International Friendly Contact (CAIFC).[543] According to a U.S. government commission report, CAIFC is a "front organization" that "performs dual roles of intelligence collection and conducting propaganda and perception management campaigns."[544] CEFC Energy[545] was a behemoth, spanning the globe and acting as China's "private" sector arm of OBOR. The aforementioned partnership—according to correspondence on the Biden Laptop and audio messages from Hunter himself—involved players from at least four countries. Prospective meetings between YE and Joe were to be approved by XI Jinping himself, who they called the "No. 1," and the daily operations were overseen by ZANG Jianjun.[546] The core players in the partnership[547] are below:

Instrumental to the partnership was a bald and elusive[548] Englishman named James GILLIAR, who explained[549] to Tony Bobulinski on Christmas Eve 2015 that there was going to be "a deal between one of the most prominent families from" the U.S. and CEFC Energy. The deal was going to be "constructed by" GILLIAR, who called the planned Biden/CCP-linked slush fund[550] a "no brainer." Rob Walker, Hunter's aforementioned business partner, had been working with GILLIAR since at least March of that year and was introduced to Bobulinski by GILLIAR, who joked that Rob had his address "for commission[s]." A longtime consigliere to some of Joe's friends (the ruling family of the United Arab Emirates (UAE)), GILLIAR[551] had also facilitated CEFC Energy's buying spree in the Czech Republic, where he was based. In fact, YE became an "economic advisor"[552] to the President of the Czech Republic, Miloš ZEMAN. By May 2017, Joe's term as vice president had ended, and "optics" were ripe for the Bidens to cash in. Bobulinski and GILLIAR drew up a joint venture called Sinohawk Holdings LLC[553]* (SinoHawk), which was owned 50/50 by 1) Hudson West IV LLC[554] (Hudson West IV), which was controlled by YE and DONG Gongwen "Kevin," and 2) Oneida Holdings LLC[555] (Oneida), the shell company through which Joe's son and brother would hold 20% of SinoHawk.

Dear Chairman,

Deepest condolences to you and your family.

I have established a relationship with an impressive group of Chinese business leaders. I use the word "impressive" because, despite their company's tremendous success within a relatively short period of time, they have not lost sight of the importance of giving back to society, evidenced by their global philanthropy.

Founded in 2002, China Energy Fund Committee ("CEFC China") is a privately owned energy development company that has energy,gas,and financial services as its core businesses. Its strategy is "to serve the national industrial interest by building a modernized 'economic community' to compete as a multinational enterprise that expands cooperation in the international energy economy and achieves influence in the energy industry."

It has been lauded for its focus on promoting health and education and for addressing global poverty.

CEFC is recognized domestically as well as internationally for its role as a responsible corporate citizen. The former was evident as it was tagged to be part of the delegation Chinese President Xi Jinping brought with him recently to the U.S., although it had to forego participation due to a previous commitment.

Some of CEFC China's notable achievements to date include:

- In 2014, CEFC China made the Fortune Global 500 List and was recognized one of the world's 500 "Most Influential Brands," achieving annual revenues exceeding 220 billion RMB.
- In 2008, its Chairman, Mr. Ye Jianming, established an NGO—CEFC Hong Kong—the purpose of which is to promote research on climate change and environmental economics, international cooperation, sustainable development, etc. and to conduct forums by which the world's civilizations can explore and build upon a common foundation of business ethics. Other NGO entities funded by CEFC China have followed, such as CEFC Shanghai Charity Fund to promote Chinese culture.
- In 2012, CEFC China initiated the "Sino-US Colloquium," a summit conference seeking to establish a lasting communication's link through non-governmental channels for use by Chinese and U.S. scholars, business leaders and former officials for in-depth exchanges on issues of mutual concern, such as energy, security, science and technology, economy, culture, etc.
- In 2013, the United Nations granted CEFCChina's NGO "Special Consultative Status with the Economic and Social Council of the United Nations," based on CEFC China's philanthropic focus. In this capacity, it has joined with the U.N. in launching the "Power the Future We Want" initiative, providing an annual grant to institutions or individuals demonstrating leadership and innovation by promoting sustainable energy technologies.
- It received the 2014 "Most Influential Chinese Enterprises."
- For the past four years it has been recognized as one of the "Top Ten Chinese Philanthropic Enterprises."

Various former U.S. government officials, including Henry Kissinger and Robert McFarland, have had long-term working relationships with CEFC China, as have had foreign dignitaries, including Israel's former Prime Minister Shimon Peres, U.N. Secretary-General Ban Ki-Moon, the Prince of UAE, and the Prince of Saudi Arabia.

Additional information concerning CEFC is available on its websites at www.cefcChina.com, www.cefc.org.hk and www.cefc-ngo.co/en.

With this background, please allow me to explain my purpose in contacting you.

CEFC China is very interested in exploring humanitarian initiatives of mutual interest to the World Food program USA and discussing investment opportunities with Burnham.

Topics for discussion would include a donation to the WFP, establishment of a joint humanitarian fund,and extending invitations for the B's to speak in China, etc.

All expenses will be covered as well as speaking engagements.

Please contact me as soon as possible so that I can provide you with additional information in person.

j. In December 2013, ASHE solicited $100,000 from PIAC and YAN supposedly in order to pay for his staff's holiday party. On December 4, 2013, ASHE emailed YAN:

Re. the promised $100K, way I suggest the following approach re. remitting it to me. If the entire amount is to be sent in one shot then it's best to send it to the PGA account and then I can withdraw it in installments without raising any questions by the bank. This is my preferred approach since that account has been used for large amounts and would not raise any red flags.

True to form, Hunter responded to OH's honey-pot email within a day: "Scott-when is a good time for a call today [?]" Other than being a seemingly wealthy[556] "consultant" of Korean extraction who has given exclusively[557] to Democrats, OH's business relationships and background are a mystery. OH is affiliated with over a dozen shell companies in various jurisdictions. When asked by Marco Polo if he had met YE in South Korea—where YE attended college—OH offered to introduce us to his attorney. When we asked for his attorney's contact information, OH hung up. This ghost-like character facilitated[558] a meeting between YE and Hunter on 12/07/2015, yet very little is known about him.

After hosting OH and ZANG Jianjun (YE couldn't make it) for a meeting, Hunter spent the next 18 months in a blur of prostitutes, strip clubs, crack cocaine, and pornography while he waited for Joe's vice presidency to end so he could overtly cash out with the Chinese (instead of attempting to be discreet, as he had done in the case of BHR). While HO "Patrick"—another key underling for YE and CEFC—was delivering glowing speeches about the greatness[559] of OBOR and the "China Dream," Hunter browsed CEFC Energy's website and shopped for luxury slippers while a pornographic video raged in the background (see screenshot below).[560] The kaleidoscope of people and entities that were courting Hunter and the Biden family were all imbedded at the United Nations (UN) and other seemingly benign organizations with flowery mission statements. Indeed, the former President of the UN General Assembly (GA), a Serbian named Vuk JEREMIĆ, was a key plank on the road that connected the Bidens to their Chinese payout.[561] JEREMIĆ was called as a witness in HO's trial.[562]

These internationalists explicitly leveraged and showcased Joe's time in public office—and his relationships as a result of that office—to attempt to drum up business for their planned joint venture. GILLIAR, who came from a family[563] of leftists and advocated[564] for CEFC Energy[565] to take over the legendary American company Westinghouse, utilized Joe's liberal public positions such as his support for so-called "green energy" policies to forge partnerships with foreign oligarchs.[566] For those readers who still believe the lie that Joe was not involved with this planned joint venture with CCP proxies, why would it be relevant that Joe and the Colombian president got along well when he was the V.P.? GILLIAR deemed it so important that he put a picture of them in his "Proposal for Investment Vehicle."

Colombia – Gateway to Latin America

The relationship between Colombian president Juan Manuel Santos and Joe Biden has been a strong one throughout the Obama administration. Mr. Santos made his first official visit to the White House in 2013, during which both Mr. Santos and Mr. Obama were highly supportive of the U.S.-Colombian alliance.[1] The United States' attitude towards Latin America during the Obama administration changed dramatically compared to previous Republican and Democratic administrations. A pragmatic approach became the underlying theme for U.S. relations with Latin America. During a speech at the Annual Washington Conference, Vice President Biden summed up the new attitude to Latin America explicitly. "Whether it's Mexico hosting the G20 or Colombia preparing to join the OECD, this is not your father's We have already changed the way we do business and the way we frame it." Biden said, is no longer about what can we do for Latin America but what we America. Things have changed a great deal.[2] The following analysis by Eric ctly describes the changed economic and political climate and is worth quoting Hunter's uncle, Jimmy Biden, acted as an unregistered agent for a foreign principal, CEFC Energy. Jimmy was hoping to meet with the disgraced former Governor of New York, Andrew Cuomo (who previously gave Naomi Biden, Hunter's daughter, an internship). Jimmy also wrote the wrong month in the memo to Cuomo's aide (the month should have been May).[567] The Bidens' hoped to bring the key players to the meeting including YE, CEFC Energy executive ZANG, and Prince Felix of Luxembourg.[568] GILLIAR—an ever-present force in the background—organized the meeting request.

Meeting with CEFC

Attention: Annabel Walsh, Director of Scheduling, Office of the Governor

From: James B. Biden, jbiden@lionhallgp.com, (610) 247-8992

Issue: On April 5th & 6th of 2017, CEFC will be in New York, NY for a series of meetings regarding Real Estate and Infrastructure investments in the US. Pending availability, we request a brief meeting or "drop by" by the Governor at a convenient location & time either the 5th or 6th. We intend to discuss potential projects and investments in New York.

Background: CEFC (us.cefc.co) is a private collective enterprise with energy and financial services as its core business. The strategy of the Company seeks to expand international economic cooperation in the energy sector and establish a well-organized international investment bank and an investment group. With revenue of 220 CNY (35 billion USD) in 2014, CEFC is among the 10 largest private companies in China and credits most of those returns to oil and gas (60%) and financial services (25%), but they also operate in a wide range of other sectors, such as transport infrastructure, forestry, asset management, hotel management, warehousing services, real estate development and logistics services. A large portion of CEFC's assets and successful investments are concentrated in overseas markets, driving the company to further its activities abroad. Since 2013, the company has been listed on the Fortune Global 500 list, rising from number 342 in 2015 to 229 in June 2016. Most of the company is owned by Shanghai Energy Fund Investment Ltd (SEFI), which is registered under Ye Jianming, the Chairman of CEFC.

Attendees:

[568] In an email from James GILLIAR to Hunter on 04/27/2017, GILLIAR stated: "You [Hunter] are travelling with Jim[my Biden] and I [sic] to see Prince Felix in [the] next [couple of] weeks to push [a deal with CEFC Energy]."
See "Biography of His Royal Highness Prince Felix," tinyurl.com/yc4jrmhc

A screenshot from CEFC Energy's website around the time Jimmy prepared the memo displayed a headline of YE[569] bragging about his recent meeting with the chairman of the Russian SOE oil conglomerate, Rosneft.[570] Although CEFC Energy's ownership structure[571] was purposely opaque, their news headlines—and their logo—pointed to the (oftentimes unspoken) truth that the company was ultimately controlled by the Chinese state.[572] It made sense why CEFC Energy and its NGO did not advertise their true owners and partners—they were aligned with the CCP's People's Liberation Army, specifically its propaganda organ: "PLA Unit 61716, also known as the 'Public Opinion Warfare, Psychological Warfare and Legal Warfare Base,' or Base 311, was connected with CEFC."[573]

Hi James,

How you doing?

Director would like to extend the following message to H:

1. Chairman Ye is more than happy to meet H and the family in NYC on 5th or 6th of May. But the schedule is quite tight for the moment and they cannot decide on a time of meeting. The chairman's side will contact you when they are in NYC.

2. The ID of Rick is only a consultant in the preparation of the JV. He is only responsible for the building of the company and only authorized to have the materials necessary for this

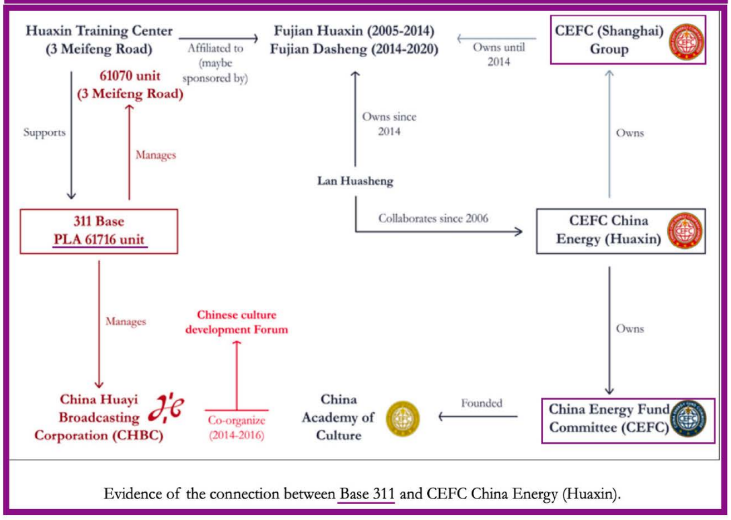
CHINA CEFC ENERGY COMPANY LIMITED
CEFC

Without any defined starting or finishing point, the circle represents consistency, continuity, harmony and equality, an embodiment of the cosmology of Taoism and Confucianism.

The globe at the center indicates the global development strategies of CEFC China.

The Three Stars embody the endless cycle of life: the Tao begets one; one begets two; two begets three; three begets all things in the universe.

In Chinese constellations, the Three Stars arise in the eastern sky in both spring and autumn. According to the Chinese classic book of poetry, the Book of Songs, it is considered perfect timing when the Three Stars arise in the sky. The Three Stars hanging above the sky symbolize that the CEFC China "economic community" will enjoy a long-lasting ascent as the stars – not meteoric, yet shining and splendid.



Evidence of the connection between Base 311 and CEFC China Energy (Huaxin).

569 "In September 2017, CEFC China Energy announced its most high-profile investment yet. The company was to buy a 14% stake in Russian oil giant Rosneft for $9 billion -- the sort of super spend usually reserved for a state-owned company."

A week after Bobulinski met with Joe before the latter's speech at the Milken Conference[574][575][576] on 05/03/2017, CEFC Energy partnered with the Rothschild family.[577] The company also sent a personal invitation to Bobulinski in order for him to secure a business visa (which, like the joint venture, would fall through; however, the Bidens moved on without him, as will be explained later in this section).

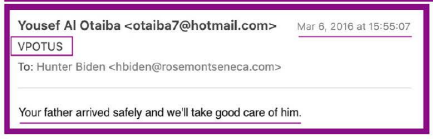
Yousef Al Otaiba
Ambassador of the United Arab Emirates to the United States



Full statement from Tony Bobulinski to The New York Post

My name is Tony Bobulinski. The facts set forth below are true and accurate; they are not any form of domestic or foreign disinformation. Any suggestion to the contrary is false and offensive. I am the recipient of the email published seven days ago by the New York Post which showed a copy to Hunter Biden and Rob Walker. That email is genuine.

This afternoon I received a request from the Senate Committee on Homeland Security and Government Affairs and the Senate Committee on Finance requesting all documents relating to my business affairs with the Biden family as well as various foreign entities and individuals. I have extensive relevant records and communications and I intend to produce those items to both Committees in the immediate future.

I am the grandson of a 37 year Army Intelligence officer, the son of a 20+ year career Naval Officer and the brother of a 28 year career Naval Flight Officer. I myself served our country for 4 years and left the Navy as LT Bobulinski. I held a high level security clearance and was an instructor and then CTO for Naval Nuclear Power Training Command. I take great pride in the time my family and I served this country. I am also not a political person. What few campaign contributions I have made in my life were to Democrats.

If the media and Big Tech companies had done their jobs over the past several weeks I would be irrelevant in this story. Given my long standing service and devotion to this great country, I could no longer allow my family's name to be associated or tied to Russian disinformation or implied lies and false narratives dominating the media right now.

After leaving the military I became an institutional investor investing extensively around the world and on every continent. I have traveled to over 50 countries. I believe, hands down, we live in the greatest country in the world.

What I am outlining is fact. I know it is fact because I lived it. I am the CEO of Sinohawk Holdings which was a partnership between the Chinese operating through CEFC/Chairman Ye and the Biden family. I was brought into the company to be the CEO by James Gilliar and Hunter Biden. The reference to "the Big Guy" in the much publicized May 13, 2017 email is in fact a reference to Joe Biden. The other "JB" referenced in that email is Jim Biden, Joe's brother.

Hunter Biden called his dad 'the Big Guy' or 'my Chairman,' and frequently referenced asking him for his sign-off or advice on various potential deals that we were discussing. I've seen Vice President Biden saying he never talked to Hunter about his business. I've seen firsthand that that's not true, because it wasn't just Hunter's business, they said they were putting the Biden family name and its legacy on the line.

I realized the Chinese were not really focused on a healthy financial ROI. They were looking at this as a political or influence investment. Once I realized that Hunter wanted to use the company as his personal piggy bank by just taking money out of it as soon as it came from the Chinese, I took steps to prevent that from happening.

The Johnson Report connected some dots in a way that shocked me — it made me realize the Bidens had gone behind my back and gotten paid millions of dollars by the Chinese, even though they told me they hadn't and wouldn't do that to their partners.

I would ask the Biden family to address the American people and outline the facts so I can go back to being irrelevant — and so I am not put in a position to have to answer those questions for them.

I don't have a political ax to grind; I just saw behind the Biden curtain and I grew concerned with what I saw. The Biden family aggressively leveraged the Biden family name to make millions of dollars from foreign entities even though some were from communist controlled China.

God bless America.

574 Ambassador Yousef al-OTAIBA, who reported to GILLIAR's boss (the ruling family of the UAE), was also a keynote speaker at the conference. Based on correspondence from the Biden Laptop, al-OTAIBA and Hunter spoke frequently. See "Global Conference 2017," Milken Institute, May 2017, archive.ph/txrdq

Just two days after YE's meeting with the Rothschilds, GILLIAR—who was a key spoke in the CCP's wheel[578] of "elite capture" in the Czech Republic—sent an email to Bobulinski (with Walker and Hunter ccd) about the group's expected "renumeration [sic] packages." Hunter was to receive an $850,000 salary and 10% of the holding company's shares for Joe, who GILLIAR called "the big guy." In response, Hunter said that he "need[ed] a hell of a lot more" than $850k. Importantly, there were other references to Joe as "the big guy" on the Biden Laptop, along with Bobulinski's confirmation.[579]

Tony

As I had already alluded we have discussed and agreed the following renumeration packages

Chair / Vice Chair depending on agreement with CEFC (Hunter) 850
CEO (Tony) 850
James (EEIG) international consultancy agreement business development (James) 500,000
Rob 500
Jim Unknown
Sanan (Under EEIG agreement) 72,000

Hunter has some office expectations he will elaborate
James needs travel of 15,000 k a month (180,000 PA)

AS for roles I will continue with the International development in Oman, France, Belgium, Luxembourg act

We have found a UAE bank they want, Azerbaijan and Colombia, bringing expertise in for infrastructure programmes and relations with the big consultants for US

IN 2008 I had 80 bn of deliverable programmes under management in UAE

Personally I have already spent a large amount on this and I'm not in for the weekly pay, but as we have been shorted on the agreed package
I feel this is right and reasonable

I am happy to raise any detail with Zang if there is shortfalls ?

At the moment there s a provisional agreement that the equity will be distributed as follows

20JG
10 Jim
10 held by H for the big guy ?

Any comments or disagreement lets table now ?

apologies for typos cant see shit

I will tell you that the Building Trades are at the end of their rope with this administration. They, General President Mark Ayers and Secretary Treasurer Sean McGarvey were told two years ago that Nate Tamarin was the "labor guy." Since then, those that haven chosen to circumvent Nate after "no action" did hear the wrath of Nate. Those that stood up to him - the Ibew, NEA, IAFF, etc.... basically told Nate to go f off - in a nice way.

Personally, I was the Teamsters Political Director and under the Bush Presidency - I was able to call Rove, Mehlman, Sara Taylor and Andy Card. Granted a lot didn't get done - but at least we were heard. Whereas now, we have our team in - and Sean has sent an official letter asking for a meeting with Vice President Biden over a year ago, and the reasoning for not getting the meeting is absolutely ridiculous. So what is worse - having our guys in there and no access or having access (like with Bush) with terrible results. Furthermore, the National Building and Construction Trades Secretary Treasurer (who represents nearly 3.5 million members) THINKS that vice president Biden doesn't want to meet with him and his President Mark Ayers.

You should not be worried about getting "yelled" at by the Boss or his staff - they should be shitting their pants thinking that - because of miscommunication, the Building Trades think they are being dissed by the Vice President. Personally, the Bldg Trades are too honorable and stuck on protocol. If it were my union - I would have sandwiched the President, VP or their CoS and made sure they knew.

All that said, what works best - for you and I - is for you to call Sean first. Say you talked to me and that you want to get all the facts before you talk to the big guy. This will be good for both of us.

What do you think?

Final word on this (from me). I have been the only one asked to give up all other active commercial interests- no consulting fees no promoting another business no con tinting to work on existing projects etc...so I have to admit I do expect that if I can't keep my toe in other things I will need a hell of a lot more than 850 p/y on a monthly basis. And this is my own personal problem but ill make it yours also I'm sure (HA) -$2M to me means $1M before taxes the other half goes to her- 850 to me means 100K to me - she has a 750 floor. That does not include all he debt I assumed and not one dime for the girls (twolvy league school living expenses and the most expensive highs cool in DC.

Perhaps more incredible than Joe's involvement[580] in the planned joint venture was XI Jinping's covert oversight of the deal. On two separate occasions, both GILLIAR and Hunter alluded to XI's role in both approving meetings and ownership shares. GILLIAR told Bobulinski: "As I know chairman [YE] will come to meet VP [Joe] if he gets approval from no 1 [XI], [but] I think otherwise he wouldn't[.]" The following day, Bobulinski expressed concerns about the Bidens' ability to overrule him on corporate decisions, to which Hunter shot back with fervor: "TONY that is what Zhang[581] [sic] implied - they are both [ZANG and YE] coming to be MY partner [—] to be partners with the Bidens. He [ZANG] has implied that the #1 [XI] has made that clear and available to him." Along with a party to the messages confirming to Marco Polo that the multiple allusions were to XI himself, other direct references (such as Hunter referring to Joe as "my Chairman" and GILLIAR warning Bobulinski to "not mention Joe being involved" except when "face to face" because the Bidens were "paranoid") are more than enough to refute GILLIAR's bald-faced lies to the Wall Street Journal that Joe was not involved.[582]

The first agreement by SinoHawk was for the Chinese side to wire $10M to Bobulinski so he, as the CEO, could make the first tranche of OBOR "investments." However, nearly a month passed and they were slow-walking the wire transfer, offering random excuses. Plus, according to Bobulinski, Hunter's "manic and bipolar" personality was on full display. Exasperated, Bobulinski convinced Hunter to send a letter to YE in which Hunter called him "a very close friend of the Biden family" and pleaded with YE to expedite the transfer and receive the "best wishes from the entire Biden family."[587] What Bobulinski did not realize is that—in response to his logical concerns about Hunter's antics—Jimmy and Hunter had been back-channeling with YE's lieutenants so they could cut out Bobulinski, GILLIAR, and the others to more easily receive YE's cash but via another channel—namely, Hudson West III LLC.

Dear Chairman Ye:

I hope my letter finds you well. I regret missing you on your last visit to the United States. Please accept the best wishes from the entire Biden family as well as my partners. We are all hoping to see you here again soon, or in Shanghai.

As you know since our last meeting we have concluded the establishment of SinoHawk Holdings and I look forward to introducing you to Mr. Tony Bobulinski. He is a very close friend of James Gilliar and the Biden family and joined our team to focus on the execution of things as a partner. He will act as the CEO of SinoHawk Holdings. He has invested capital all over the world for some of the world's wealthiest families. He has sent a request to Dong Gongwen and Director Zang for the funding of the $10 MM USD wire. I would appreciate if you will send that quickly so we can properly fund and operate Sinohawk.

I hope that you are satisfied with the introductions made in Oman and the progress made. This in my opinion cements our common belief that by combining our skill sets, we can create opportunities throughout the world. Director Zang has made it clear on your behalf that he wants Sinohawk to properly be rewarded for the efforts in Oman. Tony and I will work with the CEFC team and our Oman partners to define the economics.

Within the next week, we will have a clearly defined term sheet for the project we discussed in Romania. It is time sensitive and we should move quickly to closure on this unique opportunity to showcase the CEFC brand and drive progress with the right partners. The required equity is $300-500 Million USD. This can be handled in a variety of ways. CEFC could fund the entire amount though it isn't all needed day one. The other option is to have CEFC fund $100-$200 Million and the rest will be raised by Sinohawk working with strategic capital partners in the US that can add value for CEFC and our Romanian partners. I look forward to your quick reply and thoughts on moving this project forward.

Dear Chairman Ye,

It is with great honor that I introduce myself, Tony Bobulinski, as the CEO of SinoHawk Holdings. I take the responsibility that my partners the Biden family, James Gilliar and yourself have bestowed on me very seriously. Congratulations on all of the success in founding and building CEFC into the Global Powerhouse it has become both financially and strategically.

When I heard your personal story and CEFC's global focus on building bridges between the United States, China and other countries I was inspired. I am a former US Naval Nuclear Power Officer and have spent my entire career after the military investing money around the world with and for some of the world's wealthiest families. I look forward to leveraging those relationships along with the political and strategic value of the Biden family, James Gilliar and CEFC to fulfill SinoHawk's mission.

I have enjoyed spending a lot of time with Director Zang already in 3 different cities around the world moving CEFC and SinoHawk's interests forward. I and my partners at SinoHawk look forward to seeing you and Director Zang as soon as possible either in Shanghai, NYC or another strategic and convenient city.

My regards to you, your family and the entire CEFC team.

Dear Mr. R. Hunter Biden,

I am glad to hear from you! Time flies and it has been months since we met in the US. It seems that we were always on a rush when we were together.

Thanks to your support to our cooperation, the consensus we made last time has been materialized in a timely manner. I am grateful that you introduce Mr. Bobulinski to our partnership. I have a great impression on him through your letter and he also sent me a letter to brief on the situation. I believe he will bring significant impetus to our cooperation with his abundant experience and outstanding capability.

Our cooperation in Oman and Romania has been productive and I am aware of the status quo. You could arrange your people to coordinate with Director Zang and Gongwen Dong for specific work and I will continue to pay attention and give my support. I have arranged Director Zang and Gongwen Dong to expedite the charter capital input to SinoHawk.

I look forward to meeting you in the near future and discussing our joint undertaking. If there is anything I could do please do not hesitate to write to me. Please accept my best regards to you and your family.

Yours faithfully,

Ye Jianming

The contrived excuses from the Chinese side ran the gamut from "the risk management department of CEFC is showing concerns" to "we do not have a review and approval mechanism for projects." Bobulinski was not buying these lame attempts at stonewalling, and for good reason: Behind the scenes, ZHAO Runlong's associate, YAN Mervyn, was drawing up an ownership share schematic for another entity, Hudson West III LLC, which would be funded by YE through Hudson West V LLC[588] (although YAN initially planned on funneling the cash through his shell company, Monochrome Capital Partners LLC)[589] and would partner with Hunter's single member law firm, Owasco P.C. The final result actually split the baby: Even though the joint venture which was "so much more interesting to [the Biden] family," they still received millions of dollars from the Chinese for "introductions alone" by using Hudson West III (EIN: 82-1599897) as a 50/50 joint LLC. The objective for the business entity gymnastics was clear: obfuscate[590] true beneficial ownership to evade law enforcement authorities.[591]

Hi Tony,

I just talked to DZ and he would like to send the following points to you:

1. Chairman Ye and Director Zang fully support the framework of establishing the JV, based on their trust on BD family.

2. The delay of wire is caused by the details on the JV building, as follows:
   1) the positioning and strategy of the JV are not made fully clear to CEFC
   2) 5 million is lent to BD family in the 10 million charter capital. How will this 5 million be used (or the 10 million as a whole)? This 5 million loan to BD family is interest-free. But if the 5 M is used up, should CEFC keep lending more to the family? If CEFC lends more, they need to know the interest rate for the subsequent loan(s).
   3) In terms of the projects to be done by the JV, what kind of projects to do? Plus we do not have a review and approval mechanism for projects screening and selection yet.

Because of the reasons above, the risk management department of CEFC is showing concerns on the operation of SinoHawk, hence the delay of the wire.

Moving forward, Mr. Zang suggests that Kevin and you work out a proposal that can address the said problems or concerns.

My Understanding is that the original agreement with the Director was for consulting fees based on introductions alone a rate of $10M per year for a three year guarantee total of $30M. The chairman changed that deal after we me in MIAMI TO A MUCH MORE LASTING AND LUCRATIVE ARRANGEMENT to create a holding company 50% percent owned by ME and 50% owned by him. Consulting fees is one piece of our income stream but the reason this proposal by the chairman was so much more interesting to me and my family is that we would also be partners inn the equity and profits of the JV's investments. Hence I assumed the reason for our discussion today in which you made clear that the Chaireman would first get his investment capital returned in the profits would then be split 50/50. If you saying that is not the case then please return us to the original deal 10M per year a guaranteed 3 years plus bonus payments for any successful deal we introduce. let's discuss thank you

594 "The Hudson West entities are important entities in the flow of funds among and between Ye, Gongwen, and Hunter Biden and his associates. There are frequent fund transfers across these numbered Hudson West entities, and transactions involving all eight have been identified for potential criminal financial activity. For example, Hudson West III was not the only Hudson West entity associated with CEFC, Ye's business. According to reporting, Hudson West V maintains an ownership interest in CEFC Infrastructure Investment, a subsidiary of CEFC. By extension, this means Hudson West V is linked to Ye and the aforementioned $5 million payment to Hudson West III on Aug. 8, 2017. Hudson West V … had ownership in a series of other companies: Hudson West Partners LLC, Hudson West Aggregator LLC, Hudson West VIII LLC, and Hudson West VII LLC which begins to show the complex corporate structure at play."

The FARA violations shown below were a good representation of who went behind Bobulinski's back to work with CEFC on a range of issues. ZANG and his family were in need of visas, so Sara Biden enlisted former Obama appointee and GILLIAR associate, John Sandweg, to advocate on ZANG's behalf to the U.S. government.[595] Even though all of ZANG's visas were denied, Sandweg did have experience illegally representing criminals before the Department of Homeland Security (DHS), as Sandweg was involved in the NXIVM sex cult scandal and represented heiress Clare Bronfman.[596] below is the link to the bio of John Sandweg, the visa/immigration expert that Jim recommended and has been interfacing with re the Zang/Chen visas. Jim mentioned that the Chairman is in need of similar services. Would you like me to put you in direct touch with Mr. Sandweg? He is in private practice now and is heard of his own firm, Frontier Solutions.

595 Facilitating the violation of U.S. immigration laws was nothing new for Sandweg. In fact, he should have been indicted for violating 18 USC § 371 by conspiring to circumvent immigration laws related to smuggling minors across the border for the NXIVM sex cult human trafficking operation. A motion filed by the U.S. attorney read as follows: "The email attached a letter from Mr. [John] Sandweg in support of a grant of a nonimmigrant visa for M.F. In the letter, which was addressed to the United States Embassy in Mexico, Mr. Sandweg identified himself as the 'former Acting General Counsel for DHS and Acting Director of U.S. Immigration and Customs Enforcement' and stated that M.F. had entered the United States to care for one of her 'closest personal friends, Pamela Cafritz' and that M.F. 'poses no threat to immigrate to the United States.'" See United States v. Raniere (18-cr-00204), Document 256, E.D.N.Y., December 2018, archive.ph/MRVSA

Under the penalty of perjury, Hunter lied on an official bank document to receive a credit card collateralized by companies financed by YE. Hunter testified to Mandy Wong[597] at Cathay Bank that he was not subject to backup withholding from the IRS, a blatant lie. In fact, Owasco P.C. owed thousands of dollars due to undeclared income from Burisma. YAN was happy to accommodate the "$30,000 limit" credit cards for not only Hunter, but also Jimmy and Sara Biden. A U.S. Senate report, based on SARs, stated they went on a "global spending spree" and quickly liquidated the cards.[598]

Application & Agreement
You: (a) acknowledge receipt of our Summary of Credit Terms and Deposit Account Disclosures, and certify that all the information you have provided to us is complete and accurate; (b) authorize us to obtain information from any source we choose now or in the future to verify your identity, credit, employment and income; (c) agree to be bound by the Cardmember Agreement and the Deposit Agreement that will be furnished with your card if your application is approved; and (d) promise to pay all amounts due on your account, including all amounts incurred by any authorized user. You are also requesting us to open a Certificate Savings Deposit ("Deposit") for you (we are First National Bank of Omaha, member FDIC). You hereby pledge, assign and grant a security interest in the Deposit (including all principal and interest now or hereafter deposited) to us as collateral for your credit card obligations to us. If you fail to pay or otherwise default in those obligations, we may: (1) without advance notice to you, take any or all of the balance in your account and apply it to payment of your credit card obligations to us; and (2) pursue other legal remedies against you. You understand and agree that we will retain possession of the Certificate for your Deposit, and agree that you cannot make withdrawals or permit anybody else to have an interest in the Deposit until your cards are returned to us and we are satisfied that no further charges will appear on your card account.

Authorization for Electronic Withdrawal via ACH (for deposit to your Certificate Savings Account)
You authorize us to electronically withdraw $99,000 from your account number ending in 8969 at the financial institution whose routing number you provided to us. This withdrawal may occur as soon as your application is approved. You may revoke this authorization only by contacting the Secured Card Group at 1-800-444-6220 before your application is approved.

Substitute Form W-9
Under penalties of perjury, you certify that:

1. The number shown above is your correct taxpayer identification number (or you are waiting for a number to be issued to you), and

2. You are not subject to backup withholding because: (a) You are exempt from backup withholding, or (b) You have not been notified by the Internal Revenue Service (IRS) that you are subject to backup withholding as a result of a failure to report all interest or dividends, or (c) the IRS has notified you that you are no longer subject to backup withholding, and

3. You are a U.S. citizen or other U.S. person (including a resident alien).

Certification instructions. You must cross out item 2 above if you have been notified by the IRS that you are currently subject to backup withholding because you have failed to report all interest and dividends on your tax return.

The Internal Revenue Service does not require your consent to any provision of this document other than the certifications required to avoid backup withholding.

One week after receiving the credit card backed by YE's proxies, Hunter instructed Cecelia BROWNING, his office's building manager at the House of Sweden, to get keys cut for Joe.[599] In fact, Joe's new grift—called the Biden Foundation—and YE's espionage[600] outfit were going to be "office mates." Hunter then pasted an internet biography of YE, who Hunter admiringly[601] called "his partner." YE had just bought a luxury condo and apartment in Manhattan via DONG ("Chairman Ye['s] CEFC emissary") and Hunter thought it was relevant to include an article describing the purchases.[602]

He is also Chairman of China Energy Fund Committee, a Hong Kong-based think tank with consultative status with the UN, Chairman of the Academy of Chinese Culture, Director of the Shanghai Energy Security Research Center, Chairman of CEFC Shanghai Charity Fund, Economic Adviser to President of the Czech Republic, and Political Adviser to the New People's Party of Hong Kong. He is also Chairman of the Board of Trustees of the Institute for the Analysis of Global Security (IAGS).

Under Ye's leadership CEFC China was ranked 229 on the Fortune Global 500 List in 2016. With a workforce of over 30,000 it has been honored as one of the Top Ten Most Influential Chinese Enterprises and Top Ten Most Internationally Competitive Chinese Enterprises by the China Most Influential Brand Names Summit Forum.[1] During his tenure CEFC China solely funded the establishment of the Hong Kong-based China Energy Fund Committee (CEFC), a non-governmental global think tank, an NGO with special consultative status with the UN Economic and Social Council. The China Energy Fund committee has engaged former heads of states from a dozen countries and over a hundred political leaders are serving as advisers and researchers. It has also formed long-term cooperation mechanisms with UN and EU institutions and has entered into strategic cooperation with international organizations and think tanks.[2]

The only deal which the Bidens seriously attempted to consummate in return for their $5.7M+ payout from YE's entities would have given those entities "preferential access" to American liquified natural gas (LNG). Greg Michaels from Monkey Island LNG[603] and attorney Britt Singletary[604] tried to help Hunter secure those American LNG exports for CEFC. Fortunately, for the U.S., the deal fell through.

Re: Monkey Island LNG Investment Opportunity

Hudson West will make the most money by performing on the following:

THE PLAN

1. Hudson West will make an investment of $150 Million in Monkey Island LNG in return for stock in the company secured by the 246-acre premium project site.
2. Monkey Island LNG will use $100 Million to advance the project development to financial close.
3. Monkey Island LNG will use the remaining $50 Million to start trading LNG cargos immediately.
4. Hudson West will participate, on a pro-rata basis, in all aspects of Monkey Island LNG operations, including the buying and selling of LNG.
5. Monkey Island LNG is in a position to develop other financial structures and compensation negotiated on a success basis.

DETAILS

1. The $150 Million investment will yield Hudson West a 30% stake in Monkey Island LNG (MILNG) prior to other private equity firms making investments. Investors at this stage in U.S. LNG facilities have earned 3,000% returns on invested capital.
2. The $150 Million investment would entitle Hudson West to an MILNG board seat and a commercial team dedicated to obtaining LNG cargos for CEFC immediately.
3. Concurrent with the investment, CEFC will sign a binding long-term LNG sales and purchase agreement with MILNG for volumes desired by CEFC.
4. Between now and commercial operation of the MILNG facility, MILNG will use its relationships to supply CEFC the contracted LNG quantities from other LNG producers. The contract will contain provisions that will require MILNG to obtain LNG in the interim to meet the needs of CEFC.
5. CEFC will be required to put in place any necessary letters of credit to facilitate the purchase and delivery of LNG.
6. MILNG will be responsible for the acquisition and shipping of all LNG, and supply LNG cargos to CEFC on a DES basis.
   a. Monkey Island LNG has access to both short-term and long-term contracts of 6 mtpa or more.
   b. Contract durations and/or supply of spot cargos will be negotiated by MILNG at the direction of CEFC.
7. As an owner in MILNG, Hudson West will have preferential access to all LNG prior to other customers.
8. MILNG is a privately-owned company, and Mr. Michaels has the ability to quickly and easily develop a financial transaction that allows Hudson West the ability to capitalize on the changing LNG market fundamentals.
9. Potential for Hudson West to have liquidity on privately held shares of stock will occur throughout the ownership and development. It has been shown that staying private may result in the largest return on investment. However, MILNG is in an excellent position to take the company public if the parties agree.
10. The $150 Million in just a few years could have a value of over $1 Billion for Hudson West and only increase from there.
11. After commencement of operation, the project itself will return over $800 Million per year in net income, providing Hudson West a lifelong lucrative annuity stream. This does not take into consideration the profit that will be made selling interim LNG cargos.

HO CHI PING "PATRICK" REPRESENTATION

When	Where (Venue)	Who (Accomplices)	What
09/22/2017—03/26/2018	S.D.N.Y.	Jimmy Biden & HO Patrick	18 USC § 2 & 22 USC § 612

Although he told[605] Bobulinski he signed an attorney engagement letter with YE, Hunter illegally represented HO for $1M while not registering per the FARA.[606] The timing of the agreement was curious, as HO was arrested upon landing at JFK International Airport exactly two months after Hunter signed the "Attorney Engagement Letter."[607] HO, who Hunter called "[t]he fucking spy chief of China,"[608] would be convicted[609] of violating the Foreign Corrupt Practices Act (FCPA) for bribing and laundering money to African officials in exchange for oil rights. Along with LIU Yadong, HO also ran YE's sham charity, the UN-affiliated China Energy Fund Committee (CEFC NGO) slush fund.[610][611]

ATTORNEY ENGAGEMENT LETTER

1. IDENTIFICATION OF PARTIES. This agreement, is made between Robert Hunter Biden, Esq, ("Attorney") and Mr. Patrick Ho, The Deputy Chairman and Secretary General of China Energy Fund Committee, ("Client").

2. LEGAL SERVICES TO BE PROVIDED. The legal services to be provided by Attorney to Client are as follows: Counsel to matters related to US law and advice pertaining to the hiring and legal analysis of any US Law Firm or Lawyer.

3. RESPONSIBILITIES OF ATTORNEY AND CLIENT. Attorney will perform the legal services called for under this agreement, keep Client informed of progress and developments, And respond promptly to Client's inquiries and communications. Client will be truthful and cooperative with Attorney; keep Attorney reasonably informed of developments and of Client's address, telephone numbers and whereabouts; and timely make any payments required by this agreement.

4. COMPENSATION. Client will pay Attorney for the legal services provided under this agreement as follows:

Retainer. In consideration for the services to be performed by Attorney, Client agrees to pay Attorney the sum of $1,000,000.00 as a retainer at the time of execution of this agreement. This sum is a deposit against which all fees, charges and costs incurred by the Attorney for work related to and described in this agreement will be deducted. If at the conclusion of this agreement, the total amount of Attorney fees and costs is less than that of the retainer sum, the remaining amount will be reimbursed to the client. If the total amount of Attorney fees and costs exceeds the retainer sum before the conclusion of this agreement, the retainer sum will be topped up by the client upon receipt of a notice from the Attorney. The amount of the topped up sum will be proposed by the Attorney and subject to agreement by the client.

Unsurprisingly, HO's first call from the Metropolitan Detention Center after being arrested by federal agents on 11/18/2017 was to the pResident's brother, Jimmy, in order to track down his attorney, Hunter.[612] HO was under FISA[613] surveillance, so HO's calls to Jimmy[614] and Hunter were recorded, which would certainly make for some very interesting listening—and it made the FBI slow-walk of the Biden Laptop that much more egregious.[615] According to evidence[616] presented at HO's trial, the FISA surveillance revealed the CEFC NGO's modus operandi in detail: ensnare[617] so-called developing countries in situations that eventually force them to give up ownership of their natural resources to CEFC Energy. In other words, HO, and his benefactor, YE, were loan sharks to African despots—and the African countries were left holding the bag because the despots would get paid off.[618] Judge Preska, at HO's sentencing hearing, repeated lines from a UN Convention: "Corruption is an insidious plague" that is "found in all countries—big and small, rich and poor—but it is in the developing world that its effects are most destructive."

Hunter did not spend a single day in court on behalf of the globe-trotting[619][620] Chinese loan shark. Instead, Hunter farmed that work out to attorneys at the white-shoe firm Krieger Kim & Lewin LLP (whose founding partner, Ed Kim, departed the S.D.N.Y. just two[621] months before HO was arrested). However, Hunter did arrange to get the $1M from HO[622] wired to his shell company, Owasco LLC.[623]

Re: Hudson West III LLC: Assignment and Assumption of Membership Interest

Dear Mr. Yan:

Enclosed is a proposed Assignment and Assumption Agreement of Membership Interest to effectuate the assignment of Hudson West V LLC's membership interests in Hudson West III LLC to Owasco PC. This Agreement also memorializes the resignation of Hudson Managers and certain officers effective upon the transfer of the membership interests. Further, we have included a broad mutual release provision of any and all claims relative to the Company.

We also request that the retainer fees due R. Hunter Biden be segregated from the Hudson West III LLC account and properly be paid directly to R. Hunter Biden's firm account in the name of Owasco, LLC, as originally intended.

Thank you for your assistance with this matter, and please contact me with any questions.

Sincerely,

George R. Mesires

Re: Payment Agency Letter regarding transfer of funds for legal representation of Dr. Patrick Ho Chi Ping

Dear Kevin:

As you know, I am the authorized member of Owasco, LLC as well as an Authorized Hudson West III Manager. This payment agency letter is to authorize payment from Hudson West III, where the funds intended for representation Dr. Patrick Ho Chi Ping were temporarily housed as a matter of convenience, into the escrow account of Owasco, LLC, as originally intended. Such funds will be held by Owasco, LLC solely for the purpose of the representation of Dr. Ho and necessary expenses incurred in relation to that representation as more fully described in the attorney engagement letter executed by Dr. Ho attached.

If, at any point, Dr. Patrick Ho Chi Ping wishes to terminate representation by Owasco LLC, the remainder of these funds will be transferred to party he so designates.

The wiring instructions for Dr. Ho's representation funds are as follows:

622 "Its investments have largely meshed with China's efforts to court other countries by offering infrastructure investment, an indication of why it has been able to make such deals. The company's expansion underscores how Chinese businesses are increasingly mixing money with diplomacy as they scour the world to secure valuable natural resources. The criminal complaint charging Mr. Ho casts a light on the practice — and on a vast, mysterious conglomerate with ties to the Chinese Communist Party. CEFC provides all of the financing for the China Energy Fund Committee, a Hong Kong research organization. The conglomerate's founder, Ye Jianming, is listed as a chairman on the think tank's website."

One of the feds who was likely involved in the FISA surveillance of HO was Charlie McGonigal, the then-SAC for Counterintelligence in the New York Field Office (NYFO).[624] (McGonigal's wife was on the Biden Laptop, as the couple's daughter and one of Hunter's daughters played lacrosse together.) McGonigal is the subject of a federal grand jury probe[625] for possible FARA violations and other dealings with Russian oligarchs. Based on an email from Kim, determining if McGonigal was one of the agents Hunter "spoke with" on HO's behalf ought to be the focus of a Congressional subpoena.

625 "While it wouldn't necessarily have been illegal for McGonigal to work on behalf of Deripaska, failing to disclose activities covered by the Foreign Agents Registration Act, such as lobbying and public relations, is punishable by a $250,000 fine and up to five years in prison. … 'You are seeing an erosion in any rule of law as it relates to the FSB,' [McGonigal] said. 'It would be akin to having in the United States the FBI as a rogue element, operating at the behest of the highest bidder.' McGonigal's profile on LinkedIn says he is the senior vice president of 'global security and life safety' at Brookfield Properties, a multibillion-dollar real-estate company in New York. But that information, apparently, is inaccurate. 'Charlie McGonigal is no longer with Brookfield,' Andrew Brent, Brookfield's head of communications, told Insider. McGonigal left the company, he added, in early January — just as witnesses were scheduled to appear before the grand jury."

One month after XI[626] detained YE, an email from Wells Fargo's Cindy Duncan[627] confirmed that a $1,000,032 wire transfer hit Hunter's account after he requested his retainer from HO[628] via DONG. Within an hour, Hunter asked Duncan how to access the illegally acquired funds (per the FARA) and send it to other shell companies, such as Skaneateles.[629] These paper trails exposed Joe's ridiculous lie: "My son has not made money in terms of this thing about—what are you talking about—China."[630]

Jimmy and his wife, Sara, benefited from Hunter's illegal (unregistered) representation of a foreign principal. Later that spring, Jimmy's firm sent multiple fraudulent invoices for $82,500 as his "Monthly Retainer for International Business Development" to Hunter's shell company. In truth, the funds Jimmy sought originated from Hunter's faux legal counsel for HO and the original slush fund[631] set up by YE. As you will read in the INFLUENCE PEDDLING section, Jimmy alluded to these transactions as his "monthly draw," confirming that there was no active "business development" occurring. YE had, in every sense of the phrase, set up a piggy bank for Hunter and Jimmy. In a bold and hilariously ironic move, Jimmy sent a reminder—"Invoice 1180"—to let Hunter know that Hunter owed $14,001.

U.S. Senate investigators created a crude diagram (shown below) which featured the money flow from YE's piggy bank through Hunter's shell law firm to Jimmy and Sara. Investigators also noted that, based on SARs, Sara refused to cooperate with her bank when employees inquired about the large and frequent round-dollar wire transfers, giving the bank no other choice but to close their account.[632]

632 "Hunter Biden moved large sums of money from his firm, Owasco, to James Biden's consulting firm, the Lion Hall Group. Between Aug. 14, 2017 and Aug. 3, 2018, Owasco sent 20 wires totaling $1,398,999 to the Lion Hall Group, a consulting firm that lists James Biden and his wife, Sara Biden, on the bank account. This transaction was identified for potential criminal financial activity. These transfers began less than one week after CEFC Infrastructure Investment wired $5 million to Hudson West III and Hudson West III sent its first payment of $400,000 to Owasco. Most of the payments from Owasco to the Lion Hall Group had vague notes in the memo lines, 15 of which simply indicated that they were for further credit to James Biden; however, the memo line for one of the payments read 'HW3,' which indicates some of the transferred money could be from Hudson West III. When the bank contacted Sara Biden regarding the overall wire activity, she stated that the Lion Hall Group and Owasco provide international and business consulting and that the Lion Hall Group was assisting Owasco with an international client through a contract that had since terminated. Sara Biden told the bank that she would not provide any supporting documentation, and she also refused to provide additional information to more clearly explain the activity. Consequently, the bank submitted the account for closure. … On Aug. 17, 2017, three days after the first transfer from Owasco to The Lion Hall Group, it was publicly announced that Ye's CEFC Energy was in talks to purchase a stake in the Russian state-owned energy company Rosneft[.]"

Exactly three months after Hunter told YAN to wire the last of the "monthly draws" from YE's piggy bank, Hunter sent another $95k to his uncle Jimmy. YE's largesse[633] did not win YE any favors with XI, however, as Hunter complained about his benefactor's fate[634] to his "idiot" assistant, Katie Dodge: "If you haven't noticed[,] Katie[,] my business partner [YE] is now a prisoner on death row in China."

Pay the health care. Pay the Porsche.
Pay yourself 1500 not 3000. Im sorry if there was a misunderstanding but I clearly don't remember saying not so I think you could believe that I have the capacity to pay you a $72,000 a year salary for part time work with no hours and no Responsibilities beyond responding to my mail and paying my bills. Of which you rarely do anything but tell me I need to figure out what's in my inbox and do what I had hoped you could do that Joan did that Eric did that you won't. I'M not using ADP for a $22000 down payment so you can have your taxes taken out. If you haven't noticed Katie my business partner is now a prisoner on death row in China. Somehow the directive of not cutting Devon half my Burisma pay never happened I pay more alimony than single divorce in the east coast including NYC. You pay more alimony just b/c I told her I would give her everything than Ron Perlman who is worth 6 billion dollars. So there's not much income coming through these days.

Ive told Eric 10 times to talk to George. Eric is not agreeing to my terms and pretending like I'm not being responsive. Please email him George and me that George knows my position and that Eric should talk to him. Also tell Eric that is asked that he please pay me 30-% of any business debt including the Wells Fargo business card- whatever the balance was the day I fired him. And please discontinue the autopay to Amex he somehow put into my Wells Fargo account. And I also am positive I signed esigned and returned loan doc to BHR directly. Please ensign it - I have the text to you that says yes I sign. FYI Eric has zero equity in any single thing related to me. Not BD not BHR nothing.

I am fully aware of what Kathleen wants.

I'll deal with tuitions when time comes.

In order for me to close the WF brokerage accounts you need to move all autopsy's to whatever new account best option would be for you to move them to one of my Bank or America checking accounts. I thought that was made clear in the email Edward sent us both. All brokerage accounts can then be closed and the Maisy account should be closed and the check sent to the CA address ASAP.
Today is the 28th not the 30th. Payday is the first and 15th.

In summary, the Bidens committed over two dozen federal felonies in connection with China. Hunter and his business partners (including his family members) committed egregious crimes, specifically money laundering, that have put many others—less connected saps—in prison for decades. Three of Hunter's Chinese benefactors[639][640] have either vanished[641] or been deported.[642] The family's crimes span over a decade and, as we will note in the final section of the Report, the statute of limitations have not passed on many of them. We want to tip our hat to an anonymous Twitter user who ascertained the CEFC Energy/NGO laundering scheme and the players. Aside from the crude layout and one small mistake (HO called Jimmy after being detained at JFK International Airport), the graphic above was a clear presentation of a complex swindle and multiple FARA violations.[643] The Bidens' business dealings with the CCP are still being probed[644] by two Senators, albeit through milquetoast[645] letters.

Bill-

Per our conversation yesterday will you include an additional $744,170 in income for Hunter for 2015?

This income includes 10 payments of $55,555 a month which reflect his Board fees for service on the Burisma Board of Directors. As I mentioned, he was actually paid $83,333 a month but out of that paid $27,778 a month to a third party as a "finders fee" for placing him on the Board. That amount was paid by another entity. We defer to you how best to capture that. If you include the $27,778 as income to Hunter before the expense of the finders fee the total would be $1,021,946.56.

In addition, this income also reflects a $188,616.56 payment to Hunter from Rosemont Realty. I have attached a note from Rosemont Realty's tax adviser on how they believe the payment should be treated - that is, as a capital gain.

Hunter will be able to pay his extension payments for 2015 and his 1Q estimate for 2016 on the 18th as originally prepared. We are working to see if he'll have the cash available for these additional new payments but it would be great to know how much we need.

Also, can you assume Hunter will make a full $53,000 SEP IRA payment in your calculations?

We will also prepare a letter from Hunter to Owasco, PC in which he assigns his Board payments to Owasco PC starting in November 2015.

THE UKRAINE

Much has been written about Hunter joining the board of a Ukrainian-based energy company in April 2014 and Joe overseeing U.S. policy in that country and broader region. To simplify matters, Hunter's associates—with a few outliers—in this international fiasco were from these three organizations:

- Burisma (energy company): Vadym POZHARSKYI[646] and Mykola "Nikolay" ZLOCHEVSKY[647]
- Blue Star Strategies (lobbying firm): Karen Tramontano[648] and Sally Painter[649]
- Boies Schiller Flexner LLP (law firm): Heather King[650]

Deeply embedded into Democrat political circles, King was also an adviser to the ill-fated Hillary Clinton presidential campaign in 2016 and the former general counsel for a scam company called Theranos, a firm[651] whose facilities Joe hailed as the "laboratory of the future."[652] Tramontano and Painter were also far-left operatives and D.C. fixtures, having both served in key, high-ranking positions in the Clinton administration.[653] In the background, Ihor KOLOMOISKY[654] was the bankroller[655] of Burisma through Cypriot shell companies—e.g. Brociti Investments Limited—and his front man, ZLOCHEVSKY. Hunter conceded that his Burisma gig was due to his surname: "The Biden name is synonymous with democracy and transparency, and that's why I said it was gold to them."[656]

Evidence on the laptop of the Bidens' meddling[657] in the Ukraine began in March 2012 when Joe illegally[658] utilized his private, alias email address (robinware456@gmail.com) to communicate about his son Beau's speech in Kyiv (ironically)[659] entitled, "Corruption and the Judiciary." The gushing former U.S. Ambassador to the Ukraine, John Tefft, told Joe's then-National Security Advisor, Antony Blinken, that Beau's speech was "terrific" and that the "many young lawyers" present who were "involved with NGOs fighting corruption" doled out compliments to Joe's firstborn (and favorite) son.

Tony and Larry: As you know Delaware Attorney General Beau Biden was here on Friday to speak on Corruption and the Judiciary. He was terrific.

We had an overflow crowd at the Hyatt for the 90 minute presentation and "Q and A", including the largest number of Members of Parliament we have attracted to our Ambassador's Forum Speaker's series. Beau then attended a reception at the Residence where many of our Ukrainian colleagues had time to follow up with him in private conversation. We received many compliments on his presentation and for simply bringing him to Kyiv for a frank discussion of a problem that still bedevils this country. There was also a large group of young lawyers present, many involved with NGOs fighting corruption.

I would appreciate it if you could let the Vice President know that his son really helped us here. No exaggeration – Beau's visit was everything we had hoped for.

BURISMA: THE GREAT IRONY

For over eight years, Hunter and his fixers have repeated the lie that his Burisma board seat served as a "bulwark" against Russian aggression and energy dominance in the Ukraine.[660] The key irony in this lie was that ZLOCHEVSKY—the front-man who helped fund Hunter's board seat—served under a Ukrainian president, Viktor YANUKOVYCH, who repeatedly rejected the European Union (EU) and other transnational arrangements, a key interest for Russia.[661] ZLOCHEVSKY had previously served as the Minister of Ecology and Natural Resources under YANUKOVYCH, who fled to Russia[662] in March 2014 following Western-led protests. (Unsurprisingly, YANUKOVYCH is, to this day, PUTIN's preferred[663] man to lead the Ukraine). Because of his previous position under YANUKOVYCH, ZLOCHEVSKY had authority to grant and/or revoke energy drilling permits, resulting in egregious self-dealing and enrichment for his firm, Burisma. In summary, Hunter and Archer's board seats were insurance policies—with a $166k monthly premium—that ZLOCHEVSKY purchased against potential prosecution for his illegal acts when he served as Minister. Some mainstream outlets acknowledged this insurance policy and even a few liberal writers[664] criticized[665] Hunter's scheme: "The appointment of the vice president's son to a Ukrainian oil board looks nepotistic at best, nefarious at worst."[666]

664 "But the credibility of the vice president's anticorruption message may have been undermined by the association of his son, Hunter Biden, with one of Ukraine's largest natural gas companies, Burisma Holdings, and with its owner, Mykola Zlochevsky, who was Ukraine's ecology minister under former President Viktor F. Yanukovych before he was forced into exile. Hunter Biden, 45, a former Washington lobbyist, joined the Burisma board in April 2014. That month, as part of an investigation into money laundering, British officials froze London bank accounts containing $23 million that allegedly belonged to Mr. Zlochevsky."

ZLOCHEVSKY scrambled to navigate the "delicate spot"[667] in which he found himself after YANUKOVYCH fled. He appointed Hunter to Burisma's board just days before Joe flew to the Ukraine to announce a "new U.S. support package."[668] However, due to optics, Burisma waited three weeks to publicly announce Hunter's new position.[669] In the press release, Hunter explained that his expertise in corporate transparency would help Ukrainian citizens: "As a new member of the Board, I believe that my assistance in consulting the Company on matters of transparency, corporate governance and responsibility, international expansion and other priorities will contribute to the economy and benefit the people of Ukraine." Hunter was not transparent about his lucrative no-show "Of Counsel" position with BSF, which had just received a $250k wire from Burisma for "legal and consulting services" one week before the press release; Hunter was effectively double-dipping from ZLOCHEVSKY's largesse. The announcement also touted Hunter's nonprofit affiliations and endeavors, which were supposedly "helping to provide food and education to 300 million malnourished children around the world."[670]

THE CURIOUS CASE OF ALEX KOTLARSKY

So how did Hunter snag this double-dipping gig with Burisma? Clues were offered by two of his business associates: Seb MOMTAZI[671] and Henri du Pont. MOMTAZI, an Englishman of Persian extraction who Devon Archer described in his lengthy sentencing memorandum[672] as "an inexperienced Assistant turned COO who was quick with my signature," referenced multiple $10k outbound wire transfers to an "Alex K" from an account Hunter accessed. du Pont, from a well-known family[673] of bankrollers for the Bidens, conveyed to Hunter that he "happened to meet Alex Kotlarsky," a Ukrainian Jew who lived in Brooklyn and worked for Archer at Rosemont Capital. KOTLARSKY was a digital ghost and photos of him could not be located online. Nevertheless, KOTLARSKY—who also ran a limousine service—struck an agreement with Hunter to receive 30% of Hunter's fees from Burisma for his first eight months on the board because he helped Hunter secure the position.

Hunter,
Greetings from Sunny Qatar.....

I've been meaning to reach out for some time. I very much would like to discuss Burisma with you as I told you briefly in Janssen's not long ago. I had happened to meet Alex Kotlarsky last year in NYC and our discussions led to his asking if I could get work for them here in the region. My group is doing that and far more.

Most importantly, one of the Sons of the current ruler of the UAE has begun an Agency and he is interested in taking on Burisma as his first client. It must be 100% and they have to be ready. I need to due diligence with you.

We are moving this forward so the sooner we can talk the better. I'm back in DE Sunday. Can we get together soon? Please let me know.

In total, KOTLARSKY managed to collect nearly a quarter of a million dollars for his unconventional head-hunting services—$222,224 to be exact. KOTLARSKY's handsome "Finders Fee" certainly supplemented his income from Rosemont Capital and Fine Fare Express Car & Limo Service, Inc., his atypical side gig.[674][675] Either way, this Ukrainian-born enigma facilitated Hunter's Burisma grift.[676]

Eric, All

Here are the cash "numbers" I referenced in our call this morning; these were derived (hopefully accurately) from Eric's email of April 11th (his was time stamped at 4:50 PM EDT; we got it from George via email time stamped 5:23 PM that day).

Given Eric's description of the $51,835 "over draw" by Hunter in 2015, I have accounted for that amount below both as a "receipt" and as a subset of the "taxes" account/payout. However, as Eric clarified in our call today, the "taxes" hold back (whether constituting the gross amount of $245,498, or the "net" amount after "repayment" of the overdraw (the net being $193,663 per Eric's email)) was NOT actually paid to the IRS by or on behalf of Hunter during 2015.

Based on the calculations and assumptions shown below, it appears there is a "net" unexplained difference that I can't identify (thus far) for 2015 of +$222,944. I'm hoping Eric's more experienced and knowledgeable eyes will let us know what I am missing.

In any case, here are my calculations from last night:

Hunter receives/is owed:
- $833,333 (10 months of Burisma tracked through RSB)
- 51,835 (the "excess draw" taken out by Hunter from RSB)
- 166,666 (2 months of Burisma payments to Owasco)

$1,051,834

Hunter pays out:
- $361,168 (payoff/down of Devon's loan to fund Hunter's investment in BHR)
- 222,224 (per Eric, which works out to 30%/mo, $27,778, paid to Alex for 8 months as Finder's Fee)
- 51,835 (repayment attributable to Hunter out of "taxes" Hold Back to repay "over draw" from RSB)
- 193,663 (balance of "taxes" Hold Back of $245,498 remaining after repayment of "over draw" to RSB)

2015 cash payments attributable to Hunter not accounted for: $222,944 (the difference between $1,051,834 and $828,890)

What am I missing?

Thanks for any input from any of you, especially Eric…

The grift was spelled out in an email by Archer six days before Hunter was appointed to the board of Burisma (and eleven days after Archer was appointed). Archer's "Key points" included ensuring Hunter could double-dip by "[e]ngag[ing] Bois [sic] Schiller (where Hunter is of counsel)" and to "[e]xplain [the] less overt role [Hunter] will play relative to [Archer, the] front man particularly through [the] elections[.]" Two weeks later, Archer stated in an interview to a Ukrainian outlet, Kapital, that the "sphere of my duties [with Burisma] is also building the policy of G[overnment][677][678] R[elations]."[679]

Later that day, Hunter replied to Archer with a 22-point plan on how they were "not going to let a crisis go to waste."[680] To cash in on the Western-backed chaos in the Ukraine, Hunter offered the following plan: "Our guy [Joe] needs to set himself up as the anti- Victor Pinchuk (coal and steel oligarch- pro Russian Yanukuvich [sic] supporter) … The [Burisma] contract should begin now- not after the upcoming visit of my guy [Joe]." To discuss further plans, Hunter told Archer to "[b]uy a cell phone from a 7/11 or CVS tmrw and ill do the same." Hunter's twentieth point was another "cover your ass" (CYA) insertion for the paper trail, as the very next point (#21) laid out how "domestic policy makers" including (and especially) his father, Joe, were to be leveraged for a "[$]25k p[er]/m[onth]" deal.[681]

I have to go to Houston with Beau tmrw for MD Anderson check up. Some thoughts after doing some research. And some further thoughts on organization going forward.

1. Poroshenko appears to be the likely next President. Determining our teams relationship with him is important. He is credible with the west and by all accounts a true reformer (by Uk standards).
2. Some sort of decentralization will likely occur in the East. If it doesn't the Russians will continue to escalate there destabilization campaign, which could lead to a full scale take over of the eastern region most critically Donetsk. The strategic value is to create a land bridge for RU to Crimea.
3. That won't directly affect Burisma holdings but it will limit future Uk exploration and utilization of offshore opportunities in particular.
4. It will also result in further destabilization of Uk nationally and for whatever govt is in power. And the US will respond with even stronger sanctions. Those sanctions will threaten the tenuous support of the EU which does not have the political will to incur steep energy price increases.
5. Which will result in further price increases on RU gas to the Uk.
6. The IMF loan guarantees will allow the Uks to weather the economic impact, but the required reforms to Uk public subsidies will weaken the new President.
7. There will be enormous pressure on Burisma to lower prices for the national good. Even if the company takes a hit in profits it would seem imprudent to raise prices in convert with RU price gouging.
8. Burisma has an opportunity here to play the hero if it ignores the artificial market value of their product and plays to the national interest.
9. Kazakstan could play a pivotal role by providing gas at rates lower than what the RUs are asking but I doubt they would want to poke the Bear.
10. The pipelines across Uk are the key to all of this. But if the Uks shut down the pipeline they also shut down 60% of their energy supply and put a strangle on EU supplies from RU which the EU will never accept (b/c they are pussies).
11. There is no immediate supplier solution to replace RU. Even if Burisma increased output from their reserves by 100% it would - 1, take at least two years and 2, Uk would still be about 35% short of their needed gas supplies.
12. Our guy needs to set himself up as the anti- Victor Pinchuk (coal and steel oligarch- pro Russian Yanukuvich supporter).
13. The best way to weather the storm btw now an elections is to throw all in with the chocolate king. Even if he looses to Tymosheko (unlikely per polls as of today) Poroshenko is a safe ally that could help protect him from the vultures of the moment. Additionally you me and Alex should reconnect with the boxer and help gain his support of our guy.
14. And it is the moment (btw now and Elections) that he needs to weather. If he is seen as unfairly profiting from the RU induced price spike things could turn against him fast.
15. The Burisma website or press releases should talk about how Burisma as the largest independent is committed to supplying Uk industry with as much power at a fair price as possible during this crisis with an emphasis on utilizing the best technologies and world class team to ensure increased production and domestic delivery post haste.
16. We can actually be of real value here. Developing relationships, bringing US expertise to the company, supplying strategic advice on politics and geopolitical risk assesment.
17. BSF can actually have direct discussions at state, energy and NSC. They can devise a media plan and arrange for legal protections and mitigate US domestic negative press regarding the current leadership if need be.
18. The announcement of my guys upcoming travels should be characterized as part of our advice and thinking- but what he will say and do is out of our hands. In other words it could be a really good thing or it could end up creating too great an expectation. We need to temper expectations regarding that visit.
19. We need to ask for long term agreement and across the board participation. This is a huge step for us that could easily become very complicated. And if we are not protected financially regardless of the outcome we could find ourselves frozen out of a lot of current and future opportunities.
20. To that end they need to know in no uncertain terms that we will not and cannot intervene directly with domestic policy makers, and that we need to abide by FARA and any other US laws in the strictest sense across the board.
21. The contract should begin now- not after the upcoming visit of my guy. That should include a retainer in the range of 25k p/m w/ additional fees where appropriate for more in depth work to go to BSF for our protection. Complete separate from our respective deals re board participation.

22. Buy a cell phone from a 7/11 or CVS tmrw and ill do the same.

[681] "Committee staff have found that several of the references to Mr. Biden's travel align with the travel records USSS produced to the Committees. For example, in one email allegedly sent from Hunter Biden to Devon Archer on April 13, 2014 at 12:43 AM, Mr. Biden referred to traveling to Houston 'tmrw.' Secret Service records show a travel entry for Mr. Biden from April 13, 2014 – April 14, 2014, to Houston, TX."
See "Johnson, Grassley Use Secret Service Records to Verify Content from Alleged Hunter Biden Laptop, Request More Travel Records," U.S. Senator Chuck Grassley, October 2020, archive.ph/9d8FE

Hunter was chomping at the bit to enter the Ukrainian energy sector—an industry in which he had no experience—and leverage his connections: "This could be the break we have been waiting for if they [Burisma] really are smart enough to understand our long term value." In order for Hunter and Archer to "actually earn [their] keep" and appear indispensable, they needed to hire a "discreet firm to perform due diligence … on an ongoing basis" so they could launder the information back to Burisma.

This could be the break we have been waiting for if they really are smart enough to understand our long term value. If they are looking to just use us until the storm passes then we risked far too much for far too little. We could be invaluable in expanding their operations outside Uk by promoting their US partnerships and expertise- whether that's China, Mexico, other parts of the Black Sea, Poland etc...

Finally, we need to have a plan on how we develop a corporate entity or LLP that allows us to draw on funds generated here to free us from existing (under-producing current commitments) and to build our own investment and expansion strategy. Maintaining the status quo is not an option. We can preserve our interest in the areas where minimal involvement is appropriate but should not get greedy and try to keep all the balls in the air that exist today. RCP, RSTP, BHRT all make sense and can co-exist and progress without our day to day oversight. But Advisors and the BD need a transition plan. I am assuming that by making this move it will require us to be traveling extensively and actually earning our keep. If that's not the case then we will know we are being used in a way that's not appropriate. BHRT will be our only other major time commitment (and Realty). But from my discussions with Jimmy I'm a little concerned that their strategy of marketing a soft commitment from BOC is not going to get the job done. We had assurances that the PRC money would come first and we would build on that. Right now I don't see that happening. If they want us in Beijing once a month and pitching this outside PRC we should be getting paid in advance just like every other team member thats getting a salary. We should be hiring people like Jim Lee to work east Asia and Australia and our new 3rd party marketer here in the states to do the heavy lifting if she is interested. We should also find someone of similar capabilities to do the same in Europe.
We should also find a highly credible and discreet firm to perform due diligence and deep information for us on an ongoing basis. The kind of people that can get us information that's not available through a google search and some phone calls. We can use our own funds to pay for it and I'm sure your buddies down in Little Creek have some trusted independent contacts that do that sort of work.

Thoughts?

During the following week—and the day before Hunter was appointed to Burisma's board—the former President of Poland, Aleksander KWAŚNIEWSKI (also a Burisma board member), scheduled a Parisian retreat for Burisma in early May. Archer suggested how, as unregistered agents, they could leverage their connections for their foreign principal's gain: "Our guy [Christian Clerc][682] probably has to help on securing rooms if we can't book thr[o]u[gh] regular means. We'll need 5 or 6 more rooms."

Vadim – Per your email below, here is a summary of the work I suggest we start:

1) Immediately: Advise on how to use Washington, DC contacts to stop the politically motivated attacks on Burisma taking place right now in Ukraine.
2) In the near term: Research, analyze and summarize our recommended Plan as to the legal, political and public relations work that Burisma should consider in an effort to achieve its goal of developing a Western-looking strategy. Our Plan would focus on work to help create a "bullet-proof vest" for Burisma, including: 1) ensuring key government officials know who Burisma is and that they are on the right side of history, that you are a company that meets western standards for good governance and transparency, and otherwise developing important relationships for Burisma within the U.S. government; 2) examining ways we may be able to help Burisma diversify geographically and expand its work into the West (explorations, joint ventures, etc.); and 3) examining potential vulnerabilities Burisma may face legally, politically and public relations-wise and ways to address those vulnerabilities.

Vadim,

As we discussed last week, David and I shared your analysis, along with the American Security Project (ASP) article endorsing the Association, with both the Ukrainian Embassy and all of our U.S. Government contacts yesterday. We wanted to let you know that we have already received some positive feedback.

In particular, we heard from the Ukrainian Embassy this morning that they plan to share the information we provided with the Ministry of Energy and Coal Industry. They also indicated their continuing belief that there will be an opportunity to revisit the tax increase in November after the parliamentary elections and agreed to be in touch on any new developments.

We have also already heard back from Congressman Keating's (D-MA) office, as well as the U.S. Department of Energy (DOE), who were both appreciative for the additional information. We will be sure to keep you posted on any additional feedback.

Dear all,
Following our previous conversation re the impact of raising taxes for private gas producers in Ukraine, we've drafted a short note to illustrate its consequences for our company, in particular (see attached).
Best,
Vadym

Devon and Hunter – The immediate plan is to reach out to the Energy and Ukraine desks, respectively, at State Dept to introduce them to Burisma and "update" them on Burisma's current situation, which will include the issues you've emailed me about today per Vadim's emails to you. We can't just go in there with a hard ask but it is often the case that the conversation is open to an ask, assuming it goes well. That will include outreach to Carlos Pascual, he is the top US energy diplomat; his actual title is Special Envoy and Coordinator for International Energy Affairs at State. He was formerly US Ambassador to Ukraine ('00-03) and later to Mexico (09-12 - he was apparently not so great in Mexico but still respected and highly effective). He was recently in Ukraine and on the Hill briefing the Senate Foreign Relations Committee privately about Ukraine and the challenges it faces.

As part of our ongoing strategy, I would ideally like for BSF to engage a lobbyist of our choosing to work with me. We at BSF will lead all this work and can execute the political and legal work right up to the line where we would need to register as lobbyists, but I don't want to register under the lobbying disclosure act or the foreign agents registration act. I have the right person picked out and have already casually and broadly discussed the issues with him. If it's okay with you, I'll have a more pointed conversation with him today so we can get moving, starting with key State Dept officials we need to start talking to this week. Subject: urgent issue

Dear Hunter and Devon,

Following our talks during the visit to the Como Lake and our further discussions, I would like to bring the following situation to your attention.

As previously pointed out on a number of occasions, the representatives of new authorities in power tend to quite aggressively approach N. Z. unofficially with the aim to obtain cash from him. Initially, it was done by the representatives of Svoboda party and the Ministry of Internal Affairs. These so called unofficial "communications" would entail blackmailing; in case we don't cooperate i.e. provide money in cash the gaz production business of N.Z. would be stopped, destroyed etc…

It's important to note that Svoboda party is represented in the government by the General Prosecutor and by Minister of Ecology and Natural Resources Of Ukraine. The last organ together with the State Geological and Subsurface Survey of Ukraine, which is directly subordinated to the Ministry of Ecology and Natural Resources of Ukraine, are principal regulators in the area of issuing licenses for natural resources and control.

After unsuccessful attempts to receive funds from our side, they proceeded with concrete actions.

So far we got information (through unofficial channels) that one or more pretrial proceedings were initiated by the Ministry of Internal Affairs with regrad to Burima Holdings companies that are heavily engaged in gas production and happen to be our Holdings' key companies.

The Ministry of Internal Affairs contacted the Ministry of Ecology and Natural Resources and the State Geological and Subsurface Survey of Ukraine to obtain all documents concerning licenses issued since 2006 until now to the companies of our Holding.

Apart from that, they would unofficially approach our partnres, clients, suppliers trying to intimidate them to stop working with our companies.

These are typical instruments to destabilize business.

We urgently need your advice on how you could use your influence to convey a message / signal, etc .to stop what we consider to be politically motivated actions bearing in mind the following:

Burisma holdings is a leader among private gas producers;
Our primary client is Accelor Mital- Ukraine's biggest metal steel plant. We cover more thet 60% of its gas needs.
Our clients and their production are largely dependant on our work and our ability to perfom our contractual obligations;
We employ hundreds of employees etc. and etc.;
Negative influence on our companies may result in multy-level negative social, econimical and political consequnces.

"Demetra[689] [Lambros, Counsel to Joe and his former Senate staffer when he was the Chairman of the Judiciary Committee] or someone from over there [White House] may call directly (but she asked if we could do it and she didn't know who to call)." This email—apart from showing the obvious conspiracy between Joe's lawyer, Hunter, his business partners, and Burisma—was emblematic of the cultural differences between corruption in the Ukraine and the U.S. Burisma knew what they were paying for with Hunter on their board: influence. Illegal influence. Burisma wanted to show it off on their company's website.[690] However, the Americans had to put a proverbial arm-around-the-shoulder and say, "Hey, look, optics matter here in the U.S. We cannot be too overt about our illegal representation of you, just in case the law starts to apply equally to us (princelings) and the DOJ begins to ask questions about FARA enforcement." The photo in question—of Joe and Archer in Joe's office—is still available[691] through a Google search, yet the Washington Post declared that a copy "couldn't be located."[692] Within six months of taking office, Joe appointed Lambros as the Chair of the President's Commission on White House Fellowships.[693]

Archer provided a status update to Hunter after he illegally represented Burisma's interests at the U.S. embassy in Kyiv: "Embassy meetings today all went well. Tomorrow with Ukraine ministries and the conference starts. Nicoli's [ZLOCHEVSKY] house is completely and absolutely ridiculous."[694] In addition to Archer admitting his FARA violations, he explained to Hunter that BSF—the law firm which served as a source of "protection" for them—was milking the Burisma teat too quickly: "I think [Burisma is] getting a little frustrated with Boies. Heather [King] already blew through the retainer and sent another $30k bill … I am explaining we needed Boies for our protection initially … And they haven't gotten [ZLOCHEVSKY's] [US] visa [ban] sorted yet either … But again with Burisma, it's written off as 'protection' for us and everything's fine." In other words, the duo's plausible deniability scheme for violating the FARA—using the FARA's misunderstood legal exemption—was exposed.[695]

Dear colleagues,

Hope, you are well.

Just to let you know, our sources at the Mexican embassy confirmed to us that if a person has had certain unsettled issues re the American visa in the past, there's a strong probability that he or she might have problems at the Mexican border.

Sandweg also illegally utilized nonpublic information from at least two federal government officials when he inquired about ZLOCHEVSKY's visa status. However, the nonpublic information Sandweg received was bad news: the visa was still being blocked. Sandweg then laundered the information about the visa status back to ZLOCHEVSKY through POZHARSKYI and Hunter's business partner, Schwerin. In the background of this illegal representation, POZHARSKYI pressed[703] Hunter and Blue Star Strategies for "concrete tangible results" with the "ultimate purpose" of their aforementioned $166k monthly insurance premium being to "close down for [sic] any cases/pursuits against Nikolay in Ukraine." Tramontano committed perjury when testifying to Senators about her firm's involvement.[704]

Dear colleagues,

Hope, you are well. Thank you for the docs provided. I have analyzed them most carefully and came up with the following observations: the first thing is that the suggested scope of work is largely lacking concrete tangible results that we set out to achieve in the first place, mostly focusing on the process. Also, it doesn't offer any names of top US officials here in Ukraine (for instance, US Ambassador) or Ukrainian officials (the President of Ukraine, chief of staff, Prosecutor General) as key targets for improving Nikolay's case and his situation in Ukraine.

If, however, this is done deliberatly to be on the safe and cautious side, I can understand the rationale. And if all parties in fact understand the true purpose of the BS engagement and all our joint efforts, it's ok and we should proceed immediately.

My only concern is for us to be on the same page re our final goals. With this in mind, I would like us to formulate a list of deliverables, including, but not limited to: a concrete course of actions, incl. meetings/communications resulting in high-ranking US officials in Ukraine (US Ambassador) and in US publicly or in private communication/comment expressing their "positive opinion" and support of Nikolay/Burisma to the highest level of decision makers here in Ukraine :President of Ukraine, president Chief of staff, Prosecutor General, etc

The scope of work should also include organization of a visit of a number of widely recognized and influential current and/or former US policy-makers to Ukraine in November aiming to conduct meetings with and bring positive signal/message and support on Nikolay's issue to the Ukrainian top officials above with th down for any cases/pursuits against Nikolay in Ukraine.

Looking forward to your feedback!

Finally, I want to assure the Committees' Chairmen that at no time did I or anyone else in the firm working on behalf of Burisma collaborate or coordinate the development or implementation of our work with Hunter Biden. We had no discussions or meetings with Mr. Biden regarding our contractual agreement with Burisma or Blue Star Strategies' terms of engagement. Mr. Biden played no role in Blue Star Strategies' work on behalf of Burisma – either in its limited scope in the U.S. or its more extensive scope in Ukraine. Mr. Biden has no role in Blue Star Strategies and holds no financial interest in Blue Star Strategies.

The information provided in this letter is based on the firm's best recollection and after a review of our records.[7] Consistent with recommendations from the IRS we retain records, including client records, for a period of 5 years. We will continue to preserve records relevant to this inquiry.

I trust that this letter responds to your inquiry.

Vadym-

Please the below email and attachments from John Sandweg. He is going to confirm that Nikolai's wife and daughter are in the same situation.

John recommends that Nikolai reapply for his visa but that we wait until his legal status in Ukraine has been resolved as the reapplication may require Nikolai to go to the Embassy in Kiev personally. He does feel that since the original cancelation occurred in March of 2014 it is solely related to the political issues associated with his service in the cabinet and not anything to do with him personally that the reapplication may not be a difficult process.

In any event, we should discuss timing as part of the overall strategy regarding not only the visa but also the legal and PR issues that Blue Star will be handling.

John also said that he'd be happy to go to Ukraine if the group feels it makes sense and his presence will be helpful.

Let us know if you have any questions.

Subject: Visa Denial

Eric-

Attached is a short report outlining why the visa was cancelled.

I realize we previously told you that a search of Department of Homeland Security and Customs databases did not reveal any prohibitions on Mr. Zlochevskyi ability to enter the United States. Unfortunately, after receiving the initial report, I suspected that the individual I asked to run the search only queried DHS/Customs databases and not State Department databases. As such, I asked another individual to query both databases. This search revealed the cancellation of the visa and the legal basis for the cancellation.

The good news is that there has been no application of an immigration bar - meaning the client is able to re-apply and is not currently subject to any legal prohibitions on obtaining a visa. That said, the reason State cancels visas in situations like this is to force the visa holder to come into the embassy/consulate and answer questions related to the issues that are concerning State. As we discussed I do not recommend that the client make any effort to obtain a new visa until the other matters are resolved.

Let me know if you have any questions or concerns.

The $166k monthly insurance premium for Nikolay's[705] "support" was sent to RSB, LLC—formerly named Rosemont Seneca Bohai, LLC—in two equal wire transfers of $83,333.33. The wire transfers were typically facilitated though AS PrivatBank in Latvia, which was KOLOMOISKY's laundering vehicle of choice.[706][707] Ten days after the wire transfers went through in September 2015, Hunter flew on Air Force Two and took in the pleasantries of Italy, which included a private tour of the Coliseum. The Bidens' government-sponsored jaunt included Joe, Jill, and the rest of the family—sans Kathleen.

As with Hunter's many shell companies, the Bidens' goal was to create plausible deniability by inserting layers between the origin of information/money/influence and the recipient/beneficiary. One week near the end of 2015 was especially illustrative of these schemes. Hunter and his partners used Ryan Toohey as a front man for the FARA violations when trying to massage stories[708][709] from the Wall Street Journal and New York Times. No one knew these schemes better than Kaufman, Hunter's frequent lunch guest and confidante who Joe appointed to the Senate when he became the V.P.[710]

All -

As I believe you know I spoke to Jim Risen from the NYT this afternoon. He's writing a piece on Burisma (likely tied to the VP's visit next week). He had a series of questions. Eric and David and I spent some time on answers and I've promised these to Risen tomorrow morning eastern time.

Have a look at the below and please pass on any tweaks or edits. Many thanks in advance.

1. Where do things stand with the owner? Is NZ still the owner?

Answer: Yes. Nikolai is the owner of the company.

2. What is the status of the "money-laundering and bribery" case in the UK? NZ's assets in UK were once frozen but now unfrozen. Does the company have a comment on the issue?

Answer: We welcome this question. Not only was the case dismissed and the company is vindicated by the outcome, but it speaks volumes that all his legal costs were recouped as part of the UK Serious Fraud Office's decision.

3. He said there seems to be conflicting info about ownership historically. Did Igor start the company and then sell to NZ?

Answer: Nikolai is the owner of the company and has maintained his controlling interest for a number of years.

4. The US Ambassador to Ukraine Geoffrey Pyatt gave a speech in September in Odessa criticizing government officials for obstructing efforts to combat corruption and graft and specifically called out NZ and millions of dollars in illicit assets that he had in the UK. How does the company respond to this speech and calls for investigations into officials who the ambassador says are obstructing reform?

Answer: "Strong corporate governance and transparency are priorities shared both by the United States and the leadership of Burisma. Burisma is working to bring the energy sector into the modern era which is critical for a free and strong Ukraine. These are the goals that attracted respected American and European political and business leaders to join Burisma's Board, including leaders like Polish statesman President Aleksander Kwasniewski."

5. He noted that Burisma is looking at expanding into Kazakhstan. Is this true?

Answer: Absolutely. Burisma is focused on growth, and looking to expand into a number of different markets including Kazakhstan.

6. What lobbying activities is the company engaged in the US. Is David Leiter still retained as the company's lobbyist in DC?

Answer: No – no one is lobbying on their behalf.

7. Is Hunter Biden still a member of the board? What is his current activities with the company?

Answer: Yes, Hunter remains focused on sound corporate governance, strengthened transparency, and the entity's geothermal efforts.

8. Are Devon and Hunter still partners in Rosemont Seneca? What other companies are they involved with?

Answer: Yes. Rosemont Seneca is a business advisory and consulting firm and that is Rosemont Seneca's sole focus.

We are part of Ukraine's future not its past, part of the solution not part of the problem. Every single day, Burisma and its leaders are focused on energy independence for Ukraine and strong, modern corporate governance. We believe you can't have one without the other. Part of this means having a best-in-class board of directors and we are proud to have assembled such an impressive group of people whose record in business and in positions of reform and leadership point clearly towards the kind of company Burisma always strives to be and the kind of Ukraine we hope to see."

KIEV, Ukraine— Joe Biden is on his fifth trip to Ukraine as vice president, pressing the pro-Western government to root out widespread corruption, but activists here say that message is being undermined as his son receives money from a former Ukrainian official who is being investigated for graft.

Since May of last year, Hunter Biden, the vice president's son, has served as an independent director of Ukrainian gas firm Burisma Holdings Ltd., a closely held company run by a former government official whom Ukrainian and British authorities are investigating for alleged criminal wrongdoing.

[709] James Risen, "Joe Biden, His Son and the Case Against a Ukrainian Oligarch," New York Times, December 2015, archive.ph/U7PyH

[710] "Arguably Biden's closest and most trusted advisor, Kaufman has aided Joe From Delaware in every election he's entered: six successful bids for the Senate, and two failed bids for the White House. For the past six months, Kaufman said, he's been in Washington two, three days a week, advising the Vice President."
See Rob Kunzig, "Ted Kaufman, Biden's Guy," Morning Consult, November 2015, archive.ph/6SMq9

Immediately preceding Hunter's lunch with Kaufman was a White House conference call. During that call, Blue Star Strategies was busy doing the bidding of Burisma. Evidently, the lobbying shop tasked the young guy in the office with sending the most incriminating emails, as the note from Sean Keeley describing the call revealed blatant FARA violations. POZHARSKYI was on the email chain, so Keeley either did not bother—or forgot—to launder the information from the White House through Hunter's crew back to POZHARSKYI. Equally interesting was the fact that Schwerin forwarded Keeley's email to Hunter, not realizing that Hunter was on the original distribution list. Schwerin's email implied that Hunter was deliberately kept off of other email chains in the past in an attempt to cover Hunter's digital tracks and create plausible deniability. The memo, which "outlined [Joe's] trip[711] agenda," was not available on the Laptop, as the Wi-Fi was disconnected. Joe's DOJ let Blue Star Strategies get away with these crimes by retroactively filing under the FARA, à la Tony Podesta.[712]

The following day, John Kerry, then-U.S. Secretary of State, pressured the president of the Ukraine, Petro POROSHENKO, to fire the Ukrainian Prosecutor General, Viktor SHOKIN, who had opened an investigation into Burisma.[713] In fact, Kerry told POROSHENKO that "the Vice President [Joe] is very concerned about it." Two months later, Joe threatened to withhold a $1B loan guarantee, in coordination with the International Monetary Fund (IMF), if POROSHENKO did not fire SHOKIN.[714] When Joe later bragged and recounted this international quid pro quo at an event[715] sponsored by the Council on Foreign Relations—"Well son of a bitch! He got fired!"—Joe was flanked by Michael Carpenter.[716] When the calls between Kerry, Biden, and POROSHENKO leaked, Carpenter went on the record and declared that the audio files—for which there is zero evidence of tampering—were part of a "KGB-style disinformation operation tied to pro-Russian forces in Ukraine whose chief aim is to make deceptive noise … to advance the interests of … the Kremlin[.]"[717] Just two weeks before Joe threatened POROSHENKO, Hunter gushed to POZHARSKYI about ZLOCHEVSKY's generosity: "[T]hank NZ [ZLOCHEVSKY] for the beautiful birthday gifts[, but they were] far too extravagant[.]"

Dear Mr. Hochstein,

I am writing on behalf of Sally Painter and Karen Tramontano at Blue Star Strategies to request a meeting this week. I understand that you have previously met with Sally regarding energy issues in Ukraine, and she is hoping to brief you on a sensitive energy matter ahead of President Poroshenko's upcoming visit to DC next week.

Sally and Karen, schedule permitting, would be accompanied by John Buretta of Cravath, who is assisting us with this particular energy case. The best times for his schedule are this Tuesday before noon or Thursday before 1:30pm. If either day is possible for a quick meeting, we would be greatly appreciative. Please let us know what might work with your schedule this week and thank you for your consideration.

This is further to the Blue Star effort to rehabilitate the reputation of their non-client in the US, former Ministry of Ecology Zlochevsky, who clearly has retained the services of a blue chip law firm (Cravath), and his energy company Burisma, which in turn has Hunter Biden on its board.

I think a briefing by Johannes and Jeff Cole on the background of the Zlochevsky case and the US effort therein would be in order, so you can separate what the US position on this set of circumstance is, as opposed to paid legal counsel.

Dear Ambassador Yovanovitch:

I respectfully write with regard to my clients, Burisma Holdings Limited ("Burisma") and Mr. Mykola Zlochevskiy, to address the announcement yesterday by the Pechersk District Court of the City of Kyiv of the Decree dated September 13, 2016. The Court reviewed the case file and came to the conclusion that Mr. Zlochevskiy is a witness, not a suspect, in criminal proceeding No. 42014000000000805, and that no further criminal procedural measures should be taken against him. The Court also ordered the Prosecutor General's Office of Ukraine (the "PGO") to remove Mr. Zlochevskiy's name from the wanted list, due to a lack of evidence. The Court's decision is consistent with the prior findings of a U.K. Court that the same allegations against Mr. Zlochevskiy were unsupported. Both courts' decisions reflect the application of the rule of law to the facts and should be respected

Mr. Zlochevskiy owns Burisma, one of Ukraine's most significant natural gas producers. Burisma is a well-run company committed to Ukraine's energy independence and to good corporate governance. Burisma's board of directors is comprised of, among others, prominent and experienced U.S. and European advisers who likewise are committed to sustainable energy production and legal compliance.

In August 2014, the PGO opened an investigation (No. 42014000000000805) pursuant to part 3 of Article 368-2 of the Criminal Code of Ukraine. The investigation was opened shortly after the United Kingdom's Serious Fraud Office (the "SFO") commenced a money laundering investigation in March 2014, and obtained a Restraint Order on Mr. Zlochevskiy's companies' accounts held at a London branch of BNP Paribas ("BNP") in April 2014. The centerpiece of the SFO's claim was that Mr. Zlochevskiy had allegedly abused his position as the Chairman of the State Committee on Natural Resources in order to issue special permits for subsoil rights to companies in which he had an interest, thus purportedly committing the common law offense of misconduct in public office. In connection with the U.K. proceeding, the

A senior[719] advisor[720] to the vice president, John Flynn, sent notes and a scheduling card to Joe—via Joe's secret alias[721] email address, Robert.L.Peters@pci.gov—for Joe's upcoming call with POROSHENKO, which was to take place the next morning (05/27/2016) at 9:00 AM. Notwithstanding the fact that the notes for the call with POROSHENKO would ordinarily be classified, the email and accompanying notes were ccd to Hunter at his business email address. As a reminder: Hunter, at that time, sat on the board of Burisma, whose core operations were in POROSHENKO's country (although Burisma was actually domiciled in Cyprus for money laundering purposes).[722] A simple web search confirmed Joe's schedule[723] during that time frame and proved that Joe did travel to Rhode Island on 05/27/2016, where he met with his current Secretary of Commerce, Gina Raimondo.[724]

Joe's secret alias email address was, in one respect, simply par for the course during the Obama administration: Loretta Lynch and Eric Holder used aliases, as well as Obama[725] himself, along with Hillary Clinton who used two private aliases: hdr22@clintonemail.com and hrod17@clintonemail.com.[726] However, the Presidential Records Act (44 USC § 2207) and its requirements put Joe's alias account (Robert.L.Peters@pci.gov) in a particularly troubling light. (As an example, when one searches for Robert.L.Peters@pci.gov on BidenLaptopEmails.com, 27 results appear.) Members of the U.S. Senate[727] have asked questions about this email account, but Joe's lawyers have simply ignored[728] the letters.[729] A nonprofit watchdog has also submitted a FOIA[730] request to the National Archives and Records Administration (NARA), although the likelihood that the NARA is responsive is low. One person who will have answers—or knows someone who does—is Mark Grabow from the SS. Grabow (mark.grabow@usss.dhs.gov & 1-917-838-9469) was the network administrator who configured itchy.pci.gov, one of several subdomains that has since been taken offline.

The extremely persistent POZHARSKYI needed Hunter at a very "critical moment," and Hunter apparently delivered on Burisma's behalf: "Keep D[evon Archer] updated. I went as high as I could." Hunter's purposely vague message presumably alluded to the NATO Summit[731] in Poland, which had just begun, an event critical to Burisma's interests. As you can imagine, Burisma had its fingers in many Western-funded pies, including the aforementioned Metabiota, a "pandemic tracking"[732] company which raised money from Rosemont Seneca Technology Partners.[733] In fact, ZLOCHEVSKY took out insurance policies against his prosecution in other ways, from placing Cofer Black—a Romney advisor—on Burisma's board to partnering with KOLOMOISKY's lackeys[734][735][736] in Cyprus.

Buretta wasn't the only John to violate the FARA on behalf of Burisma; John Herbst—the Director of the Eurasia Center at the infamous[742] Atlantic Council "think" tank—also pleaded with Yovanovitch[743] about ZLOCHEVSKY. Dan Fried, Herbst's colleague, also illegally lobbied U.S. official George Kent.

Footnote 2: When Dan Fried called me in the summer, asking if I would be willing to talk to Painter, the subject was Zlochevsky, and allegedly the bad reputational deal he was getting. I warned Dan this was a sticky wicket, that Zlochevsky was viewed as corrupt, not just in Ukraine but by the USG/FBI, that he almost certainly had paid a bribe to the PGO office (Yarema team) to have them close a case against Zlochevsky in December 2014 and issue a letter to that effect to Zlochevsky's lawyer, who flipped it to a UK judge, who unfroze assets that the FBI and MI5 had spent months trying to make a case for asset repatriation – the first and so far only possible case, in an effort we collectively have spent hundreds of thousands of dollars. Furthermore, the presence of Hunter Biden on the Bursima board was very awkward for all US officials pushing an anti-corruption agenda in Ukraine. Dan then said: "Sally's apparently been asked to gather information in an attempt to convince Hunter to sever the relationship." I said he was free to pass my name and number to her, and I would be as forthright about

BRIEFING CHECKLIST (BCL)
Ambassador Yovanovitch's Meeting with Karen Tramontano, Blue Star Strategies

Thursday, December 8, 2016
10:30-11:00
Ambassador's Office

Interpretation: N/A
Notetaker: [redacted]
EXT: 5365

CONTEXT

An Atlantic Council member and Washington veteran, Tramontano informally represents Mykola Zlochevskiy, the Burisma CEO who has long been the target of law enforcement proceedings in Ukraine.

WHAT DO WE WANT?

- You should hear Tramontano out on Zlochevskiy's situation, but not suggest we will change our posture on his case.

WHAT DO(ES) THEY/HE/SHE WANT?

- Tramontano would like the USG to take a more positive view of Zlochevskiy and possibly meet with him.

KEY OBJECTIVES

1. Zlochevskiy: the former Minister of Ecology fled Ukraine in early 2014 and was charged with corruption and sanctioned by the European Union. In 2014, British officials unfroze $23 million in his British bank accounts. Zlochevskiy owns Burisma, one of Ukraine's largest gas producers. His official U.S. representatives sent a letter in September (attached) asking that the Embassy reconsider its position on him.

   - I appreciate hearing your side of the story.
   - However, we have extensive concerns about corruption in Ukraine, and we believe Mr. Zlochevskiy is an example. If he would like to clear his name, he should return to Ukraine to face the charges against him.

WATCH OUT FOR

Burisma and USAID: In September, USAID withdrew its Municipal Energy Reform Program's (MERP's) cooperation with Burisma on a joint program to award journalists for outstanding coverage of energy efficiency issues in Ukraine citing concerns about the appearance of a conflict of interest rewarding journalists with prizes paid by an energy company. Burisma provided approximately $7,500 in prizes for last year's contest. Subsequently, USAID spoke to Blue Star Strategies representative Sally Painter by phone and indicated that we would be open to discussing other forms of cooperation between USAID and Burisma, and agreed to meet with Burisma Government and Public Affairs representative, Vadym Pozharskyi. In the November meeting, Pozharskyi briefed USAID on Burisma and the gas sector more broadly, but did not propose specific ideas for cooperation. While keeping the lines of communication open, we do not intend to pursue any joint cooperation with Burisma.

- I understand that Susan Fritz and Joel Sandefur had a good meeting with Vadym Pozharskyi.
- If pressed: I encourage you to have Vadym reach out to [redacted] again should Burisma have further ideas.

If there were any lingering doubts about whether Hunter—as a member of Burisma's board—was an unregistered "agent of a foreign principal" under the provisions of the FARA, his WhatsApp messages to Bobulinski certainly cleared things up: Four months after Joe left the vice presidency, Hunter was on ZLOCHEVSKY's yacht off the coast of Monaco and was "fighting for the only income [Hunter had] left right now from Burisma." In other words, Hunter's value[744] to the foreign principal took a nosedive after his father left public office. ZLOCHEVSKY even cut Hunter's director's fee in half! Nevertheless, the always eager-to-please POZHARSKYI assured Hunter that he would find the new director's rate of $40k/month "both fair and reasonable." Besides the annual jaunt to Monaco (where ZLOCHEVSKY was hiding[745] out) in the early summer for a forum on "Energy Security" sponsored by Burisma, Hunter's duties were thin. So thin were Hunter's responsibilities that Schwerin even joked with Hunter after he signed the new Burisma[746] contract: "That's the easiest $500 million dollars you ever made!"

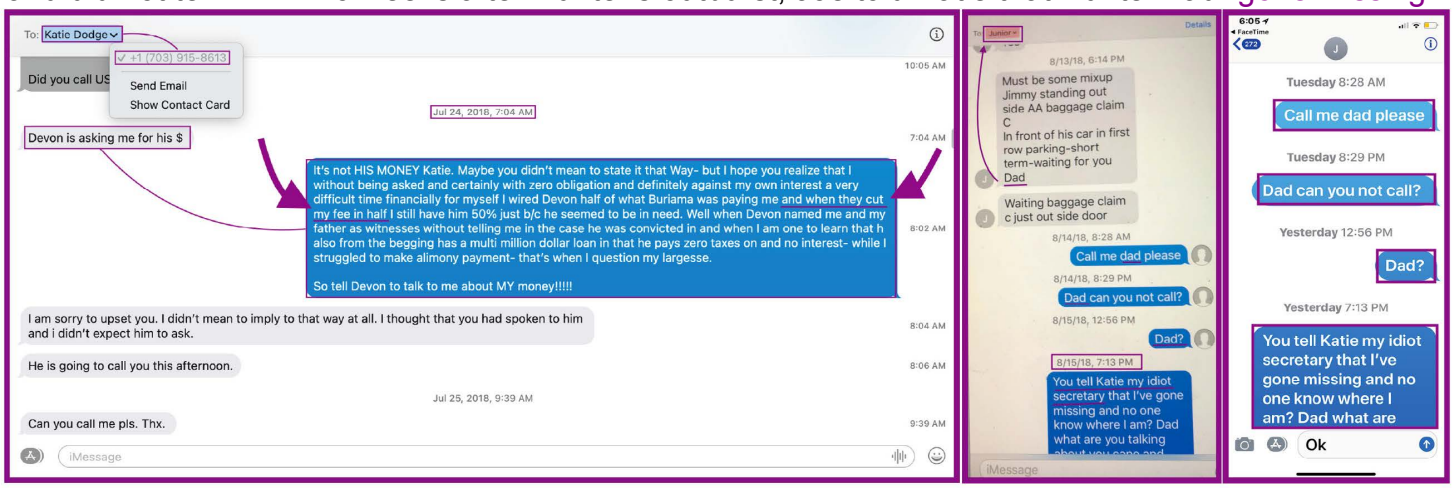
Hunter wanted to make sure his "idiot secretary," Katie Dodge, knew that their company's payments from Burisma were solely due to Hunter's valuable surname. In fact, Hunter was enraged that Archer considered the Burisma payments "his $," considering that Archer resigned from Burisma's board after his aforementioned indictment (for scamming Indians and pensioners with junk bonds). Adding to Hunter's beef was the fact that Archer named Hunter and Joe as witnesses in Archer's trial in NY and did not tell him. Two weeks after Hunter's outburst, Joe told Katie that Hunter had "gone missing."



The Bidens' crimes in and around the Ukraine left many loose ends. If there ever were a loose end that had to be tied up, it was KOLOMOISKY.[747] Joe had been focused on KOLOMOISKY for years; in fact, on 11/16/2016, just after the U.S. presidential election, Joe pressured[748] POROSHENKO to nationalize PrivatBank right away. KOLOMOISKY had stolen[749] billions in IMF loans—funded, in part, by U.S. taxpayers—through his ownership of PrivatBank. If PrivatBank collapsed, then the Ukraine would have descended into deeper chaos. People might have started asking questions about the ultimate source[750] of the money ZLOCHEVSKY used to pay Hunter's Burisma board fees. Joe was not going to let civil forfeiture cases in district courts be his only warning to KOLOMOISKY to keep quiet about Burisma and other matters. Joe—through his fixer, Blinken—banned KOLOMOISKY from entering the U.S., a toothless and posturing move as KOLOMOISKY rarely travels to the States.[751]

United States Files Civil Forfeiture Complaint for Proceeds of Alleged Fraud and Theft from PrivatBank in Ukraine

The United States filed a civil forfeiture complaint today in the U.S. District Court for the Southern District of Florida alleging that more than $6 million in proceeds from the sale of commercial real estate in Dallas, Texas, which property was maintained and improved using the proceeds of embezzlement and fraud from PrivatBank in Ukraine, are subject to forfeiture based on violations of federal money laundering statutes.

Hunter and Archer were deeply imbedded with the highest levels of government and wealth in Kazakhstan. Alongside an American-born banker named Marc Holtzman (a former vice chairman[752] of Barclays who helped coordinate the meetings), Hunter and his activities can be put into two boxes: he 1) acted as unregistered agent for oligarch Kenes RAKISHEV[753][754] and the then-Prime Minister of Kazakhstan, Karim MASSIMOV, and 2) attempted to strike a deal between Burisma and the China National Offshore Oil Corporation (CNOOC), which would have utilized energy reserves in Kazakhstan. CNOOC is under U.S. sanctions for actions in the South China Sea. MASSIMOV, a graduate[755] of Wuhan University, has been praised by CCP-controlled[756] outlets because he "work[ed] with China to promote the construction of the Belt and Road."[757] However, praise from the CCP could not keep MASSIMOV from serious legal troubles—he was charged with treason in January 2022.[758]

Archer was eager to introduce Hunter to RAKISHEV, who he described as the "the son in law of the Mayor of Astana … Kazakstan's richest man." RAKISHEV was apparently keen on "capitalizing Rosemont Seneca Partners in some way[,] shape[,] or form." Vitaly PRUSS, the president of TriGlobal Strategic Ventures (TriGlobal), told Archer that RAKISHEV was "worth close to a billion in his own right." TriGlobal employed the aforementioned KOTLARSKY and worked closely with figures[759] connected to PUTIN—the firm's founders ingratiated themselves with whomever was close to power.[760] RAKISHEV's father-in-law, Imangali TASMAGAMBETOV, was the ambassador to Russia.

Thanks for getting back to me so quickly David.

In addition to wishing the prayers for T's health two very simple messages were conveyed to me from Minister Idrisov so I believe it will be a brief but important call.

1. Idrisov stressed it is very important to him to relay to his President that there is a direct dialogue opened between him and Secretary Kerry before Idrisov reports back to Nazarbayev on his trip to the to meet the Sec. (ie. in their view the meeting was the key focus of their trip and the Idrisov / Nazarbayev meeting is tomorrow).

2. Secondly, he said there is a subject as it relates to Afghanistan that he needs to relay directly to the Sec.

I do not envision any requests as far as I've been briefed.

RAKISHEV was so close with Hunter and Archer that he referred to them in familial terms when he inquired about their illegal back-channeling: “Brothers[,] how is our meeting with JK [John Kerry]? Pl[ea]s[e] last push! That will be great! Thanks!” Archer responded calmly: “He [Kerry] is ready to visit KZ [Kazakhstan]. If we [RAKISHEV and Hunter’s firm] have some business[764][765] started as planned[,] I will ensure its [sic] planned soonest.” Well, as luck would have it, “some business” between the parties began to materialize: CNOOC wanted a chunk of Kazakhstan’s vast oil reserves—and Burisma was a natural fit, in Archer’s mind, to operate the rigs above those reserves: “If we can connect the dots here between CNOOC and Burisma[,] we can do only that, forever.” The following year, Hunter’s dad and Archer’s mentor (Kerry) worked to shut down the U.S.’s Keystone pipeline.[766]

Archer's purposely obscure reference to "some business" also included a new Porsche SUV for Hunter, the funds for which Hunter did not report to U.S. tax authorities. One of RAKISHEV's many shell[767] companies—Novatus Holding Pte. Ltd., domiciled[768] in Singapore—wired $142,300[769] to Archer's bank account at Rosemont Seneca Bohai, LLC on 04/22/2014. ABLV Bank, based in Latvia, facilitated the transaction, the memo for which read: "For a car." ABLV bank was a favorite money laundering vehicle for criminals like RAKISHEV and Archer; in fact, because ABLV was intimately involved "in North Korea's procurement or export of ballistic missiles"[770] and other egregious illegal activity, the U.S. Treasury effectively killed the bank by cutting it off from the U.S. financial sector.[771]

FinCEN Names ABLV Bank of Latvia an Institution of Primary Money Laundering Concern and Proposes Section 311 Special Measure

Contact: Steve Hudak, 703-905-3770
Immediate Release: February 13, 2018

FinCEN Finds the Bank Orchestrates Money Laundering Schemes, Obstructs Regulatory Enforcement, and Has Conducted Activity Linked to North Korea

WASHINGTON – The U.S. Department of the Treasury's Financial Crimes Enforcement Network (FinCEN) today issued a finding and notice of proposed rulemaking (NPRM), pursuant to Section 311 of the USA PATRIOT Act, seeking to prohibit the opening or maintaining of a correspondent account in the United States for, or on behalf of, ABLV Bank. FinCEN is proposing this action based on its finding set out in the NPRM that ABLV is a foreign bank of primary money laundering concern.

"FinCEN will continue to take action against foreign banks that disregard anti-money laundering safeguards and become conduits for widespread illicit activity," said Steven T. Mnuchin, Secretary of the Treasury. "Deficient practices at banks foster a wide array of illicit conduct, including activity linked to North Korea's weapons program and corruption connected to Russia and Ukraine. FinCEN is committed to protecting the U.S. financial system from these types of risks."

As described in the finding, ABLV has institutionalized money laundering as a pillar of the bank's business practices. ABLV's management permits the bank and its employees to orchestrate money laundering schemes; solicits high-risk shell company activity that enables the bank and its customers to launder funds; maintains inadequate controls over high-risk shell company accounts; and seeks to obstruct enforcement of Latvian anti-money laundering and combating the financing of terrorism (AML/CFT) rules in order to protect these business practices.

ABLV's failure to implement, and disregard for, effective AML/CFT and sanctions policies and procedures have made the bank attractive to a range of illicit actors engaged in organized crime, weapons proliferation, corruption, and sanctions evasion. Illicit financial activity at the bank includes transactions for parties connected to UN-designated entities, some of which are involved in North Korea's procurement or export of ballistic missiles. In addition, ABLV has facilitated transactions for corrupt politically exposed persons and has funneled billions of dollars in public corruption and asset stripping proceeds through shell company accounts. ABLV failed to mitigate the risk stemming from these accounts, which involved large-scale illicit activity connected to Azerbaijan, Russia, and Ukraine.

Section 311 actions alert the U.S. financial sector to foreign institutions, such as ABLV, that are of primary concern and through the public rulemaking process, if necessary, cut them off from the U.S. financial sector.

The NPRM as submitted to the Federal Register is currently available here.

Written comments on the NPRM may be submitted within 60 days of publication.

1. The Extent to Which ABLV Has Been Used to Facilitate or Promote Money Laundering, Including by Entities Involved in the Proliferation of Weapons of Mass Destruction or Missiles

According to information available to FinCEN, ABLV executives, shareholders, and employees have institutionalized money laundering as a pillar of the bank's business practices. ABLV management orchestrates, and permits the bank and its employees to engage in, money laundering schemes. Management solicits the high-risk shell company activity that enables the bank and its customers to launder funds, maintains inadequate controls over high-risk shell company accounts, and is complicit in the circumvention of AML/CFT controls at the bank. As a result, multiple actors have exploited the bank in furtherance of illicit financial activity, including transactions for parties connected to U.S. and UN-designated entities, some of which are involved in North Korea's procurement or export of ballistic missiles. In addition, ABLV management seeks to obstruct

The very next day after receiving the wire from RAKISHEV's shell company, Hunter caused the $142,300 lump sum to be wired to a "Schneider Nelson Motor Company," based in New Jersey.[772] Contemporaneous emails exchanged between Hunter and Archer revealed that Nurlan ABDUOV orchestrated the money laundering, but the cash was sent through RAKISHEV.[773] Later that summer on 07/15/2014, Hunter called the criminal activity "a business transaction too complicated to explain," but he nevertheless "ended up with a 2014 Porsche Panamera Executive 4S fully loaded blue[.]"[774]

I know I owe on the BMW which makes a trade in a bad deal now. The aforementioned energy deal—which Hunter's colleagues discussed using the code name of "Project Carmen"—between CNOOC[775] and Burisma was going to be capitalized with $40M by BHR. Archer told POZHARSKYI that the "primary meeting [was] set [up] with the Prime Minister of KZ [Kazakhstan], Masimof [sic], on June 2nd [2014]. Everything will revolve around that meeting and the subject will be securing the highest quality proven reserve fields in KZ" in order for Burisma to then send those energy deposits to China.[776] Hunter not only violated the FARA by advocating for "Nikolay's visa issue[s]" to U.S. feds, but he also declined Secret Service protection in Kazakhstan.

To: Hunter Biden <hbiden@rosemontseneca.com>

Quick answer is I do not have an answer just yet but that's what I am thinking about, researching and formulating. CNOOC is a nice to have in the situation that make it a silver bullet. I do know that. Getting assigned blocks in KZ for Burisma is a windfall in itself. I will be back shortly as I try and drill down on a conceptual deal.

Size of off take?

Should you chose eventually to invite them with you, airplane is big enough in any case.

1) Need to ping Aleris again as the window of opportunity is quite short
2) Need to follow up w/Burnham on fundraising proposal
3) KZ deal that Devon sent over – Project Carmen – need to follow up. Waiting on feedback on co-investment agreement
4) Do we know anyone in top management in Bombardier's rail business? Just heard the asset is for sale from DB. Shouldn't approach anyone yet if so, but we should discuss an action plan.
5) Need to know how to move forward on US Office candidate. China prefers them to be in DC
6) Can we do another call at 8pm ET our time Thursday?

Holtzman, who at that time was the Chairman[777] of Kazkommertsbank (the largest so-called "private" bank in the post-Soviet nation), wanted Archer—and Hunter—to join him and MASSIMOV[778] for breakfast in a private suite[779] at the Willard Hotel. The prime minister was "eager" to discuss "several matters" with Hunter and Archer. As was standard practice, these sorts of invitations were sent to Archer—the parties wanted Hunter (and presumably Joe) to be able to claim plausible deniability.

The following week, MASSIMOV was still on Hunter's mind as he formulated the guest list for the aforementioned dinner with Joe and his business partners. Hunter confessed the scheme in an email to Michael Karloutsos, the son of the then-leader[780] of the Greek Orthodox Church in America: "Ok- the reason for the dinner is ostensibly to discuss food security. Dad [Joe] will be there but keep that btw [between] us for now. … Most notable [sic] the Prime minister [MASSIMOV] of a country[.] I'll tell you over [the] phone." Karloutsos gleefully replied: "Everything is between us. All good! … I know you mentioned your dad [Joe] would probably join the dinner as well." Karloutsos and Hunter also sought Chinese cash together, even exploring an ill-fated venture which involved shipping Chinese railcars to Greece. Incredibly, Karloutsos—a friend of Reince Priebus—worked at the State Department under President Trump.[781] Xanthi, Michael's mother, serves on the board of the Beau Biden Foundation.[782]

Hunter not only had an affinity for RAKISHEV and MASSIMOV, who he called a "close friend." Hunter was also "very good friend[s]" with MASSIMOV's son, Iskander KARIM, their embassy's military attaché.[783][784] Photographic evidence produced by an anti-corruption outfit[785] exposed Joe's lie that he never met with Hunter's foreign business partners. Joe most certainly did—at Cafe Milano in D.C. on 04/16/2015. The following day, Holtzman (the Kazakhs' American handler) wrote a gushing email about how Hunter's guests were "wonderful company" who had engaged in a "great conversation."

As previously noted, Archer was repeatedly sent invitations—even from foreign ministries with the son (KARIM) of their prime minister ccd—that were actually intended for Hunter. The practice was an effort to create layers between Hunter and the influence that was being sought, in order for Hunter to claim plausible deniability and leave as little of a paper trail as possible. As he himself explained to Hunter, Archer was the loyal "front man" who organized one-on-one, face-to-face meetings with Secretary Kerry in Hunter's place. Hunter bragged about these connections, even to Americans.[786]

After the collapse of the Soviet Union, new independent states have emerged in Central Asia: Kazakhstan, Kyrgyzstan, Tajikistan, Turkmenistan, and Uzbekistan. Central Asia has been a strategically important region during the Great Game and is becoming more important as each of the great powers finds interests in the region. The precarious stability in Central Asia is at stake and it is vital to understand how it is undermined, as instability will cause problems for the international community. This monograph examines the causes of instability in Central Asia, in particular, ethnic strife, border issues, resource scarcity, radicalism, and drug trafficking and examines how to identify pockets of instability in the region in order to create longer-term stability in Central Asia.

Hunter's "food security" cover story for hosting the dinner at Cafe Milano with Joe was an old trick he had used for decades. Hunter's "humanitarian"[787] nonprofit grift allowed him to mix his commercial interests with photo ops surrounded by indigent foreigners. Rick Leach—who was the president of the World Food Program USA—used his position to engage in lobbying violations with Hunter, who "met with Dad [Joe] and talked about Title 2 [of the U.S. Congress appropriations bill]." Bruce Reed, a Clinton appointee, and David Wade (Kerry's aide) were also targets of the illegal lobbying effort.[788]

ROMANIA

As was the case with the Bidens' misadventures in the Ukraine, Hunter's commercial endeavors in Romania involved a prosecutor who did not serve his benefactor's interests—and therefore needed to go—and Boies Schiller Flexner LLP (BSF) fixers always by his side. This time around, the mission was to utilize Hunter's connections in the U.S. government to get an enterprising prosecutor in Romania to stand down. Along with Chris Boies[789] (the son of BSF's founder) and former White House lawyer[790] Mike Gottlieb, Hunter was on a mission to turn the gears of the so-called justice system in Romania for the benefit of Gabriel "Gabs" POPOVICIU.[791] A real estate tycoon, POPOVICIU was a member of the so-called "communist royalty" in the post-Soviet country and had been charged with bribery and abuse of power involving a commercial development in Bucharest called Baneasa.[792] Hunter's shameless arm-pulling operation was put into overdrive by former FBI director, Louie Freeh, who he recruited.[793] Right-leaning publications, such as the Daily Mail, did not o point out the similarities between Hunter's influence peddling on Burisma's board for ZLOCHEVSKY and his attempt to get POPOVICIU out of a jam (seven years in prison). The New York Times even asserted that Hunter and his fixers did not violate the FARA—nothing could be further from the truth.

Chris Boies was the perfect partner for Hunter in this arm-pulling operation, given the former's deep relationships with people who could help influence the outcome of Gabs's case. Boies bragged to Archer: "One of my partners is best friends with the newly-appointed[794] Ambassador to Romania [Hans Klemm] (he's going to the swearing in)." Gottlieb facilitated a dinner with Hunter and Klemm in D.C. to propagandize the U.S. ambassador about the misdeeds of the Romanian prosecutor, Laura KÖVESI.[795] KÖVESI was going after a princeling—POPOVICIU. Hunter was hired to shut it down.[796]

Dear Hunter and Rob

Good morning.

Our team is just finishing a 4-day visit here in Bucharest with GP and his colleagues. Long days were followed by productive working dinners with GP and his colleagues (his lovely fiancé Dorothy joined us last night). We were very impressed with GP's associates and outside lawyers.

We reviewed many documents, testimony, trial transcripts--and our retired Romanian-American FBI Agent (she was previously the Legat here and met GP at an AmCham event) listened to the actual tape recordings used by DNA to obtain the Abuse of Office (AOO) and Bribery convictions. Unlike our system, the court here mostly focuses on the 'transcripts and reports' of the conversations/meetings rather than the actual tapes.

As she reviewed them, we found that many of the key statements by the DNA/UCA Motoc are NOT even on the tapes, or, are contradicted by the tapes (eg., Motoc claims it was Sherban (GP's convicted co-defendant police officer) who suggested they meet with GP. In fact, the tape proves that it was Moroc who pushed for the meeting. On another tape Gabby listened to, it's Motoc who suggests Sherban and Pitcovici (2nd police defendant convicted) pay him a bribe - which they totally reject-and so on and so forth. At this point, the only option may be to resubmit new transcripts to the court if a 'retrial' or appeal permits evidence to be revisited.

While the AOO conviction should be thrown out on the basis of the 6/15/16 Constitutional Court decision (which says the AOO crime requires the breaking of a specific law--not our case), and the bribery charge is unsustainable based on the best interpretation of DNA's evidence, it's Romania and not the SDNY (or DC Superior Court)! The entire judicial/DNA/SRI system is at best, totally broken, and at worst, totally corrupt. So we have told GP and his fiancé and colleagues that undoing this 6/23/16 court conviction is a very big challenge.

However, we're writing a 'white paper' on the law/facts here along with our conclusions. This can be used with the GOR and its agencies, courts, etc., and also with GP's banks and FIs which are now putting lots of pressure on GP and his businesses (his Cyprus bank closed accounts this week).

We reached out through the FBI here and requested (courtesy first) meetings with the DNA, SRI and US Ambassador. As of last night, only the SRI responded and said it needed several weeks notice so we'll start that process.

Separately, we're in touch with a senior FBIHQ official who is interested in meeting our client.

We may need to think about both a DOS and PR (US and Romania) strategy as we go forward. It seems like the GOR wants to seize the hugely valuable Baneasa project, and getting GP out of the picture is a necessary prerequisite.

The problem with DOS (and probably DOJ/FBI) is they have been trumpeting the success of rule of law in Romania (of course they finance and promote it) while the exact opposite is true (we learned about several other major DNA cases similar to Baneasa).

The DOS is directly affected here because their 99-year leasehold is now sequestered by the court (so no construction projects). But getting them to intervene will be tough.

I may try to have GP back to WDC in the next weeks for external meetings. Meanwhile, the court moved the civil case) part of the criminal case) hearing from September to 7/21 at the request of DNA. In a worse case scenario, GP's entire Baneasa project could have its land forfeited to the GOR.

So let's stay in touch and perhaps we should meet to formulate/update our common strategies.

Hi Hunter,
You were paid by Burisma. After accounting for all of the month's autopays you currently have $16,000 left to split between other bills, you and Kathleen. NOTE: Romania money has NOT come in yet so that will give you an additional approx. $30K when it does.

Here are other outstanding bills- let me know if you want to pay any and which ones:

Long Beach CC (you need to pay this balance ASAP so you can quit)- $1497.96
BOA CC- min: $25; balance: $2575
Chase CC- min: $810; balance: $34,673
Debbie (you and Finnegan)- $206
Anne Wake (Finn psychiatrist)- $720
Giannini Dentist- $2246
Tomes Marina- $2420

Thanks,
J

POPOVICIU's payments to Hunter and his colleagues[807] for their illegal services came up again in Hunter's divorce proceedings. Kathleen's attorney explained: "Hunter's office confirmed to Kathleen a deposit of more than $120,000 into Hunter's TD account, as funds from the 'Romania deal.'" The following month, Hunter's lawyer spoke about another lump sum payment from the exiled tycoon: "Hunter believes a $60,000 'Romania' payment may come in before the end of the [sic] January."

Dear Sarah,

I sent you the draft Motion to Assign this morning. Please let me know when you have had a chance to review.

On the disclosures, help me understand why it is taking so long to get this basic information. Hunter's office confirmed to Kathleen a deposit of more than $120,000 into Hunter's TD account, as funds from the "Romania deal." There is no reason to continue to delay providing us the TD account statements and all expenses since the end of the last statement. If there is a reasonable explanation for why those funds are not being used to pay the family's pressing expenses that reason should be shared with us immediately. Otherwise, please immediately provide Kathleen with half of this deposit.

We agree with you that the parties are in a very precarious financial situation: they owe $200,000 in taxes, they owe Kathleen's parents $100,000 (which has not been paid in two years), the credit cards are maxed out, Hunter maxed out a Bank of America cash advance, and their bills are not being paid. And yet, Hunter has been enjoying time in California with Hallie? It is more than fair to ask for Hunter immediately to provide Kathleen with half of the $120,000, and immediate disclosure with respect to his TD account.

I am comfortable with the email as drafted below- I added language about this being without prejudice, etc.

If you approve, Hunter. I will send this out.

Rebekah-

I met with Hunter last week. We spent the vast majority of that time doing our best to develop an interim support and bill paying arrangement. While it is not a sustainable scenario for a final settlement, Hunter wants to develop an interim arrangement in keeping with Kathleen's desire for him to continue to be responsible for the payment of all of their recurring monthly expenses (which ranges between $22,000 and $25,000). Hunter recognizes the bill paying responsibility has never fallen on Kathleen's shoulders and at this juncture, he appreciates that she would prefer that not to change so he will continue to pay all of the recurring expenses in the interim.

Our primary goal with the proposal below is to project for Kathleen the payments that Hunter expects to receive this month and how those funds will be allocated- including funds for retainer payments. I will say that for a long-term settlement, we will have to have a better understanding of Kathleen's expenses. Given that all of her fundamental living expenses are paid for from the auto-pay account, we will need to more fully understand what her additional reasonable living expenses are so we can develop an appropriate support structure going forward. Therefore, this proposal is without prejudice to a final settlement.

1) On or about January 20th, Hunter will receive his salary payment of $70,000 from Owasco, PC representing his monthly fees from Burisma:

Salary: $70,000
Net pay: $39,000
Autopays (approx): $25,000
Remainder (approx.): $14,000

Hunter proposes paying Kathleen $10,000 on or about the 20th and he would retain the remaining $4,000.

2) Hunter believes a $60,000 "Romania" related payment may come in before the end of the January. Should that payment be received, Owasco, P.C. would pay out a bonus in the amount of $60,000 and there would be $34,000 remaining after taxes.

Bonus: $60,000
Net pay: $34,000

From that $34,000, Hunter proposes the following:

Dr. Giannini's bill is paid ($3,662)
$10,000 for Kathleen's retainers
$10,000 to Kathleen
$10,338 to Hunter

Therefore, of the possible $130,000 Hunter hopes to receive in January, Kathleen would receive $20,000 and Hunter would receive $14,338. And Kathleen's retainer and the bill for Dr. Giannini would also be paid. In addition, Lourdes is owed $1,380 that Kathleen promised Lourdes to help with her taxes. If Kathleen could pay that out of her $20,000 that would go a long way to chipping away at some outstanding debts.

Should any additional money come in above and beyond that $130,000, we will alert you to that ASAP. I can say, however, that any additional cash that becomes available will likely need to first be applied to debt/tax payments before being distributed out to the parties for their discretionary use.

3) There is not yet certainty as to what the February numbers will be at this point. We hope to have a better idea of that figure soon and once we do we can better ascertain how to handle February. I would note however, that in February, Hunter and Kathleen will have to begin a payment plan to pay the IRS which will impact the amount available for discretionary spending. In addition, while Hunter is no longer paying rent and utilities for his apartment, the apartment was rented by Owasco, P.C. and Hunter will need to dedicate a portion of future discretionary spending to pay Owasco, P.C. back for those costs and/or dedicate a similar amount of money to his own living expenses.

With the goal of operating in a fully transparent manner, every week a spreadsheet will be circulated demonstrating how all of the parties funds are being spent.

I understand that the majority of Hunter's belongings were removed from the garage at the marital home. Please confirm.

We trust this will be an agreeable way forward for the remainder of the month of January. We would like to turn our attention to developing a mutually agreed upon comprehensive settlement arrangement.

The proceeds from the illegal representation[808] were repeatedly discussed by Hunter and his colleagues,[809] who were "technically under contract [with POPOVICIU] [un[til] Sept[ember] [2017]." The proceeds from this contract were then used, in part, to pay Hunter's liabilities to the IRS. As was done with Manafort's conviction, the U.S. government is entitled to these funds (as they were illegally acquired) and any assets Hunter purchased with them.[810] Remember, Hunter was free to represent foreign principals—he merely needed to disclose that representation to the DOJ and he never did.

In 2013, your taxes reported $833,614 in income.

In 2014, your taxes reported $847,328 in income. (To be amended at $1,247,328)

In 2015, your taxes reported $2,478,208 in income.

2013 and 2014 were normal years where your income was based pretty much solely on income from Rosemont Seneca and Boies. In 2014 you joined the Burisma board and we still need to amend your 2014 returns to reflect the unreported Burisma income. That is approximately $400,000 extra so your income in 2014 was closer to $1,247,328.

The reason for the increased income in 2015 was that your income broke down as follows:

$166,666 from Burnham (for RSA)
$216,000 from Boies
$365,403 from Owasco (for RSA)
$300,000 one time payment from Eudora (for the 1/3 of CitizensRx)

The above represents all the cash you received directly.

In addition, you reported $1,000,000 of income that all went to RSB and you report $188,616 in income that also went to RSB. You didn't receive this in cash and it is in reality "phantom income".

So, of the approximately $2.5m in income you never really received almost $1.2m of it. (My numbers are approximate but you get the idea.)

Of the $1,300,000 in cash you received you had to pay $751,294 in taxes. Since you couldn't have lived on approximately $550,000 a year you "borrowed" some money from RSB in advance of payments.

FYI, in 2014 and 2015 you also had expenses beyond the norm because you renovated the house. Across 2014 and 2015 the renovation payments totaled approx. $200,000.

The numbers for 2016 haven't been finalized yet but you made at least the following:

$1,295,000 from Owasco, P.C. (representing Burisma and any Romania payments)
$216,000 from Boies Schiller

Unlike the prior years you actually received the above cash but the total income for 2016 won't be close to 2015.

Astonishingly, Hunter and his partners in the CEFC Energy grift also wanted to strike a deal with POPOVICIU over the same real estate tract in Bucharest that POPOVICIU was convicted of bribery over—Baneasa. Dubbed "Project Tiger" by Bobulinski and GILLIAR, the deal called for CEFC Energy and SinoHawk to co-own a company with Bladon Enterprises Limited, which was managed by POPOVICIU and owned by his mother, Ligia.[811] You will recall the aforementioned subpoena that JP Morgan received on 05/15/2019 from the Delaware U.S. Attorney's office listed Bladon Enterprises Limited (the prosecutor misspelled the name of the firm as "Bladen") as one of the fifteen companies that the U.S. government was supposedly investigating. Hunter was likely perturbed that MAGNANI's[821][822] assistant actually copied him and Cooper on her email to Secretary Foxx's aide. As evidence on the Biden Laptop made clear, Hunter preferred to orchestrate these FARA violations in a less-than-direct manner to maintain plausible deniability.[823]

I think a September date is best for the first meeting and it gives plenty of notice, unless you guys think it should be earlier. If Sept is ok, I will discuss with Miguel and come back with a few dates.

As far as and agenda/manifesto, I think we should try to keep it very simple. This is a global cooperation group that will assist each other in our respective regions in whatever manner possible. We can go deeper if you guys think we need to do so, but I think to start, the simpler the better.

I am up for doing all of the legwork to get this set up and rolling. Let's meet sometime soon to get it rolling.

Hunter worked with Joe's assistant, Kathy Chung, to arrange a private powwow between SLIM and the V.P. for 10/30/2015.[824] Just months before the meeting, Joe's brother, Jimmy, sent Hunter a characteristically frantic[825] and error-ridden email about SLIM: "Have a very real deal with Pemex[826] (Carlos slim)[827] need financing literally for a few days to a week. Have the seller (refinery /slims) and buyer major being [sic] delivered from pipeline in (h/ USA) Nothing is simple but this comes very close. As always the devil is in the detail! Chung's violations apparently did not create any risks for Joe, as Chung served[828] on his presidential transition team and is currently the deputy director of the protocol office at the DOD.

Another crime—unrelated to Mexico, but relevant considering the accomplices—involved Chung[829] again advancing Hunter's business interests by leveraging Joe's position. Chung sent to Joe via his secret alias email address (Robert.L.Peters@pci.gov) and Hunter—with his business email address ccd—a list of the personal[830] cell phone numbers of the most powerful people in the U.S. government. With a subject line of "See below. These are all cell numbers.," we can presume that Joe was working the phones after Beau's funeral and Hunter was expected to help. Based on subsequent emails, we deduced that these numbers were provided by the White House Situation Room directly to Chung, and then laundered to Hunter, a clear violation of federal regulations concerning the use of nonpublic information. The list from Chung[831] included former president Bill Clinton, a dozen incumbent and former U.S. senators and congressmen, along with multiple current and former cabinet secretaries.

Chung's loyalty[832] to Hunter and Joe has paid significant professional dividends. Chung followed Joe after he left the White House in 2017 to the "Biden Center for Diplomacy and Global Engagement" at the University of Pennsylvania. It is certainly a national embarrassment and severe OPSEC[833] threat for someone with Chung's judgment to occupy these sensitive positions[834] interacting with foreigners.

The most clear-cut example of Hunter's (unregistered) representation of his foreign principal, MAGNANI, was a bizarre afternoon email he sent while aboard Air Force Two: "Jeff [Cooper] is with me [Hunter] on [the] [p]lane[835][836] and [h]e will be with us all day [in Mexico City]." Hunter lamented about how, even though he had "delivered on every single thing [MAGNANI] ever asked," his favors were not being fully reciprocated. In fact, although Hunter "appreciate[d] you [MAGNANI] letting me stay at your resort villa," Hunter had done more for MAGNANI by bringing "every single person you have ever asked me to bring to the F'ing WHite House and the Vice President's house and the inauguration[.]"[837] Like a spurned girlfriend, Hunter was mad at MAGNANI's lack of communication: "I haven't heard from you since I got you a mtg [with Joe] for Carlos [SLIM] and your Dad [VELASCO]."

We are arriving late tonight on Air Force 2 to MX City. We will be there for Thursday - I'm attending meeting w/ President N w/ Dad. Jeff is with me on lane and we will be with us all day. Would love to see but you never respond . I am really upset by it. You respond when it's something you need. You are the most generous person I know but WTF. We have so many great things to do together and I want you at the plane when the the VP lands with your Mom and Dad and you completely ignore me. I've looked at what your family has done and want to follow in that tradition and you always say you will help but I haven't heard from you since I got you a mtg for Carlos and your Dad. We have been talking about business deals and partnerships for 7 years. And I really appreciate you letting me stay at your resort villa...but I have brought every single person you have ever asked me to bring to the F'ing WHite House and the Vice President's house and the inauguration and then you go completely silent - I don't hear from you for months. I don't know what it is that I did but I'd like to know why I've delivered on every single thing you've ever asked - and you make me feel like I've done something to offend you.

SERBIA

As previously mentioned, Vuk JEREMIĆ was called as a witness[838] in HO's money laundering and FCPA trial. HO, as noted, was convicted, but JEREMIĆ very well could have been sitting in HO's seat, as the contents of the Biden Laptop revealed. JEREMIĆ's connections were made possible by his position[839] as the minister of foreign affairs for Serbia from 2007 to 2012, and, afterwards, as the youngest president of the UNGA in history.[840][841] When not posing for photos with Hillary Clinton and "steering the UN towards the establishment of the 2030 Agenda for Sustainable Development," JEREMIĆ was busy receiving cash from YE and HO as a "consultant" for their CEFC Energy conglomerate.[842] This gap-toothed UN technocrat also introduced Hunter to the Serbian monarchy.

842 "Despite clear legal provisions Vuk Jeremić failed to report and seek approval from the Anti-Corruption Agency for the performance of commercial private activity while in public office at the UN for which he received a net salary of USD 8,000 per month from the Budget of the Republic of Serbia! As previously written by Antidote, Jeremić received a commission of USD 180,000 from PEMEX for his consultancy services, and 1.34 million USD from CEFC for the same service. … CEFC directly and through related companies paid additional 4 million USD to Jeremić's non-governmental organization."
See "[] Why Vuk Jeremić Received Millions," Antidot, December 2018, archive.ph/AnujF

Integral to JEREMIĆ's schemes[843] was his "charity" called the Center for International Relations and Sustainable Development (CIRSD).[844] Much like the CEFC NGO, CIRSD's mission statement was flowery but its operations were extremely murky. CIRSD enjoyed large "donations"[845] from shell companies with opaque paper trails. In fact, Archer and Hunter coordinated a $25k "gift" to CIRSD from one of Archer's shell companies (the aforementioned Rosemont Seneca Bohai LLC, which was used for laundering in for the Indian bond fraud). Emilio LOZOYA—who, like MAGNANI, was a Mexican businessman, fugitive, and Hunter's close associate—also leveraged Vuk's UN position.[846]

LIBYA

Hunter was cautiously determined to profit[852] from what Obama called the "greatest mistake"[853] of his presidency. Due to Obama's CIA-backed overthrow and death of Libyan dictator Muammar GADDAFI in October 2011, the country descended into utter chaos. Over $30B in assets held in Libya were effectively frozen, and these assets were unsurprisingly clawed at for years by a legion of lobbyists and foreign agents who offered their back-scratching services. This legion included a Saudi princeling named Mohammad al-RAHBANI, who had illegally contributed to Obama's second inauguration fund using a front man, Imaad SHAH ZUBERI. For these and other illegal contributions, ZUBERI was sentenced[854] in February 2021 to twelve years in prison. al-RAHBANI[855] wanted to hire Hunter to help recover his assets in Libya; Hunter's key qualification[856] for this monumental effort was his surname. al-RAHBANI's offers were mediated through two characters, one familiar and one new. The former is Sandweg, a NXIMV-affiliated lawyer who ran ICE for a short time, and the latter is Sam JAUHARI.

As noted, JAUHARI—a liberal donor with business holdings across the Persian Gulf—was spearheading the project for al-RAHBANI, another Obama donor who had connections to Boston. Despite Joe's foreign policy[859] mishaps, his keen interest[860] in Libya caught JAUHARI's eye.

Sandweg, too, conspired to violate the FARA by pitching Hunter—by virtue of his dad's position as the vice president—on the contract to unfreeze assets held in Libya. Given that Hunter's firm paid for one of Joe's iPhones and many other expenses, conspiracy to violate federal bribery laws (18 USC § 201) could be argued on the basis of Joe's material, pecuniary interests in the outcome of the contract. Sandweg[861]explained to JAUHARI: "I[862] spoke with HB's [Hunter's] team yesterday. They are interested in the project, but emphasized that for them to get involved, the team (lobbyists, lawyers and PR) would need to be a small group of folks they have a tight relationship with. They do not want a large group involved and they only want people with whom they have a close relationship with due to the sensitivities surrounding their involvement." These so-called "sensitivities" put other operatives in prison for years, including ZUBERI, who even co-hosted events with Hunter and Beau for Joe.[863]

UNREPORTED INCOME & GIFTS

The Bidens' financial affairs were akin to a messy pickup truck dashboard that required constant and careful intervention from Hunter's business partners, particularly Schwerin, and Joe's discreet taxpayer-funded[864] staff. To say that Joe has repeatedly lied about his knowledge and involvement with Hunter's businesses is not merely an opinion—the exhibits shown in the following pages proved that there was effectively one pot of money for the clan, and Joe was free to withdraw as much as necessary. Bear in mind that, both during Joe's vice presidency and immediately following his term, this family pot was filled by CCP-connected oligarchs with 3 carat diamonds[865] and other hucksters who had financial interests that Joe could influence. The family money pot was overseen by Walter Deyhle, whose name appeared on Joe's tax returns, which did not disclose all of Joe's income.[866]

To: <hbiden@senecaga.com>, "Eric Schwerin" <eschwerin@senecaga.com>

Hi Hunter and Eric,

I want to check in on these issues and to let you know where I think things stand:

1. 2008 Tax audit letter—I spoke to Walter yesterday to review what materials he will present and to review our rationale and reliance on IRS revenue rulings in determining that the VP was not required to pay self-employment tax. He will contact the IRS agent and present this information and report back to us.

2. 2009 returns—I asked Walter to confirm that he has all the necessary information or to let us know asap what he's missing. I also asked that he aim to send us a draft return by 4/29 and he said he should be able to meet that. Here is my anticipated schedule for proceeding:

March 29	draft returns from Walter to Eric and myself; I will give to WH tax counsel (who is also reviewing POTUS returns)
April 7	Tax forms are finalized; copies to Ron, Alan, Cathy, and OVP Communications for review
April 12	Conference call with OVP Counsel, OVP Communications, and Walter on any outstanding questions from OVP Communications;
April 13	OVP counsel works with WH New Media to ensure proper scanning and redacting of personal information
April 15	Returns mailed to special POTUS/VPOTUS address. Returns made public

Walter Deyhle
archive.ph/gE6XI

3. University of Delaware Deed—I will give the VP the memo on status today (attached here) that outlines the issues we think should be addressed. The University is hoping that this can be signed, sealed, and announced in May, which is ambitious. Even if this gets pushed back, I know they are hoping for progress soon, and given the nature of the issues we have, I anticipate the negotiations will take some time. We need to finalize who will take the lead on this as his personal attorney. I would like to meet the first week in April to hammer out answers on the open issues. Can you let me know your thinking on this?

Thanks.

Talk when you land but if I miss you (I am headed to dinner):

1) Did Anne Marie tell you about the car. It is not ready - won't be ready until Tuesday. You can get a rental tomorrow from them or make do over the weekend (you'll be away Monday and Tuesday).

2) I have three tix for you, Finn and Maisy for the soccer game tomorrow night. Last email you were thinking of taking them but then Kathleen said you probably wouldn't. I never got to FedEx them back to Robbie. So, I can give them to you if you want to go or I can bring them with me tomorrow night and give them back to Robbie. Sorry - too much indecision and I was dealing all afternoon with JRB's taxes (but solved a big issue - so it was all worth it).

Talk tonight or tomorrow.

Schwerin controlled bank accounts that were capitalized by Hunter's firm (which was funded, in part, by foreign oligarchs). These accounts—with Schwerin as the front man—were used to pay bills, large and small, for "JRB" [Joe].[867] Schwerin wrote and deposited checks on behalf of Joe, with at least one of the bank accounts being held at Wilmington Trust, a notoriously corrupt bank in Delaware.[868]

FYI, there a few outstanding bills that need to be paid and I am not sure which ones are a priority and which should get paid out of "my" account and which should be put on hold or paid out of the "Wilmington Trust Social Security Check Account".

There is about $2,000 extra in "my" account beyond what is used for monthly expenses. I could probably pay #2, #3 and then #4(d) now (and possibly #4(a)) and then let me know if there are few we can pay from the Wilmington Trust account.

1) FYI, your annual workers compensation premium came due (for your household employee) and I had to pay that on May 28th. That was $632.

2) Fran Person is owed $436.80 for things he paid for on your trip to Arizona and Madrid

3) We have your first bill for your new line of credit from the Senate Credit Union, which is $383.10 a month. I assume you want me to have this deducted from your salary automatically. If so, it is will obviously be $383.10 less a month into the household bill account.

4) There is are a number of Mike Christopher bills outstanding: a) $1,239 for repairs to the A/C in Mom-Mom's cottage (this is from last summer, I think and needs to be paid pretty soon.) b) $1475 to Ronald Peacock for back wall and columns at the Lake house c) $2600 to Earle Downing for a stone retaining wall at the Lake d)$475 for shutters from RBI Construction

5) There is an outstanding bill for $969.29 to Kiawah Island for your golf, etc that you played there last August. To be honest, we've tried to call them a few times to pay but they haven't gotten back to us.

Finally, I wanted to discuss the rental income you are going to receive for leasing out Mom-Mom's cottage. Since this counts as income we should hold a little back to be able to pay the taxes at the end of the year. If you want to have it deposited into my account, I can hold back a portion and deposit the remainder into the Wilmington Trust account. Wanted to discuss what your thoughts were on that.

Your Dad's Delaware tax refund check came today. I am depositing it in his account and writing a check in that amount back to you since he owes it to you. Don't think I need to run it by him, but if you want to go ahead. If not, I will deposit tomorrow.

Mike has a pretty good draft of this done. Does it make sense to see if your Dad has some time in the next couple of weeks while you are in DC to talk about it? Your Dad just called me (about his mortgage) and mentioned he'd be out a lot soon and not really back until Labor Day so it dawned on me it might be a good time (also he could use some positive news about his future earnings potential!).

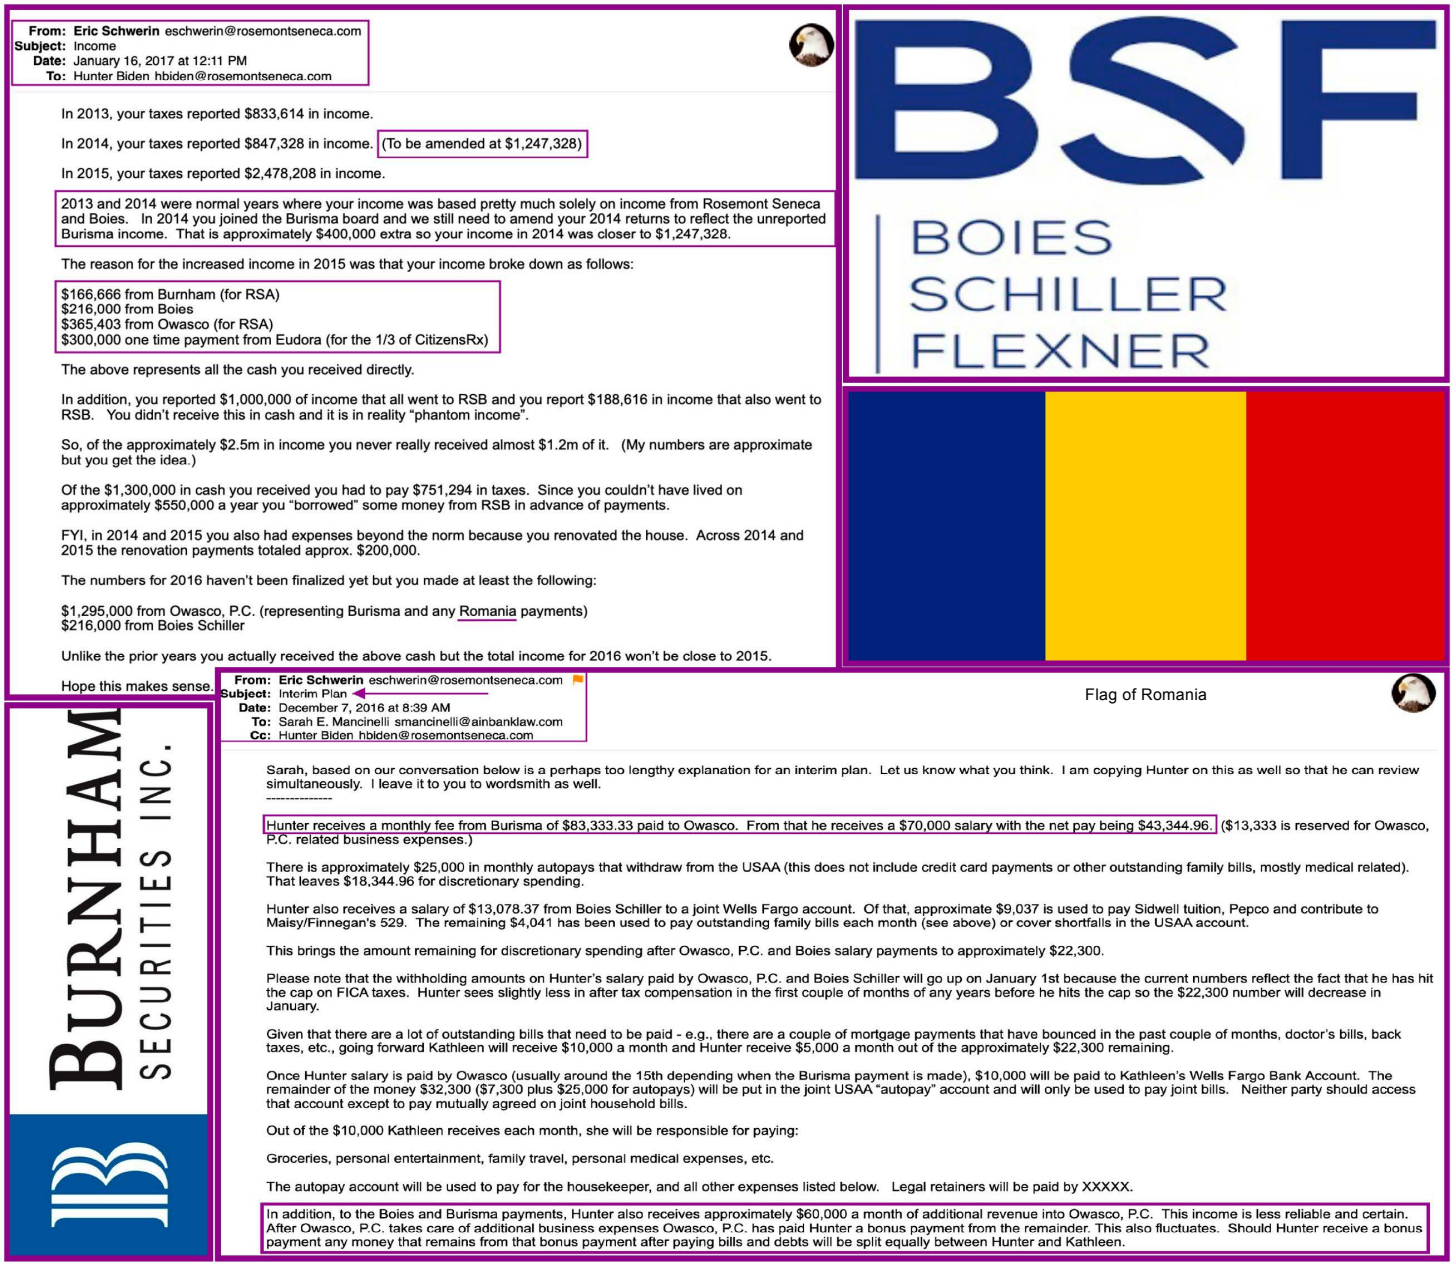
Along with pulling in a $216k annual salary for a no-show "Of Counsel" position at the firm which represented Seth Rich's[870] brother, Hunter evaded taxes on "approximately $400,000" of "unreported Burisma income" in 2014 because Hunter "couldn't have lived on approximately $550,000 a year[.]"[871]



From: Eric Schwerin eschwerin@rosemontseneca.com
Subject: Income
Date: January 16, 2017 at 12:11 PM
To: Hunter Biden hbiden@rosemontseneca.com

In 2013, your taxes reported $833,614 in income.

In 2014, your taxes reported $847,328 in income. (To be amended at $1,247,328)

In 2015, your taxes reported $2,478,208 in income.

2013 and 2014 were normal years where your income was based pretty much solely on income from Rosemont Seneca and Boies. In 2014 you joined the Burisma board and we still need to amend your 2014 returns to reflect the unreported Burisma income. That is approximately $400,000 extra so your income in 2014 was closer to $1,247,328.

The reason for the increased income in 2015 was that your income broke down as follows:

$166,666 from Burnham (for RSA)
$216,000 from Boies
$365,403 from Owasco (for RSA)
$300,000 one time payment from Eudora (for the 1/3 of CitizensRx)

The above represents all the cash you received directly.

In addition, you reported $1,000,000 of income that all went to RSB and you report $188,616 in income that also went to RSB. You didn't receive this in cash and it is in reality "phantom income".

So, of the approximately $2.5m in income you never really received almost $1.2m of it. (My numbers are approximate but you get the idea.)

Of the $1,300,000 in cash you received you had to pay $751,294 in taxes. Since you couldn't have lived on approximately $550,000 a year you "borrowed" some money from RSB in advance of payments.

FYI, in 2014 and 2015 you also had expenses beyond the norm because you renovated the house. Across 2014 and 2015 the renovation payments totaled approx. $200,000.

The numbers for 2016 haven't been finalized yet but you made at least the following:

$216,000 from Boies Schiller

Unlike the prior years you actually received the above cash but the total income for 2016 won't be close to 2015.

Hope this makes sense.

Sarah, based on our conversation below is a perhaps too lengthy explanation for an interim plan. Let us know what you think. I am copying Hunter on this as well so that he can review simultaneously. I leave it to you to wordsmith as well.

Hunter receives a monthly fee from Burisma of $83,333.33 paid to Owasco. From that he receives a $70,000 salary with the net pay being $43,344.96. ($13,333 is reserved for Owasco, P.C. related business expenses.)

There is approximately $25,000 in monthly autopays that withdraw from the USAA (this does not include credit card payments or other outstanding family bills, mostly medical related). That leaves $18,344.96 for discretionary spending.

Hunter also receives a salary of $13,078.37 from Boies Schiller to a joint Wells Fargo account. Of that, approximate $9,037 is used to pay Sidwell tuition, Pepco and contribute to Maisy/Finnegan's 529. The remaining $4,041 has been used to pay outstanding family bills each month (see above) or cover shortfalls in the USAA account.

This brings the amount remaining for discretionary spending after Owasco, P.C. and Boies salary payments to approximately $22,300.

Please note that the withholding amounts on Hunter's salary paid by Owasco, P.C. and Boies Schiller will go up on January 1st because the current numbers reflect the fact that he has hit the cap on FICA taxes. Hunter sees slightly less in after tax compensation in the first couple of months of any years before he hits the cap so the $22,300 number will decrease in January.

Given that there are a lot of outstanding bills that need to be paid - e.g., there are a couple of mortgage payments that have bounced in the past couple of months, doctor's bills, back taxes, etc., going forward Kathleen will receive $10,000 a month and Hunter receive $5,000 a month out of the approximately $22,300 remaining.

Once Hunter salary is paid by Owasco (usually around the 15th depending when the Burisma payment is made), $10,000 will be paid to Kathleen's Wells Fargo Bank Account. The remainder of the money $32,300 ($7,300 plus $25,000 for autopays) will be put in the joint USAA "autopay" account and will only be used to pay joint bills. Neither party should access that account except to pay mutually agreed on joint household bills.

Out of the $10,000 Kathleen receives each month, she will be responsible for paying:

Groceries, personal entertainment, family travel, personal medical expenses, etc.

The autopay account will be used to pay for the housekeeper, and all other expenses listed below. Legal retainers will be paid by XXXXX.

In addition, to the Boies and Burisma payments, Hunter also receives approximately $60,000 a month of additional revenue into Owasco, P.C. This income is less reliable and certain. After Owasco, P.C. takes care of additional business expenses Owasco, P.C. has paid Hunter a bonus payment from the remainder. This also fluctuates. Should Hunter receive a bonus payment any money that remains from that bonus payment after paying bills and debts will be split equally between Hunter and Kathleen.

Hunter and Walker flew down to Miami to meet with YE on Valentine's Day in 2017, as YE was in town for the International Boat Show.[872] After their dinner, which Hunter arranged under the false pretense of YE donating to the World Food Program USA, the Chinese tycoon gave Hunter a 3.16 carat diamond.[873] Because Hunter was going through tense divorce settlement negotiations, this rock was indeed a fortuitous potential source of liquidity; however, Kathleen found out and her attorney sent a curt email—with a "Biden - Urgent" subject line—to Hunter's attorney: "Hunter is in possession of a large and extremely valuable diamond. Given his [Hunter's] recent dissipation of more than $100,000 from his TD Bank account while the family's debts remain outstanding, we are concerned he will dissipate this asset as well. Please provide proof that the diamond has been placed in a safety deposit box – accessible only by both parties together – by noon tomorrow or we will have no choice but to ask the court, on an emergency basis, to enjoin his further dissipation of assets, including the diamond." Interestingly, Hunter's attorney modified the email that was sent to her before forwarding the email to Hunter by excising the portion about his dissipation of $100k from the TD Bank account.

Hunter directed his attorney to lie, as her response to Kathleen's attorney demonstrated: "There is no diamond in Hunter's possession. I don't know where Kathleen is getting access to this information, but on this score, what your email purports below is inaccurate." Hunter certainly did not declare the approximately $80k rock[874] as income, and he has also provided no proof about where it ended up.

This email is really problematic on a number of levels. Without wasting any more time on this, let me just put Kathleen's concerns to rest.

There is no diamond in Hunter's possession. I don't know where Kathleen is getting access to this information, but on this score, what your email purports below is inaccurate.

I am sending you a separate email in response to the email you sent me earlier this week.

Kathleen was not bluffing about her demands, and the now-infamous diamond from YE actually made its way into her divorce filings amidst lurid (and truthful) accounts of Hunter's "drug use and infidelity" which caused the couple to "bounce[] three checks to their housekeeper." Kathleen's court filings also revealed Hunter's lie[875] that he returned the diamond to YE, as Hunter later contradicted.[876]

The Biden Laptop contained multiple photos of the 3.16 carat diamond, which were taken with an iPhone 6s on 03/11/2018 at 39.776900, -75.615100 (coordinates which correspond with Hallie's home in Delaware). Kathleen would likely find it ironic that the diamond in dispute during her divorce proceedings with Hunter—that he denied possessing—was still in his possession over a year later at the home of her sister-in-law (with whom Hunter was having an affair during the divorce proceedings).

MOTION TO ENJOIN FURTHER DISSIPATION OF MARITAL ASSETS

Plaintiff, Kathleen Buhle Biden, files this Motion to Enjoin Further Dissipation of Marital Assets in light of the Defendant, Robert Hunter Biden, dissipating hundreds of thousands of dollars of marital funds during the parties' separation. The parties now have significant debt and limited assets, due to Mr. Biden's dissipation of assets, and Ms. Biden requests an order to prevent further dissipation of the remaining marital assets and the expected marital income of Mr. Biden. In further support of her motion, Ms. Biden respectfully states as follows:

FACTUAL BACKGROUND

1. The parties hereto separated on or about October 2015, due to irreconcilable differences concerning Mr. Biden's conduct, including drug use and infidelity.

2. Mr. Biden's income has been the sole source of funds to support the family throughout the entirety of the parties' marriage. The family's finances are handled through Mr. Biden's office, which is tasked with paying recurring bills from the parties' joint USAA transferred money to himself from an account solely in Ms. Biden's name (which the bank later reversed). His spending rarely relates to legitimate family expenses, but focuses on his own travel (at times multiple hotel rooms on the same night), gifts for other women, alcohol, strip clubs, or other personal indulgences.

9. On or about February 17, 2017, Ms. Biden learned that Mr. Biden was in possession of a large diamond, on information and belief worth approximately $80,000. When Ms. Biden, through counsel, asked Mr. Biden to place the diamond in a safety deposit box accessible only to both parties together, Mr. Biden, through counsel, denied possession of the diamond. See attached Exhibit A. Mr. Biden now admits, through counsel, that he was in possession of a diamond, but asserts that it has been returned to the entity that gave it to him.

10. The parties' outstanding debts are shocking and overwhelming. The parties have maxed-out credit-card debt, double mortgages on both real properties they own, and tax debt of at least $313,970. The parties' have bounced three checks to their housekeeper, and It's really hard. But don't worry[—]unlike Pop[,] I won't make you[878] give me half your salary."[879] Indeed, according to his own son, Joe insisted that Hunter cough up half of his earnings. Based upon the decades of tax returns that he released as a member of the U.S. Senate, and then as the V.P., Joe illegally received these hefty payments[880] from his second son.

The illegal financial arrangement[881] between Joe and Hunter that worked for 30 years was flipped around, however, when Hunter blew through his millions[882] from YE on women and drugs. Dodge, Hunter's assistant, and Joe's aide-de-camp, Richard Ruffner, set up a process whereby most of Hunter's bills—hundreds of thousands of dollars in state and federal back taxes[883] for unreported income and legal fees[884] for the restructuring of his Chinese fund, BHR—were to be paid by Joe.

Hello Hunter. Did you call Sloan?

FYI. Naomi is asking if she can pay her credit card. It's $2100. She has your personal account for payment. I don't think there is $2100 available.

BACKDATING FINANCIAL DOCUMENTS

Hunter's handling of paperwork and record retention practices required constant intervention from Schwerin and his other business partners. Hunter did not properly classify—or, in several cases, pay taxes on—certain income. Schwerin attempted to rectify these situations, but his actions were illegal in some cases. For instance, Schwerin conspired with Hunter to submit backdated documents to the SEC, IRS, FINRA, and other regulators—a clear violation of federal statutes and regulations.[885]

In April 2016, Schwerin conspired with Hunter's longtime accountant, the late Bill Morgan, to backdate an agreement concerning Hunter's taxable income from Burisma. The conspiracy involved an aforementioned shell company, Rosemont Seneca Bohai, which Schwerin referred to as "another entity." One of Hunter's attorneys, Levinson, again raised concerns about the legality of the actions.

Bill-

Per our conversation yesterday will you include an additional $744,170 in income for Hunter for 2015?

This income includes 10 payments of $55,555 a month which reflect his Board fees for service on the Burisma Board of Directors. As I mentioned, he was actually paid $83,333 a month but ou of that paid $27,778 a month to a third party as a "finders fee" for placing him on the Board. That amount was paid by another entity. We defer to you how best to capture that. If you include the $27,778 as income to Hunter before the expense of the finders fee the total would be $1,021,946.56.

In addition, this income also reflects a $188,616.56 payment to Hunter from Rosemont Realty. I have attached a note from Rosemont Realty's tax adviser on how they believe the payment should be treated - that is, as a capital gain.

Hunter will be able to pay his extension payments for 2015 and his 1Q estimate for 2016 on the 18th as originally prepared. We are working to see if he'll have the cash available for these additional new payments but it would be great to know how much we need.

Also, can you assume Hunter will make a full $53,000 SEP IRA payment in your calculations?

We will also prepare a letter from Hunter to Owasco, PC in which he assigns his Board payments to Owasco PC starting in November 2015.

Eric, Understood.

That agreement should formally "memorialize" the assignment that was agreed to and in effect by the parties as of that earlier date but should be signed with a current date. It should also recite that the parties agree and acknowledge that Hunter will still treat those assigned Board fees as income to him even though the assignment authorizes their actual transmission to Owasco by Burisma.

One other FYI as far as documents we need going forward. Our CPA advised that Hunter needs to sign an agreement with Owasco, P.C. that effective November 1, 2015, he (as an employee of Owasco, P.C.) agrees to assign all Board of Directors fees he receives to Owasco, P.C. We can prepare that so we have it for the file. With this document our CPA will then have a basis to allow the payments from Burisma to go to Owasco, P.C. and not to Hunter directly.

In January 2019, Schwerin—with the help of Dodge, whose husband[886] just so happens to be a former bigwig in the SEC's enforcement division—conspired to backdate an agreement with Hunter, acknowledging that the SEC could actually start doing its job if they waited any longer: "By next week it would be great to get a handshake agreement effective 12/31/18 that I will give up my interest in BHR in exchange for you giving up your interest in the BD [broker dealer]. … Because the BD is regulated by FINRA and the SEC we are both exposing ourselves to potential issues if we continue to leave this in limbo and we will lose any flexibility on when we can make this agreement effective."[887]

Subject: Agreement Timing - NEXT STEPS

Hunter,

I wanted to circle back and make sure we are all aware of some of the issues we will quickly encounter if we don't come to some conclusion on our agreement ASAP.

For a number of time sensitive reasons we need to at the very least come to an agreement on the high level structure. As it relates to the BD, we want to have an agreement that is effective as of 12/31/18 for tax purposes among others.

Most pressing, RSPI is currently undergoing its annual audit for 2018 and we need to inform the auditors about any potential structural changes. This audit will be finalized and submitted to the SEC in the next 3-4 weeks.

In addition, there is a capital contribution due for RSPI in the next couple of weeks and we don't want to make those contributions via Skaneateles so we can avoid having to file a joint 2019 Skaneateles return that reflects transactions related to RSPI.

By next week it would be great to get a handshake agreement effective 12/31/18 that I will give up my interest in BHR in exchange for you giving up your interest in the BD. We can deal with putting it into a written agreement and some of the smaller issues in the coming weeks after that. I don't think the smaller issues are great and shouldn't take much time regardless. But at least we can start operating under the new structure when we have the handshake agreement.

Because the BD is regulated by FINRA and the SEC we are both exposing ourselves to potential issues if we continue to leave this in limbo and we will lose any flexibility on when we can make this agreement effective.

Copying George and Katie as well so everyone is in the loop and on the same page.

UNITED STATES v. GALANIS et al.

When	Where (Venue)	Who (Accomplices)	What
07/15/2014—01/16/2017	S.D.N.Y.	Devon Archer, Jason Galanis et al.	17 CFR § 240.10b-5(c) & 18 USC § 371

Hunter was deeply involved in the acquisition of a company that stole at least $43M from pensioners and Native Americans, even though Hunter was the only one in the upper cadre of the company who was not indicted.[888] The company was called Burnham Financial Group, and the illegal scheme was straightforward but certainly not easy. The group 1) purchased—and thereby gained control of—two registered investments advisors (RIAs), namely Hughes Capital Management and Atlantic Asset Management, and 2) used funds under the control of those RIAs to purchase[889] junk bonds issued by Native Americans, namely the Wakpamni Lake Community Corporation (WLCC) of the Oglala Sioux tribe. The management of the company then pocketed the proceeds from the sham bonds.[890] Peter Schweizer recounted—based on publicly available documents—how critical Hunter was to the execution of the deal: "In the closing arguments at the trial, one of Devon Archer's defense attorneys, Matthew Schwartz, explained to the jury that it was impossible to talk about the bond scheme without mentioning Hunter Biden's name: 'Mr. Archer responded to further questions. They [the board] wanted to know about this too, and one of the reasons—by the way, it was perfectly sensible—was because Hunter Biden was part of the Burnham team. You remember that. You saw on that Teneo slide deck[891] he was going to be the vice chairman. You heard testimony that he was in the office. Mary Moynihan from the [] board told you they had questions about his commissions and how much he was going to bring in in terms of clients. He was part of this deal.'"[892] The standard defense by Hunter—and his mouthpieces in the media—was that his name was invoked without his knowledge to provide "legitimacy"[893][894] for the tribal bond issuances. Unsurprisingly, the contents of the Biden Laptop told a completely different story, conclusively proving that Hunter was an integral part of the conspiracy.[895]

The bonds purchased by Archer and others were then used to meet net capital requirements at two broker dealers in which Archer and others had interests … millions of dollars in bond proceeds from the first and second issuances were used finance the acquisition of companies which the defendants … acquired as part of a strategy to build a financial services conglomerate, which Archer expected to control."

Jason Galanis[896] was the ringleader of this band of illicit[897] financiers, but Archer's role[898] as suave rainmaker was critical. Archer introduced Galanis and the other partners to Serbian royalty (Alison ANDREWS, the daughter of Crown Princess Katherine)[899] and a corrupt[900] Russian oligarch named Elena BATURINA, the wife of the former mayor of Moscow, in an effort to raise funds for Burnham.[901]

HUNTER WAS INVOLVED IN THE CONSPIRACY

Based on his indisputable paper trail, Hunter would not be able to use the now-infamous (and Biden family favorite) phrase that his uncle Jimmy spouted off with Bobulinski: "plausible deniability."[902][903] In addition to Joe's "union relationships"[904] and the "direct [presidential] administration pipeline" that Hunter provided, he was consulted on the fraudulent bond scheme and called it "a great plan." Archer conceded, however, that he and Galanis didn't "actually want Hunter [to be the] CEO of anything."

i didnt put all the investor type protectioni n this like drag along tag along, antidilution or preemptive rights. we'll get to that. any investor would.

i wanted to focus on the "other currency" we are bringing to the table....direct adminstration pipeline.

maybe we should also note to them that Burnham just raised $48 milion for the Native Americans. proven capital sourcing?

maybe we should also remind of HB's dad's union relationships to justify the ask??

Burnham & Co:
Diversified Financial Platform

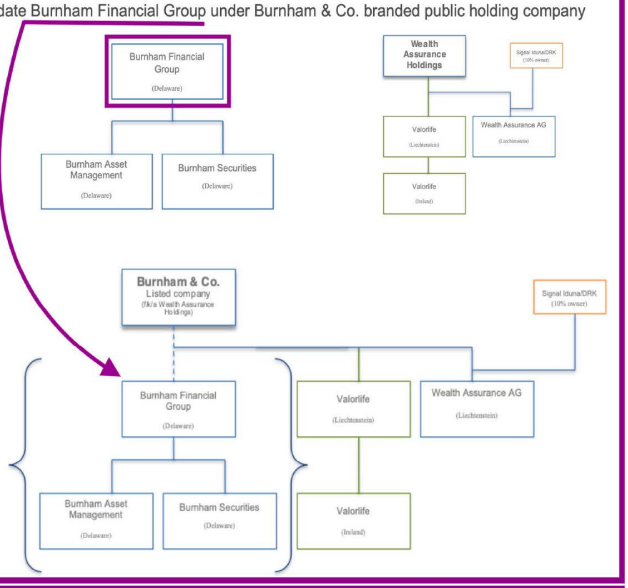
BURNHAM

Guggenheim Partners Model

- Burnham & Co. is one of the most globally recognized names in finance
- Founded in 1935 by Wall Street legend IW "Tubby" Burnham
- Burnham acquired Drexel in 1974 and in 1976 acquired a division of Groupe Bruxelles Lambert to form Drexel Burnham Lambert
- Drexel Burnham Lambert dominated the global investment banking league tables, financing some of the now most iconic global companies in the world
- In 2013, COR Fund Advisors (controlled D. Archer) entered into a deal to acquire 100% of Burnham as part of a succession plan for Jon Burnham (now 79)
- Acquisition objective of COR is to reestablish Burnham globally
- Guggenheim Partners business model is the framework of the Burnham plan
- Leverages renowned established finance brand name and combines strengths of securities underwriting, trading, and M&A advisory capabilities with fee based businesses in asset management, and the asset gathering efficiencies of insurance

Listed Holdco Structure

- Consolidate Burnham Financial Group under Burnham & Co. branded public holding company



- COR Fund Advisors and COR International investments are owned independently
- Boards have evaluated value proposition of combining businesses under public HoldCo
- Financial rationale is compelling
  - Substantially larger balance sheet
  - Diversified income base – fee and transactional
  - Geographic expansion and diversification reduces risk
- Strategic rationale is persuasive
  - Consolidated Burnham financials are strong
  - Optics matter to win banking business in M&A advisory and IPO underwriting
  - Existing Chinese investor in COR Fund Advisors (Cathay Kylin International Investment Holding Group ("Kirin") from Chaoyang District, Beijing)
  - High profile institutional Chinese investor like Harvest Global would enhance profile
  - H. Biden broker dealer tuck-under enhances relationships
  - Thorton Group strategic alliance enhances Asia facing deal flow
- Combined enlarged Burnham is immediately eligible for NYSE or LSE official from the Bermuda Stock Exchange

Low Risk Exposure to Insurance Trade

- Our business model is inherently less risky and return on capital is greater principally based on two factors:
  - Company does not assume any balance sheet risk with our insurance products
  - Company is more capital efficient than traditional insurance companies as a result of its approach to portfolio risk
- Regulators require substantially less capital to support a larger in force policy base because of the unit-linked structure

Hunter was bccd on an email from Archer to Galanis[907] and the other partners that described concerns from one of their main investors, ZHAO Xuejun "Henry."[908] ZHAO was "confused on how we [could] pull it all off," but Archer conceded that they had "given the disclaimer [to ZHAO] that this is some very creative thinking[.]" ZHAO's confusion was well-founded, as the group's so-called "creative thinking" was just a cover for a massive financial fraud, which drove Archer to lie to his bankers about the source of the funds used to purchase the tribal bonds.[909] Archer even sent an article to Hunter about the tribe[910] they ripped off: "This is one of the tribes we're approaching for financing. Gentlemen,
I just wanted to connect everyone via email in this working group as we have a fast paced turn around of dd documents in front of us for Harvest.

To recap we had a call this morning with Henry Zhao, Chairman of Harvest Global. He's shown strong interest in the concept. He's both enthusiastic to move forward but also still confused on how we pull it all off. We have given the disclaimer that this is some very creative thinking so he will have patience in the process as long as we move fast and smart.

Very rough work plan (to dos):
1. Audited financials - Burnham, WAH, Valor (JG to send
2. Appraisals - WAH & Valor (JG to send)
3. Org Chart summarizing and framing three entities and how they would fit together. (JG to send. Steps 1-3. should be in one email with 6 attachments if possible so it's easy for Henry and Lindsay to digest.)

4. Burnham business plan - (AG to send latest to this working group to get Thornton guys up to speed)
5. Burnham org chart. - (AG to send latest to working group / even in draft form and whatever was created for BIT)

We need to get 1-5 together and out today by end of day today. We are scheduled for another call on Thursday at 9am est and we would like to stick to that schedule.

Next things to think about:
6. Transaction timeline (creating a milestones chart)
7. Ownership structure of Burnham/WAH/Valor pre and post transaction
8. Ours and Harvest's controls, blocking rights, etc
9. Transaction Term sheet
10. Legal docs

Thank you, Devon. Just a few more follow up questions as our Compliance group is very thorough..

Can you provide the name of the packaging deal? Who were they compensation from?

Also, can you confirm they were purchased at $0.01 par? Do you have any documentation showing the purchase?

Best,
Catharine

1) shares were part of compensation for packaging deal
2) I think they were purchased at $0.01 par
3) not restricted

1) Burnham Financial packaged the issuance of which I am a shareholder
2) $15mm was generated through sale of real estate

FLKM
1) How were these shares obtained? We know they were transferred here from Interwest, but how did they get to Interwest?
2) On the form you indicated that the shares were free – were they a form of compensation, etc?
3) Were these shares ever restricted?

Native Americans: The Tragedy of Alcoholism

Native Americans of the Pine Ridge Indian Reservation near Whiteclay, Nebraska, have filed a $500-million lawsuit against beer manufacturers for the devastation that alcohol has wreaked on their community for decades.

The Oglala Sioux Tribe said the extraordinary sum they are asking for would be used to pay for health care, social services and child rehabilitation.

Henry,

It was great to catch up with you and discuss the Burnham business in detail last week in New York. I hope having Jason Sugarman and Andrew Godfrey explain the business and how it will all work together was informative.

I believe that the cross-border M&A business will continue to pick up in intensity and that is where we can all be useful.

As Devon mentioned at lunch, Burnham has brought in Deloitte to work up an independent valuation of Burnham now that the European acquisitions have been completed. The next step for us is to provide the Deloitte material to you by the end of December. Devon intends to include a Draft Term Sheet to you so that we can have a discussion about details of a transaction should you have an interest.

I know Devon and Jim will be in Beijing in early January that might be a good time for another meeting to discuss this matter and determine a path forward.

Please do not hesitate to call me if I can be of any assistance.

Regards,

Hunter

#1. That you heard from me that Henry is planning a trip to the US in the next few weeks to meet the Burnham team and that you look forward to meeting him when he is here.

#2. That you are very keen on getting the Harvest/Burnham platform set up and moving forward, as we discussed this summer in Beijing we can all work together to take advantage of the cross border deals that we all see are really heating up.

Before the Burnham group moved into their new offices on 57th Street in Manhattan, Hunter made sure to get his generous benefits package set up on ADP's website portal. So, not only was Hunter operationally tied to the scheme, but he was also administratively locked in, which begged the question: Why wasn't he indicted? Hunter's activities violated 18 USC § 371, among others. Derek Galanis, the younger brother of the mastermind behind the fraud and a noted "Gambino [crime family] Assoc[iate]" by the U.S. Bureau of Prisons, offered this sober explanation to Marco Polo: "Given the unfortunate circumstances of my upbringing, I am keenly aware of what merits conviction for the typical American. Hunter's name wasn't just used in documents next to Archer[919] and Sugarman.[920] Hunter was ccd on numerous emails and wrote emails on behalf of the conspiracy. Hunter raised money from the Chinese and was set to offload his broker-dealer under the Burnham umbrella. He was not just guilty by circumstance; Hunter was guilty in four or five separate ways. Why was Hunter not indicted? Government misconduct—period. For the typical American, it would not matter which details of the conspiracy he or she knew. The typical American would be in the custody of the Bureau of Prisons right now. The bottom line is that we have a two-tiered 'justice system,' and it must end."

Less than two months before his partners were indicted, Hunter emailed ZHAO about how he was "glad to hear that we have concluded our joint venture between Harvest[921] and Burnham." Harvest had sunk $4M into the ill-fated venture. In addition to BHR, Fran Person—Joe's loyal and longtime aide-de-camp—was another connection Hunter shared with ZHAO and the Chinese financial elite.[922] In fact, Zuberi, the aforementioned felon, said Person was an "adopted son to [the] VP [Joe.]"[923][924] Unsurprisingly, Person made these Chinese connections after he left Joe's office in August 2014.[925]

Henry-
I am so glad to hear that we have concluded our joint venture between Harvest and Burnham. This is an exciting milestone and I look forward to helping building a cross border institution that helps investors in our respective countries across the globe.

Thank you for all your leadership in getting this joint venture done. You and your team- particularly Ming- have been great to work with. I have no doubt that this working relationship will continue as we go forward.

Just two days before Hunter sent the foregoing email to ZHAO, Tejal Shah from the SEC issued an extremely wide-ranging subpoena which would have covered Hunter's email to ZHAO. Either Hunter did not truthfully respond to the subpoena, or the prosecutors in the S.D.N.Y. willfully overlooked his involvement in the conspiracy. Perhaps due to his guilty conscience, Hunter contacted Archer's attorney, Matthew Schwartz, about "coordinat[ing] with the same team representing Devon[.]"[926]

I received a SEC subpoena for any information I have related to the situation Devin is dealing with. I don't have any relevant information that I know that of, but I wanted to coordinate with the same team representing Devon if that is appropriate. Let me know how to proceed. Thanks, Hunter

Two weeks later, Hunter met with two attorneys in his D.C. office to "discuss [the] subpoena" issued by Shah, who is currently the "principal advisor on matters involving the Division of Enforcement" at the SEC.[927] Hours after his meeting with the attorneys, the waters parted for Hunter and he scored a one-on-one discussion with Obama in the Oval Office. Hunter's cover story was perfect, too: his meeting with Obama occurred after a White House reception that he attended in the East Room.[928]

Even though Schwerin indicated that there were a number of "issues that the SEC and DOJ [were] concerned with" regarding Hunter's role in the conspiracy, those concerns went precisely nowhere. Mesires, Hunter's legal fixer, conveyed the government's numerous (and polite) inquiries in an email with a subject line of "Government questions[.]" If we assume Hunter responded truthfully (which is, indeed, a significant assumption), then the only conclusion is that the prosecutors failed at their job.[929]

Please contact Nick or Mike as soon as possible if this is a concern.

Eric, another way to get the records may be to contact hunter's bank and see if they can run a report of incoming wires. It would be a discrete report and obviate the need for us to produce bank statements, which is something we are tying to avoid.

George/Mike-

Hunter and I talked briefly this morning and feel good with where we are on the taxes and the narrative regarding that. We will work with our CPA and with Dennis, the RSB CPA, to make sure that Hunter extension filing on Monday reflects income from Burisma and Rosemont Realty in 2015. In addition, we will begin the process of amending the 2014 returns to reflect the Burisma payments from 2014.

Given that I will be out of the country starting Monday we wanted to make sure any time we spend between now and the 20th focused mostly on the main issues that the SEC and DOJ are concerned with - the emails, proof of payments out of RSB and talking points for your proffer - and not let ourselves get overly bogged down in the minutiae of tax issues that might not even come up in the immediate. We feel like we have a good story to tell there and have a good handle on that now.

Hunter is tied up in some meetings this morning but if you want to discuss further or think prioritizing this way doesn't make sense we are both around this afternoon to talk.

Thanks for all your help on all of this.

Not only was Hunter compensated by Burnham to the tune of $166,666 in 2015 alone, he was also going to be its Vice Chairman had the "roll up" occurred and law enforcement refused to step in. When Hunter's band of attorneys suspected that an indictment was coming down the pike for Archer and the other[930] partners, they considered whether Hunter should "disclaim" his "Vice Chairman" title.

In 2013, your taxes reported $833,614 in income.

In 2014, your taxes reported $847,328 in income. (To be amended at $1,247,328)

In 2015, your taxes reported $2,478,208 in income.

2013 and 2014 were normal years where your income was based pretty much solely on income from Rosemont Seneca and Boies. In 2014 you joined the Burisma board and we still need to amend your 2014 returns to reflect the unreported Burisma income. That is approximately $400,000 extra so your income in 2014 was closer to $1,247,328.

The reason for the increased income in 2015 was that your income broke down as follows:

$166,666 from Burnham (for RSA)
$216,000 from Boies
$365,403 from Owasco (for RSA)
$300,000 one time payment from Eudora (for the 1/3 of CitizensRx)

The above represents all the cash you received directly.

It took two years for Archer[931] to actually go to trial; weeks before the opening arguments, he sent an iMessage to Hunter: "What's the latest and greatest? Gearing up to start trial [on] the 22nd. Give me a call when you're free. [I] [w]ant an update[.]" Hunter expressed no sympathy for Archer and instead accused him of not being generous: "Man you have no idea and buddy I know you're in the shit but mother fucker you fucking have not given me even a niblet of a prospect of hope from let's see (KZ [Kazakhstan] - Jeff [Cooper] - RF.) I gave up my salary from BS [Boies Schiller Flexner LLP] half [of] the other [from Burisma] that's cut in half [because Joe was no longer the vice president] and while you were smart enough to marry someone [Dr. Krista Ammirati Archer] with a little drive to make cash I gave away 85 cents of every dollar last year and I'm literally running out of run way. … Oh[,] by the way —— [the] guys you're up against are all over me along with[] 6 of their overseas counterparts and the NYT[,] WSJ etc.…" Three days later, Devon asked Hunter if he planned on "coming back east for my trial at all? It would be important and love to see you if you can." Hunter curtly responded: "No[.]"

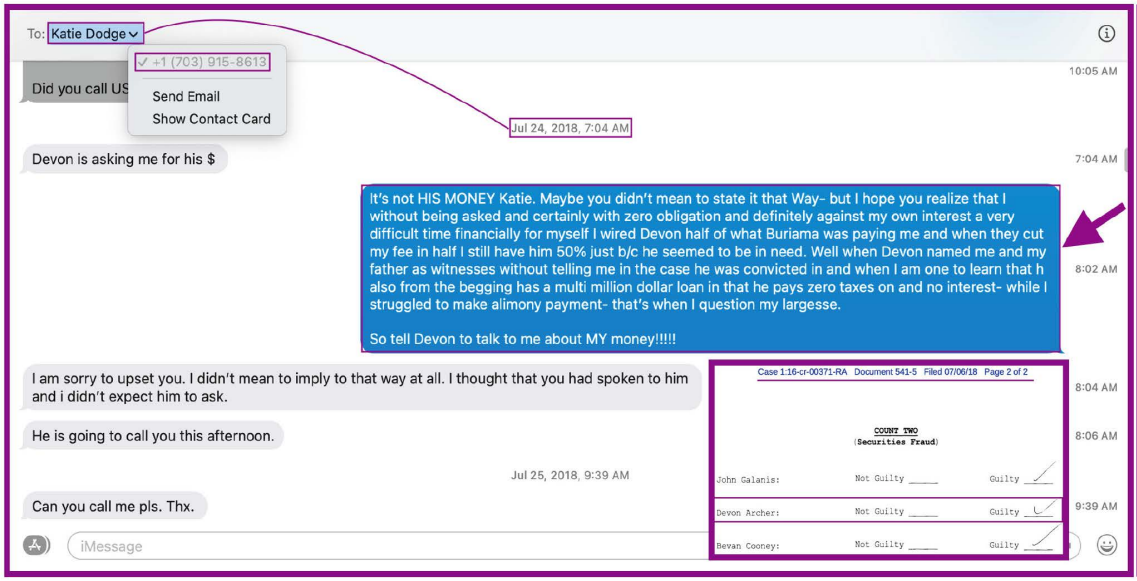
Two months passed, and Hunter was still steaming over Devon's behavior. Hunter complained to his assistant (whose husband, as noted earlier, was previously[932] an assistant director in the enforcement division at the SEC) that Devon[933] made him "question" his "largesse" because Archer named Joe and Hunter as potential witnesses[934] in his trial and, according to Hunter, Archer did not tell them. Hunter aired those grievances to his lady friend/prostitute in a now-infamous audio recording.[935]



Even though Archer was convicted by a jury of his peers who deliberated for a mere 3 hours following a six-week trial, the Obama-appointed S.D.N.Y. judge named Ronnie Abrams granted Archer a new trial. Archer sent Hunter an iMessage on 11/15/2018: "The judge [Abrams] threw out my conviction today." The pResident's son responded: "Thank fucking god! First good news in way too long[,] my friend. … I know it[']s been a living hell … Motherfuckers … I swear to god we'll have the last laugh."

The Second Circuit, however, reversed the Abram's ruling in October 2020 and reinstated Archer's fraud conviction.[936][937] Unsurprisingly, Archer petitioned[938] the SCOTUS to review the Second Circuit's reversal, but the court did not[939] grant Archer's petition, so, Abrams—whose husband[940] Greg Andres[941] just happened to be an Obama DOJ appointee and prosecutor on Robert Mueller's Special Counsel team—was put in the awkward position of sentencing a defendant[942] to whom she granted a new trial. Nevertheless, Archer was sentenced to one year and one day in prison in addition to a $15M forfeiture bill, which he is appealing. Joe has likely been approached for a pardon or, at least, a commutation.[943]

III. SEX-RELATED CRIMES

The sex-related crimes on the Biden Laptop were not so-called "victimless crimes." The international human trafficking and pimp networks[944] that Hunter patronized[945] need to be exposed and will hopefully, in time, be stomped out. The receipts in this section are provided not to shame anyone but Hunter and Joe. The pimps need to be outed so that law enforcement has no excuse but to finally do their job. In addition, the following section was written to prove—once again—that the "Public Statement"[946] from former spooks and bureaucrats on 10/19/2020 was pure election interference. The despicable people who authored that "Statement" did the exact thing they accused imaginary Russian hackers of doing: spewing lies and false statements in order to influence the outcome of an election.

As stated previously, the Biden Laptop was akin to a 3,000-piece puzzle. When the puzzle box was opened, we realized that there were many pieces missing. However, a few pieces were so-called golden nuggets—pieces that, once put into their correct position, made constructing the rest of the puzzle much easier. The chief endeavor of this Report was the exposure of crimes committed by the pResident's family; as a consequence, Marco Polo's standard for inclusion was two pieces of direct evidence. Consequently, this high standard made sections III & IV shorter than what they might have otherwise been. We believe that this high standard strengthened the Report; as an example, the screenshot below from one of Hunter's bank statements, "Checking2RHB.numbers," contained crimes that were not chronicled in this section, but, without photos or another paper trail, we could not definitively state the "5 Ws" about the crimes. Nevertheless, from the plethora of $800 to $2,000 ATM withdrawals and email receipts on the Biden Laptop, the conclusions became clear. Wells Fargo and many other financial institutions hold these receipts, so authorities should send subpoenas to them.

945 Many of Hunter's transactions in this criminal enterprise occurred in cash. Nevertheless, from electronic transfer receipts alone, Marco Polo can state with certainty that Hunter spent more than $150,000 on sex-related crimes over a four-year period. As a reference point, the annual real median personal income in the United States in 2020 was $35,805.

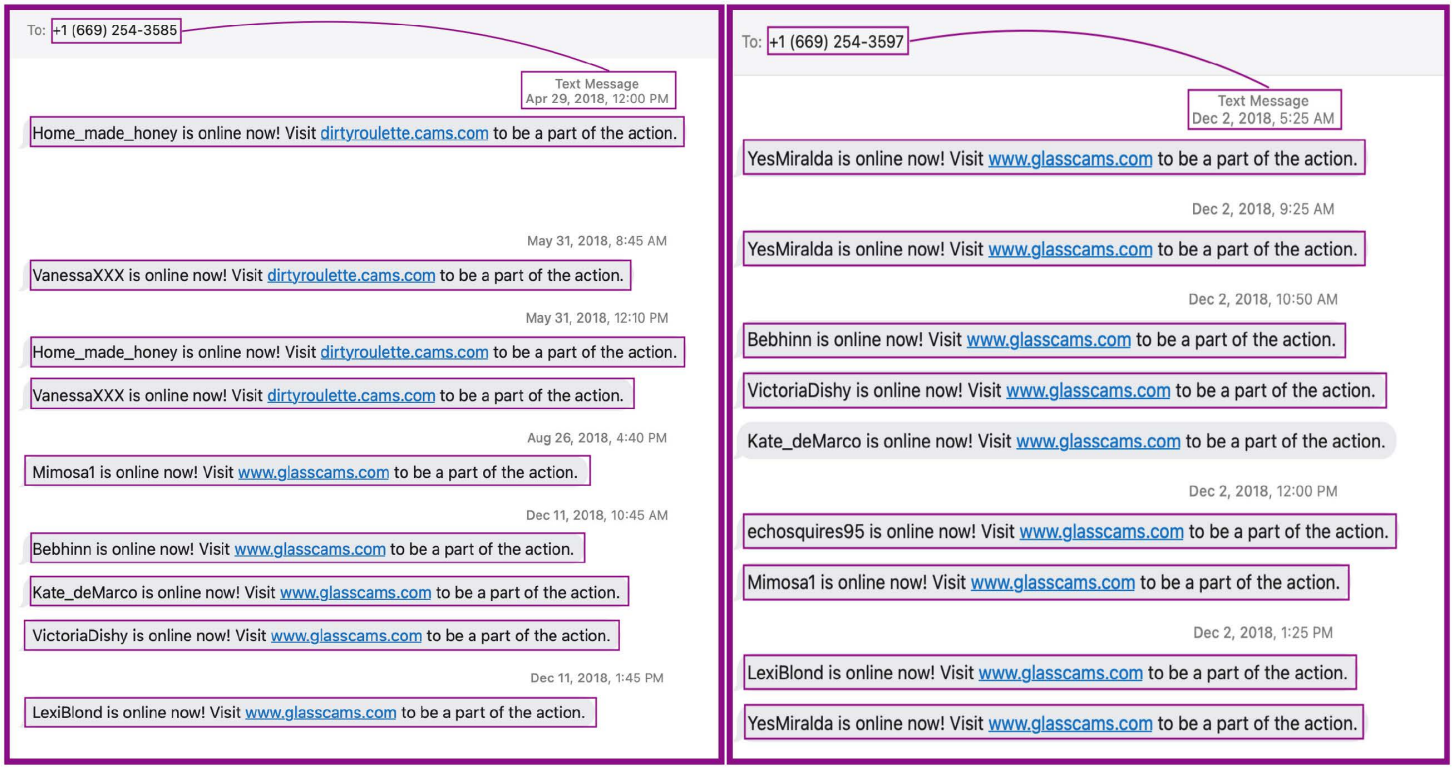
Hunter's addiction to "webcam" sites[947] fueled his sex addiction. Based on his voluminous Internet browser history, emails, and text messages, Hunter began many evenings by patronizing women on these webcam sites and proceeded to solicit prostitutes on his own accord or through his network of pimps. For the purposes of illustrating this fact, shown below was a mere sample of text message subscription services which alerted Hunter if particular females signed into these webcam sites.



Hunter was proud of his sexual conquests[948] and human trafficking exploits, and he set his username on multiple[949] websites to mirror Genghis Khan's birth name: "Temujin"[950] and "temujin01."[951]

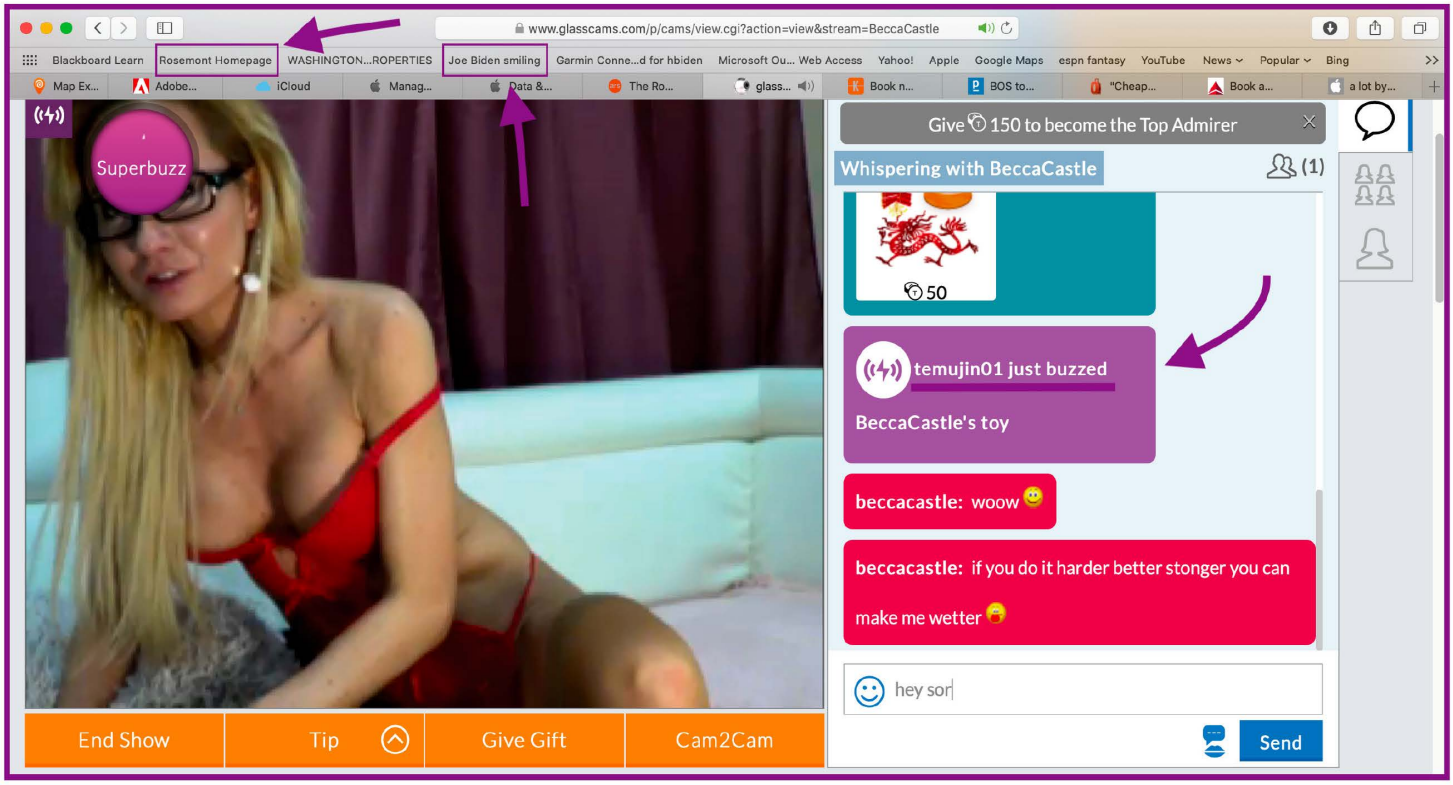
Hunter loved to take screen shots and screen recordings[952] (oftentimes zooming[953] in by performing the control + scroll function on his laptop keyboard) while he engaged in these "webcam" chats, presumably so he could masturbate to the lurid material afterwards. Below were two such examples:

- During a session with "beccacastle"[954] on glasscams.com, Hunter, via his username "temujin01," repeatedly "buzzed" the female and "tipped" her with "tokens." Take notice of the arrows pointing to the "Rosemont [Seneca] Homepage" and "Joe Biden smiling" bookmarks on Hunter's web browser.



Screen Shot 2019-01-27 at 12.45.29 PM

- During his session with "Taliya"[955] on cams.com, Hunter—via his username "temujin01"—told the female that "I like yours [body] more" and subsequently turned around to take a hit of crack cocaine.

Hunter's pornography addiction was certainly exacerbated by the milieu of his hometown. Wilmington was ranked[956] third in the nation for pornography consumption, a fact which his associate praised: "I'm proud to see reports that Wilmington residents still have their priorities in order … I still have my Dad[957] pay for my Internet Bill and Usage so technically I'm also still contributing to our success."

There seems to be a very strong concentration of viewing on "A " Street and the strongest signal the executive Offices of Wes Schwandt. I am proud we are in the top 5 in the country. In something other than High Profile murder cases, ponzi schemes, Bankruptcy. I am thinking we should have a parade to celebrate!!! Yes I do contribute to this ranking!!! I will point out that it does not bode well for our ranking in Attractive Women.

Hunter also spent lavishly on pornography websites; his credit card would often get declined. He then would change the card on file for the website to another card associated with his Owasco business accounts which, as you read earlier, were full with cash after his illegal representation of HO Patrick.

[960] "Women in the commercial sex industry are expected to perform acts that are physically and emotionally damaging. A study of 854 women from nine countries showed that 47% had been harmed by men who had either forced or tried to force them to do things that they had seen in porn. Traffickers benefit from porn films and men who desire to live out a fantasy at the expense of innocent women. In fact, sex traffickers use porn as a training method. Women who are forced into the sex trade are shown what they should expect and how they should behave with a man. The viciousness that lives within a sex trafficking venue is disheartening, but it is something that should be discussed. Only by coming to terms with the reality of sex trafficking will we understand the urgency to combat it. … Some may purchase commercial sex due to sex addiction, which is defined as 'engaging in persistent and escalating patterns of sexual behavior acted out despite increasing negative consequences to self and others.'"

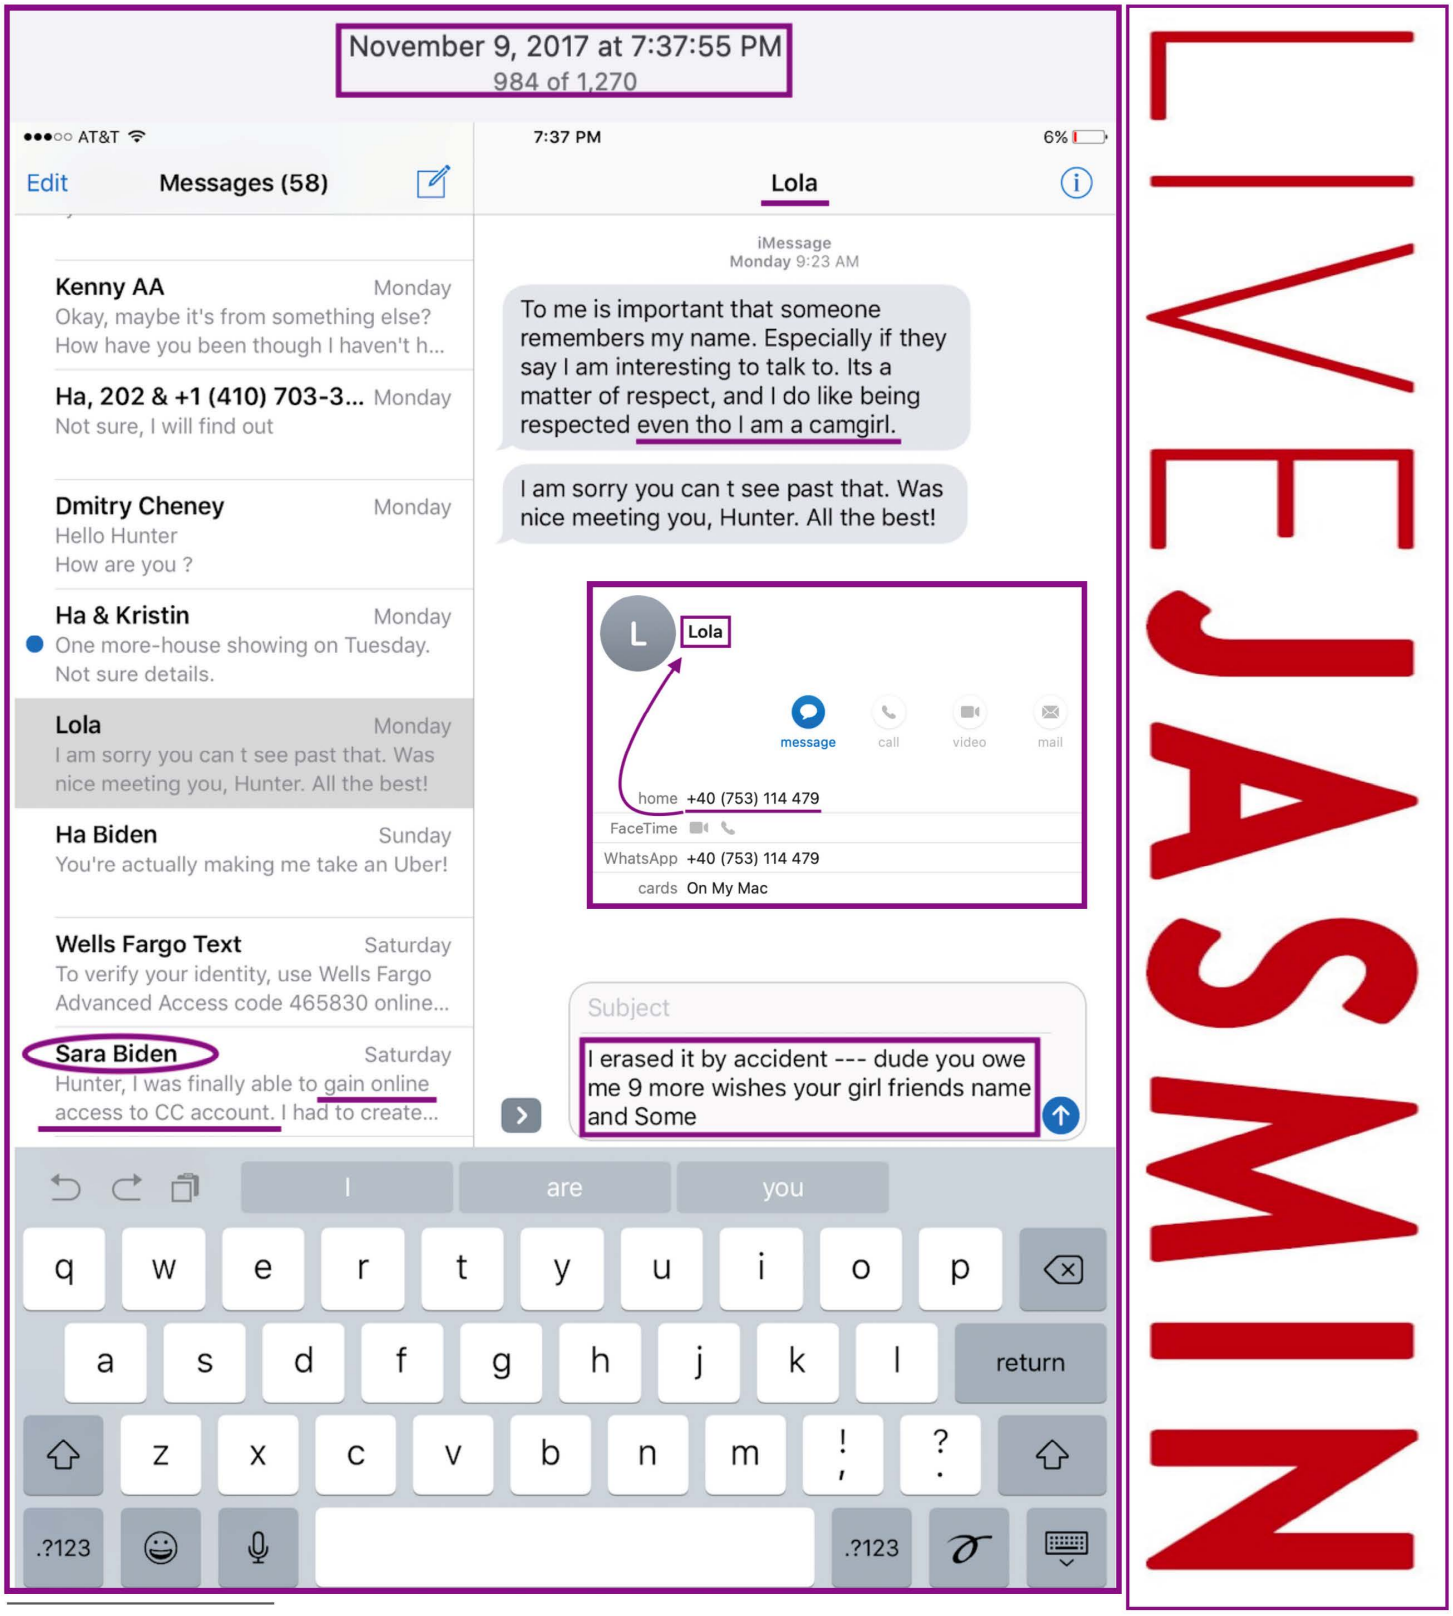
961 NOTE: The table contains only those transactions for which confirmed receipts were stored on the Biden Laptop.

962 "This video shows Hunter Biden online sex chatting with a stranger, then putting lubricant on his body and touching himself … This is what the Democratic presidential candidate, Joe Biden, refers to as an excellent and innocent son!" See "Online Naked Chatting! How Perverted Can Hunter Biden Be?!," GNews, October 2020, archive.ph/wjiza

Hunter's patronage was international—one particular Romanian[963] female made such an impression on him that, even though Hunter forgot her name during a session, he entered her number into his contacts application. Hunter said she was "interesting to talk to" but he forgot her name "by accident."



963 "The webcam industry also does its best to entice young women into the business. … Now she works in sex work prevention - talking to young women about her experiences, and trying to persuade them of the danger of video chat." See Linda PRESSLY, "Cam-girls: Inside the Romanian sexcam industry," BBC, August 2017, archive.ph/ERRLd

With those disbursements in mind, consider that Hunter was stiffing Kathleen's parents [Roberta and James Buhle, shown below] for over a year, which led to Kathleen sending the following email: "My parents[']] payment should be considered a priority. … Simply looking at your spending is enough for any judge to be disgusted. If you don't settle we will be forced to go to court and embarrass the girls with what you've done." As you read earlier, the couple did embarrass their daughters—and, to some extent, the nation—with their divorce settlement. In response, Hunter accused Kathleen of spending extravagantly on wine from Postmates and at her gym, Solidcore. Hunter was also behind on his payments to their foreign-bon maid, Lourdes Bueza, and their family dentist, Dr. Eugene Giannini.

I have not used your TD account. I did withdraw from our USAA account because I saw that you had been withdrawing money at ATMS in Delaware. I thought we had agreed that you would use your TD account and I would use the Wells Fargo - but you also seem to be using the USAA for non-bills.

As for additional payments, for example, medical, if we can't afford to pay medical bills than I suggest we sell our cars, all of them, in order to settle our outstanding bills. My parents payment should be considered a priority. It is $450 a month and the idea that it isn't being paid is wrong on every level. If we are living above our means because medical and dental can't be paid - then that's pretty terrible.

Settle the divorce and allow me to live within my means, pay my bills on time and never have to deal with you or Eric regarding finances ever again.

I am beyond frustrated with your alternative facts regarding our finances. Simply looking at your spending is enough for any judge to be disgusted. If you don't settle we will be forced to go to court and embarrass the girls with what you've done.

I have tried everything. Contractual separation, mediation, using the same lawyer, everything. I have said over and over and over again that I want to handle this quickly and kindly to respect the marriage and family we had.

I don't want to hear about how you two pay the bills. I don't care about your business. I just want a fair settlement so I can plan my future and finances.

Not sure how you want to respond, but as a reminder, of the money that you received in salary from Owasco on the 20th of this month the majority of this money went to pay your "autopays" and per the agreement between your attorneys the remainder was split $10,000 for Kathleen and $4,000 to you. That list of autopays was shared with Kathleen's attorney and has been the same list we have been operating off of for the past two years at least.

> The agreement was that no other bills could be paid until and unless you received additional compensation. This included payments to Dr. Giannini and Kathleen's lawyer and accountant. It also includes any payments to Kathleen's parents, Lourdes and other doctor bills (Kathleen asked earlier this week if Dr. Skelsey had been paid as an example).
> Joan and I are happy to pay any additional bills but the only available money with which to do so would have to come out of the $10,000 that went to Kathleen or the $4,000 that went to you. Or there would have to be a decision to not pay one of the autopays (however as those are essential payments that would not be advisable).

PROSTITUTION & HUMAN TRAFFICKING

When	Where (Venue)	What
04/05/2017ff	N.D.N.Y.	18 USC § 1952(b)(i)(1) & NY PL § 230.00

When Hunter visited the Finger Lakes (where his mother grew up), he utilized multiple online pimp services, according to a screenshot on his iPhone. The area is a hotbed[967] for human trafficking.

967 "'People should be aware this is happening in our community,' Phillips said. In fact, 20 minutes into Phillips's first human trafficking training session she realized she had served individuals who were victims of human trafficking, but since little was known about it at the time, their cases had been misidentified. … Human trafficking is similar to domestic violence and often times victims can't, or won't, speak out, Phillips said. There are signs to look for that could indicate an issue, such as a teen who is a repeat runaway or one who has multiple cell phones. … 'They aren't physically imprisoned, they're psychologically imprisoned,' she said."

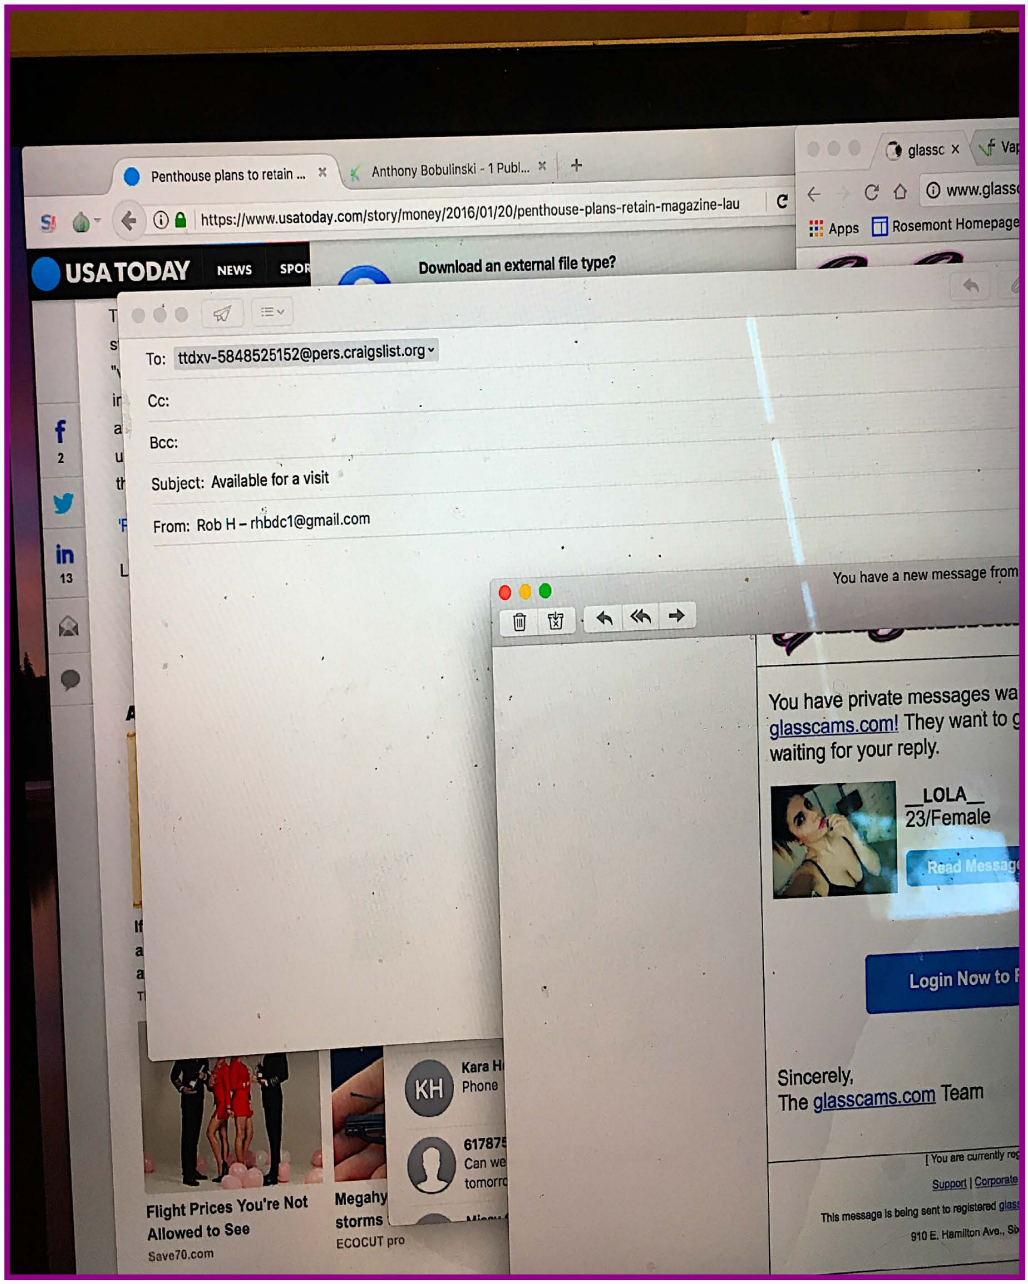
With an email subject line of, "Available for a visit[?]," Hunter, while in Maryland, conspired to solicit a prostitute using a tool of interstate[968] commerce: Craigslist. Interestingly, there was also a tab open on Hunter's Internet web browser for an online background check service for Tony Bobulinski.



968 "The company says it made the change because Congress has passed the Fight Online Sex Trafficking Act, meant to crack down on sex trafficking of children. … Until 2009, Craigslist had a section of the website called 'erotic services,' where people openly advertised sex. That year it changed the name to 'adult services' and promised stricter screening, after a medical student in Boston was accused of killing a woman he met through the site[.]"

Shortly after posing naked with a female who "was fucking" him, Hunter paid for her first-class flight to visit him. When asked by Marco Polo about her interactions with Hunter, the female[969] said that he was "just a strip club customer," even though the pair's conversations were voluminous and varied, including multiple photos and videos of the female's daughter—as well as intimate moments at home.

Taking after his father's signature[977] move, Hunter sniffed his prostitute's neck. Just hours before the encounter, Hunter withdrew $2,000 from an ATM, so his paper trail was limited. Less than two months after these photos were taken, his uncle Jimmy sent a gushing email about how Hunter was a stellar guy: "Everyone loves you, but who in this F[ucked] up family has treated you with respect … Enough is enough, start thin[king] of [H]unter. I sick and tired of you not being asked . You continually try to help. Everyone loves you, but who in this F up family has treated you with respect. You give and give and, the question on everyone's lips is " how is hunter". What the hell, what do people expect of you.
I am saddened for our entire family! I'm saddened beyond belief. By trying to mend our broken family, you have put yourself in a corner. Enough is enough, start thing of hunter. Stop beating yourself up. A finer person I have never met. There is a way out, honoring you principles, but having some happiness in hunters life. I don't know the answer, but know one thing, I'm here to try to help you figure this out. I'm not trying to make you think there is a simple solution. Let me try to help you figure it out. I love and most of all respect you. Uncle Jim

Hunter obfuscated the reason behind his payments to prostitutes and pimps; on the payment application (Venmo, Zelle, etc.) or wire transfer memo line, he concocted excuses[978] in an attempt to cover his digital tracks. For example, Hunter paid a 32-year-old female[979] $750 for "Babysitting."

During his crack and sex benders at the hotel, Hunter and the female engaged in a wide variety of activities—he took many pictures of his penis and asked the female to take pictures of him smoking. While sporting a Star of David[981] necklace, the female snapped several pictures of Hunter balancing a remote[982] on his semi-erect penis, with a screenshot from his iPhone corroborating his location.

Utilizing his "Rob" alias, Hunter unsuccessfully solicited a female—through her pimp—at 3:29 AM while he camped out in his bungalow at the Chateau Marmont. Later that morning, at 10:17 AM, a "Lauren" who identified herself as "Elle's assistant" responded with a "prescreen[ing]" question. The pimp's email signature included a web address of www.elleolivier.com (which, at one time, was affiliated with www.escortremedy.com, a "Premium Ireland Escort Agency"), highlighting the international trafficking networks that Hunter patronized. Law enforcement should note that a web search confirmed that the female[983] is, to this very day, advertised by her pimps as a prostitute in Los Angeles. The female also maintained a profile[984] on preferred411.com, a website which facilitated the Larry Ray sex cult in New York—the cult ensnared Claudia Drury, who was tortured by Ray.[985]

Less than an hour later at 4:18 AM, Hunter—utilizing his alias of "Rob"—unsuccessfully solicited a female to his room at the Chateau Marmont. About thirty minutes after the solicitation, Hunter left his hotel room, walked to a Wells Fargo ATM just three blocks away on Sunset Boulevard (34.097877, -118.364049), and withdrew $800. Afterwards, Hunter purchased just over $100 worth of iPhone applications dealing with burner phone numbers, as the email receipt from the purchases denoted:

Four minutes later at 4:22 AM, Hunter—again utilizing his "Rob" alias—unsuccessfully solicited a female[986] to his hotel. Later that morning at 7:00 AM, the female's pimp—who identified herself as "Patricia's Assistant" and a "retired provider"—responded to Hunter with pricing details, explaining that Patricia "hosts from Glendale and her rate is 500" or the female could "come to you for a slightly higher rate to cover travel." The pimp also included a photo of the female in her response to Hunter.

Hi Hun.. I am Patricia's Assistant, Teee. I am a retired provider. I assist with scheduling and screening when she is busy, on vacation, or asleep, etc. :)

She is available.. If today or tonight, what time did you have in mind?

She hosts from Glendale and her rate is 500.. Patricia can also come to you for a slightly highter rate to cover travel.

If not today then she is available tomorrow and going forward..

What days and times work for you?.. give me a couple of options if possible..

The following week, Hunter solicited a female to his room at The Jeremy hotel: "Are you available now[?] West Hollywood upscale Hotel for 3 hours?" However, despite his father's vast[987] experience[988] with Hollywood, Hunter apparently could not figure out how to navigate the city's online pimp and prostitute portal at the (now-defunct) website, hookupescortgirl.com. Hunter became discouraged and did not respond to the female's emails. More degeneracy abounded later in the week: Akin to Inception, Hunter snapped a photo of a screenshot he had taken during a pornographic video that he had filmed with his laptop's webcam as an unidentifiable object hung from his mouth.

Hunter mistakenly overpaid a prostitute[989] and her Russian pimp. Chaos ensued. Believing his first attempt was unsuccessful, Hunter kept sending money to the pimp and the grand total ended up being approximately $25,000. Within hours, a former[990] SS Special Agent-in-Charge (SAIC) of the Los Angeles Field Office evidently ran interference[991] for Hunter. After getting calls from "DC" "every 10" because the conundrum was "linked to Celtic's [Joe's] account," the former agent became extremely persistent and eventually gained access to Hunter's hotel room. It is unclear what authority he—and another retired SS agent[992] who previously protected Joe named Dale Pupillo, who stated to Marco Polo that he was not involved in the incident—possessed to force the front desk personnel at The Jeremy hotel to give them the key to Hunter's room. Presumably to handle the fallout of Joe's finances being used to pay a Russian sex trafficker, Hunter tried to access an account that the Bidens inexplicably controlled at secure.login.gov. Within hours, the foreign pimp, who is also the former agent[993] for the LA-based operation Emerald Fantasy Girls Inc., sent $500 back to Hunter via Zelle.

For the next two weeks, Hunter exchanged messages with the pimp[994] and sought to acquire the money he inadvertently overpaid to her. By 06/08/2018, Hunter was "so sick of" the ordeal[995] that he threatened the female by saying that it would be the "last time [he'd] ask" for her to return his cash.

Back at the Chateau Marmont, Hunter apparently engaged in a threesome and sent money to the females via Apple Pay, Zelle, and bank wire transfers. One of the females, who grew up in a small town near the Wisconsin-Illinois border, was listed in Hunter's contacts application under a male name as "Andrew Boshop."[1004] Hunter sent the other female ("Oxana Russki")[1005] just $500.[1006]

The following day, Hunter gave blunt instructions to Michael Damien Elisaldez, a wannabe music producer[1014] and Hunter's partner[1015] in the now-defunct[1016] Biden Enterprise, LLC: "[F]ind 3 smokers [and] get a suite[.]" Hunter also alluded to "the girls" who met up with them at the hotel suite. In addition to helping Hunter surreptitiously record his calls with Hallie Olivere Biden, Elisaldez had a long rap sheet: narcotics[1017] arrests, outstanding[1018] warrants, contempt of court, nonpayment of child support, and hefty judicially-imposed fines. Even though numerous federal tax liens were placed on Hunter and his other businesses, Biden Enterprise, LLC inexplicably managed to secure a loan for a home outside Vegas; the home faced foreclosure and was sold to a man named George Trump.

Hunter enjoyed one female so much that he circumvented her pimps and paid her directly, but the female warned him to not "tell" the "agency," as she feared reprisal. Hunter said that her pimps were "not very nice." On second thought, the female[1019] confessed that he could not solicit her again to a hotel[1020] without her pimps' oversight: "I can't come without them" even though Hunter had "a credit."

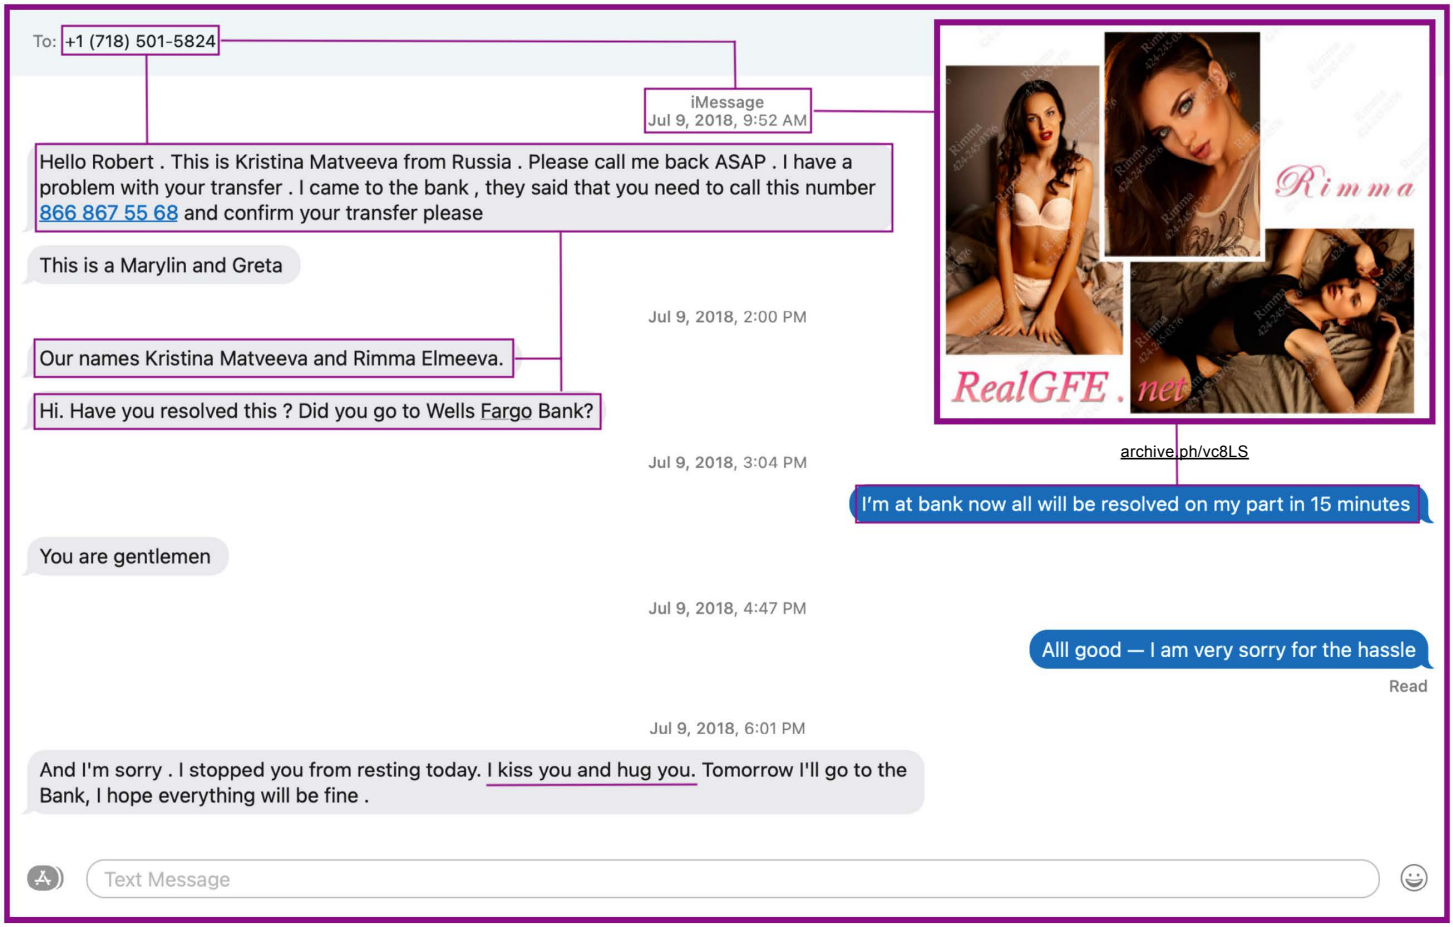
Hunter took care of a payment issue involving two Russian prostitutes[1021] and his longtime bank. One of the females laid it out: "Hello Robert . This is Kristina Matveeva[1022] from Russia . Please call me back ASAP . I have a problem with your transfer ." She also urged him to call Wells Fargo customer support.[1023] Hunter assured her that "all will be resolved" and that he was "very sorry for the hassle[.]"



Although the iMessage exchange did not reveal the exact dollar amount, Hunter's bank statements on the Biden Laptop revealed that he had sent $800 to the female on 07/05/2018, represented by a line item on a document entitled, "rhb-112-11-2017-12-11-2018Checking2." Given the four-day period between the line item and the iMessage exchange, it is reasonable to assume that Wells Fargo deemed the payment suspicious and thereby required an extra layer of confirmation from Hunter.

Later that week, the female[1043] organized a drug session for Hunter and others in "room 814" at the "Casino Tower" where he was staying: "I got stuff for you[,] m[other]f[uck]er. I wanna smoke."[1044]

Hunter was up bright and early in the morning when he stayed "in Carpinteira [sic] [California] at the Best Western." He solicited a female and inquired if she[10451046] was "available for 1-2 hours now?" This hotel chain has been a hotbed[10471048] for pimps and human trafficking throughout the country.

Hunter again conspired with Ukrainians, but this time it had nothing to do with energy policy. Indeed, this escapade featured a female[1049] who Hunter met in New York City. She iMessaged him out of the blue and he wasted no time: "You can Face time me and remember how incredibly hot I am." He then paid for the female's first-class flight from New York City to LA: "I'm going to be naked and ready."

Hunter did not know the female's full name, although he arranged a "limo" ride for her to his hotel.

When all was said and done, the female[1050] asked Hunter for a different type of compensation: Instead of transferring the thousands of dollars he apparently owed her, he could buy a new luxury handbag; her current bag was "broken" and the "some bag" she sought was just "2,010$ [sic][.]"

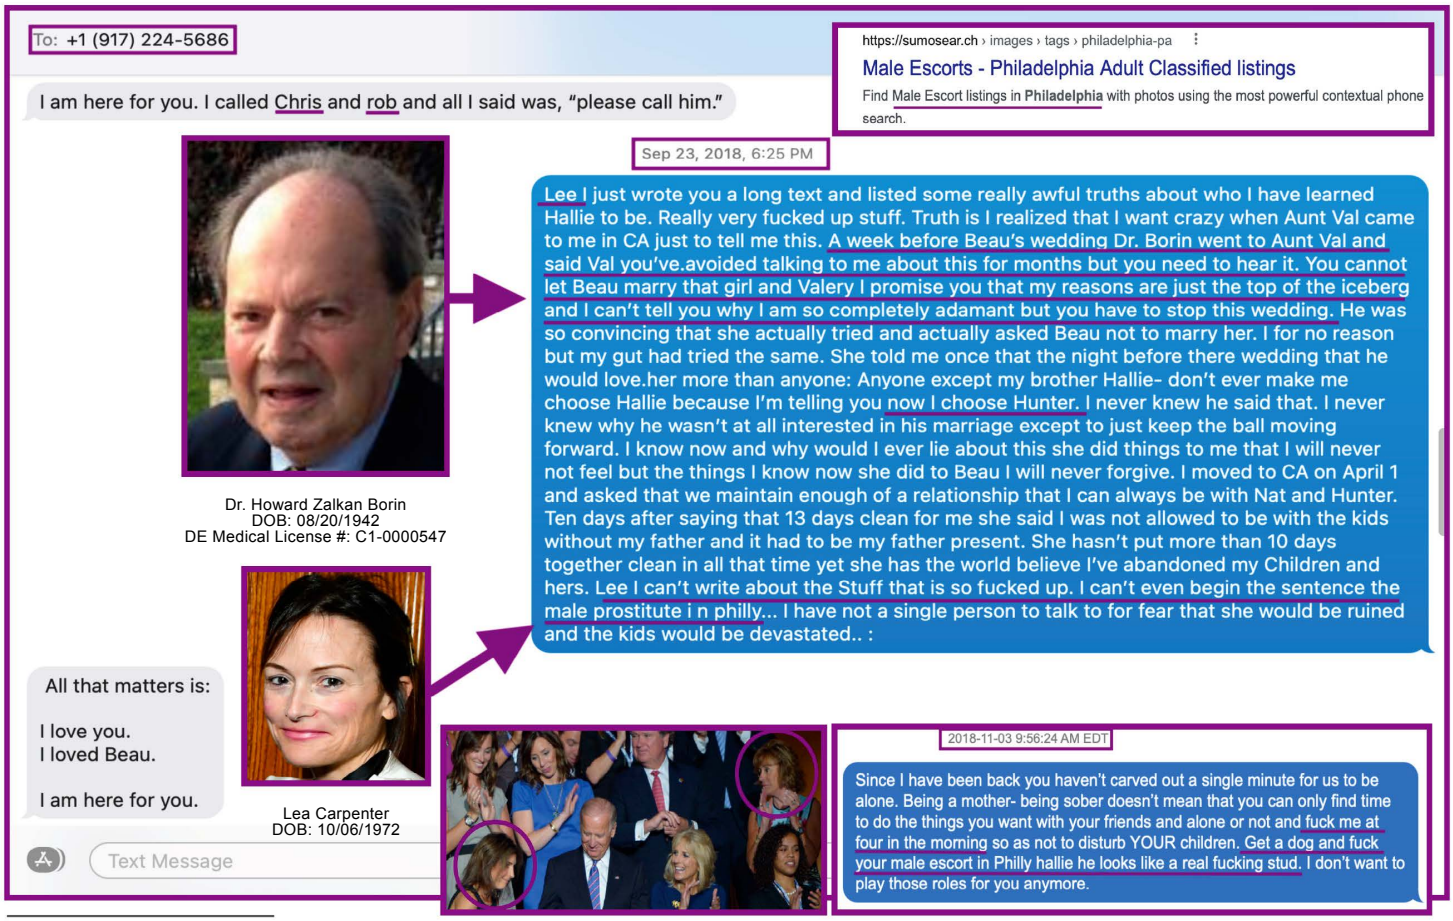
Hunter made a confession to his longtime friend and writer, Lea Carpenter.[1056] Hunter's deceased brother was warned about his to-be wife by a close[1057] family friend and physician.[1058] The physician[1059] begged Hunter's aunt, Valerie, to "stop this wedding." Valerie tried to convince Hunter's late brother to call it off, but the wedding went through. Hunter was still dealing with the fallout: "I can't write about the Stuff that is so fucked up. I can't even begin the sentence [about] the male prostitute in philly… " Evidently, the widow's solicitation of a male escort was just too much for Hunter to bear.



[1056] "Elizabeth Lea du Pont Carpenter was married… to Clifford Vail Brokaw IV at Big Bend in Chadds Ford, Pa., the home of George Weymouth, the bride's cousin and godfather. The Rev. Ashley du Pont Gates Jansen, an interfaith minister and a half sister of the bride, officiated. Mrs. Brokaw, 34, was until April 2005 the deputy publisher of The Paris Review. She is a founder of the New York Public Library Young Lions, an organization of supporters in their 20s and 30s. She graduated summa cum laude from Princeton and received an M.B.A. from Harvard. She is a daughter of Carroll M. Carpenter and Edmund N. Carpenter II of Wilmington, Del. Her father is a partner in and a former president of Richards, Layton & Finger, a law firm … The bride is a descendant of Eleuthère Irénée du Pont de Nemours, the founder of the DuPont Company."

In fact, human trafficking is the world's fastest growing criminal enterprise … Funnel accounts are 'bank accounts that are established so a criminal can deposit funds at one geographic location while the criminal's co-conspirator can immediately make cash and ATM withdrawals at a branch location in another geographic area.' Hunter's relationship with this particular female was unique, in many ways, compared to his other carnal (and illegal) transactions. In addition to testifying[1090] about Hunter in front of a federal grand jury in Delaware, the female recorded a wide-ranging, 47-minute conversation[1091] she shared with Hunter, which she subsequently named in his iPhone Voice Memos application as the "Most Genius Shit Ever.mp3." The recording featured the aforementioned communist operative and convicted money launderer HO Patrick, the U.S Attorney for the Southern District of New York, and how Hunter thought it was "good" that the female ingested MDMA, which she called "Molly." (The transcript for the call, along with the other audio files on the Biden Laptop, can be downloaded at marcopolousa.org) The female also booked flights for Hunter and searched for apartments in the Los Angeles area. She was born just four months before (DOB: 08/06/1993) Hunter's oldest daughter, Naomi. The table below features the method, date, and amount of money Hunter paid to the female; however, the table does not include two substantial AirBnb down payments which Hunter made on the female's behalf:

1) $6,838.92 to stay on Encina Road in Topanga (CA) from 04/03/2018 until 05/02/2018
2) $8,424.90 to stay on Cerro Gordo Street in Los Angeles (CA) from 04/05/2018 until 05/05/2018

Date	Method	Amount
03/28/2018	Zelle	$1,500
09/24/2018	Zelle	$500
11/18/2018—11/20/2018	Zelle	$4,250
	TOTAL:	$6,250

Hunter also called the female "clever" and whined about her cleverness to Mike Racanelli, a bellman[1092] at the Chateau Marmont hotel (Mike also told Hunter that he had been "BLACKLISTED" and banned from the hotel). Apparently, the female got her hands on an audio recording of Hunter and Racanelli chatting during which Hunter said that he "need[ed] her [the female] for her contacts."

An hour later, Hunter solicited yet another female[1095] from a trafficking site: "Hi[,] are you available[?]"

Hunter was a loyal customer to the so-called Girlfriend Experience ("GFE")[1096] trafficking industry[1097] which permeated large cities across the globe. The "agency" that facilitated his trysts saved Hunter's phone number in their database[1098] and inquired about his location on behalf of "Beautiful Angel."[1099]

While he lit up his crack cocaine pipe in a Manhattan hotel room, Hunter shot a now-infamous footjob video with his laptop's built-in webcam via the Photo Booth application. GNews first published the salacious video with slight redactions and it bounced[1100] around the web. Unfortunately, GNews also propagated the false theory that the actress from the movie Mulan (LIU Yi Fei) was the female in the video.[1101] The laptop also contained a second video which displayed the face of the trafficked female.

Indeed, Hunter sent a $1,500 payment via Zelle to the female with a memo line of "blue water wellness" (the name of a now-defunct spa[1102] in Newburyport, Massachusetts, which was founded by Hunter's former[1103] psychiatrist). This payment confirmed the interstate nature of the crime, along with Marco Polo's independent corroboration with another female who was present around the time and place that the footjob occurred. Shot in a room at the Lombardy Hotel[1104] in New York City, the sordid videos have been a thorn[1105] in the pResident's side for 18 months, in addition to the national embarrassment the videos have caused for those opposed to human trafficking and illegal drug use.

Hunter purchased airfare ($704.39 from LAX to BOS on 11/27/2018) for the female[11061107] and he also bought travel insurance through Allianz (Policy #: EUSP2118891959), which turned out to be a smart move, as the female's[1108] original flight back to LA was on 12/01/2018, one day before the footjob.

One of Hunter's foreign pimps, Anna DEKHTIAR, was listed in multiple SARs for evidence of money laundering and human trafficking. Given to Marco Polo by its whistleblower, SAR #2, filed by J.P. Morgan, provided the following synopsis: "ANNA DEKHTIAR … is a Miami FL non-resident alien and Ukrainian citizen. KYC reflects she is [a] student[,] born in 1995. She received a wire [transfer] for $5,100 on 12/10/2018 from OWASCO PC which was reported in SAR_NA_114256858 filed on 04/19/2019. On the same day, 12/10/2018, HUNTER also sent $1,300 to ANNA DEKHTIAR via three (3) EFTs. The funds ANNA DEKHTIAR received from OWASCO PC and HUNTER were subsequently remitted to Oksana Naratovska located in the Ukraine via a $7,000 wire [transfer] on 12/13/2018." Unsurprisingly, the Biden Laptop corroborated the voluminous details surrounding the three (3) EFTs.

ANNA DEKHTIAR (JPMC 356067030 (closed 06/14/2019)) is a Miami FL non-resident alien and Ukrainian citizen. KYC reflects she is a student born in 1995. She received a wire for $5,100 on 12/10/2018 from OWASCO PC which was reported in SAR_NA_114256858 filed on 04/19/2019. The wire to Oksana Naratovska, and Oksana Naratovska, were reported under the prior SAR filing, and are only being discussed here to show the full flow of funds.

$6,400 from Hunter (12/10/2018) → Anna DEKHTIAR (12/13/2018) → Oksana NARATOVSKA

SAR #3[1109] was corroborated by records on the Biden Laptop which revealed that Hunter sent $2,400 to one of DEKHTIAR's "clients," six weeks before the EFTs, for a so-called "Art Consultation."[1110] In addition to NARATOVSKA, DEKHTIAR, who lived in a Russian-owned[1111] apartment, sent funds to an inactive attorney from California named Bart Buchalter, who also laundered the illicit proceeds.

JPMorgan Chase Bank, NA (JPMC) is filing this Suspicious Activity Report (SAR) due to wire credits, check and cashier's check deposits, and cash deposits with an unknown source of funds and instances of structuring in attempts to avoid Currency Transaction Report (CTR) filing as well as wire debits and cash withdrawals with no clear, legitimate economic purpose involving consumer checking account numbered 356067030 held in the name of ANNA DEKHTIAR. The reported activity totals $274,873.00 (rounded from $274,872.26) and was conducted between 11/14/2018 and 03/01/2019 at 9 different branches and ATMs in Washington, DC; New York, NY; Miami Beach, FL; and Los Angeles, CA.

ANNA DEKHTIAR has been a JPMC customer since 11/14/2018. She is a citizen of Ukraine residing in Sunny Isles Beach, FL. She maintains to be a student as provided by JPMC internal documentation. BARTON LOUIS BUCHALTER has been a JPMC customer since 10/28/2016. He is a US citizen residing in Woodland Hills, CA. He maintains to be an attorney as identified via external research. BARTON LOUIS BUCHALTER has 3 prior SAR filings. SAR_NA_69103831 was filed on 01/03/2018 to report cash deposits indicative of structuring totaling $63,500.00 conducted between 09/25/2017 and 10/30/2017. SAR_NA_69712330 was filed on 12/15/2017 to report cash deposit and check activity which is indicative of the operation of an escort service totaling $81,225.00 conducted between 08/10/2017 and 12/01/2017. SAR_NA_80534661 was filed on 04/06/2018 to report the continuation of cash and check deposits indicative of the operation of an escort service totaling $49,737.00 conducted between 12/07/2017 and 02/05/2018.

Between 11/14/2018 and 02/19/2019, ANNA DEKHTIAR received a total of 63,320.00 in cash deposits conducted in New York, Washington, DC, and California. She also received $42,400.00 in check and cashier's check deposits from BARTON LOUIS BUCHALTER (COMERICA BANK account 8000096225), ALEKSANDRA MASHKIVTSEVA, and ANKIT RAJ (BANK OF AMERICA account 870771734) and an additional $30,600.00 in wire transfers from ANZHELA SHINKORENKO (WELLS FARGO BANK account 1527412835), OLGA ARUSHANYAN (WELLS FARGO BANK account 5514814820), OWASCO, P.C. (WELLS FARGO BANK account 9084065142), NADEZHDA KUZNETSOVA (BANK OF AMERICA account 325119342790), LESIA TKACHENKO (WELLS FARGO BANK account 6444622648). Between 11/23/2018 and 03/01/2019, funds in the account were then used for wire transfers totaling $113,832.26 going to OKSANA NARATOVSKA (JOINT STOCK COMPANY 'ACCENT-BANK' accounts 26206805110620 and UA873077700005169157003234352), TETIANA LEVTUSHENKO (WELLS FARGO BANK account 2773127101), KALIYEVA ZARINA (BANK OF AMERICA account 483073700226), MOREVA EKATERINA (TD BANK, NA account 4361494887), and ANNA DEKHTIAR's account 26201805834633 at JOINT STOCK COMMERCIAL INNOVATION BANK UKRSIBBANK or were used for cash withdrawals totaling $24,720.00 conducted in New York, NY and Miami Beach, FL. This activity is deemed suspicious because the source for the funds entering the account could not be determined and no legitimate relationship between ANNA DEKHTIAR and any of these counterparties could be identified. Furthermore, there were instances where cash deposits appear structured in attempts to avoid CTR filing since they are large round dollar cash transactions conducted on same, consecutive, or near consecutive days in aggregate amounts exceeding the CTR threshold.

Please see the attached .csv file named SAR_NA_114256858 for details of the reported activity.

In summary, JPMC is filing this SAR to report wire credits, check and cashier's check deposits, and cash deposits with an unknown source of funds and instances of structuring in attempts to avoid Currency Transaction Report (CTR) filing as well as wire debits and cash withdrawals with no clear, legitimate economic purpose totaling $274,873.00 conducted between 11/14/2018 and 03/01/2019.

Based on two[11121113] other SARs, Buchalter evidently trafficked another foreign female named Lidia PAVLOVA.[1114] Buchalter is the registered agent for over 100 shell companies and owns a lien-free Mercedes-Benz Sprinter van, the title (# 8303014664) for which was issued in Ohio on 04/21/2021.

JPMorgan Chase Bank N.A is filing a Suspicious Activity Report (SAR) due to cash deposit and check activity which is indicative of the operation of a prohibited business (Escort Service) occurring in consumer checking account # 198523802 held solely in the name of LIDIA PAVLOVA. The reportable activity consist of cash deposits from a unknown source which are conducted a multiple branch and ATM locations in Los Angeles and Beverly Hills, CA., along with incoming check deposits made payable to cash originating from JPMC client BARTON LOUIS BUCHALTER. The SAR will be filed in the amount of $81,225.00 representing the above mentioned cash and check deposits occurring between the dates of 08/10/2017 and 12/01/2017.

Consumer Checking Account 198523802 was opened on 08/10/2017 and is solely owned by LIDIA PAVLOVA who is a Non-Resident Alien from Russia currently residing in Los Angeles, CA. LIDIA PAVLOVA has been a client of JPMC since 08/10/2017 with bank records indicating the client is employed as a Freelance Photographer. However Account transactions revealed the client may also be operating as an Escort.

BARTON LOUIS BUCHALTER is a US citizen residing in Woodland Hills, CA and the owner and lawyer at BARTON L BUCHALTER ESQ. BARTON LOUIS BUCHALTER has maintained a relationship with JPMC since 10/28/2016.

The review found the following suspicious activity.
During the review of account 198523802, (23) cash deposits were conducted totaling $34,825.00 between the dates of 08/10/2017 and 12/01/2017. The cash deposits range between $150.00 and $4,570.00. The majority of the cash deposits occur between Thursday and Saturday night at ATM locations in Los Angeles and Beverly Hills. Accompanying the cash deposits were (12) check deposits made payable to cash which originated from a BARTON L BUCHALTER's JPMC checking account number 700858611 and account 8000096225 drawn on Comerica Bank. These checks ranged between $800.00 and $6,000.00
Funds from the account are seen being used towards multiple debit card purchase to Lyft and MPF. Further review of the MPF revealed the business to be operating as an Escort advertisement service Eros Ads per the website erosads.com.

LIDIA PAVLOVA was contacted per a request for information sent on 12/11/2017 to inquire about the multiple cash deposits and the incoming checks from BARTON L BUCHALTER. Per the inquiry request LIDIA stated she was a photographer and cash and checks were from clients.
Additionally BARTON L BUCHALTER was contacted per a request for information sent on 12/06/2017 to also inquiry about the checks. BARTON L BUCHALTER stated the checks made to cash were to his "Girlfriends". The inquiry dates will not be included in the suspicious date range.

Based upon contradicting inquires as to the purpose of the checks, multiple same day and consecutive day cash deposits occurring each weekend, checks from a unrelated individual (BARTON L BUCHALTER) with funds being used towards Lyft and Escort advertising, it appears our client LIDIA PAVLOVA is operating in a prohibited business as an escort and therefore the above mentioned cash and check deposits will be reported in the SAR filing.

JPMorgan Chase Bank N.A is filing a Continuing Activity Report (CAR) to report cash deposits from an unknown source and check deposit activity indicative of the operation of a prohibited business (Escort Service) occurring in consumer checking account #198523802 held solely in the name of LIDIA PAVLOVA. The reportable activity consist of cash deposits from a unknown source which are conducted at multiple branch and ATM locations in Los Angeles and Beverly Hills, CA., along with incoming check deposits made payable to cash originating from JPMC client BARTON LOUIS BUCHALTER. The report will be filed in the amount of $49,737.00 representing the above mentioned cash and check deposits occurring between the dates of 12/07/2017 and 02/05/2018.

This CAR is linked to prior SAR_NA_69712330 which was filed on 12/15/2017 totaling $81,225.00 for cash deposits from an unknown source and check deposit activity which is indicative of the operation of a prohibited business (Escort Service) between 08/10/2017 and 12/01/2017.
Consumer Checking Account 198523802 was opened on 08/10/2017 and is solely owned by LIDIA PAVLOVA who is a Non-Resident Alien from Russia currently residing in Los Angeles, CA. LIDIA PAVLOVA has been a client of JPMC since 08/10/2017 with bank records indicating the client is employed as a Freelance Photographer. However Account transactions revealed the client may also be operating as an Escort.
BARTON LOUIS BUCHALTER is a US citizen residing in Woodland Hills, CA and the owner and lawyer at BARTON LOUIS BUCHALTER ESQ. BARTON LOUIS BUCHALTER has maintained a relationship with JPMC since 10/28/2016.

The review found the following suspicious activity.
During the review of account #198523802, eleven (11) cash deposits were conducted totaling $28,737.00 between the dates 12/07/2017 and 02/05/2018.. The cash deposits range between $200.00 and $6700.00. The cash deposits occurred branch and ATM in Los Angeles and Beverly Hills. Accompanying the cash deposits were four (4) check deposits totaling $21,000.00 made payable to cash which originated from a BARTON LOUIS BUCHALTER's JPMC checking account number 700858611 and account 8000096225 drawn on Comerica Bank. These checks ranged between $4000.00 and $6,000.00.

LIDIA PAVLOVA was contacted per a request for information sent on 12/11/2017 to inquire about the multiple cash deposits and the incoming checks from BARTON LOUIS BUCHALTER. Per the inquiry request LIDIA stated she was a photographer and cash and checks were from clients.

Additionally BARTON L BUCHALTER was contacted per a request for information sent on 12/06/2017 to inquire about the checks. BARTON LOUIS BUCHALTER stated the checks made to cash were to his "Girlfriends". The inquiry dates will not be included in the suspicious date range.

Based upon contradicting inquires as to the purpose of the checks, same day and consecutive day cash deposits checks from a unrelated individual (BARTON LOUIS BUCHALTER) it appears subject LIDIA PAVLOVA is operating in a prohibited business as an escort and therefore the above mentioned cash and check deposits will be reported in the SAR filing.

In summary, JPMC is filing this CAR to report cash deposits from an unknown source and check deposit activity indicative of the operation of a prohibited business (Escort Service) totaling $49,737.00. The aggregate amount of this report and the previous report totals $130,962.00 and the cumulative suspicious activity period is between 08/10/2017 and 02/05/2018.

Just after midnight on 12/17/2018, Hunter engaged in a threesome with two females while another female filmed portions of the tryst with her iPhone. Hunter recorded his video with his laptop's built-in webcam via the Photo Booth application.[1115] The promiscuous group was staying at a place called "The Cottage"[1116] in Newburyport (MA), a property[1117] associated with Hunter's then-psychiatrist.[1118]

Four days earlier, Hunter paid for the females' Amtrak tickets from Boston to Penn Station in New York City so they could meet with him in Room 206 at the Roxy[1119] Hotel: "Sorry if I [Hunter] seemed frustrated but I'm dealing with a [Biden] family emergency right now to [sic] and I promise you[1120] [that] you guys can figure this out if you can give [sic] my card to work for some reason then you have 600 bucks for 400 bucks whatever it is I swear to Christ I'm like sure you get 500 bucks back or 700 bucks back all right[.] I promise[,] OK[,] not a problem if it gets too late I'll see in the morning but I [would] love you guys to be here[,] to spend the day in New York … and then go back up north[.]"

In between their meetup in Manhattan at 1AM on 12/14/2018 and their hours-long threesome in downtown Newburyport at 1AM on 12/17/2018, the pair—who referred to themselves[1127][1128][1129][1130] as "naughty whores"—called Hunter "their future baby daddy"[1131] before they lit his crack pipe (which featured a green quellazaire) and stimulated his penis while he showered in a rental on Plum Island.

A few days passed after the threesome, and Hunter was still hunkered down in Newburyport.[1132] He evidently solicited a part-time model[1133] and pizza parlor waitress from Texas; the female proceeded to take photos of their tryst with Hunter's iPad and requested $1k with a blunt caption: "Owe me[.]"[1134]

Later that week, Hunter drove down to his old stomping grounds and engaged in a crack cocaine and sex binge while he clutched his St. Christopher "Protect Us"[1149] necklace. For a time, Hunter pinned the female[1150] against the bed in an aggressive but unsuccessful attempt to ejaculate. His solicitation took place at the $60/night Fairview Inn[1151] motel which, just four months later, was sued by the state: "The Delaware Department of Justice wants to shutter the Fairview Inn along U.S. 13 outside of Wilmington where police have been called 434 times over two years for drug overdoses, assaults, prostitution, robberies, gun crimes and other investigations … The motel and its owner, NAB Motel, Inc., are charged with five counts of maintaining a nuisance, according to the 18-page court filing submitted last week."[1152] Hunter, of course, had already fled to Los Angeles before the suit was filed.

The tryst also included a 5:30 AM confession[1153] from Hunter: one drunken night in Vegas during the preceding summer, a couple of men—who accompanied a beautiful Russian honeypot—stole one of his laptops: "According to the president's son, after he regained consciousness, 'there was this Russian 35-year-old, really nice, pure brunette,' who distracted him. Meanwhile, the three men had taken his belongings: 'The dealer and his two guys … They have videos of me doing this. They have videos of me doing crazy fucking sex, fucking, you know … My computer, I had taken tons of like, just left like that [web]cam on … and somebody stole it [either after Hunter passed out or while he was talking with the honeypot.]'"[1154] The female, for whom the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania has issued[1155] an "Active Bench Warrant" for her arrest, then asked Hunter if he worried about the foreign thieves blackmailing him: "Yeah, in some way, yeah," Hunter replied, explaining that his dad [Joe] would be "running for pResident [in 2020] … I talk about it [Joe running for pResident] all the time."

A female[1158] was worried that Hunter would not fulfill his commitment to pay her unless another female [named Oxana] was present at their tryst: "You[']re] only [going to] come if she's here?" Hunter explained that he was talking about logistics: "No … [s]he has … [the] $ 500 prepaid visa card … If she's not there than [sic] yes I have t[o] do anothrer [sic] transfer in the am[.]" The female also explained another predicament she faced: "I have my period. I might won't [sic] be able to do much[.]"

The married female[1159] also taped Hunter's "first feature film starring Zoe … for close to 2 hours." Hunter's pipe dream of becoming a pornography star was apparently short-lived but earnest; however, the female with whom he shot his "first feature film" posted[1160] numerous pornographic videos and photos from her trysts with Hunter on her OnlyFans account, which are available online.

Near the end of this particular tryst, Hunter conducted extremely forceful[1162] irrumatio[1163] with the female on the edge of the bed. You may recall that, just four months later, Hunter's father penned a long and flowery essay about how "all women deserve to be treated with dignity and respect."[1164]

His laptop also contained a screen recording[1165] during the solicitation. Hunter apparently logged into a webcam site and proceeded—via his username, "temujin01"—to tip and "buzz" the female on the screen, who went by "Kate_deMarco." A portion of Hunter's face was visible in the screenshot below, along with a message from "qubo68," which indicated that it was a group encounter including other viewers besides Hunter and the female who he was penetrating through very degrading irrumatio.

Apparently drawing inspiration from the thousands of pornographic videos he watched over his lifetime, Hunter seemed obsessed with getting shots from what he deemed to be optimal camera angles—he oftentimes moved his laptop so its webcam would be in a more desirable position for him:

[1166] "Motels enable the addiction … Delaware motels … have become dumping grounds amid the opioid epidemic. … Take the Fairview Inn just outside Wilmington's city limits. The state stopped vouchering with the motel in 2016 when tenants reported that rodents from a nearby forested swamp were getting into the rooms. A lawsuit filed against the motel by the Delaware Department of Justice … said that rather than fix the problem, residents were provided rodent traps and 'expected to learn how to use them to address the rodent problem themselves.'"
See Brittany Horn, "Nowhere else to turn," Delaware News Journal, August 2019, archive.ph/mCX41

Evidently, the pair needed more[1167] crack cocaine, so they participated in a drug deal near downtown Wilmington. The female said that "Biggie" didn't "do weight" but that Hunter should not worry because she "grabbed something small from him … I got ya … on 6th and Madison … at the corner store[.]" Hunter responded a little over an hour later: "Walk to [the] end of [the] block … 6th and Jefferson[.]"

The pair returned to the motel[1168] later that day and Hunter again donned a "constriction ring."[1169] Lube was among the objects present—it is visible in the photo in which the female spanked Hunter.

After a twenty minute snooze following ejaculation, Hunter smoked more crack cocaine and (inexplicably) proceeded to shave his testicles and broader genitalia area with what appeared to be a purple BiC 3-blade women's disposable razor. However, Hunter had trouble reaching his perineum without cutting himself. Luckily, he had a selfie stick handy, which allowed him to finish. Throughout the recorded debauchery, What Makes a Good Man? hummed in the background.[1175] Unrelatedly, Hunter's partial heterochromia[1176] eye condition was especially noticeable in the bottom right photo.

Two weeks later, the "star" female—through an alias, as was customary—sent Hunter a text message: "Hey it[']s toni the girl you ubered [sic] from Naugatuck [Connecticut,] and I didn't have a phone … Don't let TY know I am [contacting] you at all please … I don't[1196] want him to know where I am or anything, to[o] much bullshit going on and I don't need him in my business[.]" The female's new pimp, who apparently went by "John," sent Hunter another text message just minutes before the female: "Hey bro[,] I got [sic] somebody here that wants to see you..ima [sic] send a pic...you can't tell not [sic] 1 person tho [sic] bro...because I need her safe … Call me[,] bro please … She wants you[.]"

Hunter set up shop in room 315 at The Blake hotel in downtown New Haven; he wanted to use a female for sex, so he bluntly emailed his pimp: "[W]here the fuck are you … call me[.]" After the pimp reconnected with her John (Hunter), she organized a tryst for Hunter with a female who lived at 55 Red Bush Lane in Milford. The logistics broke down, however, and Hunter became frustrated with the pimp: "Now a third Uber … Wtf … Have her stand outside … Dianna what the fuck is going on????"

While en route to Hunter's hotel, the female—who also had a history[1197] of drug abuse alongside her former[1198] lover—sent a Google Photos URL[1199] to a shared album which contained a debit card that Hunter was expected to load with funds. Hunter's solicitation lasted a little more than three hours.

Cresiski

[1197] "Milford police arrested Kimberly Cresiski, 32, of Milford on Aug. 22 after they received a complaint regarding a suspicious vehicle parked on Eveningside Drive. During the investigation police found the operator, Cresiski, in possession of heroin, a narcotic prescription medication not prescribed to her and marijuana. Cresiski is charged with two counts of possession of narcotics, possession of drug paraphernalia and possession of less than half an ounce of marijuana. She was released on a promise to appear in court on Sept. 16."

In addition to "running a drug and prostitution operation" out of her home in East Haven and "rent[ing] rooms to drug users and … supplying them with their drug of choice,"[1200] the pimp offered advice to Hunter about another crack cocaine dealer he used: "[Y]ou should be careful with dewayne. U [sic] cant [sic] trust him. He[1201] told the whole town about youu [sic] and he [sic] driving ur [sic] truck everywhere showing it off saying ur [sic] on the run. In addition to procuring and using females for sex, Hunter was busy paying[1204] a crack cocaine dealer who used a flooring installation contractor as a front company to launder proceeds from drug sales. (For example, Hunter put "NH property" in the memo line for a wire transfer to the drug dealer.)[1205]

At the same moment his $1,200 transfer to the drug dealer was confirmed in an open tab on his web browser next to Pornhub.com, Hunter's pimp—to whom he transferred $2k on 02/06/2019—passed along contact information for another female: "Her Zelle [account is] different on [sic] 9173530063[,]" a phone number associated with the current[1206] Director of Talent Development at the Miss Universe Organization;[1207] her email address is on the group's website: eswan@missuniverse.com[12081209]

Before and after he solicited a female to the Omni New Haven Hotel at Yale on Temple Street, Hunter spent over $600 on webcam sites, in addition to the thousands he withdrew from Wells Fargo ATMs in the same time period. Hunter also took a photo of the female clutching his erect penis with her feet.

Hunter solicited a familiar foreign female to room 605 at the aforementioned Mr. C Seaport hotel in Manhattan: "Shower here. I want to see you sweaty and in workout clothes. … In 20 mins you seat [sic] on my bed[.]" Hunter then used Uber to transport the female from a building just south of Central Park. Following the tryst, he sent her $1,500 via "Apple Pay Cash" in addition to $2,500 via Venmo.

That same morning, Hunter's longtime pimp[1211] and her global sex trafficking[1212] operation—known as UberGFE—offered a female who was referenced in SAR #2. The pimp explained: "Send [$]3[k] now and then I'll send you [the] girl … [C]an you send [money for] one hour[?] … she is nervous[.]"[1213]

MOREVA's trafficking operation, which was (and still is) facilitated through ubergfe.com, supplied mostly foreign-born females to Hunter across the nation. A majority of the females were younger than Hunter's daughter, Naomi. As you have read, MOREVA has been listed in several SARs. To put it bluntly: federal law enforcement should prioritize her upscale offshoot of backpage.com for seizure.

Hunter drove down from New York City to Delaware and solicited a familiar female[1217] to the infamous Fairview Inn motel in Wilmington. You will notice that Hunter solicited the female to which he confided (on 01/06/2019) that Russians had stolen another laptop following a drunken fiasco in Las Vegas. In this laptop, according to Hunter, the Russians would find "videos of me doing like fucking crazy sex."

NON-CONSENSUAL PORNOGRAPHY

Hunter's virulent sex addiction was exacerbated by his obsession with online pornography.[1218] He created and maintained at least six different pornography accounts, with four on Pornhub[1219] alone:

- droidhunter[1220]
- DroidHunter88[1221]
- RHEast[1222]
- sexycouple666[1223]
- cometomed
- Droid8892[1224]

Hunter uploaded a selfie as his profile picture on one of his accounts, which he created on 01/15/2019, exactly three months before Joe announced his bid for the pResidency. On several occasions, Hunter searched for his own pornography scenes—"biden hunter porn fuck," for example—on Bing, alongside a "Cum In Throat [] Compilation []" video. Hunter's online queries were due, in part, to his practice of uploading nonconsensual pornographic videos to the Internet. A majority of Hunter's online pornography accounts are active to this day.

The profile picture for the Pornhub account RHEast—for which Hunter had "unlocked" dozens[1225] of "achievements"—bore a picture of the anus of Joe's daughter-in-law.[1226] The exact same picture was found on the Biden Laptop, and the metadata associated with the photo indicated that it was taken at Hunter's former rental home in Annapolis.[1227] An anonymous Twitter user[1228] recognized the female.

A screenshot on the Biden Laptop revealed that Hunter maintained a "Hallie" album on the Pornhub account sexycouple666. Third-party sources[1229] confirmed the authenticity of the photo in addition to a user named "weedslut42" commenting "hallie.."[1230] on another photo titled "Dressing Room Selfie."

Hunter maintained an account[1231] on—and uploaded a naked profile picture[12321233] to—a website that serves as a "resource for people who are fond of BDSM [and] fetishism."[1234] Interestingly, Hunter described himself as "Heteroflexible" when he completed the website's mandatory "Orientation" tab.

Hunter uploaded a video to Pornhub entitled "Big Cock, Hand Job,"[1235] which garnered more than 53k views. Beside the video were photos he uploaded called "Hollywood Hills"[1236] and "captivating."[1237]

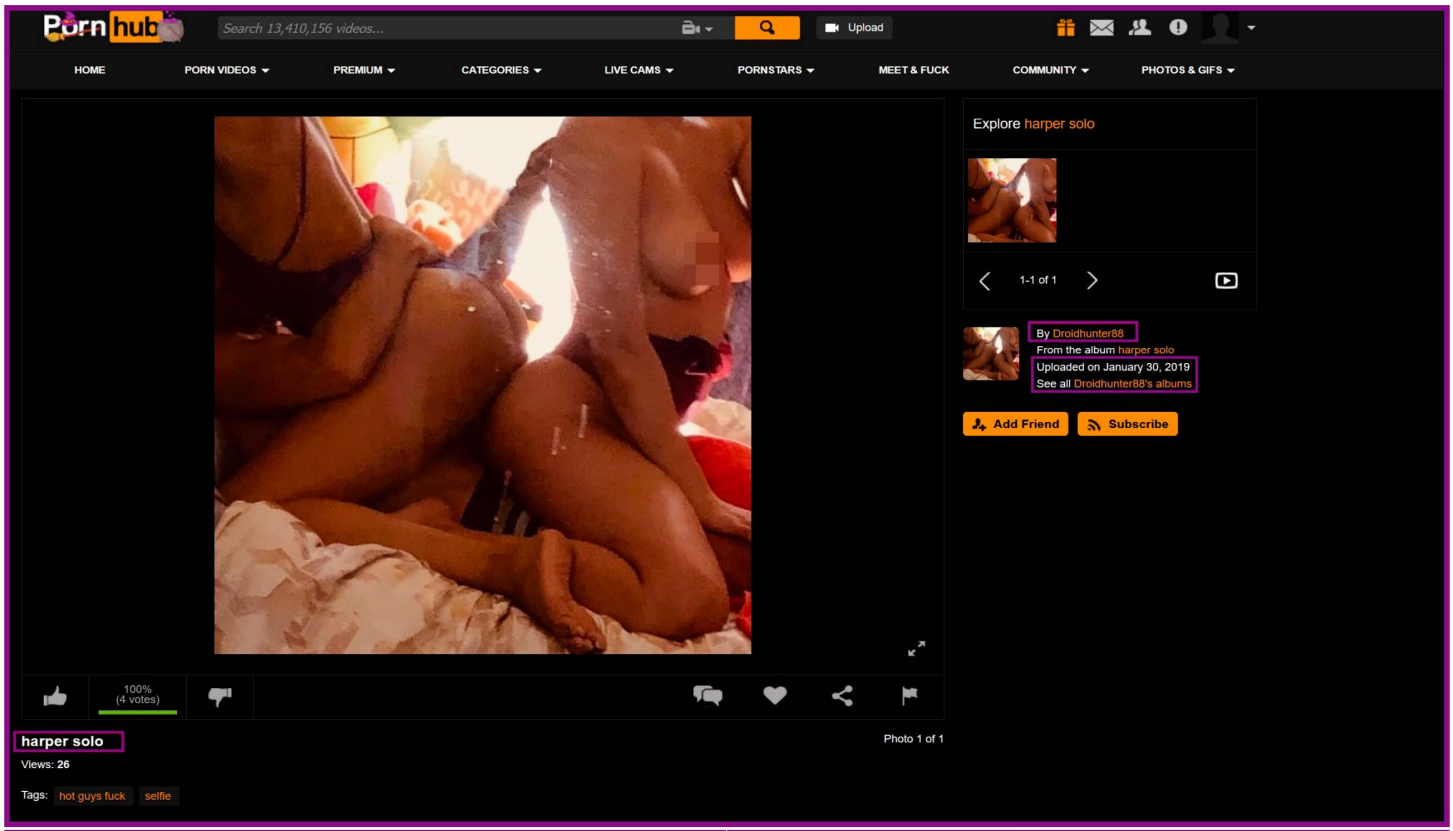
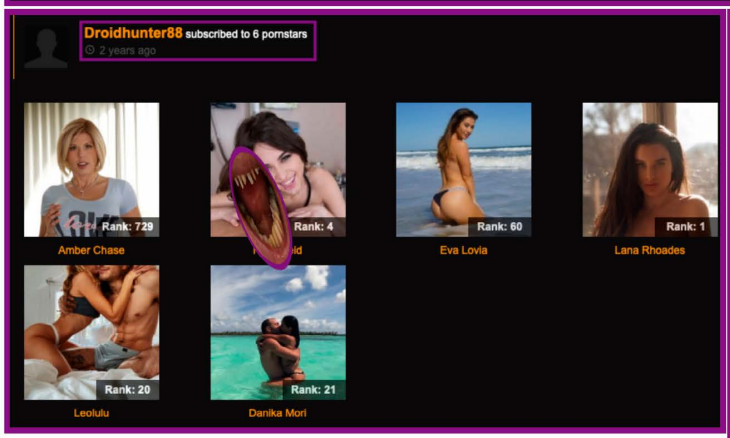
Less than three months before Joe announced his bid for the pResidency, Hunter uploaded a photo to his Droidhunter88 account on Pornhub.[1238] Hunter then added tags of "hot guys fuck" and "selfie."





[1238] "MindGeek is registered in the tax haven of Luxembourg … The company employs around sixteen hundred people, and the online platforms it owns … received approximately 4.5 billion visits each month in 2020, according to a company spokesperson—almost double Google and Facebook combined. … MindGeek's corporate structure is complicated, with dozens of subsidiaries around the world whose names can obscure their ownership … the office that handles MindGeek's content is in Cyprus. The company's headquarters is an aquamarine glass office building in Montreal, where Antoon surrounds himself with a tight group of confidants … Four days later, MindGeek's top executives testified. It seemed as if they hadn't prepared for even the most elementary questions. Antoon was unable to say how much money the company made, how many complaints it received about nonconsensual videos, or why it hadn't made any substantive policy changes until Visa and Mastercard pulled their business."

IN THE FAMILY

An entry on page 25 of Ashley Biden's diary summed up the sexual proclivities of Joe's family—his daughter confessed to being "[h]yper-sexualized @ [at] a young age" and having "beat[] [her] vagina due to overhearing [her] parents [Joe and Jill] having sex."[1239] The lewdness that Ashley cathartically wrote about was readily apparent on the Biden Laptop. The abandoned device contained dozens of nude photos and videos of Hunter, Hallie Olivere Biden, and a myriad of prostitutes and trafficked women in a variety of scenarios and compromising positions, sometimes with crack cocaine and other drug paraphernalia strewn about the room. Based on the device's metadata, these sordid photos and videos were taken not long before and after photos of Hunter's underage niece. Furthermore, with the sheer amount of selfies taken by Hunter's niece that were found on the laptop, it is an incontrovertible fact that his niece would have seen her uncle (and mother) engaged in immoral sexual behavior and felonious narcotics habits. The "hyper-sexualized" environment in and around the Biden family extended to casual conversations; on 01/28/2019, Hunter's first cousin, Caroline Biden, was eager to line up girls to satiate Hunter's appetites: "Does she have to be smart or just a transitional sex company object who is kind[?] … I also have Denise a German … Do you want foreign or domestic[?] … I'd give you Isabella but she has kids … And an nba ex husband [Baron Davis]."[1240] The iMessage conversation[1241] between Hunter and Caroline also revealed that he gave strict instructions to his uncle Jimmy's felonious daughter regarding which women she could send: " [Y]ou have to make the pitch directly … Domesticated foreigner … No yellow … yes to yasmina."[1242]

Furthermore, multiple suggestive photos of Hunter's niece[1243] were located on the laptop due to Hunter utilizing a tool called Dr. Fone to back-up[1244] the iPhones belonging to Hallie and his niece to his laptop.[1245] Although the suggestive photos motivated[1246] Rudy Giuliani to give a copy of the hard drive to police[1247] in Delaware, the photos would likely not pass the "Dost Test"[1248] (28 CFR § 75):

1. the focal point of the visual depiction is on the child's genitalia or pubic area
2. the setting of the visual depiction is sexually suggestive, i.e., in a place or pose generally associated with sexual activity
3. the child is depicted in an unnatural pose, or in inappropriate attire, considering the age of the child
4. the child is fully or partially clothed, or nude
5. the visual depiction suggests sexual coyness or a willingness to engage in sexual activity
6. the visual depiction is intended or designed to elicit a sexual response in the viewer

[1243] "[A]bout one-third of the images are of the same underage girl. Some of the images are topless, while in others she is shown in suggestive positions with Hunter himself… the illicit photos on Hunter's laptop were of a member of the Biden family. The New York Post … has already reported that the laptop has a vast trove of sexual videos and images… Last week, Revolver noted that when the FBI took possession of Hunter's laptop, the agent who retrieved it was named Joshua Wilson. Nevertheless, the Biden Laptop was littered with many inappropriate[1249] and/or purposely ambiguous allusions to Hunter and his niece; for example, he sent "I want to fold clothes for you"[1250] at 5:27 AM.

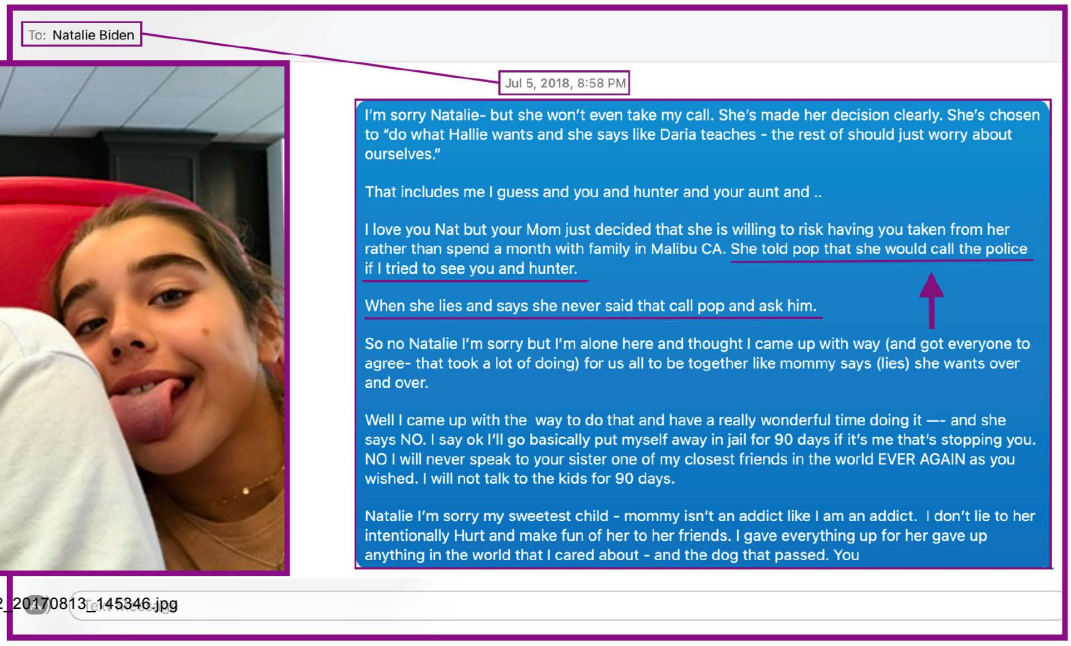
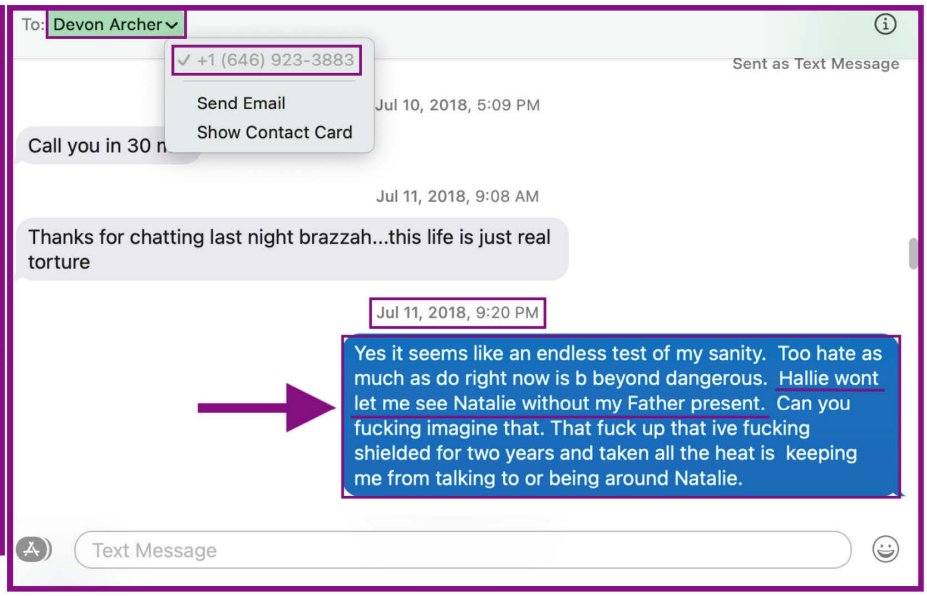
Hunter's relationship with his niece was strained by his sister-in-law's apparent prohibition of Hunter being around her children alone. On 07/05/2018, Hunter complained to his niece: "I love you Nat[alie] but your Mom … told pop [Joe][1251] that she would call the police if I tried to see you and hunter."



Apple iPhone 7_N39.8107W75.5492_20170813_145346.jpg

The following week, Hunter complained about Hallie's prohibition to his "best friend in business"[1252] (and convicted felon) Devon Archer: "Hallie wont [sic] let me see Natalie without my Father [Joe] present. Can you fucking imagine that[?] That fuck up that ive [sic] fucking shielded for two years and taken all the heat [for] is keeping me from talking to or being around Natalie [Hunter's niece]."

Archer



[1251] "Biden then told a story about his grandchildren playing a role in urging him to run for president. He said one of his grandchildren called a family meeting eight weeks ago and contended that his grandchildren urged him to run after seeing degrading images of him online. 'Pop, you have to run Pop,' Biden said one of his grandsons, 'Little Hunter' told him, then said his grandson showed him a photo online from Beau Biden's funeral. 'Pop, it says: 'Look at Biden molesting a kid,' Biden said his grandson told him. 'Pop, I know it's going to be mean, they're going to say bad things about Daddy.'"

Hunter then kvetched to his niece's (now-deceased)[1253] grandmother, Joan Berger Olivere, two days later about Hallie's protective measures: "She [Hallie] told me I couldn't be around 'her' children."[1254]

Hunter pressured his niece on 07/18/2018 to confront her mother about the situation: "[Hallie] still [will] not let me see you without pop [Joe] present … ask her [Hallie] why exactly you can't be with me [Hunter] alone … If it's driving I [Hunter] will never drive In A car with you again. Pops [Joe is] coming to see me this weekend ask her [Hallie] to send you to[o] tomorrow to come to my home in Malibu[.]"

The next day, Hunter—still fuming over Hallie's allegations—sent his assistant, Katie Dodge, a terse iMessage: "Hey[,] Liz [Hallie's sister] and Hallie are both going off payroll and insurance immediately."

Two days later, Hunter forwarded a message (that Hallie had evidently sent to Joe and Jill) to Hallie's friend[125512561257] associated with 1-209-256-4604: "It's too much for Natalie. … I don't know how YOU [Joe] could allow Natalie … anywhere near him [Hunter]. Pop [Joe] … He [Hunter][,] too[,] needs to get sober … I'm [Hallie] moving on from the MANY MANY ways he [Hunter] has wronged me [Hallie]."

The following week, Hunter again expressed concerns to his niece directly. The 13-year-old said she was "about to have a panic attack," but Hunter wrote back: "Call your mother … every time we talk she[1258] tells people I'm inappropriate with you. I don't want to make matters worse for you or myself."

In the evening on his niece's fourteenth birthday, Hunter sent to her a self-loathing iMessage: "Happy birthday--ive [sic] tried calling...I have a gift for you[1259] whenever you can see me next...love you always always and always and so wish I was allowed to be with you." She responded with a photo.

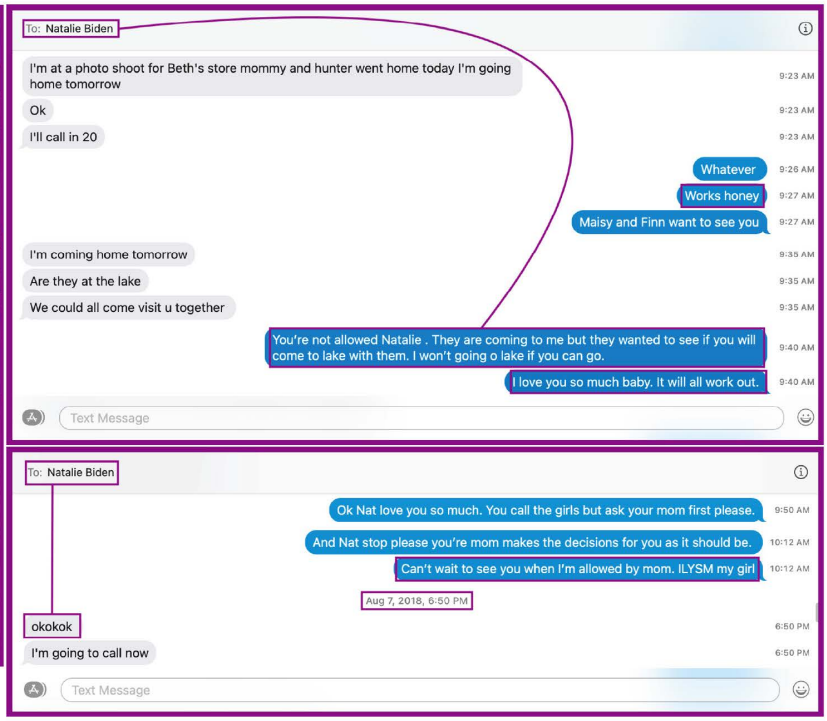
Three days later, Hunter again lamented to his niece about her mother's restrictions: "You're not allowed Natalie . They [Maisy and Finnegan, Hunter's daughters] are coming to me but they wanted to see if you will come to lake with them. I won't [be] going [t]o lake if you can go … love you so much baby. … call the girls but ask your mom … Can't wait to see you when I'm allowed by [your] mom."

Apple iPhone 6_20150621_162846.jpg



Later that week, Hunter's uncle conspired with Joe to suppress[1260] Hallie's allegations. Jimmy sent to his nephew the following iMessage: "[I]t is imperative you call me or your father. Your father [Joe] is getting as am I barraged by Hallie. He [Joe] has not responded[;] I have not responded. We both agree with and trust you [Hunter]. She [Hallie] is spreading what you told me and I believe you !!!! Are lies. … we both need you[r] side of the story so we can both shove it down her fucking throat !!!! … we [Jimmy and Joe] are on you[r] side. I believe you , this is nothing short of character assassination."

A little more than one month later on 09/22/2018, Hunter explained the sordid ordeal to his half-sister, Ashley Biden: "She [Hallie] told my therapist that I had been sexually inappropriate with Natalie … my therapist[1261] had to question her [Hallie] for close to 10 minutes to make certain that she[1262] did not have an obligation to report me to the police[.]" Hunter then instructed Ashley not to tell her husband, Dr. Howard Krein, about Hallie's allegations: "Do not repeat anything … related to Natalie … [if] you say something to Eve and Howard [Krein] I promise you this will spread like wild fire and I will be completely devastated[.] [U]se your head[.] [W]hen have I ever ever done you wrong[?]"[1263]

The following evening, Hunter sent an iMessage to his sister-in-law's sister, Elizabeth "Liz" Olivere Secundy: "[I]f you [Liz] could just urge her [Hallie] to never ever ask me to come home again and then concoct a fight and tell people I'm sexually inappropriate with her daughter. If any one of you ever repeat that again I swear to god you might as well put the gun to my head yourself … I can't come home I will not survive that no one could survive that. … I'm not allowed to be alone with Natalie[.]"

Perhaps Liz[1264] was unwilling to report her sister's allegations that Hunter was being "sexually inappropriate" with her niece—as Liz[1265] was required to do under Delaware law—because Liz was employed by Hunter. In fact, just one month earlier, Liz attempted to convince Hunter to co-sign on a townhouse lease[1266] in Greenville, just outside of Wilmington. Liz was eventually sued[1267] for eviction.

Furthermore, in addition to being paid "over $350K" by Hunter, Liz likely violated 26 USC § 7206(1) by submitting a false address on her IRS Form W-4 in 2018. Liz was not residing at her sister's home on Hillside Road near Wilmington, yet she listed Hallie's home as her "Home address" on the form.[1268]

Another theory for why Liz did not report allegations to law enforcement about an adult male being "sexually inappropriate" with her niece was that Liz was sexually involved with the same adult male.[1269] On 09/08/2016, Hunter offered to teach Liz "how to masturbate"[1270] via FaceTime "every morning or night[.]" Liz then reminded Hunter of a call they shared at "2pm ;)" on a previous day.

Hunter even bought panties for Liz and offered to get her new "extra small ones" and spoke with her about his pornography habit after Kathleen kicked him out of the family home: "Being in this apartment is so strange - truly the first time I've ever been alone -sometimes I can't sleep just because I know I can do anything I want -so I just sit here and watch bad porno movies like I'm 13[.]"

With Hunter's hammertoes[1271] near the bottom of the frame, the photos below were a mere sampling of Liz's lifestyle. On her LinkedIn profile, however, she glowingly described[1272] herself as a "[H]ighly accomplished professional offering over two decades of experience in … Productivity Improvement." Unsurprisingly, her description was not corroborated by the years of material on the Biden Laptop.

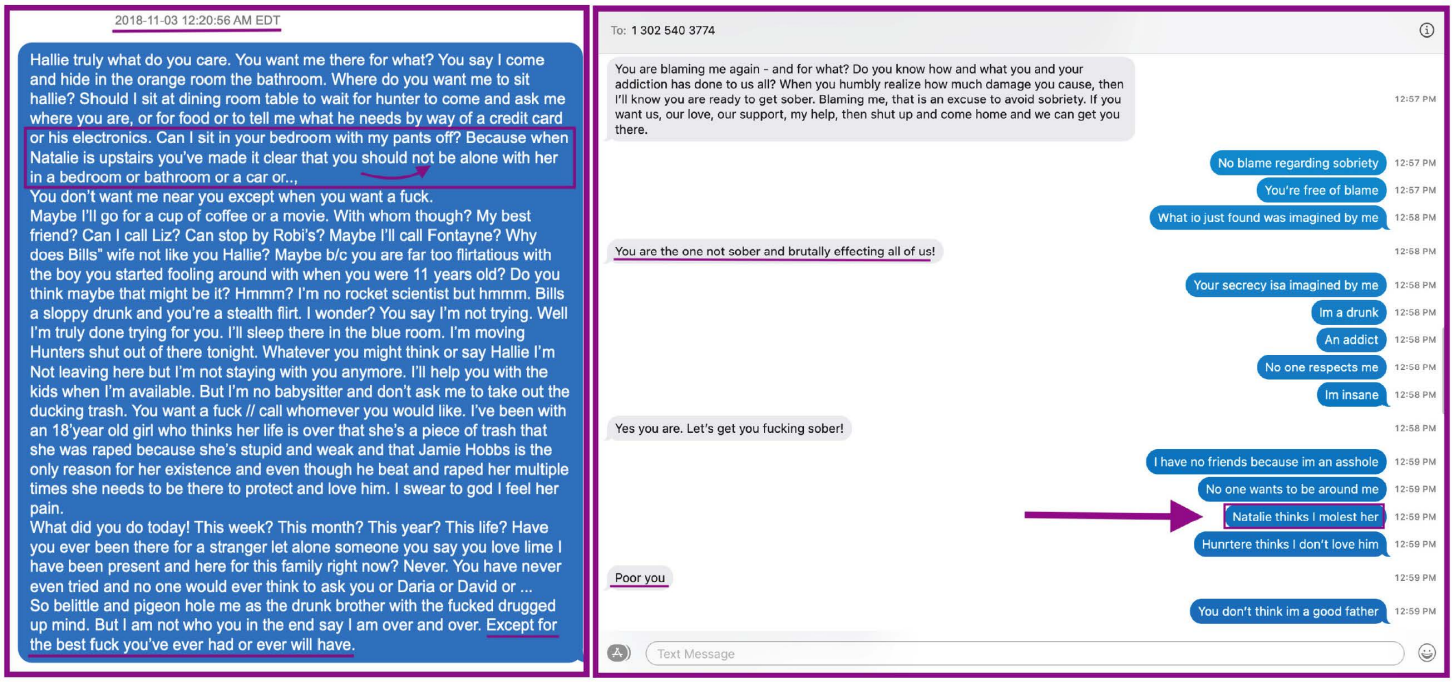
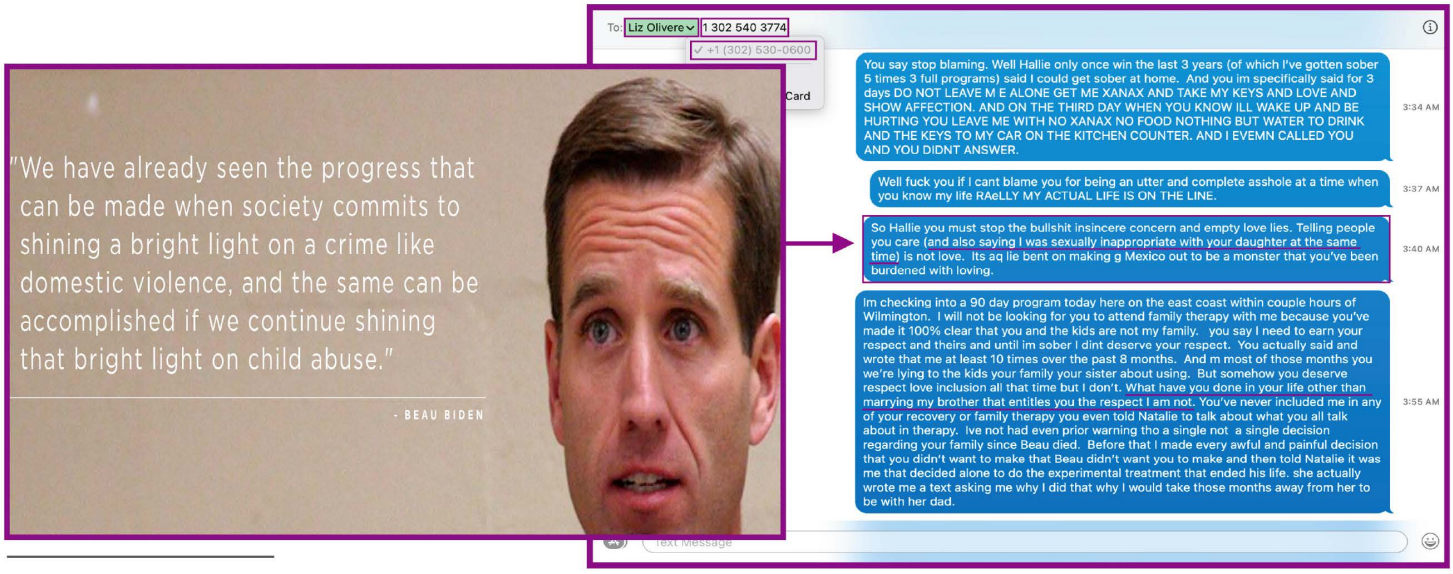
Later that year in November, Hunter was still complaining to Hallie (whose name he deleted from his contacts application) about her concerns: "Natalie thinks I molest her[.]" Five days earlier, Hunter told his brother's widow that she did not have the right idea about him: "I [Hunter] am not who you [Hallie] in the end say that I am over and over. Except for the best fuck you've ever had or ever will have."



On 12/29/2018, Hunter complained[1273] profusely in an iMessage group conversation to his brother's widow and her sister: "Well fuck you … Hallie you must stop the bullshit [and the] insincere concern[s] and empty love lies. Telling people you care (and also saying I was sexually inappropriate[1274] with your daughter at the same time) is not love. Its [sic] [a] lie bent on making [me] out to be a monster that [sic] you've been burdened with loving. … What have you [Hallie] done in your life other than marrying my brother [Beau] that entitles you [to] the respect [that] I am not[?] … [you] told Natalie it was me [Hunter] that decided alone to do the experimental treatment that ended his [Beau's] life."



[1273] "What's so disgusting is [that] this piece of shit [Hunter] did drugs and walked around naked (at a minimum) in front of underage family members and his texts show him bitching about how unfair it is that underage family members aren't allowed near him."

Another month passed and Hunter was still livid; on 01/29/2019, in an iMessage group conversation with Hallie and his then-psychiatrist,[127512761277] Hunter fumed: "I have not been 'allowed' to live with the kids for over a year now. She [Hallie] has told them i [have] abandoned them. She has told them [and] others [that] I am a bad influence[,] that I endanger their health[, and] that I've been sexually inappropriate with Natalie[—]that I have physically abused her[,] that I have [] emotionally abused her[,] [and] that I am abusive to everyone around me and that she knows that If … Natalie were allowed to come visit me I would be 'walking around naked watching porn[,] masturbating[,] and doing drugs in front of her' … she [Hunter's niece] is only allowed alone with me if my father [Joe] is there."

[1275] "By the time Monique left his care, her new marriage had fallen apart and she had developed a dependency on Valium, Xanax and Adderall. One day later, Hunter sent another barely coherent missive to his then-psychiatrist[1278] about Hallie: "Not her therapist my former therapist [Karlee Dahlin, to] whom she accused me of being sexually inappropriate with Natalie. … Hallie called [Dahlin] and said I both was physically abusive too [sic] her and sexually innaproriate [sic] with Natalie and her cousin Lilly. hallie [k]new my therapist [Dahlin] had been severely and sexually abused [by] a step dad who was a crack addict and manipulative charmer who never paid any price for her pain. On 03/16/2019, less than one month before he abandoned his laptop, Hunter sent the following iMessage to the sister of his brother's widow about the widow's lingering accusations: "I started to believe her [Hallie] because I [Hunter] made her [Hallie] like I made my mom [Jill][1283] the center of my ego[,] the one whose judgment and approval I needed most. When Beau was alive he completely balanced out the lack of approval from my mother[,] the lack of love from her[,] but now there is no balance and I've come to believe her judgment of me[—]my mother[']s judgment of me[—]more often then [sic] Not. I put their public and private judgment of me above almost everyone even though almost everyone else sees The opposite. … why wouldn't they [Joe and Jill] believe exactly what Hallie tells them[?] Or my mom [Jill] tells him [Joe] things like I'm sexually inappropriate with the children. So tell me please[—]how do I [Hunter] keep my kids without killing myself in the process[?]"

He also admitted he had told the now-First Lady to 'go fk yourself' and ridiculed her teaching skills during a row just after Christmas in 2018. … Raging against her reaction in a further text message to his uncle, Hunter - a graduate of Yale Law School - said he told English teacher Jill he was smarter than her. He said: 'I said Yang ow [you know] what mom you're a fking moron. A vindictive moron. I suooorted [supported] my GM family including some of the costs you should have used your salary to lay [pay] for - for the last 24 years. And you do know the drunkest I've ever been is still smarter than you could ever even comprehend and you're a shut (sic) grammar teacher that wouldn't survive one class in a ivy graduate program. JOE WAS AWARE OF THE ALLEGATIONS

The foregoing exhibits proved that several people in and around the Biden family were aware of Hallie's allegations. Most importantly, Joe—as the patriarch of the clan—was aware that Hunter was accused of being "sexually inappropriate with" his niece and "not allowed to be with" her alone.[1284]

In September and October of 1991, Joe—through his chairmanship of the U.S. Senate Judiciary Committee—feverishly investigated[1285] allegations that Clarence Thomas was sexually inappropriate with Anita Hill, a then-35-year-old former aide to Thomas. However, in spite of his deceased son's eponymous foundation, which was supposedly dedicated to the "Protection of Children," Joe seemed less interested in getting to the bottom of Hallie's allegations, even though they concerned an adult male—namely, his son Hunter—being "sexually inappropriate" with Joe's minor granddaughter.

Nevertheless, Hunter perceived Joe's seeming indifference towards the allegations as siding with Hallie. In an iMessage to Joe on 07/15/2018, Hunter laid bare what he believed were Hallie's unjustifiable ground rules: "[S]he's told Natalie I [Hunter] can see her [Hunter's niece] anytime but that you [Joe] want to be there for her [his niece's] protection." Hunter then whined about his father evidently holding double standards for other family members, as Joe apparently "let her [Hallie] whacked out [high] and dangerous going up to Philly [Philadelphia] for male escorts[,] drive the kids[,] [and] have them alone. You [Joe] let Uncle Frankie [give] Beau and I driving lessons when he was more fucked up than I've ever seen a person … I [Hunter] knew Ash[ley Biden] was using [drugs] and told you [Joe] and you [Joe] let her [Ashley][1286] drive the kids to [Rehoboth][1287] Beach and back."[1288]

One theory for why Joe did not intensely investigate Hallie's allegations is that Joe did not care about his grandchildren[1289] as much as he cared about his son: "She [Hallie] is trying to split you [Hunter] and me [Joe.] I think she [Hallie] thinks I won't banish her because I'll loose [sic] my grandchildren but you [Hunter] are more important to me [Joe] and she [Hallie] will not succeed[.] Mom [Jill] agrees[.]"

Hunter again conveyed Hallie's disturbing allegations[1290] to Joe on 09/23/2018—Hallie apparently accused Hunter of "walk[ing] around naked smoking crack [and talking to] girls on face time" when he was with his niece and, in general, being "sexually inappropriate with [his] 12-14 year old niece[.]" In October 2020, Rudy Giuliani brought forth some of this concrete evidence of Joe's awareness.[1291]

Later that day, Hunter ratcheted up the stakes. Hallie was "dropping [the] kids off and [going] to see [Joe] at [the] lake[.]" If Joe allowed "her [Hallie] to make[] one accusation" about Hunter, then Hunter would "never step foot in [] D[elaware] again." Evidently, Hallie was "tell[ing] people" that Hunter was "gettin[g] off sexually" with her daughter and that he posed "a danger … sexually[1292] … to Natalie."

'I can't remember specifics but I do remember trauma.' She speaks of 'being sexualized' along with someone named 'Caroline' … possibly her cousin Caroline. (Another family member who's wrestled with drug addictions and criminal behavior.) Ashley remembers 'showers w/ my dad (probably not appropriate).' And another line, not getting as much attention as the shower line: 'my father was — message — I could get love from men' … Ashley's diary and troubles cannot be seen in a vacuum. They must be seen in context with Hunter Biden's laptop and severe issues. The sexual addictions, the substance abuse, the trauma within the family." See Al Perrotta, "[] FBI Raids Project Veritas Over Diary Exposing Disturbing Family Secrets," The Stream, November 2021, archive.fo/VyciS

MANDATED REPORTER OMISSIONS

For several months in 2018, Hunter complained that he was not allowed to be alone with his niece. Based on the foregoing evidence from the Biden Laptop, the following people were made aware of allegations that Hunter was "sexually inappropriate" and/or "gettin[g] off sexually" with his own niece:

- Joe Biden
- Jill Biden[1293]
- Ashley Biden[1294]

Based on the respective state statutes, every person on the preceding page failed to make at least a verbal report about Hallie's allegations to the relevant law enforcement authorities. However, for five of the eleven people, the legal bar was a bit higher: they were required to file these reports (and thus create a paper trail). At the time of these events, Ashley Biden was a social worker[1302] in the state of Delaware; Liz Olivere Secundy also holds a Master's degree in Social Work, and Liz proudly displays the post-nominals "MSW" on her LinkedIn[1303] profile. According to the unambiguous wording of the statute, they were mandated[1304] to report these allegations—regardless of their source(s)—to Delaware's Department of Services for Children, Youth and Their Families. It is particularly troubling that Ashley did not thoroughly investigate (and report) Hallie's allegations, considering the sexual abuse Ashley apparently suffered during her own childhood, which she wrote about in her diary.[1305]

In another sickeningly ironic twist, Hallie gave a speech at an event[1306] co-hosted by the foundation named after her deceased husband—The Beau Biden Foundation for the Protection of Children—and the Special Olympics[1307] on 11/28/2018, mere months after she accused Hunter of the very thing she spoke out against that night: "The only way to end child abuse is to talk about child abuse. … These are real steps we can take to stop children from being hurt … we will work to update training for coaches and volunteers on their responsibility as mandated reporters."[13081309] The Biden family has continued[1310] to hold these events, hosting one just weeks after Joe was [s]elected as pResident.[1311]

Hunter believed that Hallie, too, endured sexual abuse when she was a "12 year old," according to a note he drafted. Hunter's ex-wife, Kathleen, also co-founded a legal nonprofit whose attorney, James Broadstone, resigned[1312] in disgrace after he propositioned a young male witness in a bathroom. These and many other aspects of the first family's tumultuous past[1313] are rarely, if ever, covered by the American press.[1314]

Hallie has given me no way back. She closes every door in my face with complete disdain and complete confidence that no matter what she says or does to me I am not a strong enough man to stand up and say enough I'm leaving you. Hallie has a thousand reasons she can name to end this relationship and at least 10% of them are valid and 80% of them are legitimate complaints that deserve my attention and explanation the last 10% are ridiculous but not to be ignored or dismissed by your partner. I address all of it and I am honest about all of it.

How far can someone push me to manipulate me to lie to me to and when exposed there is no remorse no guilt no acknowledgement of any wrong doing. Hallie tells me over sand over again "I have done nothing wrong." I think I know why and its the one thin g that has stopped me from simply walking out the door and turning off my phone. I believe from what I know that she was taken advantage of early in her life. I think the way she handled that experience that a 28 man subjected a 12 year old to is to take back her power and tell the story as a seduction on here part. She wasn't t taken advantage of in her m ind she was the seducer she was the little girl who had a special secret power over men. And it wasn't wrong because it was exciting and it was dangerous and it was all hers and no one else had any access to that part of her because she loved being the opposite of you. She said nothing told nominee and while you needed the attention she knew that your's was nothing compared to the attention lion she could draw out of any man she set her eyes on. Kermit would have never noticed Hallie if Hallie hadn't wanted to prove to herself that she was more beautiful and desired than Jen Knox and Devon.

And that's the pattern of her life. Since she had her first boyfriend the acceptable projection to whatever image she wanted to show the world. The friend she could share a laugh be as selfish as she wanted and never really have to care about him all that much (Todd). And tenth dangerous hyper sexual seducer that she could experience that sexuality that she knew she possessed but felt was not for the world to see (Kermit).

Whether the pattern continued through Beau I don't know any more. I choose to believe that somehow she stuffed all of her natural desires down into a dark part of her mind and when Beau died the Truer self that sh denies exists come out. I relic now that I was part of that continuum. I was the secret bad boy, David was the buddy and beau remained in death the projection of self she needed the world to believe she was. ←

And when we were "exposed" she immediately freaked out. I am not the man she wants the world to believe she loves. I am the exact opposite of what she wants the world to see. And when I at first thought her love gave me confidence she ripped it away when it went public..

She used to tell the story of how when Beau had his stroke and Pop couldn't deal and she did t want to decide lone she told me she turned to me because thats what Beau would have wanted. I told that story to someone I think Rob is friends in the Hamptons and when I finished the story and said "and when she told me that I knew I would love her forever" she said to the group- "actually the reason I turned to you was because there was no one else right there and Pop was totally out of it, and I just wanted to feel a part of it Beau would hav want Pop to decide obviously."

I should have known then that she would never repeat me, she would never be able to be my partner. She k ew she was stuck with me though and she knew she loved me more than all the love she has ever felt. When the woman you have given up everything for says to a crowd of people "Il loved Beau, I'm addicted to Hunter." What does anyone who has an addiction want to do more than anything. They want to rid themselves of the awful obsession. The thing everyone knows is alluring but inherently dangerous irresponsible and the devil in. disguise.

That is what she then made me out to be to everyone around her. Any transgression on her part is forgiven because they all know she was under the influence of Hunter. She never acted this way before. Jesus what the fuck did Hunter do now. but who she saw I wouldn't give up that easily she stated to tear down my already fragile ego. I only remember the big penises sand the really small ones I cant tell the difference between all the average ones. I know its easy to point out how trivial and typical stupid guy only thinks of his penis that is, but the sadistic part about Hallie is that (1). She knew how sensitive I was to that because when I was 14 and played varsity football but hadn't reached puberty it was a horribly embarrassing time in my life that has stuck with me tom this day and because of that (2). I loved to be reassured that my 9 inch very big penis was actually big. It may soju d funny to you but its body dysmorphia and the exact reason Hallie got breast implants. I know my penis is almost twice the size of an average mans penis I know that she knows rthgat and I know she is knows because Ive now told her 100 times to stop implying that no matter how obviously wrong sh is because no matter how beyond the little boy you have grown its harder to put out of your mind the the person you so love says it not once not twice not 10 times but over and over. Fucking sadistic- snd I really was going to not let my anger get the better of. But you fucking sick mean fuck. ←

Hunter's niece was apparently aware of the Biden family dynamics; she sent the following iMessage to Hunter and her mother: "u [sic] both re[m]ind me [that] I can't take living[1315] in a house hold with the two of u [sic] always fighting and wondering if u [sic] [] both [Hunter and Hallie] are doing drugs, and I just can't take myself out of it … [I] can't take the two of u [sic] fighting. ASHLEY'S CHILDHOOD ABUSE

As previously explained, Ashley recounted sexual abuse that she suffered during childhood—and many other topics—in a diary that she kept while undergoing[1319] treatment for drug and sex addiction. James O'Keefe and his entity, Project Veritas, through a series of events, purchased the diary for $40k from Aimee Harris, who stayed in a rented room in Delray Beach (FL) where Ashley had previously stayed (Ashley's attorneys claimed that Ashley had permission to leave her belongings in the room, but provided no evidence). However, O'Keefe regrettably punted the story, which caused one of his employees at Project Veritas to send a scanned copy of the diary to National File. Patrick Howley then published several stories about the diary and posted the scanned copy.[1320] After verifying the diary's authenticity based on a photo retrieved from the Biden Laptop that Ashley sent to Hunter on 03/13/2019, Marco Polo transcribed the entire 112-page diary—the only group to do so.[1321]

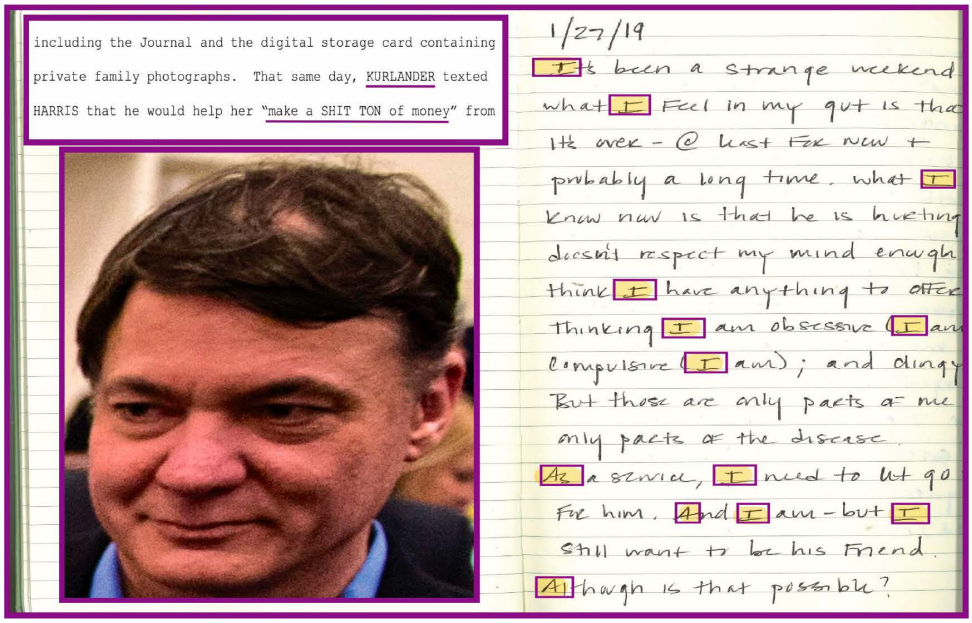
The diary saga involved several mendacious characters. Like Joe, who has a long[1322] and storied history[1323] of lying, Bob Kurlander[1324] presented himself in public as a patriot who supported Joe's opponent in the 2020 presidential [s]election and simply wanted to expose Joe as the patriarch of a completely dysfunctional family. However, in private, Kurlander was chiefly concerned with making a "SHIT TON of money" for himself and the female who stumbled across Ashley's diary. In the midst of it all, Ashley apparently wanted "sobriety at all costs"[1325] and to heal from childhood sexual trauma.



including the Journal and the digital storage card containing private family photographs. That same day, KURLANDER texted HARRIS that he would help her "make a SHIT TON of money" from

It's been a strange weekend what I feel in my gut is that it's over - @ least for now + probably a long time. what I know now is that he is hurting doesn't respect my mind enough think I have anything to offer thinking I am obsessive (I am compulsive (I am); and clingy But those are only parts of me only parts of the disease. As a service, I need to let go for him. And I am - but I still want to be his friend. Although is that possible?

Is it possible to just be a friend? Time will tell. I am feeling stronger by the day + really trying to keep the focus on me. Faith. Real Faith. That will work out + be / I w... life beyond my wildest ... I will for now, use the fellowship as my higher power. I am going to do 90 in 90. will make the 7 am meeting tomorrow @ crossroads and have a full day of therapy + focus. I get a massage tomorrow too.

You're not alone. I Love Yw.

According to her diary, Ashley's trauma was the result of being "molested." She ruminated at length: "What is this due to? The last day of February!

Thank you Lord Jesus. I am getting better each day + realizing it was the intimate connection that I am craving + got obsessed with. It's been a long time - but its not him. He is a sweet guy but I honestly am not that internally attracted to him. He is emotionally immature - aren't we all - but shows me how I don't want to be + what I won't stand for in my life. Today, I Feel it isn't necessary to have a convo with him - whats the point? I would rather have the mistake - take the lesson. what did he teach me? - That intimacy is so important to me. - That Falling head over heals isn't necessarily healthy - That I choose men who are unavailable to me. He also taught me about my own pathetic/immature/needy behavior that I would like to change. I don't need to be needy. I need to be self-assured +

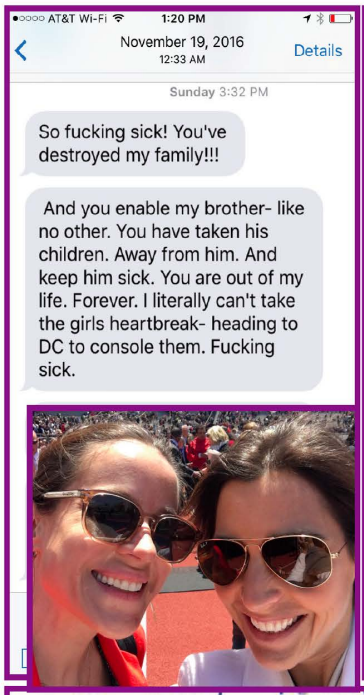
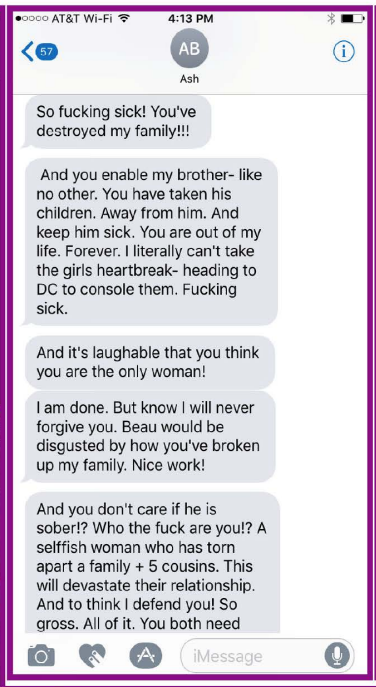
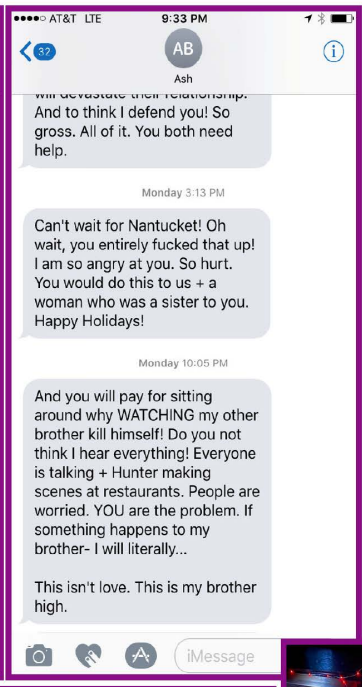
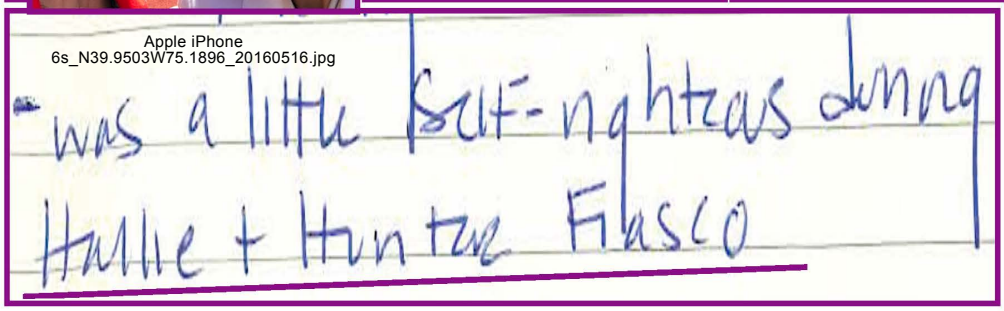
Other allusions in the diary which confirmed its authenticity, as well as the authenticity of the Biden Laptop, dealt with the Biden family spending every Thanksgiving holiday in Nantucket.[1328] These island excursions were referenced in the iMessages below from Ashley to Hallie in November 2016: "Can't wait for Nantucket! Oh wait, you [Hallie][1329] entirely fucked that up! … YOU are the problem." Nearly three years later, Ashley admitted that she was "a little self-righteous during [the] Hallie [and] Hunter fiasco[.]"[1330] Even with her newly found self-awareness, Ashley[1331] still frequently imbibes.[1332]









[1328] "It's an annual tradition for Joe Biden's family to celebrate Thanksgiving on Nantucket, and this year was no different. The Nantucket Inquirer & Mirror reported that the vice president arrived on the island Tuesday night, and he was spotted having lunch at Fog Island Cafe and walking along Main Street with his German shepherd."

[1329] "The breaking point came when their then-18-year-old daughter, Finnegan, called Buhle to come to the family therapist's home. There her daughters revealed they found texts on his phone proving he [Hunter] was having an affair with Beau Biden's widow, Hallie Biden."

As referenced previously, Project Veritas pusillanimously fumbled the diary story—employees at the outfit even spoke[1333] with Ashley over the phone about the diary, which further confirmed its authenticity, and yet they shrunk from the task. Nevertheless, timidity did not gain them any favor with the feds—two employees and the founder were raided by the FBI in November 2021. Throughout the investigation, the New York Times[1334] was illegally[1335] receiving tips from SDNY law enforcement and prosecutors. Namely, AUSA Mitzi Shana Steiner[13361337] and Magistrate Judge Sarah Cave[133813391340] sought and approved the egregious raids, which even liberal civil rights groups stridently opposed.[1341]

The unprecedented pursuit of Kurlander, Harris, and Project Veritas was the result of a conspiracy[1342] between FBI agents—specifically John Vourderis (NY)[1343] and Dom Healey (FL)[1344]—and SDNY prosecutors.[1345] In fact, the only thing the feds were not investigating was the diary's lurid content.[1346]

EVADING PATERNAL OBLIGATIONS

08/28/2018ff	Independence County Circuit Court (I.C.C.C.)	Navy Joan Roberts	Ark. Code § 9-10-108

As stated previously, Hunter's sexual conquests had far-reaching consequences, which he tried to ignore for as long as he could. Hunter impregnated a former stripper named Lunden Roberts, an employee at his law firm. Lunden begged Hunter for financial assistance—and he ignored her. The child, Navy Joan Roberts, was born on 08/28/2018[1347] but has never seen or spoken with Hunter or any member of the Biden family. An Arkansas native and college basketball standout who met Hunter while in graduate school at George Washington University, Lunden sued Hunter in an Arkansas county circuit court. After months of denial, Hunter finally admitted he was Navy's father only after he took a court-ordered paternity test. Hunter still maintains that he "could not recall" the copulation.[1348]

[1348] "Roberts'[s] attorney, Clint Lancaster, said Biden didn't provide the support voluntarily. 'He has only taken financial responsibility when the court forced him to do it,' Lancaster said. While Biden is up to date on his child support payments, he has had no interaction with his Arkansas-born daughter, now referred to in court documents as NJR. 'He's not seen his child. He has no relationship with his child, by his own choosing,' Lancaster said. 'Mr. Biden hasn't taken responsibility for this child until he parents her. … Every child needs loving parents and loving grandparents. This child could stand a relationship with her father. She could stand a relationship with her grandfather[.]'"
See Frank Lockwood, "Didn't recall encounter with Arkansan, Hunter Biden says in book," Arkansas Democrat-Gazette, April 2021, archive.ph/UV9db

Ample evidence of Hunter's connection to Lunden existed on the Biden Laptop. Hunter even kicked Lunden off of his company's health insurance plan[1349] and payroll[13501351] when Navy was less than three months old: "Well[,] take whatever I pay Lunden and get my shit straightened out[,] Katie."[1352]

[1352] "'I'm wondering if you have a comment on this report, and court filing, out of Arkansas that your son Hunter just made you a grandfather again,' Fox News' Peter Doocy asked. 'No, that's a private matter and I have no comment,' Biden fired back before attacking the reporter. 'Only you would ask that … You're a good man. You're a good man. Classy.'" See Brian Flood and Vandana Rambaran, "Joe Biden tangles with Fox News' Peter Doocy over question about Hunter Biden's DNA test," Fox News, November 2019, archive.ph/4m1s6

Hunter provided some background about Lunden to his office's property manager: "I had phoned ahead to let security know that my youngest daughter's [Maisy's] basketball mentor[1353] [Lunden, who] worked out with Maisy and Sasha Obama when they played in rec league together. Maisy, my daughter[,] continues ton [sic] pursue a NCAA Div. One team and Lunden[1354] continues to help. … Lunden choose [sic] not [to] play in the WNBA. Lunden[1355] is in her final semester at George Washington University's National CSIS Masters Program and ranked #1 in her class." Lunden's relationship with Maisy made Hunter's lies to the Arkansas circuit court that much more ridiculous.[1356]

SEXUALLY TRANSMITTED DISEASES

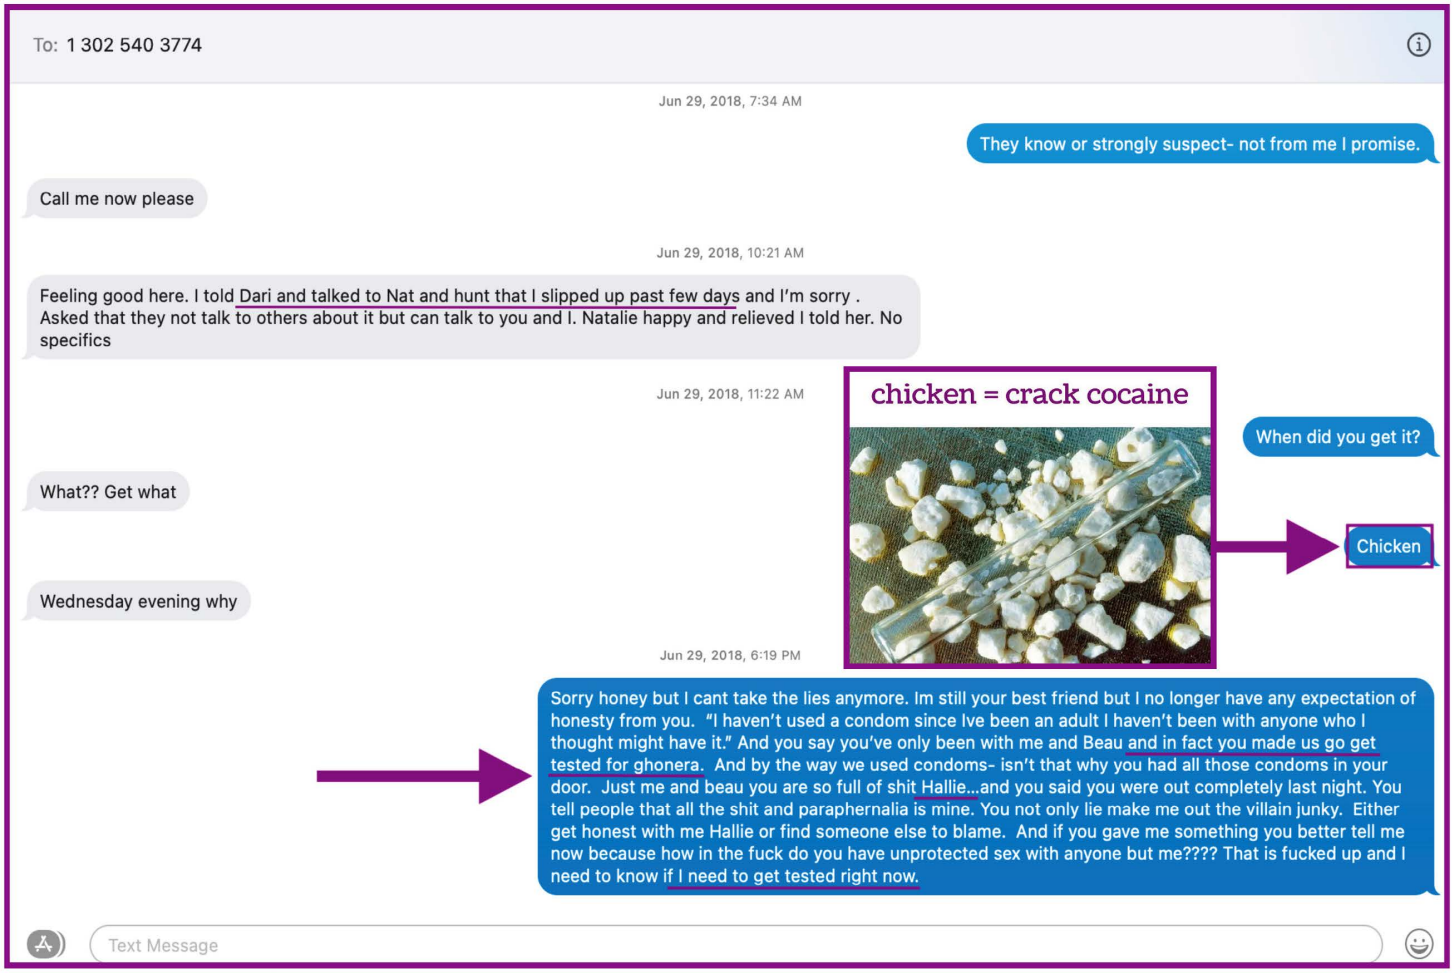
06/29/2018ff	N.Y.C.S.C.	Hallie Olivere Biden	NY PHL § 2307

Unsurprisingly, the Biden family's sexual proclivities caused medical scares. After inquiring about Hallie's procurement of crack cocaine, which Hunter called "chicken", Hunter lamented that he "no longer" had "any expectation of honesty" from Hallie: " … you say you've only been with me and Beau and in fact you made us go get tested for ghonera [sic] [gonorrhea]. … by the way we used condoms … if you gave me something you better tell me now because how in the fuck do you have unprotected sex with anyone but me???? That is fucked up and I need to know if I need to get tested right now."[1369] Hunter may have been preparing for litigation if Hallie knowingly infected him with a sexually transmitted disease (STD), a misdemeanor in at least one state in which they copulated.[1370]



[1369] "For what it's worth, the Old Testament obligates the brother of a childless man to marry the widow. But Beau had two kids and anyway, religious duty was most likely not on Hunter's mind. In 2018, according to emails harvested from that laptop, Hunter insisted Hallie test for HIV."
See Lloyd Green, "If We Break review: Hunter Biden as horror husband and political problem," The Guardian, June 2022, archive.ph/WvVkx

[1370] "Many, but not all, states have laws that criminalize the transmission of at least some types of STDs between people. … a prosecutor can show that, while knowing you had the disease, you were indifferent to the risk of exposing someone else and engaged in contact that recklessly endangered the other person."
See Mark Theoharis, "Transmitting an STD: Criminal Laws & Penalties," Criminal Defense Lawyer, archive.ph/VRVz2

Nearly a month later, Hunter sent a frantic email to his brother's widow with the following subject line: "YOU NEED TO GET TESTED FOR HIV HALLIE[.]" A little less than an hour before he sent that email, Hunter complained to Hallie's sister, Liz, about Hallie's supposed carelessness regarding the STD: "let her k now [sic] that the guy she more than likely was with (and at minimum rubbed his spit into our open wounds and blew tobacco ash into our noses) has HIV."[1371] Later that year, in October, Hunter had more choice words for Hallie: "I hope you protect yourself or at least don't give him anything, but a blow job [as] you know can be just as dangerous as it relates to stds.."[1372]

IV. DRUG-RELATED CRIMES

The Biden family's drug and alcohol addictions have been sympathetically written about by the mainstream American press since 2009, when a video surfaced of Ashley snorting cocaine at a party. The mainstream media has not focused, however, on the fact that it was Joe who came up with the phrase "drug czar"[1373] in 1982. Indeed, Joe played a leading role in crafting stricter sentences for drug offenders that, if applied equally, would have sent his own son and daughter to prison for decades. Furthermore, only a foreign outlet has covered the incredible admission from Joe that Hunter apparently inherited his addictive urges from Joe, and Hunter's mother, Neilia: "[Y]ou got the disease from mommy [Neilia] and me[.]"[1374] It is critical to remember that many of Hunter's drug dealers—and Hunter himself—used sex trafficking[1375] and other illegal pursuits in tandem with narcotics offenses.

I have been there for better or worse for 22 years. I have been there for you and our children and I have struggled with this disease. And when I need you most to protect me against myself you shut me out. My worst nightmare has become a reality- and in the aftermath you have decided that I'm not worthy of your compassion.
I am alone and you make me choose between our children and and all out confrontation with you. I know I've hurt you- maybe beyond repair-but if you were alone and sinking -no matter what - do you think I wouldn't be there to hold you. Not say - "I'm doing this all for you" while you vacation with your friends. Not say things like "Natalie and Hunter have a mother and you're not their father."
Did I make you this person. I'm sorry if I did . But regardless of what has been done and said - all the insults and injuries I may have caused- I am done with you. I am dying inside - but I will survive on the outside for my children. I'll be sober - but no matter what what without you I am dead.

You and I are done. Find a lawyer - you can have any money you want- but you won't keep me from my children.
I've consented to daily breathalyzers and blood tests and urinalysis and meetings with psychologists and still from afar you influence the process. You say I'm angry. I'm not angry. I'm amazed and disappointed. The person I fell in love with and have always been in love with is now my enemy.
I've been able to keep this family afloat admits so many crisis. And so have you. Have I ever missed a tuition payment or mortgage payment, a play or a game or any thing that ever mattered- or your Neiman Marcus bill. Do you know what I've done to make that possible. Do you have any idea of the level of degradation?

Do you know the level of pain I feel every minute- reliving the last two years as he died. Can you imagine what I felt when they said when he was dead and I came back and touched him after he was declared dead for 7 minutes and his heart restarted?
I thought you did. I thought that no matter how faulted I was that you would be there.
When-in any moment of crisis- with your family or mine have I not chosen you? When have I not been there for your family- for your brothers for your parents for your cousins.

My brother died and the day after he was put in a grave you stopped speaking to me. Actually- you spoke to me to say things like "so you really think you can run for congress - don't ever say that to you're children and embarrass yourself."

You need to find your own path from here because it is clearly not with me. I'm certain my children will love me no matter what you do and have been doing to try and change that. They've all told me what you have been saying about me. I've never uttered a bad word about you to them- and I never will. It's so sad to know that you haven't done the same for me.

But for the past 90 days or so with all my failings I wake up every day and turn and I am alone and I reach for you and you're not there and then I reach for the phone to call Beau and I am alone.
And you are drinking wine and smoking pot on the porch with Chris and Amy (the oh so virtuous) or at Camp David with Michele or in NYC with MD, or on the beach with Art and his kids. And I am here waking up alone on my way to a breathalyzer and a pee test...for what?(I have the liver of a 20 year old by the way according to my last blood test.)
I'll go to Caron- but realize this- every dime we have is accounted for - tuitions etc... After backyard and basement and all you're insane spending- like the the fence I said Brother could jump and chewy could climb under- (I have every bill) we have no savings- so be prepared for no housekeeper and no Jun and no car payments and credit cards and no ATM. If you need money desperately call Eric and ask for an advance against my potential earnings. Any bills that need to be paid - ask Eric first. If you need spending money ask Eric.

Realize this- everyone already thinks I'm a lying cheating piece of shit because of what you and my sister-in law and everyone in my family knows that I am the scum you have describe side? They all hate me because what you have told them. The only response I get is "you d good for our girls?

Your absence after the most devastating moment in my life clearly confirmed to all our friend be the most despicable human being in the world- for my wife and best friend to completely desperate time of need.
Do you remember calling me to tell me you were pregnant? Do you remember me meeting about pregnancy? "What to Expect When you're Expecting." Do you remember me being th loved you no matter what.

And now remember this- I am alone and beyond despair and you know I have no real friend you decide you are done with me and Beau is dead.

Joe allowed Ashley[1385] to be around children in the Biden family when she was high. In an iMessage from 07/11/2018 that he sent to Joe, Hunter bemoaned Joe's apparent double standard: "You [Joe] argued it was unfair to keep the kids away from Ashley[1386] when she was using [illegal drugs]."[13871388]

[1385] "The woman on the tape clearly resembles Ashley Biden, 27, who is a social worker employed with the Delaware Department of Children, Youth and Families. She is also a board member of the Delaware YWCA organization. The tape was shot this year. On the tape a man cuts up five lines of what is said to be cocaine. The woman who the seller says is Ashley then jokes with the man that the lines aren't big enough. The man hands her a rolled-up dollar bill and she proceeds to walk a few steps to a table where the cocaine is cut. She pulls her hair back, bends down and snorts a line. Four lines of white powdery substance are clearly visible on the table, which is in front of a computer. After she snorts the first line, the woman said to be Ashley lifts her head and wipes her nose. She then snorts a second and third line before the tape cuts off. … The events on the tape are represented as taking place at a party in Wilmington, Delaware[.]"

[1386] "Ashley, 27, is now at the center of a scandal rocking Washington and Delaware, which her anti-drug dad had represented as US senator for decades prior to being elected as President Obama's vice president. Recently, a man claiming to be a 'friend' of Ashley's had two lawyers speak to The Post — and other media outlets — offering for sale a videotape that he claimed was made earlier this month during a Delaware house party. On a 90-second clip from the video that The Post viewed, a young woman strongly resembling Ashley is seen taking a red straw from her mouth, bending over a desk, inserting the straw into her nostril and snorting lines of white powder. The camera follows the woman from a few feet away, focusing on her as she moves about the room."

Not only was the female[1393] Hunter's maid and crack dealer, but she also evidently stayed at Joe's home. In a terse morning email to Cecilia BROWNING, the office manager[1394] at the House of Sweden, which also housed the Icelandic Ambassador's office (whose Consular Officer, Ann-Sophie COX,[13951396] was apparently "offended" by Hunter's dealer's "ethnicity"), Hunter explained that "[t]he woman's name is Robin Teresa Henry and I have known her for 17 years … She has stayed in MY parent[']s home. She has been to the White House with me and she has met my entire family."

Cecelia
Please call me at your convenience. I will be in my office today. No visitor of mine entered the building without the knowledge of security. If Ms. Cox has an issue with the race or dress of my visitors I think we should all sit down and discuss with an attorney present. I understand your need for security in light of the fact that the Icelandic Ambassador's office is on the same floor, however, I do not believe i have received a complaint from any other tenants. If I have please let me know. You pointed out the rules in a previous email, and I accommodated Ms. Cox's solitary concern. If you are telling me that I need to seek prior approval for any visitor I may have to my office after 6PM than I think we should have a talk about the practicality of that. It seems Ms. Cox has an issue with my visitors in particular. I've spoken with other tenants and frankly I have seen visitors of others enter and exit the building by the north entrance after "business hours." I have come to know personally the entire security team you have at the House of Sweden. I have never knowingly attempted to hide visitors or break any rules. What do i have have to hide Cecelia. There is a camera in every hallway every 10 feet. I have adjusted to the rules that seem to applied to me while not others. In fact I know that other tenants on the 5th floor have had visitors and even cocktail parties after hours and have not been required to have "After hour visitors...approved by the management prior to their visit at House of Sweden."
Again, Ms. Cox who apparently will not provide me with a replacement key that I have given to my Uncle (that's explained in the following email) For some reason Ms.Cox seems to be offended or concerned with the shape size color ethnicity weight— who knows- of my visitors. I have never tried to evade security and that can be confirmed by all members of your security team. I assume that Ms. Cox is now referring to "visitors" THAT RECENTLY ENTERED THE BUILDING THROUGH THE NORTH ENTRANCE WHERE THEY WERE MET AT MY OFFICE DOOR BY SECURITY. I had phoned ahead to let security know that my youngest daughter's basketball mentor she worked out with Maisy and Sasha Obama when they played in rec league together. Maisy, my daughter continues ton pursue a NCAA Div. One team and Lunden continues to help.

Cecilia BROWNING

Ann-Sofie COX

This is beyond absurd. Ms. Cox may genuinely believe that their is some security risk. Your actual security team however always been made aware of my guests regardless of the hour. I will admit that my guests at times do to fit a profile that Ms. Cox seems to be more uncomfortable with. In particular (among several) Ms. Cox took issue with a middle aged African American woman who because of her economic circumstances was dressed in clothes I will assume Ms. Cox would associate with an extremely poor person. The woman's name is Robin Teresa Henry and I have known her for 17 years. She has had a very difficult life, but is one of the more honest and caring people I have ever known. She has been homeless for quite sometime and I have always tried to help by giving Robin odd jobs that fit with her odd hours so that she can have somewhere safe to sleep. I assure you she is not a threat to the Icelandic Ambassador. IF YOU WOULD LIKE HER TO COME IN AND PROVIDE ID FOR BACKGROUND LET ME KNOW. She has stayed in MY parents home. She has been to the White House with me and she has met my entire family. But if Ms. Cox is scared of Robin please let me know.

Later that week near Washington Square Park in Manhattan (approximately 40.732500, -73.996500), Hunter posed for a series of early-morning photos while he smoked crack cocaine. Later that day in the evening, Hunter apparently drove[1401] his Porsche from Manhattan to Delaware so he could attend his daughter Naomi's 24th birthday party at Joe's compound on Barley Mill Road outside Wilmington.

Hunter smoked crack cocaine with an unidentified male in the closet—colloquially[1402] known as "hotboxing"—of his bungalow at the Chateau Marmont hotel (Hunter was eventually banned).[1403] The pair used a flashlight to enhance the appearance of the smoke which emanated from the crack pipe.

Hunter was still at the Chateau Marmont almost two weeks later and, over a period of fours days, he used his iPhone to take a series of photos memorializing his 15+ grams of crack cocaine.[1404] In fact, Hunter verified the crack's precise weight using an "Infyniti Cheech and Chong G-Force" scale.[1405]

[1404] "Biden's son Hunter's long history of drug abuse began in 1988 with an arrest for drug possession — at around the same time his father was intensifying his War on Drugs bonafides and pushing for stiffer sentences for drug users. 'I was cited for possession of a controlled substance in Stone Harbor, NJ. There was a pre-trial intervention and the record was expunged,' he admitted in a disclosure after being nominated to serve on the Amtrak Reform Board in 2006. The same year Hunter was arrested, Sen. Biden voted for the Anti-Drug Abuse Act, which specifically targeted the use of crack cocaine, making it the only narcotic with a mandatory penalty for possession. Since then, however, The Post reported that Hunter Biden was suspected of smoking the rock in 2018 by staffers at Archibald's Gentlemen's Club in Washington, D.C. He's been in rehab at least six times for drugs and alcohol, and by his own admission spent four years addicted to crack. He is not known to have ever spent a day in jail."

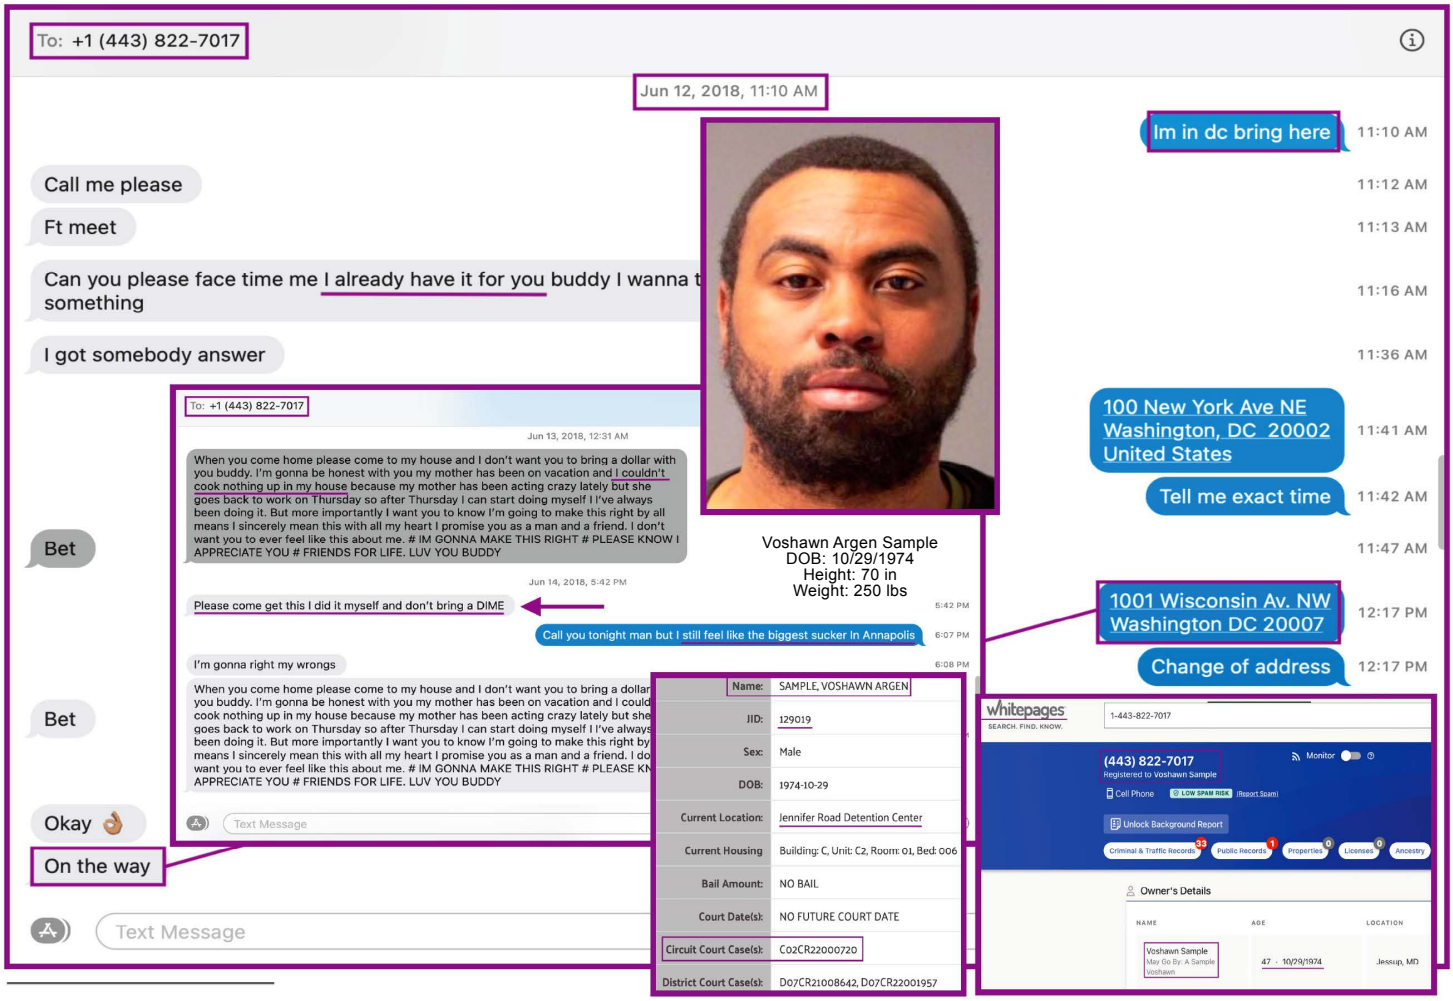
Hunter conspired to commit mail fraud with his crack cocaine dealer, who was featured on Maryland's Most Wanted.[14081409] For weeks, Hunter corresponded with a number registered[1410] to Voshawn Sample and put in orders to be delivered near Hunter's office. Hunter became frustrated when Sample stood him up, so much so that Sample offered a lengthy explanation and quasi-apology: "[P]lease come to my house and I don't want you to bring a dollar with you buddy … my mother has been on vacation and I couldn't cook nothing up in my house because my mother has been acting crazy lately but she goes back to work on Thursday … Please come get this I did it myself and don't bring a DIME." Hunter responded by saying that he still felt "like the biggest sucker in Annapolis[.]"



[1408] "Voshawn Sample, 47, is wanted for armed robbery, first-degree assault, and other, lesser related charges. … Sample committed an armed robbery at Champion Liquors in Glen Burnie, Anne Arundel County September 30, 2021. … Sample pulled out a gun after the owner of the store declined to give him any money, and ordered the owner and an employee to the back of the store, where he collected a total of $10,000. … Sample ordered the men to get on the ground, pointed a gun at one victim's head, and then actually shot the other victim in his lower extremities."

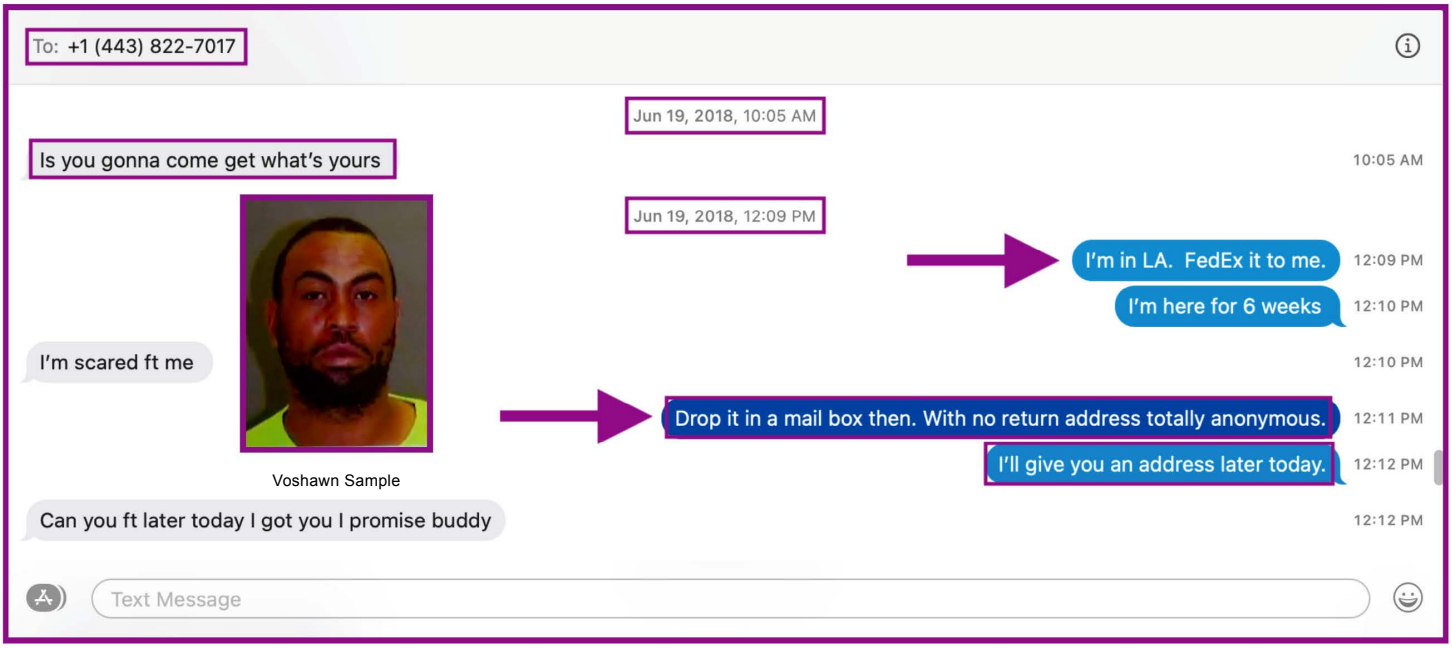
Sample's supplication apparently did not work, so he settled for the less formal route: "Is you gonna come get what's yours[?]" Hunter had already left the east coast, however: "I'm in LA. FedEx it to me. I'm here for 6 weeks[.]" Sample was "scared" about the proposed mail fraud, but Hunter had a solution: "Drop it in a mail box … no return address totally anonymous … give you an address later[.]"



Hunter used the name of the founder[1411] of Mormonism[1412] as an alias, and the address that he sent corresponded with the infamous Chateau Marmont hotel: "FEDEX or overnight Mail at Post Office to: Guest Joseph Smith (HB) … 8221 Sunset Boulevard Los Angeles, California … I[']ll call in 10[.]"[1413]

Drug arrests

Two Annapolis men were arrested Tuesday after they allegedly sold crack cocaine to undercover city police officers in two separate incidents.

At about 6:30 p.m., Thomas Alrossi Evans, 44, of 617 Old Sudley Road in West River, was arrested in the Eastport Terrace community after he allegedly sold one-half gram of cocaine to undercover police officers. He was charged with distribution and possession of drugs.

At about 7:30 p.m., Voshawn Argen Sample, 23, of 802 Eighth St. in Laurel, was arrested near the corner of Clay and Pleasant streets after allegedly selling 1 gram of crack to undercover officers. He was charged with distribution of drugs, distribution of drugs in a school zone and drug possession.

Drug charges

Four adults and a juvenile were charged with possession of crack cocaine after they allegedly took part in drug transactions in the Robinwood neighborhood Monday night.

County and city narcotics officers took part in the operation and arrested:

- Donald B. Provan, 23, 529 Highland Drive, Edgewater.
- Jack B. Parker, 33, 529 Highland Drive, Edgewater.

In what has been dubbed as the "Cocaine Saga,"[1414] Hunter's brother's widow pled with Hunter during a phone call to procure crack cocaine for her. The transcript of an excerpt of the call is below:

Hallie: … Please, just get it [crack cocaine] for me. …
Hunter: So, what? You're going to tell me your way if I told you if I got it [crack cocaine] for you? But now you're saying you don't have a way.
Hallie: I told you—
Hunter: And now you're telling me that you don't trust me? I mean, how am I supposed to trust you? What, you're going to make up something?
Hallie: I told you I would...
Hunter: What?
Hallie: I told you I would call Lisa.[1415]
Hunter: Hallie, there is no way in hell… [do] you think that Lisa doesn't know that you've been in and out of rehab—[and] all the struggles you're going through—and is going to get you [crack] cocaine. … Hallie?
Hallie: I don't know.
Hunter: What do you mean you don't know? Then why did you tell me you would, I mean...?
Hallie: I don't know. She's... I don't know if she would. I still think she would.
Hunter: Why? Tell me.
Hallie: I talked to her—
Hunter: Tell me what ... Here's what I'm asking—because the reason I'm asking you to go through this is is just to run the tape. Do you think that she wouldn't call your mom?
Hallie: I don't want to run the tape right now. I don't want to run the tape right now.
Hunter: Okay, but you don't think she would call your sister [Liz Olivere Secundy] who would call your mom [the late Joan Berger Olivere] who would call my dad [pResident Joe Biden]?
Hallie: I don't know.
Hunter: Well, absolutely, 100% they would.
Hallie:I don't know. Then I can't talk to you …

Three months later, Hunter confided to a friend about Hallie's behavior: "If I told you just one truth out of one-hundred that I've come to know about her Robi you would be hard pressed to not go and take the kids from her immediately." Hunter saved the message in his iCloud Notes application.

On 01/27/2018, Hunter pored over Hallie's scrunched handwritten notes from her time at Passages Malibu. Hunter also revealed that Joe paid for another $45,000 stay for Hallie at Caron, an upscale rehab chain that Ashley utilized[1417] in Delray Beach (FL) and where Caroline Biden, Joe's niece, was ordered to stay in January 2014 for "anger issues" after she assaulted a cop in New York City.[1418]

A significant portion of Hunter's time in 2018 was spent accusing Hallie of being dishonest with him about a range of issues: "[W]hy is she [Hallie] sending me partial nudes without her face in the picture … a day before she supposedly got her chicken [crack cocaine] … I don't know what[']s true … How in the world does Natalie think I get 'my stuff' [crack cocaine] at 7/11[1419] on [G]reenhill [Avenue][?]"

Hunter's blame[1420] game reached the outer branches of the Biden family tree, as well. Hunter told the late Joan Berger Olivere, Hallie's mother, about the specifics of Hallie's supposed duplicity: "Mimi [Joan][,] I am deprived … The only mess in my life right now is that Hallie and her 12 days of recovery (and I hope she is sober) truly does[,] says[,] and acts in a way [that is] thhe [sic] opposite of love … I am told I have been physically and emotionally abusive … I hope she [Hallie] [beats] the drug[s] she got before I [Hunter] was ever a part of her life and still gets on her own now. [H]er hair dresser[1421] of 15 years is her [drug] source[,] by the way." A little over four months later, Hunter's ire turned towards Joan—in a message to Hallie, Hunter described her mother[1422] as a "selfish and insecure woman who cannot stop being a cunt just because that[']s her nature[—]she was born that way … your mom is not the one you should be listening to about anything … she is only good at taking care of herself."

In another phone call with his brother's widow, which Hunter recorded, the widow again asked Hunter to procure crack cocaine for her and have it delivered to the family's home just outside Wilmington. Hunter replayed the audio of the call on 01/28/2019—a partial transcript of the call is below:

Hallie: Why don't you come here tonight, and then fly back tomorrow to wherever you need to go? We could have lots of drunk sex all night. … I want to use regardless, but I would rather use with you and have sex with you all night. … if you get it [crack cocaine] delivered here I won't leave the house.
Hunter: Honey, I was sweet to you for a whole week … When did they [the Buccinis][1423] invite you to go the Hamptons, Hallie? … They invited you to go the Hamptons with them. …
Hallie: They said "of course, you're welcome whenever," and I said, "you can take Natalie" … because Josephine [Buccini][1424] was pushing it. …

Third-party sources—apart from the Biden Laptop—confirmed the connection between the widow (and the entire[1425] Biden family, for that matter) and the family of the girl[1426] alluded to during the call.

Hunter had strict instructions for his longtime drug dealer who he labeled in his iPhone contacts as "LA Transport." Hunter was staying less than a mile away from where the former assistant (Heidi Planck) to his onetime business partner (Jason Sugarman) was last[1427] seen: "Meet me downtown at 6th and Olive st. Hunter and his dealer had it down to a science—Hunter would send a Wells Fargo[1429] ATM code, his dealer[1430] would withdraw cash, and "white boy" would be "on his way." However, Hunter's dealer was not always sly,[1431] as Hunter complained about the age of the girls they were with on one occasion: "I left room b/c I told mike those girls are way young and I think maybe underage and I'm not doing that he was supposed to ask them to show they [are] over 21 but he still hasn't called me or texted me."

Hunter told a Russian-born crack cocaine dealer based in New York City—who lost[1438] his taxi driver medallion because of a failed drug test, not unlike Hunter's 5-week[1439] stint in the Navy—that he was "planning a dinner for 8 people." Hunter: Marion Barry. He—you know what? I actually smoked crack[1450] with Marion Barry—I swear to fucking God.
Hunter's former psychiatrist: Jesus.
Hunter: That was in Georgetown, and he used to go to a place right next to The Guards,[1451] and I was a sophomore, I guess, or a junior when that happened, but he used to come there and drink, like, late and I would be in there.
Hunter's former psychiatrist: Huh?

The following week, while apparently waiting to check himself into rehab, Hunter recorded—with his laptop's built-in webcam via the Photo Booth application—his wandering tirade[1462] to his brother's widow. Between hits on his crack cocaine pipe, Hunter fumed to Hallie about a recent op-ed[1463] and accused her of not being supportive. Hunter was holed up at a Marriott in Worcester at the time.

Hunter's tirade came after he sent a series of self-loathing and vitriolic iMessages to his brother's widow: "You didn't read Maureen Dowd[?] … No matter what I do, where I go … it will never be good enough for you … Ive [sic] never done a dishonest business transaction in my life … Im [sic] the most ethical man you will ever know … You say 'shady[1464] business deals' … You stupid fucking cunt[.]"[1465]

Hunter's iMessage exchange with a dealer from Rhode Island revealed that not only was Hunter consuming illegal narcotics, but he was also trafficking them. In addition to negotiating the purchase price of narcotics for someone else, Hunter complained to his dealer[1468] about the drugs' unsatisfactory quality—according to a urine test Hunter used, shown on the next page—and told his dealer[1469] that the man who would be buying from him is "not someone [that he] can keep waiting[.]"

Dude did you just scam me --- it feels like it!

No way dude how do yo feel like that I sold a 30 just now

You gave me 200 that what I brought you the first time the second time I sold some and brought you 60

Dude I like you I won't scam You!

And I like hanging out with you

Did you get some good stuff

Mar 7, 2019, 2:16 AM

Buddy I gave you 800 in cash. Received 8 working parts and returned 8 working parts and then gave you Gratis 3 more. That's $1100. And I've got 60 Semi working parts back.
And by the way Tiffany stole one of my iPhones.

you serious what a douchebag

I know where she lives I'll get it back for you

You only gave me 400 when you met the kid I'll know my bad 100 before that 2

And you left to your right but you got all product for that

I'm really sorry about that I just confronted her about it told her we were to to track it

She said track away I said that's because you probably already sold it I'll call her parents

Like to hang out with you be your driver go to guy make sure you don't get scammed, got to be careful with those girls to but you know all this sitting here laughing you're a cool dude man I like you I hope you don't think I really scammed you

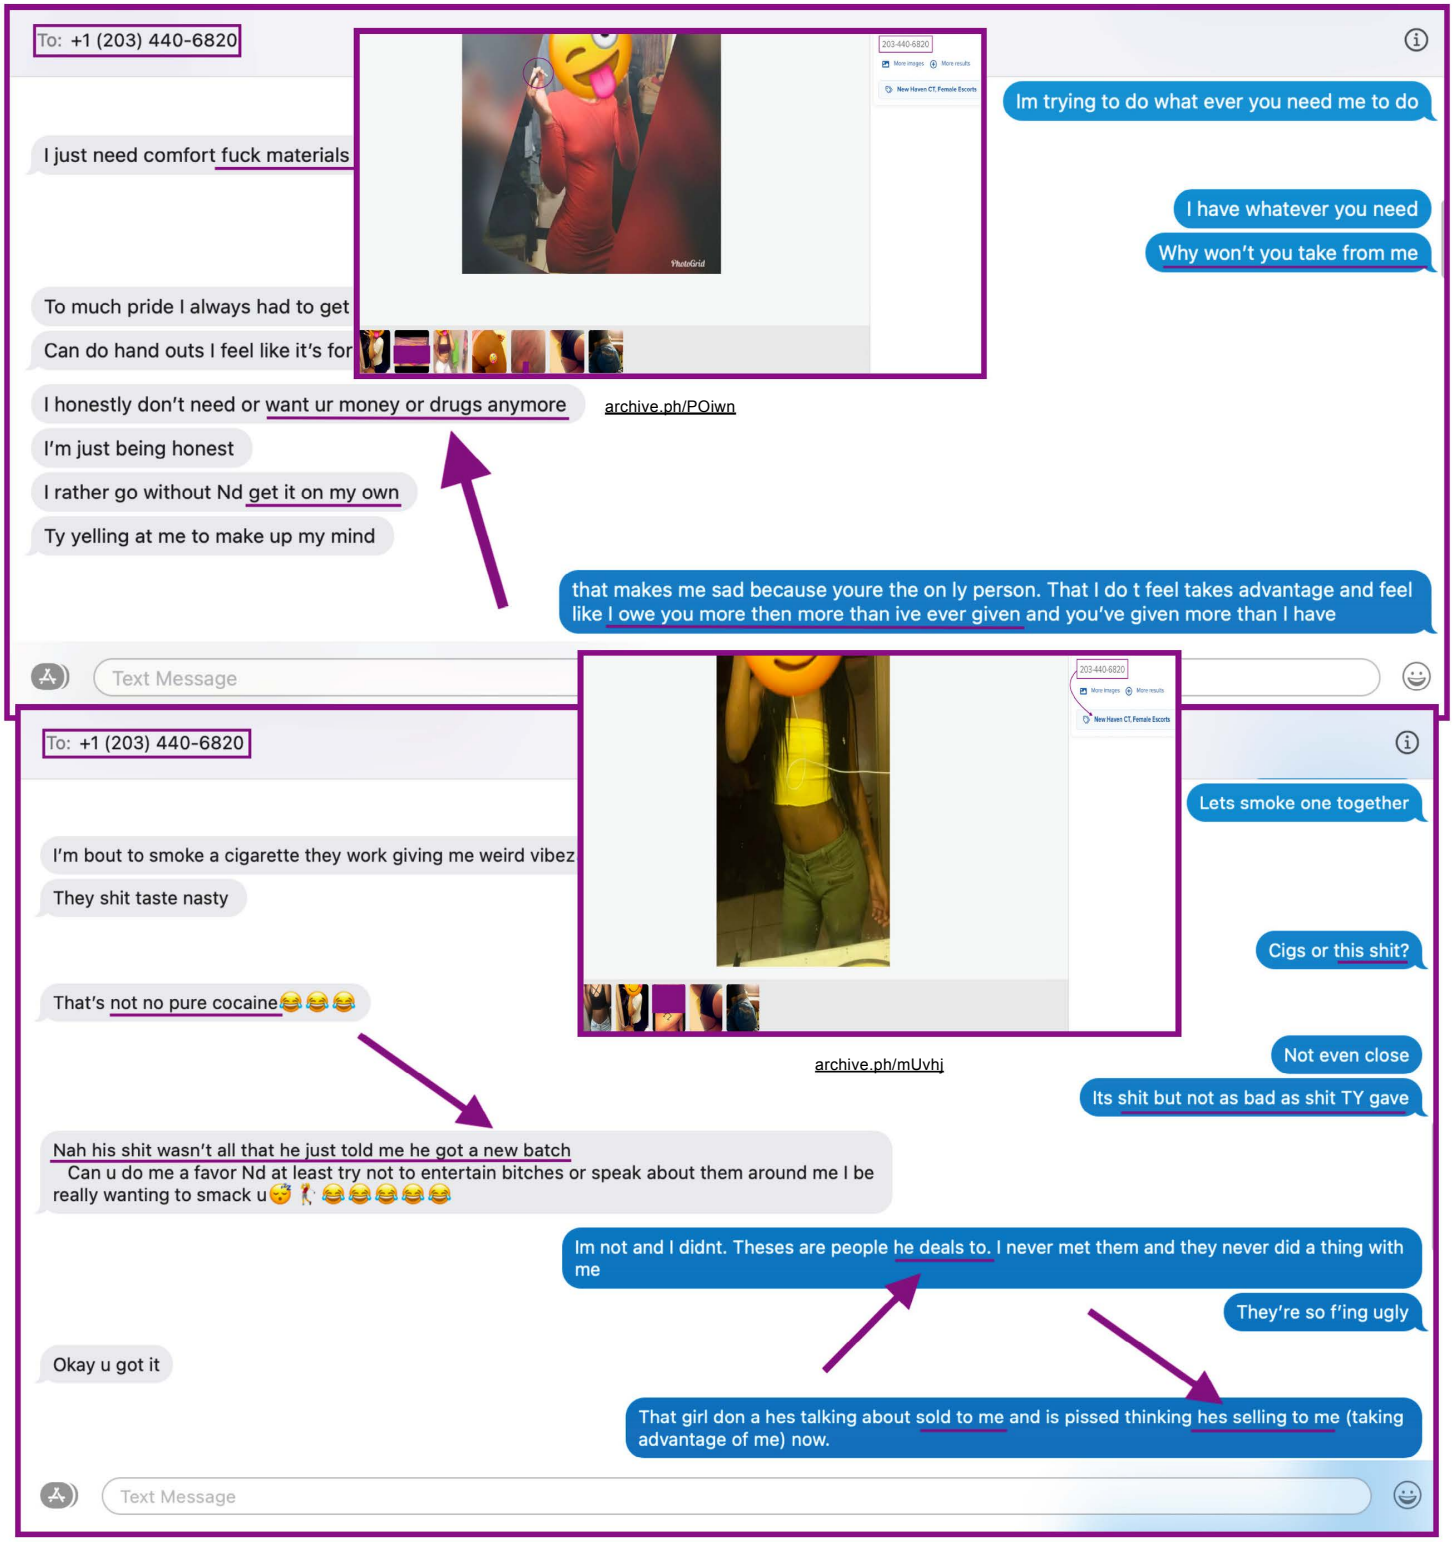
Even though Hunter offered "whatever [she] need[ed]" and wondered "why [she] [wouldn't] take from" him, the female was "just being honest" and was more interested in "a new batch" from another man.



A couple of hours before a female told Hunter to "put some clothes on [because] [she] [didn't] want [her] brother seeing what [they] d[id]," she was "waiting for this guy to bring me some [drugs]" at an apartment complex in West Haven. The female wanted her brother "to go to a shelter … [h]e has to[.]"

A note about the crimes committed in Connecticut: Not only did Hunter attend law school in New Haven at Yale, but he was also a licensed attorney in the state when the crimes were committed. He is currently serving an "Administrative Suspension" due to not paying the "Client Security Fund" fee.

Hunter hatched a plot—with a drug dealer who he had known for years who used "cleaning services" and an account in her mother's name as a front for drug money—to track his brother's widow. Six weeks before he told the female to get "3 Mc muffins" and "[t]ake the train" to deliver drugs to him in Manhattan, Hunter instructed the female to place an iPhone under the driver's seat in the widow's SUV. Hunter sent an iMessage to a dealer based in New York City whose contact card in Hunter's iPhone was "Joeys Huy [—] Carlos." Hunter wanted "5" "tickets" delivered to him "in room 1607" at the Kitano Hotel[1476] on Park Avenue, but Hunter botched the payment and had to go through two intermediaries.

[1476] "A 41-year-old Long Island woman who had a sex orgy at the posh Kitano Hotel in Manhattan died of a likely drug overdose … 'This guy lived the high life,' a law-enforcement authority told the Daily News, which reported the man is the son of a rich banana importer. OPERATING MOTOR VEHICLES

The Bidens' drug addictions have had a ripple effect, causing losses to a wide array of people—from U.S. military families and claims adjusters to a gun shop owner and a former Senate staffer for Joe.

INSURANCE FRAUD

Founded over 100 years ago, the United Services Automobile Association (USAA) has sought to be "the provider of choice for the U.S. military community[.]" However, despite the fact that Hunter was administratively discharged from the U.S. Navy for cocaine use, he and his family inexplicably[1477] maintained accounts with USAA years after his "less than honorable" discharge for said cocaine use.

10/27/2016ff	DC, CA & TX	Joan Mayer	DC Code § 22–3225.02, CA PC § 550(a)(4) & TX Code § 35.02(a)(2)

So, not only did Hunter grift from U.S. military personnel via his USAA accounts, which contravened USAA's own policies, but he also stole from USAA by submitting a verifiably false insurance claim. On 10/27/2016, while in a rented Buick Verano en route to the "Grace Grove Lifestyle Center" rehab in Arizona, Hunter plowed into a ditch. On 01/09/2017, Hunter's aide, Joan Mayer, conspired with him to lie to the USAA claims agent named Margo Graf: "What happened: I got 2 flat tires that resulted in me losing control of the car and hitting a pole." Hunter recounted what actually happened in his failed[1478] memoir: "I found myself in midair, the car having jumped a soft curb on the passing lane and soaring at eighty miles an hour into a cloudless blue sky, heading into the gulch that divided I-10."[1479]

Don't forget to be on the look out for this call this afternoon (sometime after 12pm). You should receive a claim number after you speak with her and I will then submit to Hertz so they do not send your bill to collections.

Hunter-
I have submitted the claim to USAA. They are going to call you tomorrow afternoon to discuss. Her name is Margo Graf.
Here is what I reported in the claim:

Date: 10/27/16
Car: 4D Buick Verano
State of accident: California
no injuries, no police report filed

What happened: I got 2 flat tires that resulted in me losing control of the car and hitting a pole.

In short: Hunter—with Mayer's help—indirectly stole from U.S. military families whose premiums were inevitably increased because Hunter was high on crack cocaine and could not safely operate a vehicle. Additionally, Hertz and its employees[1480] were conned into paying for Hunter's carelessness.

How did Hunter reward Mayer's loyalty? Three months after the insurance fraud transpired, Hunter had wonderful things to say about Mayer in an email to James GILLIAR and Tony Bobulinski when he was planing his CCP-linked grift: "I need to Brin g [sic] along Joan [Mayer] who has been with for 13 years and makes around [$]130[k]. She [Mayer] is incredible and can act for the entire group for all administrative support. That has to happen asap." However, less than two years later, Hunter had falling out: "[If] [h]e [Schwerin] disparages me again to anyone[,] he pays me. If he's the source of any information good[,] bad[,] or indifferent he pays me. He gets Joan [Mayer] to sign [the NDA][,] also."

10/28/2016ff	D. Ariz.	Shauna Stangl	21 USC § 844(a) & AZ Stat § 13-3407

Hours after Hunter crashed his first rental, he dropped off his second rental, a Jeep Compass, at the Hertz facility near the Prescott (AZ) Regional Airport. However, still being in a drug-induced state, he left several items in the Jeep: his deceased brother's Attorney General (DE) badge, a Secret Service (SS) business card, multiple licenses, and, most incredibly, a crack cocaine pipe and a baggie with cocaine residue. Then, with the help of the SS and Shauna Stangl, who ran the Grace Grove Lifestyle Center and was known as "Puma," Hunter evaded police. Jon Paladini, the Prescott City Attorney, and Sheila Polk,[1481] the Yavapai County Attorney, announced that they were not going to prosecute Hunter even before the lab tests came back, which proved[1482] that cocaine was present in his vehicle.

vehicle. Long formed to County Attorney.

NARRATIVE: On 10/28/2016 at approximately 1215 hours I responded with Ofc Jennison to 6500 MacCurdy Dr reference a delayed suspicious. Upon arrival I made contact with a Hertz rental car employee named Emily [redacted] Emily took me to the vehicle that she moved from its parked spot to an area just north of the parking lot on Crystal Dr. I arrived at the location and observed a silver Jeep Compass with a Nevada license plate parked facing west in a gravel area.

Emily told me that they got a call at approximately 1000 hours from a Joseph McGee stating that his friend had left the car there over night and the keys were in the gas cap area. Emily told me that McGee told her that his friend was feeling sick so they didn't know what to do.

Emily stated the car was suppose to be returned last night at 2000 hours. Emily stated the store closes at 1700 hours so no one was present when the vehicle was returned.

Emily said she went over to the car that was parked in the furthest northwest parking spot that Hertz owns and recorded the gas and mileage. Emily stated she noticed there was personal property inside the vehicle. Emily said there was a wallet with an Attorney General's badge, two driver licenses that had the name of Robert Biden, some credit cards with the same name, and a secret service business card. Emily said the items were laid out on the passenger side dash board. Emily also stated there was a pipe that she thought was used to smoke meth and a white powdery substance in the arm rest of the vehicle.

Emily stated she returned the car as normal and the credit card on file was being declined. Emily stated they pushed the card through for payment. Emily stated she called Joseph's number back to let him know the car has been returned and a female answered the phone. Emily asked for Joseph and let him know that the car was returned but Joseph never asked for the property left in the car. Emily said it felt weird so she contacted her manager who contacted police.

Emily stated while she was contacting her manager she looked up the name on the internet and realized the ID's and credit cards belong to Vice President Joe Biden's son.

When I approached the vehicle I observed several items on the dashboard of the passenger side. I later discovered they were the ID's and Attorney General badge Emily was talking about. Emily stated she put those items back in the dash area where she located them.

I opened the passenger side door and when I did I observed a small white and brown pipe approximately 3-4 inches long and a small ziplock bag with a white powdery substance inside all sitting on the passenger seat. Emily was asked if she touched the items. Emily stated she did pick up the pipe because she did not know what it was. Emily said when she was told what it was she placed everything back inside the vehicle. A Hertz incident report, rental agreement, smoke filter, and a multi-tool, were also located on the floor of the front passenger side of the vehicle.

A cell phone was later located under the driver seat.

I asked Emily about the incident report. Emily stated that Robert was in an accident and traded a vehicle in for this silver compass in Palm Springs, Ca. Emily stated that the incident report is suppose to document how the accident happened and where the damage to the vehicle was located. When I looked at the report I observed Robert Biden's name on the report along with his Washington DC address and his phone numbers.

While I was looking at the items that were left inside the vehicle Ofc Jennison was talking to Detectives by telephone. Please see Ofc Jennison's supplement for his involvement in this case.

Ofc Jennison stated that pictures should be taken of the scene. I grabbed my camera and took photos of the scene. They were later placed into property and evidence.

A short while later Ofc Jennison stated that detectives had contacted the FBI and they were en route. A short time later two FBI agents arrived on scene.

After the two agents arrived Detective Brazell and Sgt Small arrived on scene. Detective Brazell processed the scene. Please see Det. Brazell's supplement for his involvement in this case.

While the scene was being processed and after the scene was processed I stayed with the car. I was later informed by Sgt Small that Robert Biden had been located by Secret Service and was well. After Robert was located and the scene was released I returned the car keys to Hertz.

On Monday, October 31, 2016 I called the phone number [redacted] to speak again with McGee about what took place the previous week and see if he could put me in touch with Biden. The call was answered by a female and when I asked if I could speak with Joseph she noted that he had just went into a store. I then identified myself and advised the female I was looking into some suspicious circumstances surrounding a vehicle that had been left at the Prescott Airport. The female stated, "Oh yeah. You know they left the keys in the gas cap because they didn't know there was a drop box." I then noted that the female obviously had some information as well she might be able to provide and asked for her name. The female said that her name was "Puma" and when I asked her if that was her first name or last name she noted that she did not wish to provide me any additional information, stated that she would tell Joseph to call me and then hung up the phone.

On November 2, 2016 I received a reply from Verizon about the phone number [redacted] I found that the phone number belonged to a Shauna Stangl out of Cornville or Cottonwood, AZ. The address on the Verizon account appears to be a UPS box location in Cottonwood. I found Stangl had a listed address according to AZ DMV in Cornville, AZ. I also found that Stangl is the Co-Founder or Owner of Grace Grove out of Sedona, AZ and according to the website her name at the Grace Grove

[1481] "How did Robert Hunter Biden, son of Democratic presidential candidate Joe Biden, escape a cocaine charge in 2016 in Yavapai County, where even medical marijuana patients get busted for possessing marijuana? … After all, Prescott, a northern Arizona town of about 42,000 people, is the county seat of Yavapai County, home to County Attorney Sheila Polk, the state's foremost pot prohibitionist. … She encouraged police to write up felony charges on people in possession only of cannabidiol (CBD), a hemp compound that doesn't get people high. … it does beg the question of why the county finds it so easy to bust state-authorized medical marijuana patients, but found it so tough to bring a drug charge against a prominent politician's son."

Hunter was apparently proud to be driving his brand-new Ford Raptor[1483] truck (which he purchased, in part, with funds from YE's CCP-linked companies) along Old Dominion Drive in Arlington (VA) while smoking crack cocaine; third-party sources confirmed the photos' geolocation and other metadata.[1484]

About six weeks later, while en route to the infamous Las Vegas bender during which—according to Hunter himself—a Russian stole another one of his laptops, Hunter was high and driving 172mph in his Porsche 911. Coming from Los Angeles, Hunter was on I-15, just outside of the city. Most normal people (i.e. non-princelings),[1485] especially[1486] Blacks, who have committed this crime are sent to jail.

One week before his bender in Las Vegas, Hunter invited a former collegiate ice hockey standout[1487] to an AirBnb that he was renting by Echo Park in LA. The female, who knows Jimmy Biden's daughter-in-law, told Hunter that she had "mushroom pills."[14881489] Later that evening, the female sent wire transfer details, which indicated she is from Michigan[1490] but lives northwest of LA in Topanga.

I don't know what to say anymore hallie. You don't respond to love or anger nor hurt or anything. I spent the last 4 days in agony doing this alone and I did it and you act as if im an intruder you show know emotion but contempt and suspicion and you never ever at least acknowledge that once again I have been a victim of the most incredible coincidence. What sobriety cures that Hallie. 4 days off crack and you say I smell like alcohol. Thanks Hallie. You aren't alone hallie. You've never been alone. Good for you. It feels so warm when you say "but Ill always care for you." Here I am trying to figure out a way to explain to my children why I gave up our lives together for you but you never really intended to give up anything at all. You backed away the moment we became public. At least that's what I thought at first. Then I realized you never actually went all in. From the beginning -you do remember how this started- you took all that I could give and always had reason not to give the same in return. I wasn't fully divorced. Do you know why do you realize why I gave her everything. So it would be done and over and we could be together. Do you know how it felt when the newspapers said we were together and you told your friends to say that it wasn't true? You actually said "don't tell anyone anything, don't confirm anything" to Paige and others. That hurt beyond hurt. You "relied on David when I wasn't available. I was in fucking outpatient and coming to you 3 nights a week just to sleep in your bed and turn around in the morning. Most the time I got there you were drunk and Davi was just leaving or in the blue room. And I was sober and tested daily. Do you remember the first time we used together Hallie? I do. Do you remember when I went to AZ and got clean Hallie? And you came out to get me. Do you remember when I ddi 5 days of Kombo HALLIE AND YOU LEFT ME TO GO USE AND NEVER PICKED ME UP LIKE you promised you would- I was stranded at at the bridge for 11 hours- I went all the way back to 95 and that bridge was closed I was in the car for 16 hours after 9 doses of combo 2 double doses of Ayuwascha and then he gave peyote!!!! You swore you were coming for me. And you are his friend- you lie to me about him? There is no one to blame Hallie. There is no blame in your world except for the blame you have heaped on me with every counselor and friend and family member. I will never blame you for my addictions. But I will blame you for being selfish and hurtful and for lying and withholding from me. I will blame you for being amazingly unhelpful and ungrateful and disloyal. You fucking went to sissys wedding without me. You should be ashamed of your self. But instead it all comes back to my addiction. But hallie there is nothing I just wrote above that is cured by sobriety. Yours or mine. Not a single thing changes any of it. So tell me Hallie 'im 4 days I'll be 6 and then 16 and then 40 and 3 months. What changes any of t.

Hunter committed a felony on 10/12/2018 by lying on the Bureau of Alcohol, Tobacco, and Firearms (ATF) Form 4473. Before he could purchase a .38 revolver at Ron Palimere's[1496] Starquest Shooters & Survival Supply gun shop, Hunter needed to satisfy the requirements listed on the ATF's "Firearms Transaction Record." Hunter answered "No" to the following question: "Are you an unlawful user of, or addicted to, marijuana or any depressant, stimulant, narcotic drug, or any other controlled substance? … The use or possession of marijuana remains unlawful under Federal law…"[1497] Contemporaneous photos[1498] confirmed that Hunter was in the Wilmington area and that he had ingested crack cocaine.

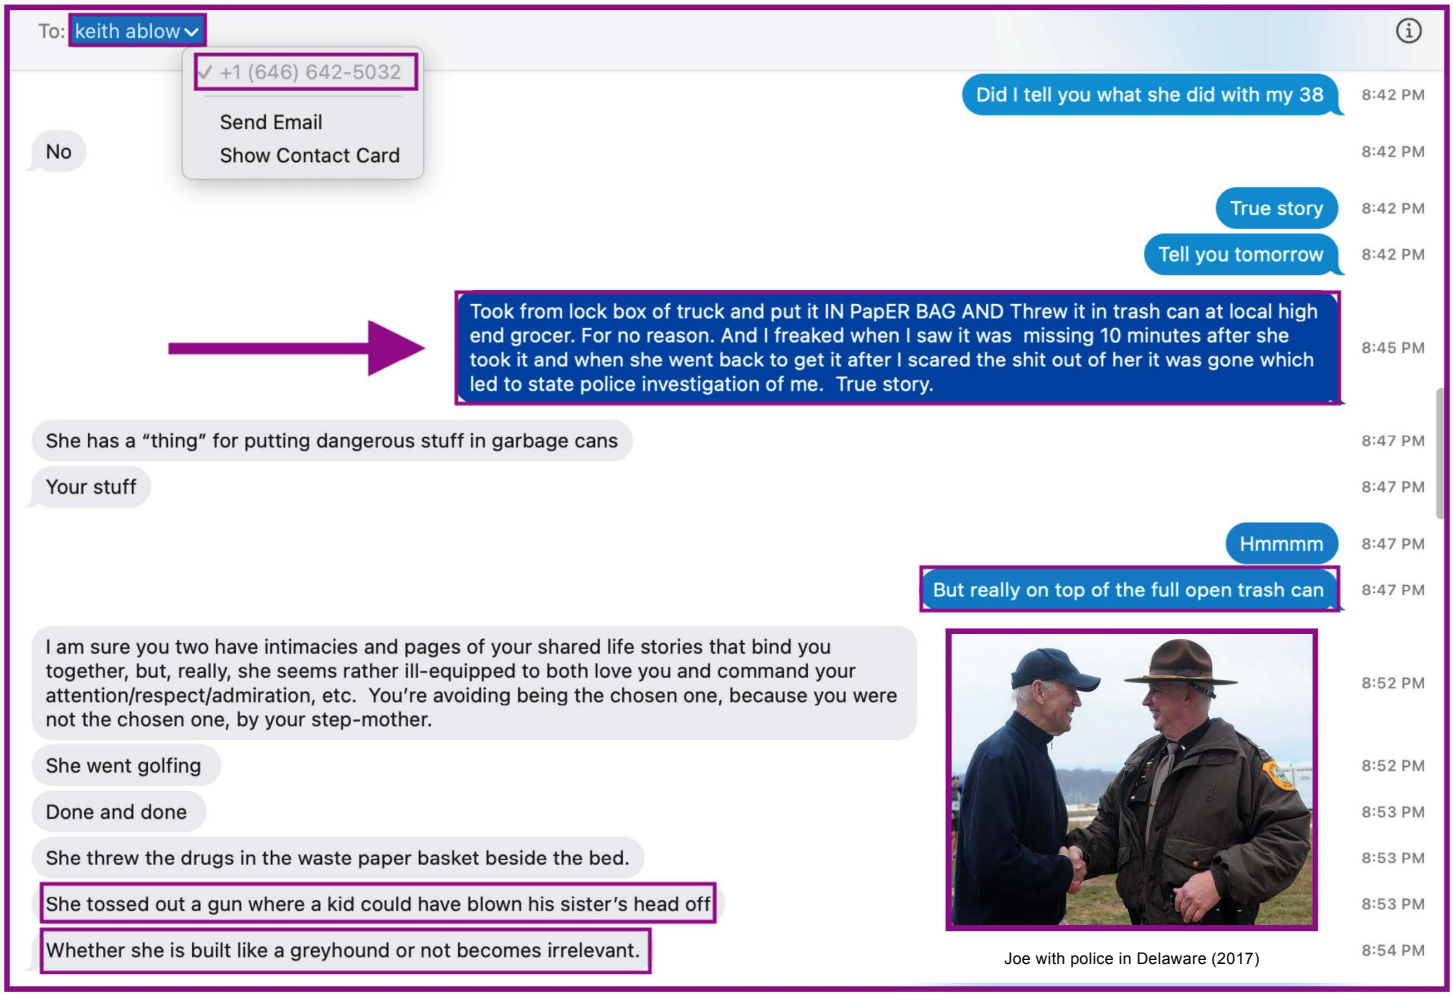
Although the felony that Hunter committed by submitting false[1499] information on a firearm purchase form is prosecuted only half the time, Hunter's lie created other headaches for him and the Bidens. Hunter described those headaches in an iMessage to his former psychiatrist on 12/06/2018: "Did I tell you what she [Hallie] did with my [.]38 [revolver][?] … [she] [t]ook [the gun] from [the] lock box of [my] truck and put it IN [a] PapER BAG AND Threw it in [a] trash can at [a] local high end grocer [Janssen's Market]. For no reason. And I freaked when I saw it was missing 10 minutes after she took it and when she went back to get it after I scared the shit out of her it was gone[,] which led to [a] state police investigation[1500] of me. True story." Hunter's psychiatrist understood that, despite Hallie's attractive physique (in his mind), she committed crimes: "[Hallie] tossed out a gun where a kid could have blown his sister's head off … Whether she is built like a greyhound or not becomes irrelevant."



Joe with police in Delaware (2017)

The psychiatrist's comment alluded to the distance between Janssen's Market[1501] and Alexis du Pont High School, which was across the street. The grocery store was less than 1,000 feet from the public high school, the statutory limit. Ironically, the federal law that Hallie violated—the Gun-Free School Zones Act—was championed by Joe! On 12/15/2018, Hunter again complained to his psychiatrist about Hallie's felony: "She was fully aware of what she was doing and in fucking me over (like putting gun in trash) there's [a] domino effect." Four days after Hunter sent the foregoing iMessage, Hallie's sister sent a local news article[1502] about another felony involving a firearm and the same high school, proving that the incident—which included not only the Delaware State Police (DSP) but also the ATF, FBI, and (the illegal[1503] intervention of) SS agents—was discussed by other members of the family.

After Hunter apparently allowed Hallie to talk to his psychiatrist only if he were present ("the last time I let you speak to my therapist you told them [sic] that I was sexually inappropriate with Natalie"), Hunter told Hallie on 01/28/2019 that she could have gone "to prison for the rest of [her] life" if "some kid [blew] his sister[']s head off," which indicated that the gun was loaded when Hallie placed it in the trash can. The following day, on 01/29/2019, Hunter admitted to the SS's illegal intervention in the fiasco, as no member of the Biden family was eligible for protection at the time.[1504] In fact, SS agents tried to intimidate Palimere at his gun shop and asked for the documentation from Hunter's purchase. Palimere rightfully refused to go along, but the ATF subsequently confiscated the documents.[1505] The SS/ATF refused[1506] to answer questions about their fixer service—and courts[1507] protected them.[1508]

ATF took a different approach, alternately saying I don't qualify as a journalist, that they couldn't find responsive records, and that they made a mistake and shouldn't have responded because Hunter Biden's privacy interests take precedence. … It's interesting that, in spite of all the legal machinations, ATF did not just come back and deny involvement like the Secret Service did. The Bureau's and DOJ's stonewalling and obfuscation has been noted before, notably in its response to Operation Fast and Furious 'gunwalking' investigations[, which culminated] in then-Attorney General Eric Holder being found in contempt of Congress."

Hunter sent a series of iMessages to Hallie that provide many details of the fiasco: "They think you're scared [that] I would shoot you … You now have me as an abusive pedophile with homicidal tendencies. And that's now in the hands of the FBI. … Hallie[,] [this is from Delaware State Police Officer] John Penrod: ' … have David [Walsh II] call [me] if something like this ever happens again[.]'"

Did you take that from me hallie? Are you insane. Tell me now. This is no game. And you're being totally irresponsible and unhinged.

2018-10-23 11:45:49 AM EDT

Tell me now hallie

2018-10-23 11:58:56 AM EDT

Hallie Biden (+13025403774)

I can't believe this, you can blame me all you want, I know it was stupid. But your part is dangerous and negligent. And because of this and my stupidity for being worried about you, im dealing with insanity and possibly I'm the one going to get in trouble. Check yourself into a local rehab hunter, this has all got to stop. Don't run away again. Please don't leave.

Hallie Biden (+13025403774)

Police coming to talk to me now, I'll take full blame. I don't want to live like this anymore. This is too much for me to handle.

2018-10-23 6:34:42 PM EDT

You would think that at a time like this you would answer the phone. I may need to speak to you about serious matters that are time sensitive. Please answer.

I'm heading to a meeting, I'm overwhelmed and still shaking. Text if there is something that you need

2018-10-23 6:47:51 PM EDT

I need you to stop doing everything you possibly can do to make a life here an unbearable proposition. People make mistakes out of love. People have things in the immediate past of a relationship that are inexplicable but harmless . But who do you know that has so many inexplicable acts that in their face are deceitful and hurtful. You have dozens and no attempt to even try to explain. And you have now for the last time begged me to come back only to humiliate me once again. The fucking FBI Hallie. It's hard to believe anyone is that stupid // so what's my fault here Hallie that you speak of. Owning a gun that's in a locked car hidden on another property? You say I invade your privacy. What more can I do than come back to you to try again. And you do this???? Who in their right mind would trust you would help me get sober?

2018-10-23 6:48:00 PM EDT

And it was open unlocked and windows down and the kids search your car

2018-10-23 6:50:01 PM EDT

You have now made me a target Hallie. You have now confirmed what you have implied to everyone. How do I come home now.

You now have me as an abusive pedophile with homicidal tendencies. And that's now in the hands of the FBI.

2018-10-23 6:55:59 PM EDT

I hate what you've done to me. I won't ever recover from all of this . I'm too tired . This is the way you love me.

Hallie Biden (+13025403774)

Yes it is. I'm scared for your life hunt. I love you. I'm sorry.

2018-10-23 6:57:12 PM EDT

Beau owned a handgun issued by the state and I was in the front glove compartment of his car. So fuck you

Hallie Biden (+13025403774)

You have lost your mind hunter. I'm sorry I handled it poorly today but you are in huge denial about yourself and about that reality that I just want you safe. You run away like a child and blame me for your shit. It's to be expected that you go, you prove repeatedly that you can't stay and really do work on yourself. It's easier for you to avoid looking within and cowardly to constantly point the blame on me.

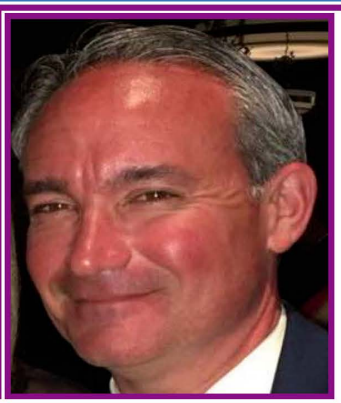
2018-10-23 9:19:06 PM EDT

And Hallie John Penrod:

"Hallie have David call if something like this ever happens again (implying - next time Hunter fucks Up)"



Hunter kept complaining to Hallie about the situation that she had put them in: "There are 5 guns in dad[']s [Joe's] house[1509] … There are fucking more weapons in your son[']s room then [sic] in an armory … John [Penrod] and David [Walsh II] and you can all have a good laugh … The police and fbi still want to talk about whether I'm threatening you … I can't even go to Jansens [sic] now[.]" Six days later, Lt. Millard Greer of the DSP sought to speak with Hunter at Hunter's "convenience."

Although a vagrant who regularly rummaged through the grocery store's trash returned[1510] the .38 revolver a few days after the (illegal) SS intervention—which helped Hallie avoid the worst case scenario—the Bidens still had their bases covered if any honest state prosecutor tried to enforce the law. Indeed, a former Deputy Counsel to Joe in the White House named Alexander Mackler likely ensured that Hunter and Hallie were not prosecuted for their crimes—in both the U.S Attorney's office in Delaware and then as the Chief Deputy Attorney General of Delaware (a position he still[1511] holds).

Even though the Bidens, in private, flippantly broke state and federal firearm laws, they pressed for stricter gun laws for the public.[1512] In fact, the Beau Biden Foundation for the Protection of Children was instrumental in drafting and passing the Beau Biden Gun Violence Prevention Act in Delaware. Joe, Beau's widow, Ron Olivere[1513] (Beau's father-in-law), and other members of the Biden family attended a signing ceremony with the then-Governor of Delaware, John Carney, on 04/30/2018 for the bill, which was—according to Joe—a "fitting tribute to Beau's legacy."[1514] Topping off the family's hypocritical stance on firearms was a Facebook post[1515] by Olivere about Congressman Thomas Massie (R-KY-4), who has not—unlike Hallie and Hunter—committed multiple firearm felonies.[1516]

DRUG-INDUCED THREATS

When	Where (Venue)	What
06/06/2018ff	D. Del.	18 USC § 875(c)

While on another drug-induced rampage, Hunter seemingly threatened[1517] a longtime Biden political operative[1518] and business agent.[1519] Based on other correspondence, Hunter was apparently angry with David I. Walsh II because Walsh would not hand over his cell phone records to Hunter in order to prove that he was not sexually involved with Hallie. Hunter sent the following message to the former Senate staffer for Joe (Hunter's contact erroneously bore the name[1520] of the former aide's wife): "You fucking pussy - I'm sitting outside Rocco's[,] Dave. Come on out buddy. You're such a pussy[,] David."

[1519] The former Senate staffer for Joe previously served as the business agent for one of Jimmy Biden's money laundering vehicles called The Lion Hall Group LLC. However, on 03/06/2021, Jimmy changed the registered agent from David I. Walsh II to "Delaware Registered Agents and Incorporators, LLC." When Marco Polo asked David I. Walsh II about this business document amendment—along with Hunter's threat and accusations of infidelity with Hallie—Walsh declined to answer and abruptly hung up the phone.

V. INFLUENCE PEDDLING

As explained in the BACKGROUND section of this Report, the Biden Laptop was akin to the Rosetta Stone for corruption. Nevertheless, it was merely a peephole view of the family's inner workings; after all, it is only one device from the pResident's family. Imagine what other devices would reveal…

This section will detail how, why, and to whom the Biden family sold Joe's public office—or potential influence if Joe were elected president—for their personal gain. The gain was not necessarily monetary although, oftentimes, it was. From the school admissions grift to Zimbabwean gold mines, this section is as far-reaching and hilarious as it is pathetic. The photo below was the perfect illustration of their craft with Obama and the Bidens at a Georgetown basketball game paid for by the American public.[1525] Seen in the background of the photo was none other than Chicago native Rahm Emanuel, the then-Chief of Staff[1526] at the White House and Joe's current Ambassador to Japan.[1527]

Hunter and his associates helped the children of their CCP-connected business partners cut in line to get into elite American boarding schools. Although the back-scratching scheme did not amount to a criminal conspiracy based, at least, on the laptop contents, some of their friends were not as sly.[1528] As you will read later in this section, LI Jonathan's daughter, Jenny, owed her entire American educational experience to the Biden nepotism gravy train. Hunter's colleagues—Arlene Busch, Devon Archer, and John Kerry's stepson, Chris Heinz—were certainly eager to help the Chinese princeling.

The Hotchkiss School

Loomis Chaffee

Arlene,
Do you know any alumni or friends at the 2 boarding schools mentioned below, Hotchkiss and Loomis Chaffe? Jonathan Li's daughter is on the wait list at both and trying to enroll in an American school for High School. It would be incredibly appreciated by Jonathan if there was an effort made here. Jenny is a stand out student and eager to study in the US.

04/16/2010ff	“[T]hey are very willing to help you with your fund.”	Mark Doyle & Boris TADIĆ

A group of Serbian oligarchs[1529] was “very willing”[1530] to inject Hunter’s private equity fund with cash, so much so that the Serbian president Boris TADIĆ (seen below with Joe) and Serbia’s ambassador, Vladimir PETROVIC, apparently supported the effort wholeheartedly. Mark Doyle orchestrated the scheme as a registered foreign agent for Serbia. Doyle was also the finance director[1531] for Joe’s failed 2008 presidential campaign, and he had been a Biden confidant for decades. Hunter even hinted that he would hitch a ride with Joe on Air Force Two to Madrid before meeting Doyle in Serbia.

Dude,

The Ambassador wants to start putting together a full day for you with Tadic and potential investors and was wondering if there is a doc he could look at and send along to them outlining the fund etc.

They are ready to get people who can commit immediately when you are there, very serious people from what I understand.

Let me know

Hey buddy!

I met with Tadic's Chief of Staff Thursdayd when I was there and he asked about you. The Ambassador must have relayed your conversation.

I think you mentioned that you spoke to them about putting you in front of high net worth individuals and they are ready to do that, and to have you meet Tadic as well. I am going there with Milan in May, and I think they are looking for you to join.

My sense from Vladimir is that they are very willing to help you with your fund.

If you have interest you can just call Vladimir direct, you don't need me in the middle.

I think it could be good for you and the fund to go.

Hope you are well dude

As previously mentioned, Doyle was a $10,000/month registered agent for Serbia.[1532] In fact, he was one of the only men in Hunter's business schemes to follow the law and register as a foreign agent with the Justice Department. Based on Doyle's FARA form (No. 5940) and his correspondence with Hunter, the private investment fund belonging to the vice president's son was an "issue of importance to the Republic of Serbia." Doyle, affectionately known to Hunter as "Markie," also showered Joe with gifts, including cuff links and ties. Doyle would go on to serve as the chairman of "Unite the Country," a key super PAC for Joe's 2020 presidential campaign that raised nearly $50 million.[1533]

A "serial entrepreneur" named Abe Sher[1534] wanted Hunter and government officials in Delaware to "not distribute publicly" the supplicating letters Sher had orchestrated to be sent to the U.S. Secretary of State and the Administrator of USAID about the never-let-a-crisis-go-to-waste grifting opportunity after the earthquake in Haiti. Sher owned "Aqua Sciences," which produced a drinking water device, so his pitch sounded cheery. Sher apparently did not know what Joe actually[1535] thought about Haiti.

Hunter's former colleagues are still prominent leaders in the "charitable-industrial complex."[1536] Indeed, one of the recipients of Sher's letters was Raj Shah, the current president of the Rockefeller Foundation. Shah's chief of staff[1537] is none other than Mike Muldoon, who owes his marriage to Hunter's firm, which brought Muldoon[1538] together with his now-wife: Anne Marie Person, the sister to Joe's longtime aide, Fran Person. Anne-Marie then left Rosemont Seneca to work directly for Joe.[1539]

Hunter,

I trust you had a good trip to Africa. It dawned on me late that you would be going to the WC games. That must have been cool.

I had a good conversation with Devon the other day, and it does not look like Livestream is a good fit for the fund, but he was interested in passing the opportunity along to folks who might like the deal flow. I will follow up with him to get him to see the company.

We should touch base this week to discuss the non-investment opportunities to work together on Livestream.

Also, I heard a funny story about your Dad. Apparently, one of the Narragansett investors was meeting with him a couple months ago, and you Dad offered him a beer. The guy said “only if it’s a Narragansett.” Your Dad chuckled and said, “that’s Bernie Bonnano’s beer.” Bernie’s late wife was Chris Dodd’s sister.

So, your Dad clearly has a working knowledge of our investor group and knows the beer. Now you just need to remind him that the guy he knows best at Narragansett is the CFO ☺

09/07/2010	Family Venting Session	Joe & Obama

Less than two years into the vice presidency, Joe was already upset about some of Obama's antics.[1540] After Hunter sent the URL to a speech[1541] that Obama gave on Labor Day, Joe said that Obama had "No grace" because Obama[1542] used Joe's words without attribution, a deliciously ironic complaint given that Joe's 1988 presidential campaign tanked because of a plagiarism scandal.[1543]

Interesting language from the President:

(01/12/2017)

"They (his grandparent) would tell me about seeing their fathers or uncles losing their jobs...how it wasn't just a loss of a paycheck that stung. It was the blow to their dignity, their sense of self worth."

Wonder where he got that from? Im surprised he didn't finish with the long walk up a short flight of stairs. Pretty amazing.

Hunter's last line was also ironic, given that Joe fell three separate times on a short flight of stairs while attempting to board Air Force One in 2021, which inspired memes and a historical reference.

Adrian Fenty, then-Mayor of Washington, D.C., had a private dinner with Hunter and "look[ed] forward to doing business" and "re-shaping politics" with him.[1544] The other two dinner attendees were princelings in their own right: Nic Rohatyn, the son of "Felix the Fixer"[1545] Rohatyn, a ruthless Wall Street titan and Democrat donor, and the then-future Chairman of Walmart, Greg Penner.[1546] Penner features prominently at the end of this section, but suffice it to say that Hunter's relationship with this crew continued for years after their chummy night out on the town. It must have been nice for Hunter, his associates, and their plethora of LLCs to have the mayor[1547] of the jurisdiction in which they operated as a personal friend who wanted to be business partners with them "in the near future."[1548]

Hunter nonchalantly brought up the option of his business partner cutting in line for treatment of a disease[1549] (diverticulosis) because that was just "[o]ne advantage of JRB [Joseph Robinette Biden]" who, he said, "can get u [sic] the best guy in [sic] [the] country and have you see him." Hunter would not accept Schwerin being one of the 3,400 poor saps[1550] in America who die every year from diverticulosis—those suckers did not win the sperm lottery and have a powerful and nepotistic father. Hunter's altruism was, in fact, a two-way back-scratching street: Schwerin was certainly grateful for the Bidens' nepotism, but he made sure to go to bat publicly and privately in Hunter's defense. Just four months earlier, Schwerin wanted to "punch [Michelle Malkin] in the face" after she wrote[1551] about Hunter's obvious conflicts of interest from his position on Amtrak's board of directors. Malkin has since acknowledged Schwerin's private threat of violence and was delighted to get under his skin.[1552]

Crap, I keep meaning to tell you the Doyle update. I got an email from Doyle sort of saying that if you couldn't do it he didn't want us to ask anyone else. Let me find it and forward to you. Didn't know what to do. Bottom line was that Doyle was appreciative and knew we were trying so we are OK with him.

I am going to make an appointment to see my guy and see what he says. I like him - he's one of the more respected GI doctors in DC and with a huge GI practice, but I haven't really gotten direct answers from him that have satisfied me. (Think it is the nature of the illness too.) It is this weird Diverticulosis/IBS mix that is troubling me. If you read the treatments for Diverticulosis, it says fiber. If you read about IBS it says fiber is bad. Know idea what to do. It is mentally depressing just as much as it is physically painful.

Chris Tigani, a wealthy beer distributor, illegally directed (and reimbursed)[1555] his employees to funnel more than $70k to Joe's presidential campaign.[1556] Tigani was held accountable[1557] and served time in federal prison, but Joe's brother-in-law was still concerned that Tigani would "make some things up." Ironically, David Weiss, who slow-walked the investigation into Hunter and the Biden family, bemoaned Tigani's "pervasive criminal conduct" and his contributions to the "Delaware Way."[1558]

On Mon, Jun 13, 2011 at 3:11 PM, Missy Owens <missy.owens@gmail.com> wrote:

POSSIBLE JAIL TIME FOR CAMPAIGN FINANCE SCOFFLAW: Violating the Federal Election Campaign Act doesn't pay, at least not for a Delaware businessman who faces up to 16 years in the slammer after pleading guilty to a variety of federal election and tax charges.

The Department of Justice says that N-K-S Distributors President Christopher Tigani "directly and indirectly solicited numerous NKS employees to make political contributions" to numerous candidates running for president, U.S. Senate, governor of Delaware, Lieutenant governor of Delaware and other Delaware state offices.

One politician who received money was Vice President Joe Biden, who was running for president at the time, the Associated Press reports. Biden's camp says it had no knowledge of the scheme, and several pols are now divesting of money they received from or through Tigani, the Wilmington (Del.) News Journal wites.

Said FBI Special Agent-in-Charge Richard A. McFeely: "Individuals who seek to circumvent federal election laws undermine the entire election process and deny a level playing field for all candidates. The FBI takes these offenses very seriously. This investigation is far reaching and still active and ongoing."

During the past dozen years, Tigani himself has been a regular donor to various politicians and political committees, including the Senate campaigns of now-Vice President Joe Biden (D-Del.), former Sen. Hillary Clinton (D-N.Y.), Sen. Bob Casey (D-Pa.), former President George W. Bush and the Republican State Committee of Delaware, according to federal records.

Conclusion

Defendant's calculated actions over a six-year period have helped to erode public trust in the electoral and legislative process. His actions further led to the near dissolution of a company that had been in existence for over sixty years. Defendant's pervasive criminal conduct merits a substantial term of imprisonment to punish him for his actions and to deter others from engaging in the "Delaware Way." Accordingly, for all the foregoing reasons, the government respectfully requests the Court to impose a term of imprisonment of 25 months.

In a hilarious and pathetic episode, Hunter was aghast at how flippant CNBC show host and arbitrageur[1559] Sean Conlon was about his attempted influence peddling. Conlon apparently did not know the ways of D.C. and put the entire back-scratching operation in an email, to which Hunter replied "WTF is he talking about. Mtg with JRB [Joseph Robinette Biden] chief of staff????" in an email to Archer, who conceded that Conlon did not "understand how this works. I will advise him to stand down." Conlon's business partner, longtime Chicago Mayor Richard M. Daley, knew Hunter through his brother, former Secretary of Commerce and Obama White House Chief of Staff, William Daley. Conlon's Nigerian prince-like pitch about bonds to Hunter read as follows: "While it is far fetched Devon said he talked to his professor and these get traded. We get 10% in fees. We need to get these guys to an event or something where they get to just formally meet your Dad [Joe] . For follow on they can talk to Chief of Staff [Steve Ricchetti] . Let me know how soon we can do that."

Sean, the face value is over $21 billion, as each bond is worth over $2.1 billion (this could vary as it depends on each bonds series, etc...). We can employ a couple of different strategies in generating profits, which would yield revenue of 22% to par of the face value. A joint venture with a potential buyer is one likely methodology to which we would work together with a partner in achieving the highest value over a period of time. The other concept would be to sell a couple of bonds at a high discount and then deploy political capital and invest approximately $2 million per bond to provide full value to the bond. This is achieved by working with the central bank of brazil in registering (cetip number) the bond and then moving the LTN onto Euroclear. But, ultimately assigning a cusip/isen number to allow us to globally trade the bond at par or higher. This method then gives us incredible liquidity and/or high leverage capabilities. Just some thoughts and ideas that we will need to discuss. Thanks for all your help in putting this deal together. Ciao, David

Hallie,

I wanted to reach out to you today to express my deep appreciation and gratitude to you, hunter Beau and the entire Biden family. And share how the dots in my life have been connected because of your support.

In 2008, I found myself along with millions of other Americans unemployed. (directly affected by the Global Financial Crisis, considered by many economists to have been the worst financial crisis since the Great Depression of the 1930s). If it had not been for you and Beau's support and confidence and your pro active willingness to endorse my qualifications, I would never have been given the opportunity to interview for a position within the Obama Administration.

I share this now along with the attached press release to simply say thank you. Your support, at that pivotal time proved to be a critical catalyst!!

Bottom line, had it not been for your support, It is doubtful I would be able to celebrate this exciting new professional chapter in my life. (See attached press release).

While I still have "miles to go and promises to keep." I wanted to take a moment to acknowledge my gratitude. I don't know what the future holds, but in honor of Beau, I can assure you, I will do my very best to leverage this exciting new role to help make a positive impact and to make him proud!!

With love and thanks,

Joel

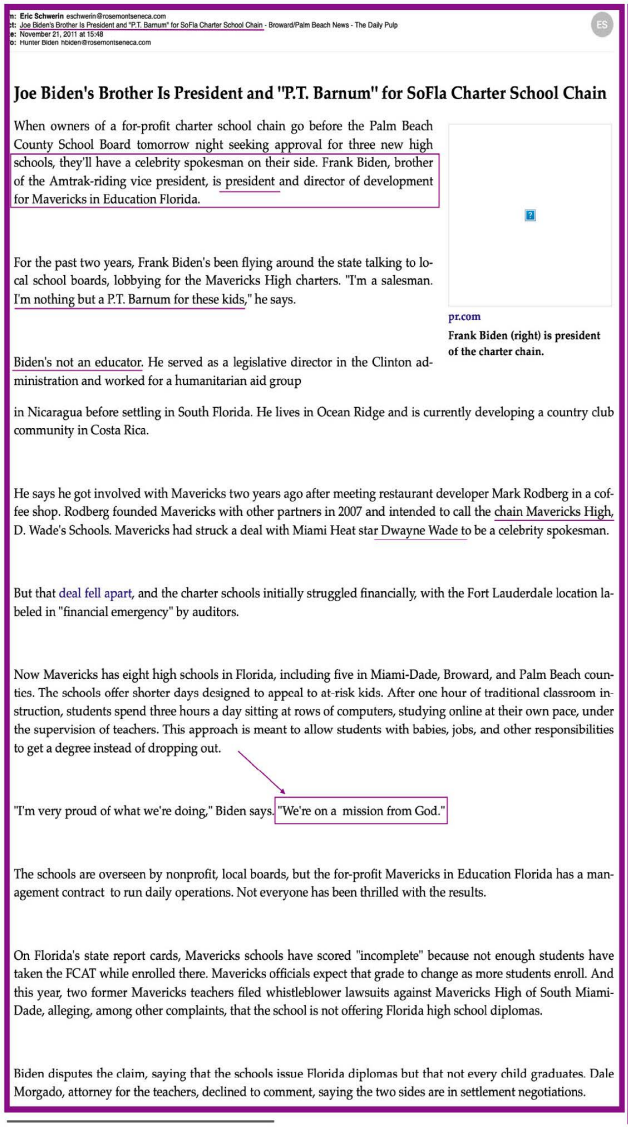
11/21/2011ff	“I’m nothing but a P.T. Barnum for these kids.”	Frankie Biden

Joe’s brother, Frankie, told parents and school administrators in Florida that he was “on a mission from God” to install charter schools. Frankie declared that he was “nothing but a P.T. Barnum”[1565] for the students. In truth, “Mavericks in Education” was a lucrative scam—the schools oftentimes did not meet academic standards and Frankie’s company charged the districts exorbitant leasing rates.[1566]



Joe Biden's Brother Is President and "P.T. Barnum" for SoFla Charter School Chain

When owners of a for-profit charter school chain go before the Palm Beach County School Board tomorrow night seeking approval for three new high schools, they'll have a celebrity spokesman on their side. Frank Biden, brother of the Amtrak-riding vice president, is president and director of development for Mavericks in Education Florida.

For the past two years, Frank Biden's been flying around the state talking to local school boards, lobbying for the Mavericks High charters. "I'm a salesman. I'm nothing but a P.T. Barnum for these kids," he says.

Frank Biden (right) is president of the charter chain.

Biden's not an educator. He served as a legislative director in the Clinton administration and worked for a humanitarian aid group in Nicaragua before settling in South Florida. He lives in Ocean Ridge and is currently developing a country club community in Costa Rica.

He says he got involved with Mavericks two years ago after meeting restaurant developer Mark Rodberg in a coffee shop. Rodberg founded Mavericks with other partners in 2007 and intended to call the chain Mavericks High, D. Wade's Schools. Mavericks had struck a deal with Miami Heat star Dwayne Wade to be a celebrity spokesman.

But that deal fell apart, and the charter schools initially struggled financially, with the Fort Lauderdale location labeled in "financial emergency" by auditors.

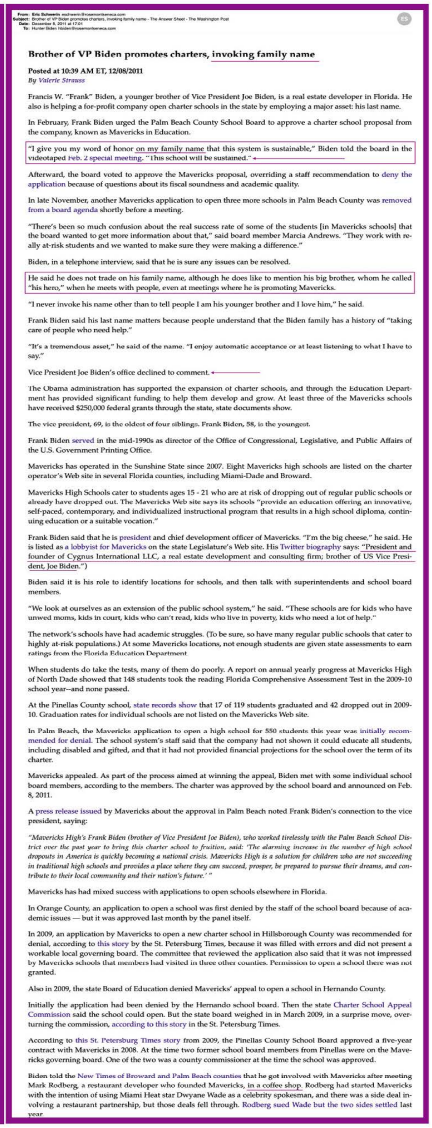
Now Mavericks has eight high schools in Florida, including five in Miami-Dade, Broward, and Palm Beach counties. The schools offer shorter days designed to appeal to at-risk kids. After one hour of traditional classroom instruction, students spend three hours a day sitting at rows of computers, studying online at their own pace, under the supervision of teachers. This approach is meant to allow students with babies, jobs, and other responsibilities to get a degree instead of dropping out.

"I'm very proud of what we're doing," Biden says. "We're on a mission from God."

The schools are overseen by nonprofit, local boards, but the for-profit Mavericks in Education Florida has a management contract to run daily operations. Not everyone has been thrilled with the results.

On Florida's state report cards, Mavericks schools have scored "incomplete" because not enough students have taken the FCAT while enrolled there. Mavericks officials expect that grade to change as more students enroll. And this year, two former Mavericks teachers filed whistleblower lawsuits against Mavericks High of South Miami-Dade, alleging, among other complaints, that the school is not offering Florida high school diplomas.

Biden disputes the claim, saying that the schools issue Florida diplomas but that not every child graduates. Dale Morgado, attorney for the teachers, declined to comment, saying the two sides are in settlement negotiations.



Brother of VP Biden promotes charters, invoking family name

Posted at 10:39 AM ET, 12/08/2011

By Valerie Strauss

Francis W. “Frank” Biden, a younger brother of Vice President Joe Biden, is a real estate developer in Florida. He also is helping a for-profit company open charter schools in the state by employing a major asset: his last name.

In February, Frank Biden urged the Palm Beach County School Board to approve a charter school proposal from the company, known as Mavericks in Education.

“I give you my word of honor on my family name that this system is sustainable,” Biden told the board in the videotaped Feb. 2 special meeting. “This school will be sustained.”

Afterward, the board voted to approve the Mavericks proposal, overriding a staff recommendation to deny the application because of questions about its fiscal soundness and academic quality.

In late November, another Mavericks application to open three more schools in Palm Beach County was removed from a board agenda shortly before a meeting.

“There’s been so much confusion about the real success rate of some of the students [in Mavericks schools] that the board wanted to get more information about that,” said board member Marcia Andrews. “They work with really at-risk students and we wanted to make sure they were making a difference.”

Biden, in a telephone interview, said that he is sure any issues can be resolved.

He said he does not trade on his family name, although he does like to mention his big brother, whom he called “his hero,” when he meets with people, even at meetings where he is promoting Mavericks.

“I never invoke his name other than to tell people I am his younger brother and I love him,” he said.

Frank Biden said his last name matters because people understand that the Biden family has a history of “taking care of people who need help.”

“It’s a tremendous asset,” he said of the name. “I enjoy automatic acceptance or at least listening to what I have to say.”

Vice President Joe Biden’s office declined to comment.

The Obama administration has supported the expansion of charter schools, and through the Education Department has provided significant funding to help them develop and grow. At least three of the Mavericks schools have received $250,000 federal grants through the state, state documents show.

The vice president, 69, is the oldest of four siblings. Frank Biden, 58, is the youngest.

Frank Biden served in the mid-1990s as director of the Office of Congressional, Legislative, and Public Affairs of the U.S. Government Printing Office.

Mavericks has operated in the Sunshine State since 2007. Eight Mavericks high schools are listed on the charter operator’s Web site in several Florida counties, including Miami-Dade and Broward.

Mavericks High Schools cater to students ages 15 - 21 who are at risk of dropping out of regular public schools or already have dropped out. The Mavericks Web site says its schools “provide an education offering an innovative, self-paced, contemporary, and individualized instructional program that results in a high school diploma, continuing education or a suitable vocation.”

Frank Biden said that he is president and chief development officer of Mavericks. “I’m the big cheese,” he said. He is listed as a lobbyist for Mavericks on the state Legislature’s Web site. His Twitter biography says: “President and founder of Cygnus International LLC, a real estate development and consulting firm; brother of US Vice President, Joe Biden.”)

Biden said it is his role to identify locations for schools, and then talk with superintendents and school board members.

“We look at ourselves as an extension of the public school system,” he said. “These schools are for kids who have unwed moms, kids in court, kids who can’t read, kids who live in poverty, kids who need a lot of help.”

The network’s schools have had academic struggles. (To be sure, so have many regular public schools that cater to highly at-risk populations.) At some Mavericks locations, not enough students are given state assessments to earn ratings from the Florida Education Department

When students do take the tests, many of them do poorly. A report on annual yearly progress at Mavericks High of North Dade showed that 148 students took the reading Florida Comprehensive Assessment Test in the 2009-10 school year—and none passed.

At the Pinellas County school, state records show that 17 of 119 students graduated and 42 dropped out in 2009-10. Graduation rates for individual schools are not listed on the Mavericks Web site.

In Palm Beach, the Mavericks application to open a high school for 550 students this year was initially recommended for denial. The school system’s staff said that the company had not shown it could educate all students, including disabled and gifted, and that it had not provided financial projections for the school over the term of its charter.

Mavericks appealed. As part of the process aimed at winning the appeal, Biden met with some individual school board members, according to the members. The charter was approved by the school board and announced on Feb. 8, 2011.

A press release issued by Mavericks about the approval in Palm Beach noted Frank Biden’s connection to the vice president, saying:

“Mavericks High’s Frank Biden (brother of Vice President Joe Biden), who worked tirelessly with the Palm Beach School District over the past year to bring this charter school to fruition, said: ‘The alarming increase in the number of high school dropouts in America is quickly becoming a national crisis. Mavericks High is a solution for children who are not succeeding in traditional high schools and provides a place where they can succeed, prosper, be prepared to pursue their dreams, and contribute to their local community and their nation’s future.’”

Mavericks has had mixed success with applications to open schools elsewhere in Florida.

In Orange County, an application to open a school was first denied by the staff of the school board because of academic issues — but it was approved last month by the panel itself.

In 2009, an application by Mavericks to open a new charter school in Hillsborough County was recommended for denial, according to this story by the St. Petersburg Times, because it was filled with errors and did not present a workable local governing board. The committee that reviewed the application also said that it was not impressed by Mavericks schools that members had visited in three other counties. Permission to open a school there was not granted.

Also in 2009, the state Board of Education denied Mavericks’ appeal to open a school in Hernando County.

Initially the application had been denied by the Hernando school board. Then the state Charter School Appeal Commission said the school could open. But the state board weighed in in March 2009, in a surprise move, overturning the commission, according to this story in the St. Petersburg Times.

According to this St. Petersburg Times story from 2009, the Pinellas County School Board approved a five-year contract with Mavericks in 2008. At the time two former school board members from Pinellas were on the Mavericks governing board. One of the two was a county commissioner at the time the school was approved.

Biden told the New Times of Broward and Palm Beach counties that he got involved with Mavericks after meeting Mark Rodberg, a restaurant developer who founded Mavericks, in a coffee shop. Rodberg had started Mavericks with the intention of using Miami Heat star Dwyane Wade as a celebrity spokesman, and there was a side deal involving a restaurant partnership, but those deals fell through. Rodberg sued Wade but the two sides settled last year.

[1565] “A thin, deeply tanned man in a pinstriped suit is among the first to take the microphone. He’s not famous — not exactly — but his receding hairline, rectangular face, and overeager grin are naggingly familiar. ‘This is a hope factory,’ he begins. ‘This is a spiritual experience.’ … This is Frank Biden, the brother of Vice President Joe Biden. He’s at a ribbon-cutting event … to promote the first Palm Beach County location of Mavericks in Education Florida, a for-profit charter school chain that’s already colonized Miami-Dade. ‘You are all believers,’ Biden exhorts the crowd. ‘This thing spreads like wildfire.’ … But so far, Mavericks’ lofty goals haven’t materialized. Most of their schools graduate less than 15 percent of eligible students. … two former teachers filed whistleblower lawsuits alleging the school there is inflating attendance records and failing to report grades properly.”

As seen earlier in the Report, Chung was Hunter's accomplice in multiple crimes. Hunter strategically placed Chung in her position, knowing that she would be loyal to him as Joe's assistant and do what he asked her to do. After all, Hunter helped secure her job. Chung is still working for Joe to this day.

Marco Polo made the somewhat bold declaration that the Biden Laptop was a new Rosetta Stone for corruption; therefore, it was only a matter of time before the most entrenched swamp dweller of all, political polling “consultant” and spin doctor, Frank Luntz, appeared on the laptop. Besides shacking up[1569] with Congressman Kevin McCarthy (R-CA-23), Luntz is a focus group huckster for the uniparty. In response to Hunter complaining to him about not defending Joe against a campaign ad[1570] in the lead up to the 2012 election, Luntz simply said that Joe was not his “current client,” and, ergo, nothing else mattered to him. Nevertheless, Luntz’s animosity appeared[1571] to have subsided, presumably because the Bidens started paying up, as Luntz—who Hunter thought of as “smarter than anyone in politics”—was seen directing fan traffic at Joe’s presidential campaign stop in Iowa on 01/18/2020.[1572]

Hunter's uncle, Jack Owens, needed a bump in line to secure a business license in China so he could finalize a deal.[1576] Owens, who resembles Sir Robert Helpmann's character[1577] in Chitty Chitty Bang Bang, was not going to accept delays when his brother-in-law, one-time housemate, and "best friend" was the vice president of the United States.[1578] Owens turned to Hunter, who had the perfect idea: Enlist Whitey Bulger's nephew to grease the gears. As noted throughout the Report, Hunter and Jimmy Bulger worked closely with CCP-linked firms for over a decade. MediGuide International, Jack's company, presumably secured the license, as a company overview proudly displayed TANG Sunster, who joined in 2016 and handled their corporate relations with the Chinese government.[1579]

Dear Hunter:

My companies MediGuide America and MediGuide Insurance Services International (MISI) are in discussions with an insurance company based in China.

Discussions have reached a serious stage but it appears that this company will require that we possess a China Business License to seal this deal. Time pressures are very tight, plus the fact that we do not yet have one has caused a slight credibility bump in the company's mind. This all translates into a need for a Business License, and one secured very quickly. While this might seem to be a mundane task, I have come to understand that matters such as a Business License can end up taking an inordinate amount of time.....time we just do not have.

So I would be most appreciative of any help and direction you might be able to provide to help me accomplish this task timely.

Thanks, Uncle Jack

This was certainly not the first time Hunter and his associates viewed their interactions with Vanessa as transactional. Two years earlier, when news[1582] broke that Vanessa had given birth, Schwerin assumed Joe would send her a congratulatory card, but only if she were on the "special" list. We can only assume that this "special" list contained the names of only those individuals who could, in some way, further the interests of Joe's family, either monetarily or politically—or, in this case, both.

The Quogue Club at Hallock House

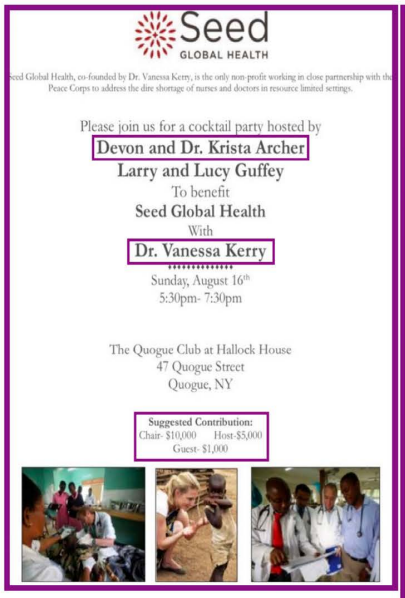
Dear Friend,

I hope this email finds you well. I am writing to invite you to our upcoming event in the Hamptons for Seed Global Health, the organization founded by Vanessa Kerry. Seed Global Health is the only non-profit working in close partnership with the Peace Corps to address the dire shortage of nurses and doctors in resource limited countries around the world.

We are hosting a small cocktail party on Sunday, August 16th at The Quogue Club at Hallock House to raise funds and awareness from my friends there. We would like to raise $100,000 to help fund our mission. We have already lined up several chairs and hosts, and each will bring in a few guests. I hope you will consider supporting Vanessa's project by joining us.

Over the past three years, we have sent over 100 physicians and nurses into the field. We have also helped offset over $2.5 million of their debt, often a barrier to public service. Events like this are critical to our ability to continue to be successful improving health globally. Thank you for your consideration.

In 2018, a Peace Corps OIG investigation found that millions in tax-payer funded contracts illegally flowed to Vanessa Kerry's aforementioned charity, which violated procurement laws and regulations. In fact, one of Vanessa's executives, Buck Buckingham, took the fall for Kerry's organization and was charged with violating conflict of interest laws; however, Buckingham[1584] struck a plea deal.[1585]



As of April 2018, Peace Corps had disbursed $6,305,329 to Seed under the cooperative agreement.[10] Additionally, the Peace Corps allocated more than $13.5 million in PEPFAR funds to support GHSP activities.

Thank you so much for your patience with us. I wanted to loop back and see if we could set up another time to speak. As you know, Ukraine would pose an expansion of activity for us in a number of ways and we discussed the prospect with our Board to get their backing. They have approved us to conduct an assessment before committing to any long-term engagement. We want to ensure we can deliver a high quality and helpful service to the country. We are looking to pull together a team and have serval folks lined up who could help but we wanted to discuss with you if Burisma could help support this initial phase as well.

In yet another example of the incestuous relationship between the corporate media and the Bidens, consider the invitation below that was sent to Hunter from The Atlantic's Steve Clemons.[1586] The event was presumably a softball question affair featuring Vanessa Kerry and her father's former colleague, Massachusetts Senator Ed Markey. Clemons, who apparently gets paid to write for a living, declared that the event he was hosting "ha[d] soul." It was not[1587] the first time Clemons fawned over a Biden; on Joe's trip to China in 2013 before Hunter's BHR deal was inked, China's vice president LI Yuanchao told Clemens: "Vice President Biden is a good friend to you and to me."[1588]

Dear Folks:

Excuse the groupiness of this email invitation -- which I would make direct and personal if I could -- but am running to catch a plane to attend the NATO Summit in Warsaw. And I want you to join me at something worthwhile when I get back.

Vanessa Kerry, CEO of SEED Global Health, and Senator Ed Markey (D-MA) are going to have a discussion about how to move the needle on improving global health and how to train ever more needed health professionals and practitioners in the still developing world. In other words, this event has soul. Vanessa's dad is Secretary Kerry -- and I think has helped shape, through her volunteerism, his frame on the developing world. But that's my speculation.

Bank of America is hosting the gathering at the BofA Financial Center/Executive Dining Room (730 15th Street NW Washington, DC) -- on Thursday, 14 July, 6-8 pm.

I am inviting you and a guest -- but please don't transfer this to others. I'm invited a s Vanessa.

Please join me/us -- and let me know by RSVP if you can join.

All best and thanks!

As previously noted, Hunter flew with Joe on Air Force Two in December 2013 to China. During that trip, Joe not only met with Hunter's Chinese business partner (LI Jonathan), but Joe also brought Hunter to a dinner hosted by XI Jinping. At that dinner, Hunter sat next to TUNG Chee-hwa, the first and longest-serving "Chief Executive" of Hong Kong.[1590] The following summer, Whitey Bulger's nephew explained to Hunter that it was "very important to our BHR initiative" for Hunter to introduce LI to TUNG so they could "discuss BHR investment targets" with TUNG, a vice chairman of the Chinese People's Political Consultative Conference (CPPCC), a CCP-funded propaganda front group.[1591]

My name is Pin Ni and I am the president of Wanxiang America which bought Fisker assets a few months ago. Last Friday when we visited DC, I heard that your Fisker is out of order and could not get serviced. Sorry.

Yesterday the bankruptcy judge had approved Old Fisker's plan of liquidation in which we will be offering warrantee service to all Fisker owners, it would be our honor to get your Fisker fixed. Anne Marie was kind enough to give me your contact information, if possible, I would like to give you a call to see what we could do as next step.

Thank you for your support to Fisker and we hope to re-launch new Karma in 2015 after we get all the bugs taken care.

Going back to October 2014… Hunter was hobnobbing at events with sexual abuser[1595] Kevin Spacey, according to his emails with Adam Wilczewski, a former campaign staffer for Joe.[1596] After asking Hunter to pass along an award ceremony invitation from the BlueGreen Alliance[1597] for Joe, Adam quipped: "P.S. How was the Kevin Spacey foundation event? Heard he rocked it w/ his singing and Frank Underwood jokes!" Take note that both Spacey and Hunter were accused of being "sexually inappropriate" with minors—however, in Hunter's case, it was his then-13-year-old niece.

Hunter and Eric,

It was great to meet you both today. Thank you for spending so much time with me. I genuinely enjoyed getting to know you both and am very excited about this potential project.

In order to crystallize the project scope and nail down cost, I do need a bit more information from you. Below are the standard questions I send clients. Use this as a guideline and/or send me other materials you have (PPM, press list, etc) and we can use that to get a sense of what we can add to the article right now.

Here are my preliminary questions:

1. What is it about the page that you dislike?
2. Is that content factually incorrect or just something you wish was not on the page?
3. What type of content is missing from the article that you wish was included? Do you have well documented media references for the information you would want included?
4. If there was one thing that you would want a reader to take away after viewing your Wikipedia article, what would it be?
5. What are articles of other firms or individuals that you like and why? Is there something in those articles you would not want on your page?

I look forward to hearing back from you so that we ca hesitate to call or email me. Have a wonderful weeke

Kind Regards,
Polly

FYI, in case you don't want to read through the whole thing here are the pertinent details on price below. It is kind of poorly worded as the the payment schedule but it seems to me like the initial due at signing is the only amount due and get you through the first two months, then you would have two more payments due at the beginning of month 3 and month 5.

If you wanted to cut some of this back or do it in stages I would think maybe you start with Wikipedia, then go to the ORM consulting and then do the privacy protection last. Totals below are for all three services. It is approx $8K a month for wikipedia and $8K a month for the ORM consulting (in essence advising you how to better promote your online presence across twitter, websites, etc.).

[1602] Eric Schwerin's involvement in this pathetic exercise was peculiar (these are not normal duties for a private equity partner). However, as noted at the beginning of Section II, Schwerin was Hunter's handler and babysitter in all respects: Schwerin handled Hunter's finances, corresponded with his ex-wife about alimony, cashed checks directly for Hunter and Joe, and—as was the case in this instance—ensured Hunter's online image was positively manipulated.

Hunter made sure he got his money's worth for the online spin doctors at reputation.com, as Schwerin was "wordsmithing" Hunter's Wikipedia[1603] profile—and the "Special Projects" manager at the firm, Jonathon Lee, sent Hunter "stats" about his online presence—into June of the following year. In fact, a little over one week after his brother died, Hunter and his business partner were worrying about inserting portions of the eulogy Hunter gave at Beau's funeral into Hunter's Wikipedia page.

11/12/2014ff	College Admissions Scam	Tucker Carlson

Articulate[1604] and well-traveled show host, Tucker Carlson, lived across the street from Hunter in D.C. and has spoken publicly[1605] about the close relationship between their wives. Although Tucker has covered the Biden family corruption as much as anyone on cable television, what he—in his limited hangout—did not disclose was his own bite out of the Biden nepotism fruit tree on behalf of his son, Buckley. Kindness to one's neighbors is certainly a laudable quality, but asking for recommendation letters to selective universities revealed an ingratiation with the establishment that Carlson, based on his show transcripts, supposedly detests.[1606] However, prestigious universities and $3 million homes[1607] were not his only rewards for fame; Carlson enjoyed a variety of activities, including the show, Dancing with the Stars.[1608] A more egregious display of back-scratching, beyond mere recommendation letters and hoping the families "all get dinner soon," will come later in this section.

02/13/2015	White House Internship for Danny	Liz Schrayer & Danny Schwaber

Liz Schrayer was the founder of the U.S. Global Leadership Coalition, on whose board[1609] Hunter served.[1610] Schrayer's son, Danny Schwaber, wanted an inside track to an internship at the White House, a common example of D.C. back scratching.[1611] Hunter did his best to deliver: "Danny's resume is in the presidential personnel pipeline. Steve [Ricchetti, Joe's Chief of Staff] said when we have a better idea of what Danny would like to do and what may be available we can begin the asking process[.]" Ricchetti was the perfect man for the job, as his family's modus operandi—for the decades they have spent in Washington—has been to conduct political favors and ask for them in return.[1612] It should be noted that Schrayer's husband is a Georgetown University-educated lawyer named Jeffrey Schwaber, although Schwaber and Hunter did not attend the Jesuit law school at the same time.[1613]

Danny Schwaber

Hunter - you are amazing. Thank you.
Danny is very open. Ideally, he would like to get a position working in a policy/communications position in the domestic space where he could learn from great people. I think he cares most about that. Domestic Council, Economic Council, Legislative Affairs, Communications - all those are places where he would thrive. He will be back in DC by early May.

Many thanks. Liz

In response to Schwerin being nominated[1614] by Obama to the "Commission for the Preservation of America's Heritage Abroad," Hunter's cousin Missy Owens wanted a plum position for her mother[1615] and seemed flabbergasted that she had not yet received one. Hunter's response was incredibly candid: "I didn't know she wanted to do that me [sic] of these. Eric asked for one of these the day after the election in 2008. You know better than me what are real and interesting appointments. Let's go through the list with Steve [Ricchetti][1616] and see what makes sense. I don't know how much 2016 and nepotism plays into it." Steve Lakis manages a seemingly benign Massachusetts-based nonprofit called the State Legislative Leaders Foundation (SLLF). The rosy exterior of the SLLF belies its deep connections to the CCP and its partnership with the Chinese People's Association for Friendship with Foreign Countries (CPAFFC)—the "public face" of the CCP's United Front Work Department—which Hunter forged. Whitey Bulger's nephew arranged for Hunter to "sit down with [Lakis] and give him some advice."[1619]

Hunter,

As you know I was in Beijing last week. I was there because the State Legislative Leaders Foundation (SLLF) was sending an advance team in preparation for a large program they will be putting on in October that will hopefully include over 50 legislative leaders from over 25 different US States as well as their provincial counterparts in China. Additionally, US and Chinese businesses will also be in attendance.

Henry is spearheading this initiative with SLLF in China so I spent the last week with him. Henry is a big supporter of SLLF and he sees this initiative as being of a major diplomatic significance to both the US and China. He has spent a lot of the past year helping SLLF get an office set up in China which, considering how busy Henry is with all his other business, shows how important he views this SLLF initiative.

Henry and Steve Lakis (President of SLLF) asked me if I could help Steve set up a meeting with you when Steve is in DC next. Steve wanted to ask your advice on how to proceed on one aspect of setting up an SLLF office in China.

Specifically, the US and Chinese government through their respective foreign ministries laid a broad framework that allowed for the creation of the US-China Governors Forum. The U.S.-China Governors Forum was set up by the National Governors Association (NGA) and the Chinese People's Association for Friendship with Foreign Countries. It serves as a platform to promote peer-to-peer exchanges between U.S. state governors and Chinese provincial party secretaries and governors on topics of mutual interest such as trade, investment, energy and the environment. A Chinese province or a U.S. state takes turns hosting the meeting with the first one convened in Salt Lake City, Utah and the second one in Tianjin and Beijing. The third one was scheduled to be held in California in November this year.

SLLF would like to set up a similar sort of arrangement but instead focus on exchange between the state-level legislative branch of each country rather than the executive branch. It is on this point specifically that Steve Lakis (President of the SLLF) was wondering if he could just meet at your DC office and discuss paths forward.

Just so you know the SLLF is a nonprofit, nonpartisan organization dedicated to professional development for current and future state legislative leaders. Their constituency includes Speakers of the House, Senate Presidents, Majority Leaders, Minority Leaders, and Pro Tempores.

So is there a chance you could sit down with Steve and give him some advice on some of the issues that he and Henry are contending with? For your reference I've attached an internal memo that SLLF created on this matter.

Let's you and I have a quick phone call so I can explain further. What is a good time for me to give you a call?

[1619] "The Biden administration last month warned of a Chinese Communist Party front group that seeks to 'co-opt' state leaders as part of Beijing's sprawling foreign influence operation. Emails from Hunter Biden's laptop show the first son and his business partners helped the organization gain a foothold in the United States while his father was vice president. … The Biden group's primary goal was to have Obama reference the collaboration between the State Legislative Leaders [Forum] and the Chinese group in his upcoming meeting with Xi Jinping. On May 11, 2015, a foundation adviser wrote Evan Ryan, who then served as assistant secretary of state for educational and cultural affairs, that a reference by Obama would help them gain 'top level approval' from Chinese officials to set up a foundation office in Beijing. Ryan, who now serves as White House cabinet secretary and is married to Secretary of State Antony Blinken, appears to have played a major role in midwifing the partnership. Schwerin noted in an email to Biden that Ryan had 'helped with' the effort to officially acknowledge the foundation's work with the Chinese group."

06/30/2015	Dead Brother's "Pass Through" Foundation	Josh Alcorn

Within a month of Beau's death, Josh Alcorn, a longtime Biden political operative, was explaining the grift they were planning with the Beau Biden Foundation for the Protection of Children. In fact, with Beau's body barely cold, Alcorn declared that the the foundation was to give "no more than 5%" as scholarships and just another 5% for a so-called "fellowship." Besides those handouts and a few golf tournaments, the Foundation is an employment program for those who were close to Beau when he was alive.[1623] As multiple white papers explain, this "pass through" scheme is illegal in most instances.[1624] If the IRS were an impartial body, the Foundation would lose its tax-exempt status.

PART IV Narrative Description of Your Activities

The Beau Biden Foundation for the Protection of Children will continue the work Joseph R. "Beau" Biden, III loved the most – protecting the most vulnerable among us. As Beau said: "As adults, we have a legal and moral obligation to stand up and speak out for children who are being abused – they cannot speak for themselves."

The Foundation recognizes there are already a number of very successful non-profits working in this space. Our goal is not to recreate the wheel, but rather fill gaps that exist in educating adults about child protection, raising awareness of bullying and online safety among school aged children, and expanding across the nation, some of the policy solutions to protecting kids that Beau Biden brought to Delaware while serving as the State Attorney General. As such, the Foundation will have three main programming goals: create programs that build on in-school and community programs Beau brought to Delaware; fund existing programs through grants to other non-profits working in the space; and provide scholarships/endow fellowships for college and post-graduate students who want to dedicate their lives to protecting children.

What follows is a brief list of programs we will to develop and fund. It is in no way exhaustive or exclusive.

1. As Attorney General, Beau spent a lot of time in schools, talking to kids about the dangers of bullying and the importance of online safety and reputation. The Foundation, working with our Program Director, the Board of Directors and experts in the field, will develop a comprehensive in-school presentation and workshop that we can take to local schools. Beau believed children are the first line of defense in protecting other children from bullying – and so he went in to schools to talk to kids about it. The foundation believes this will be one of our major programs. As with all of our programs, this will be funded by donations from the public and by grants from non-profits, governmental programs or foundations.

2. An organization called Darkness To Light has a program called Stewards of Children that trains adults to recognize the signs of child abuse and offers them tips and solutions to prevent abuse in their own social circles. Beau had set a goal of training 30,000 adults in Delaware in the Stewards of Children program. To date, about 15,000 have been trained. The Foundation will work with Darkness to Light to partner with large employers in Delaware and fund the training program. The foundation believes this will be one of our major funding projects. As with our own programs, this will be funded by donations from the public and by grants from non-profits, governmental programs or foundations.

3. Beau recognized the importance of having really great people working on child protection issues. He recruited the best minds to his Child Predator Task Force and the Family Division in the Delaware Department of Justice. The Foundation plans on funding scholarships at local colleges and law schools to train the next generation of leaders in the Child Protection space. These scholarships will be well publicized, open for anyone to submit an application, and will be fairly judged and handed out. The foundation believes we will give no more than 5% of our annual giving out as scholarships. As with all of our programs, this will be funded by donations from the public and by grants from non-profits, governmental programs or foundations.

4. Beau helped draft and pass legislation protecting children in Delaware. We have some of the best laws in the country as it relates to keeping kids safe and keeping predators off the street. The Foundation would like to see other states pass similar laws. To that end, the Foundation would like to endow a fellowship at the National Association of Attorneys Generals. This fellowship would pay for the room and board, perhaps a small stipend, for a lawyer or prosecutor from a State Attorney General's office to spend a three or six month stint in Washington, DC (where the National Association of AGs is located) to work on child protection issues. Examples could include: conducting research, composing white papers and drafting legislation. It's important to note that we expect this fellowship to be a small portion of the programming we fund. About 5% of our annual giving will be dedicated to funding this fellowship. As with all of our programs, this will be funded by donations from the public and by grants from non-profits, governmental programs or foundations.

I have been with the Secret Service for 25 years and known many political families, and there are no better people than the Bidens. During my time with you in Africa I gained much respect for you, the way you stood by your wife and helped her through that time really left with deep respect for you. I realize the recent news must be disheartening but there are many like me that believe in the Biden Family. You'll come through this better.

I am back in Washington DC working at our headquarters and would like to catch up with you if you feel so inclined my phone number is (206) 305-2119.

My best to Kathleen.

07/28/2015ff	"[W]ouldn't tell anyone about you coming."	Fran Person & ZHANG Bo

Joe's former "great and super dependable" body guy, Fran Person, wanted to wine and dine with Hunter at "two different incredible resorts" in China. Hunter and Fran[1626] were to be hosted by ZHANG Bo and his wealthy family, who owned a "top tier private real estate development firm," Harves Century Group, of which ZHANG was the Chairman and CEO.[1627] Fran implied that Hunter could "groom" the Chinese princeling, who Fran said "will do great" but needed "good people around him."

Long shot, but would you be interested in coming to China for a week in mid august (the week of August 16 or after). You could bring the family. I would bring my girls. It would be a great distraction.

Bo Zhang and his family would host us. They are a great family with great respect and relationships in China. Bo graduated from American Univ and is in his late 20's, and his parents own Harves Century Group of Shenyang - which is a top tier private chinese real estate development firm. His mom is actually the Chairman of the company, which is unique in China. They are very private, and wouldn't tell anyone about you coming. Bo's father-in-law is actually the Governor of Hainan (Chinese Hawaii), which he doesn't advertise at all.

It would be an opportunity for you to see the scope of what Harves does - its amazing. And I again I think it'd be great for you to get to meet

We would fly into Beijing, and maybe stop into Shenyang where you can see one of the projects Harves is building there - they are building the entire financial district of Shenyang. But then we'd head down to Hainan to relax and hang out. The Island of Hainan is the Hawaii of China. There is two different incredible resorts we would spend time at. One is by the ocean with a great golf course. And the other is up in the mountains, overlooking the ocean. That one has 100 natural hot springs, and you can hike up a mountain with a yogi and do yoga in a spot overlooking the ocean. Bo was mentioning that we could always go to Xian and spend a couple days diving into the history of the great dynasties of China (that's also where President Xi is from), but while cool, it would maybe take too much time.

Again - I know its short notice and its a long way to travel- Bo and I will be in China at the time. We are partnering with Magic Johnson and Lebron James to host an NBA Global Game in China in Laoening Province in 2016, and Lebron will be in China around that time.

I'd like for you to get to know Bo. He's a brilliant guy - he's been groomed to take over his family's dynasty, but he's very humble. He will do great things one day, but he needs good people around him. He and his wife live in DC, and are expecting a child. He is building a huge house in McLean, and plans on working and living in the US.

This isn't about a partnership, or selling you on anything. We just want to grow that relationship, and there will be plenty of big things that come down the road that we can work on.

Also - its an extended invitation. We can do this anytime. Timing might not be right now. But it might be perfect too.

08/23/2015ff	Ashley Madison Account	Eric Schwerin & Tucker Carlson

Investigative reporter Patrick Howley revealed that a data leak from adultery website Ashley Madison confirmed that Hunter maintained an account on the affair-facilitating site linked to his email address, rhbdc1@gmail.com.[1628] The information that Breitbart published is shown below; in response, Hunter declared that he was "certain"[1629] that "the account in question" was not his, even though the latitude and longitude coordinates associated with the account lined up next to Georgetown University, where Hunter was teaching as an adjunct professor.[1630] While playing the game of denial and damage control, Hunter admitted to Joe's then-Press Secretary and current EPA official, Kendra Lamy, that he used his real birthday (02/04) when he registered the account, even though he made himself appear ten years younger, perhaps in an effort to attract philanderers who would otherwise be uninterested in him. Founded in 2002 by Darren Morgenstern, Ashley Madison's slogan sums up the website's mission quite well: "Life is short. Have an affair." Hunter definitely took their slogan to heart.[1631]

Two days after Breitbart broke the story, the Daily Mail's White House correspondent, Francesca Chambers, sent Hunter a list of questions. Hunter, of course, had no response to the challenging questions, and therefore did not reply. Marco Polo appreciated the (rare) display of impartiality that Miss Chambers exemplified.[16321633] There was one more data point that solidified the authenticity of Hunter's Ashley Madison account: Three months earlier, Hunter had received an invoice at the same address (1010 Wisconsin Avenue) from the Washington, D.C. Bar Finance Department for "Active Membership Dues" associated with his single-member law firm and shell corporation, Owasco PC.[1634]

Mr. Biden,

Allow me to introduce myself. I'm the White House reporter for DailyMail.com. I've seen your statement on the Ashley Madison incident, but several questions remain unanswered based on the file we saw, which contained information not included in the one presented to you by Breitbart News. Perhaps you would like to use this as an opportunity to clear a few things up.

1. Chief among the unanswered questions: whether the credit card used to set up and pay for the Ashley Madison account was yours.
2. If not, why was a credit card with your name on it registered to an address linked to you - 1010 Wisconsin Avenue NW – and used to pay for $268.99 in services on Ashley Madison on 06-25-2014?
3. Do you believe yourself to be the victim of criminal-level identity theft?
4. If it was your card, did you ever report it stolen to your credit card company or the police?
5. Furthermore, in your statement, you indicated that this is not the first time someone has tried to discredit you. What other incident(s) were you referring to? And why do you think that someone, more than a year ago, began a plot to frame you?
6. Finally, could you confirm when you became aware of the Ashley Madison account in your name?

Thank you in advance,

Francesca Chambers

The next day, Hunter was still in damage control mode and turned to none other than Tucker Carlson, a "nice guy" who he dispatched to hound the editor of the Daily Mail for their publication's exposure of his Ashley Madison account and infidelity. Carlson was an extremely loyal attack dog: "Just lost my shit on the editor over there. He [David Martosko] claims the London office forced him to do it. He's a pig either way, and I told him so. This whole thing is disgusting and awful and it breaks my heart that you all have to go through it. I'm really sorry. Let me know if there's anything Susie and I can do to help." Hunter continued spewing the same lies: "Eric [Schwerin] provided all the information on background that proves this was not me - not my IP address- not my credit card #, not my birthdate etc...but they still come anyway." Carlson was still livid: "Are you kidding? I'm glad you called. What they did was repulsive and immoral and I hope I wrecked their day. … Fuck them."Carlson had no interest in asking Hunter standard questions, as Chambers from the Daily Mail had done. Nevertheless, Carlson wants us to believe that he stands athwart the so-called Ship of Fools in D.C.[1635] Carlson also expects us to believe that his wife, Susie, and Hunter's then-wife, Kathleen, were friends—we wonder how Susie felt about Tucker not inquiring (at all) into Hunter's infidelity.[1636]

I was just so upset that they went to my house and confronted Finnegan. I've been in DE the last two months sleeping in my nephew's bed, and it's hard to even get up in the morning sometimes.

Eric provided all the information on background that proves this was not me - not my IP address- not my credit card #, not my birthdate etc...but they still come anyway. I can take the hit- I'll be fine, but the notion that under any circumstance whether ordered to by an editor or not that someone would confront my 16 year old daughter at my home is just wrong.

Regardless, I should have never put you in this position- you have your own family all of whom I love, and your own business and defending me is not something a friend should ask a friend to do. Tell Susie we love her and miss you both very much.

Hunter was close with former U.S. Congressman Dan Glickman (D-KS-4), who was the Secretary of Agriculture under Bill Clinton from 1995 to 2001. Glickman is one of the premiere captains of the uniparty, having served as a figurehead for nearly every lamentable[1637] globalist[1638] organization with its tentacles in D.C. Glickman's role as the Secretary of Agriculture led to his affiliation with the World Food Program USA, which Hunter helped oversee (at least on paper). Glickman called Joe the "closest in the modern era" to his "political hero." Hilariously, Hunter was "a close second" to Joe.[1639]

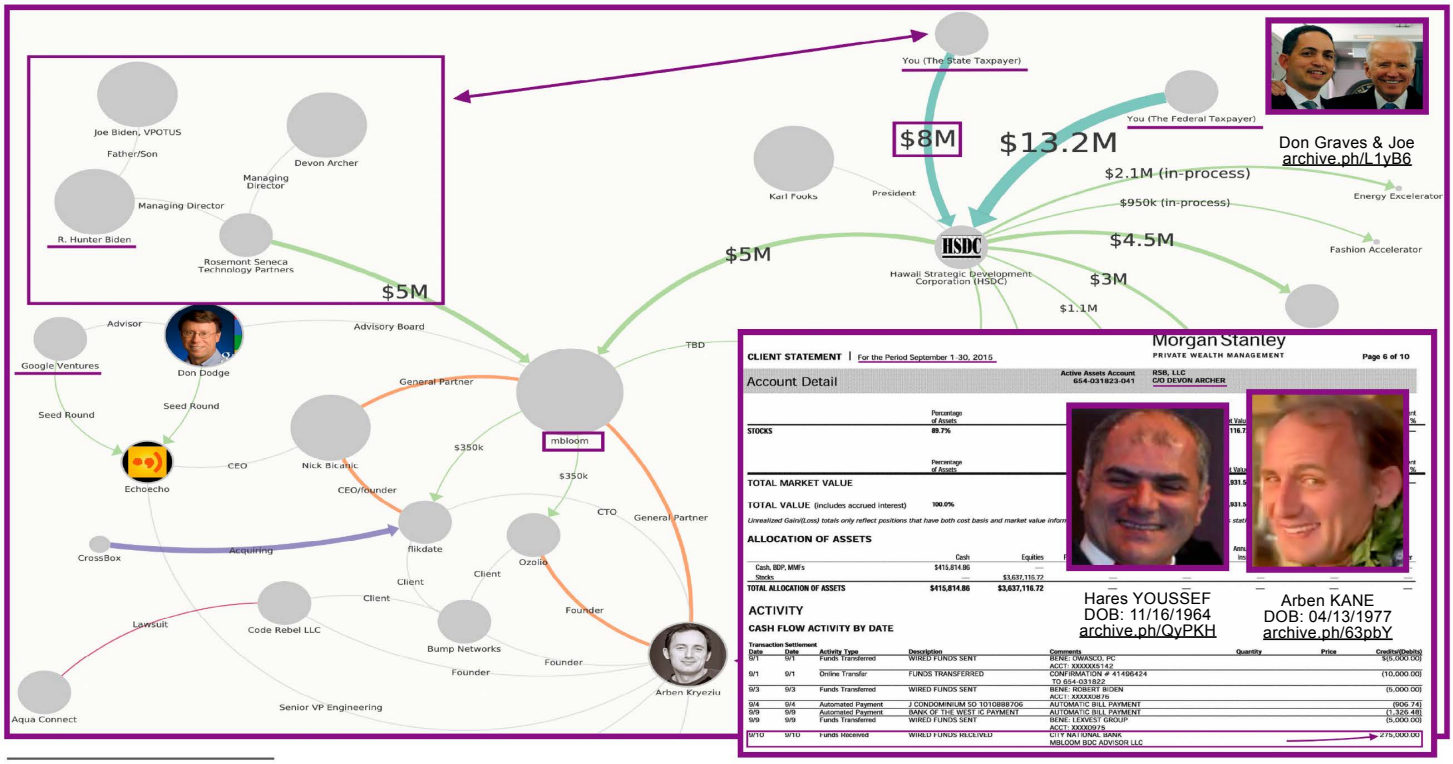
A U.S. Department of Treasury program[1640] overseen by Joe's longtime aide, Don Graves, poured $13.2M into a failed[1641] tech startup "hub" in Maui called MBloom, whose general partner was Arben KANE.[1642] In addition to federal and state taxpayer funds, MBloom was capitalized by Hunter's firm, Rosemont Seneca Technology Partners, along with Hares YOUSSEF, a Syrian-born Ukrainian mogul with ties[1643] to mobsters. Even with the conflicts of interest and ensuing lawsuits that plagued the fund, prospects for Graves were not hurt—Joe appointed him as the Deputy Secretary of Commerce.



[1640] "The pair set up another joint venture, a private-public partnership called MBloom in Hawaii. Hunter's firm invested $5 million and the other half came from HSDC. The HSDC money came from a program in Washington DC called the Treasury Department State Small Business Credit Initiative, ran by a longtime Biden aide, Don Graves. Graves served as counselor to Vice President Biden, his domestic and economic policy director, and his traveling chief of staff. And after Joe Biden left the White House, he appointed Graves to the policy advisory board of the Biden Institute."

RSTP was run by Devon Archer, then a close business partner of Hunter Biden. Mbloom was shuttered after Archer was arrested in an unrelated fraud case. … Almost immediately, mbloom attracted controversy after reportedly investing in two startups run by Bicanic and Kane. The fund was shut down in mid-2016 after Archer was arrested for defrauding the Oglala Sioux tribe of tens of millions of dollars. The Hawaii Strategic Development Corporation then withdrew."

Schwerin prepped Hunter with "Talking Points" for Hunter's upcoming call with the aforementioned ZHANG Bo, the Chinese princeling, registered CCP foreign agent, and business partner of Fran Person. Like Hunter, Fran had no experience[1644] in private equity and struggled with alcohol but apparently briefed Hunter about ZHANG's desire to bring SeaWorld[1645] to mainland China. Schwerin told Hunter to convey that their "China team" was preparing for a visit by the General Secretary of the CCP, XI Jinping, to the United States: "We are following up with DuPont on the Shenzhen project. Sorry it has taken so long to get an answer from them but their China team has been very busy preparing for President XI's visit this week." It is debatable whether this clear display of foreign influence peddling should have been in the BUSINESS CRIMES section of this Report based on 18 USC § 951, as Schwerin noted that their partners' "China team" was preparing for XI's state visit.[1646]

Hunter’s eldest daughter, Naomi, emailed a recommendation letter that she had received from her “International Relations Advisor” at the University of Pennsylvania to one of Joe’s six alias email accounts, 67stingray@gmx.com, which was hosted on a German server.[16491650] Readers will come to their own conclusions about whether nepotism had any role in Naomi’s admission to the university and/or her glowing recommendation letter. Surely Joe’s appointment to the Ivy League school as their “Benjamin Franklin Presidential Practice Professor” less than a year later was merely a coincidence.

Another example of the Bidens mixing private business endeavors with public office came from a screenshot of a Facebook post[1651] that Wayne Kimmel shared. Kimmel—who was, apparently, so proud of his networking skills that he wrote a book[1652] about them and named it after himself—was bragging about his venture capital firm's portfolio company, StartUp Health. StartUp Health's Chief Medical Officer was Joe's son-in-law, Howard Krein. In the screenshot, Krein can be seen exiting Air Force Two after he hitched a ride with Joe to Rome[1653] where they would meet with the pope to discuss Joe's ill-fated "Cancer Moonshot." Those details were probably lost on the investors of SeventySix Capital—they were interested in the financial returns on Howard's nepotistic connections.

Dear Hunter,

Thank you for making the time to talk to us later this morning. There are two areas we would like to address:

- We need your help in determining the timing and approach to Mike Bloomberg for an 8-figure gift in support of WFP’s climate resilience work in Africa. Bloomberg Philanthropies – which encompasses all of Mike Bloomberg’s charitable activities, including his foundation, his personal giving and his corporate philanthropy – granted $510M in 2015 for projects in over 130 countries around the world. His philanthropic interests coincide with WFP’s focus in these areas: climate change, strengthening governments, women’s empowerment, and use of innovative data and technology. We have been working closely with WFP to identify projects which we believe are a good fit. This blog post provides a snapshot of WFP’s work to build the resilience of vulnerable people to the effects of climate change: A Quick Guide to Climate Change | World Food Program USA. Bloomberg serves as the UN Secretary General’s Special Envoy for Cities and Climate Change, and as President of the C40 Cities Climate Change Leadership Group. In addition, his “Annual Letter on Philanthropy” is devoted to his work on climate change. All good signs that an approach related to climate resilience would be appropriate!
- I had a brief conversation with Jay Aldous a week or so ago, and spoke to him about the possibility of an approach to CEFC China Energy Company. Without being asked, he submitted the company to the Due Diligence Committee for review, and he let me know yesterday that the DD Committee had approved CEFC! We would like to learn more from you about the company, and if there is indeed an interest in supporting WFP.

All the best,
Marianne

Hunter was recently approached by a large privately owned Chinese corporation, called CEFC Energy China, that has a U.S. based foundation. (I am confirming that it is a U.S. 501-c3.) They’d like to explore making a donation to WFP USA and their CEO would like to meet with the appropriate person at WFP USA the last week of October when he is in the U.S. My assumption based on the conversations I have had with them is that it would be more than just a token donation.

The CEO will be here the 27th and 28th of October. Can you let us know if yourself or the appropriate staff person could meet with him either day? Defer to you on who it is.

Let us know how best to proceed.

Dear Eric,

I hope all is well in DC and that you had a relaxed Thanksgiving holiday.

I’ve had difficulties in reaching Hunter recently, so I would have to ask you a big favor - to convey this message to him.

On Sunday, December 6th, I will have a private dinner in DC with an old friend from China - Ye Jiemaing - one of the 10 wealthiest Chinese businessmen.

He is the Chairman and majority owner of CEFC China Energy, a second-largest privately owned company on Shanghai stock exchange.

He’s very young and dynamic (39), with the top-level connections in his country. They have recently started making big investments abroad (billions of dollars), and plan on doing much more.

I would like to invite Hunter to join me at this private dinner (small dinner - this is not an event of any kind). I am confident that many interesting projects may come out of that in the future.

Please let me know if this would be possible.

Kind regards from Mexico,
Vuk

PS Please check out the invitation that I sent you for our event at the Center for American Progress on December 9th.

Within a month of leaving the vice presidency, Joe wrote a personal recommendation letter for LI's son, Christopher, and had it "FedExed" directly to the President of Brown University, Dr. Christina Paxson.[1659] As fate would have it, Paxson is the current chair of the Boston branch of the Federal Reserve.[1660] If anyone in America still believes that post-secondary education is a meritocracy, Marco Polo has a bridge to sell. Likely a "quid pro Joe" for Hunter's recommendation in the previously mentioned Romanian case, Louie Freeh—who Hunter described as his "close friend"—gave $100,000 to the education trust for Hallie Olivere Biden's children, Natalie and "Little Hunter." However, Freeh, being prone[16661667] to mistakes, gave the "gift" to the wrong foundation: "As you know, our family foundation made a $100K contribution to Hallie's children's trust last year. My accountants (PWC) now advise that since the grant did not go to a 501(c) organization, it was not a proper foundation gift." After apologizing profusely for Hunter's "extra burden," Freeh wished "warm regards" to Hunter's "Dad and Mom."[1668]

Millennium Brings on Big Hitters as Advisors

Millennium Management is bringing on two former government bigwigs to advise it on the regulatory landscape as greater regulation of the asset class is almost certain.

Former SEC Chairman Harvey Pitt and Louis Freeh, the ex-FBI director, will join a special board to advise the firm on regulatory matters, Simon Lorne, Millennium's chief legal officer told HedgeFund.net.

While a few other hedge fund firms have appointed advisory boards, Millennium's focus on regulation is unusual, Lorne said.

With national and international legislation threatened, the focus on regulation makes sense. Both Congress and the European Union are considering legislation requiring hedge fund registration and otherwise placing restrictions on the $2 trillion industry.

The board will help Millennium "see the bigger trends and be prepared for them," Lorne said.

The new board also includes Peter Clapman, former chief counsel for TIAA-CREF, who brings an institutional investment perspective, he said.

Stanley Sporkin, who headed the SEC enforcement division and is a retired federal judge, and former SEC commissioners Aulana Peters and Joseph Grundfest are also on the advisory board.

Millennium Management, founded by Israel Englander, has about $7.8 billion in assets under management.

Dear Hunter

Good afternoon from Europe and I hope you and the family had a great Easter.

I had a good meeting in Bucharest with the SRI director and we're hopeful that it may have a positive impact on the case.

As you know, our family foundation made a $100K contribution to Hallie's children's trust last year. My accountants (PWC) now advise that since the grant did not go to a 501(c) organization, it was not a proper foundation gift. So we've been in touch with the IRS and PWC and want to correct the situation as follows: I'll make a new $100k gift to Haley's trust, and Hallie's trust will reimburse the foundation by paying it $100k.

I can handle this with the lawyers (see attached) but wanted to let you know first before doing anything-so it's clear what we're trying to do.

Please call me if you have any questions and I'll proceed to contact the attorneys to get this done-the IRS has given us a May 5th response date.

Sorry for the extra burden.

Best regards and warm regards to Hallie, Dad and Mom,
Louie

Joe's brother used a foreign-born middle man—Amer RUSTOM, who would later be jointly[1669] sued with Jimmy over an investment fraud scheme—to write a fawning letter "on behalf of the Biden family" to a director of the Qatari Investment Authority (QIA), a $450B+ sovereign wealth fund.[1670] Tucked in the middle of Jimmy's letter was a standard cover-your-ass (CYA) line about the Biden family "not" being "lobbyists." These CYA insertions allow the clan to always maintain "plausible deniability."

Dear Mr. Khaled Sultan Al Rabban:

Thank you for the communication with my friend and associate Dr. Amer Rustom regarding the recent visit of His Excellency Sheikh Abdullah Bin Mohammed Al Thani to the United States and his vision to promote the business interests of the nation of Qatar.

I would be honored to assist in effectuating the vision of His Excellency but would be remiss in not pointing out the fractured nature of our current administration. My family could provide a wealth of introductions and business opportunities at the highest levels that I believe would be worthy of the interest of His Excellency. We are not, however, lobbyists and do not operate in that arena. Our relationships are deep and wide and have lasted through many years and many administrations. We are not particularly close to this administration and have a different vision. This administration is beleaguered by major issues that are not soon to be resolved. In the meantime, we continue to forge ahead in forward thinking endeavors that create real value both here in the United States and abroad. Our primary interest is and always has been to advance the interests of the United States through productive collaborations with partners home and abroad.

If this is in keeping with the vision of His Excellency, on behalf of the Biden family, I welcome your interest here. I recommend Dr. Rustom arrange a conference call to discuss the way moving forward and perhaps a face to face meeting in New York or Qatar with you and His Excellency. Please contact Dr. Rustom at +1 561 452 3052 at your earliest convenience.

Best regards,

08/08/2017ff	No tuition necessary for members of the Biden clan	Joe, Liz & Lilly Secundy

The sister of Beau Biden's widow was not going to be able to pay for her daughter, Lilly, to attend the Benchmark[1671] School, but she did not have to worry. Liz Secundy merely needed to enlist Joe to attend a speaking event and Lilly's tuition would be waived. Liz, therefore, worked with Tom Hurster from the school to set up—in Tom's words—a "win-win-win possibility." However, Hurster and Benchmark were looking for their own ROI and expected the Bidens to pitch their "Capital Campaign" for an "Innovation Center." We wonder what other parents from Benchmark School who did not have a famous politician in their family might think when they hear about this "quid pro Joe" scheme.

Subject: A speaking engagement with the Biden's and Lilly's tuition

Liz- I am writing, leaving for 21/2 weeks, for a much anticipated, annual vacation In Maine tomorrow. Robb is also on vacation so I am not sure how the timing of all this will work, but I am available by email.

I was so glad to get your text message and to hear that my idea might actually be doable.

You wrote "all good, but I need some specifics" which I took to mean that you had spoken to either the Vice-President or Dr. Biden (or both) and they were OK with the proposal to wave Lilly's tuition in lieu of their speaking fees, and are willing to present at Benchmark, as I had proposed.

You then asked: "1. does Benchmark want both VP and Dr. B; 2. would one of them suffice/:;3. what's the venue....ex. speaking and reception?; 4. what are they speaking about; 5. are you tying it into the new project?; 6. what is the project again?; 7. are you the point of contact?; 8. can I give them/their staff your numbers; 9. what do you need on my end to convince the board of all this? (I am reiterating you questions verbatim for Robb to view, and perhaps share with the Board- I am such a technological naif that I don't know how to forward a text message).

These are all good questions to which there aren't yet firm answers, and all are subject to discussion/negotiation . I had originally imagined an evening in our Performing Arts Center (which as you know is a state of the art venue and seats 300) wherein a moderator or two would lead a discussion with Dr. Biden (a recognized leading educator with a national profile) and the former Vice President (a leading politician, of great popularity, who has been interested in education issues his entire career, and who still seems to want to "stay in the game"), about the current challenges for American education and what the future may hold. I imagined that we might be able to get a prominent local news-person to moderate the discussion, and that attendees would be by invitation/lottery. I thought maybe there would be a brief closed reception for selected guests before the main event which would be maybe 60 minutes, with audience questions, and perhaps a short reception in the front with light refreshments afterwards. I imagined that Dr. Biden would be the primary speaker as an educator, with the VP chiming in and perhaps offering a political perspective. I anticipate their will be significant press coverage of some sort. However the specifics of the topic and format are open to discussion and the preferences of the speakers. I would think we would ideally like both present in some way, but that is not a deal breaker. My thought was it might be more "fun" for them, and we would like to show off Benchmark (and Lilly's school) to both.

The "project" I mentioned is that we are embarking on a Capital Campaign to build an "Innovation Center", to enhance the Benchmark curriculum, and as a multi-disciplinary design and technology center for the use of students. It is connected to another Benchmark initiative, The Benchmark School Center for Empowered Learning: http://www.benchmarkschool.org/resources.
/center-for-empowered-learning. Two of our esteemed alums, Chris and William Sharples (twins) have expressed a desire to "give back" and are the architectural team behind the project (they are donating their time/team). They are the driving force behind the SHoP Architecture firm in NYC, perhaps best know for the Barclay Center and their work renovating the Manhattan waterfront, and were finalists for the Obama Library http://www.shoparc.com/. We of course,are very proud of them, and more than thrilled at their offer and involvement. They credit their Benchmark education for much of their success.

The way these Capital Campaigns work is that you raise a significant amount of the money before you go "public", and I think we already have several potential big donors. Thus the timing of the campaign officially opening is still unclear but will likely be later this Fall With that in mind I was thinking that we would likely want to do something in November/early December, but again this is highly speculative on my part, and certainly subject to discussion.

For the time being I would be the point person, but expect to pretty quickly turn it over to others if this goes forward, although I will remain involved. Certainly the next step is for Robb to take the possibility to the Board, and we would need some official indication from Dr. Biden and the VP as to what they were interested in and available to do, and their response to my "daydream". Mostly I want to figure out a way for Lilly to finish out her 8th grade year with us, and to leave you without a financial burden. I believe this is a win-win-win possibility: exposure for the Biden's at an important time, around an important topic; exposure for Benchmark as we embark on a new chapter in our mission to develop "learners, thinkers, and problem-solvers"; and most important, an opportunity for Lilly to remain with us for another year.

Although I am leaving tomorrow, I will be available by email. Feel free to respond and ask further questions, as well as to forward this to the Biden people. I am not sure how quickly Robb can respond as he is also on vacation for a week. There is, however, a need to move forward quickly for Lilly's sake.

Later that month, Hunter emailed Hurster back with a terse rundown of Joe's conditions and made it seem like the Bidens were actually doing the school and its headmaster a favor: "His typical fee for a speech is between 300-500[k]. I'm happy to hear that Lilly[1672] will be readmitted." Hunter had no response about the "Capital Campaign." However, the school got it done without the Bidens' help.[1673]

Please call me at 202-285-2473 I'm traveling abroad (Hong Kong now). My Dad will speak for no compensation or possibly compensation that will be donated back to Benchmark. His typical fee for a speech is between 350-500. I'm happy to hear that Lilly will be readmitted.Thats your decision based upon your own standards, which I am happy to see serve children whose parents can't afford such an education as that provided by Benchmark. My fathers' engagement will be a speech. The engagement will not be anything more than a speech and of course he almost always mingles and meets the people you would like him to meet before and after the speech. My mother cannot attend.
Again you're desire to have my father speak and Lilly's attendance at Benchmark have nothing to with one another. The timing and content and length of the speech and the location will be mutually agreed upon. The speech will take place with in one year of your agreement to these preliminary terms. Sincerely, RH Biden

Mr. Hunter Biden- Hello. As an introduction, I am Tom Hurster, a Supervisor in the Child and Family Support Services Department of Benchmark School, who has been working with Lilly and her parents since she began attending Benchmark in December, 2015 (mid 6th grade year). I have been associated with Benchmark School since August, 1981 in a variety of capacities, and am authorized to represent the school in our discussion as to how to address the outstanding balance of Lilly's tuition account so that she might return for her 8th grade year.

Candidly, it was my idea to approach Liz about the possibility of Vice-President Biden, and/or Dr. Jill Biden, appearing at Benchmark School for a speaking engagement within the upcoming school year, with the Biden's foregoing their usual speaking fees in lieu of Lilly's outstanding tuition. In essence they would make an address to our community and instead of their being paid for such, their fees would be used to cover Lilly's outstanding tuition, thus allowing her to return for her final year. Currently the Secundy's owe Benchmark $22,700 (the balance owed for the '15-'16 school year, and the '16-'17 school year- after a tuition assistance grant last year of $20,000); the tuition for Lilly's 8th grade year is $35,300. This is a total of $58,000.

When I approached Liz, I had originally imagined an evening in our West Performing Arts Center (a state of the art venue which seats 300) wherein a moderator or two would lead a discussion with Dr. Biden (a recognized leading educator with a national profile) and the former Vice President (a leading American statesman, and arguably the de facto head of the Democratic Party), about the current challenges for American education and what the future may hold. I imagined that we might be able to get a prominent local news person to moderate the discussion, and that attendees would be by invitation/lottery. Presumably there would be press coverage. I thought maybe there would be a brief closed reception and/or dinner for selected guests before the main event which would be maybe 60-90 minutes, with audience questions, and perhaps a short reception afterwards in the center lobby with light refreshments for the attendees. Perhaps, in light of Vice President Biden's upcoming book tour, there might be a brief book signing. I imagined that Dr. Biden would speak as an educator, with a sensitivity to the education of children with special learning needs, with the Vice President offering a political /policy perspective on the role of the federal government in supporting innovative education. However the specifics of the topic and format are open to discussion and the preferences of the speakers, and would not necessarily be in the format I am imagining. I would think Benchmark would ideally like both present in some way, but that is not absolutely necessary; my thought was it might be more "fun" for them, and we would like to show off Benchmark (and Lilly's school) to them both. I am aware of how important they are to her.

I imagined that the event would be connected, perhaps, to a Capital Campaign that Benchmark is about to announce to build an "Innovation Center", to enhance the Benchmark curriculum, and as a multi-disciplinary design and technology center for the use of students. Two of our esteemed alums, Chris and William Sharples (twins) have expressed a desire to "give back" and are the architectural team behind the project (they are donating their time/team). They are the driving force behind the SHoP Architecture firm in NYC, perhaps best know for the Barclay Center and their work renovating the Manhattan waterfront, and were finalists for the Obama Library (http://www.shoparc.com/projects/). We of course,are very proud of them, and more than thrilled at their offer and involvement. They credit their Benchmark education for much of their success (attached is a description of the Innovation Space concept- I can mail a prospectus to you all showing their overall design concept. It is way cool, and we are very excited).

To summarize, what I imagined was an evening with Vice-President and Dr. Biden discussing the state and future of American education in broad terms. We could have a moderator to help guide their discussion. We would honor the speakers (and their invited guests) with a closed attendance reception/dinner, followed by the formal presentation, and a brief general reception (perhaps book signing) in our West Performing Arts Center lobby for attendees. I imagine the evening would be around 3-4 hours. We would use the occasion of their appearance to bolster our fund raising efforts for our Innovation Center Capital Campaign. They would appear, waving their usual speaking fees, in lieu of Lilly's outstanding tuition. This would allow Lilly to finish out her Benchmark years, help Benchmark in its fund raising campaign for our Innovation Center, and allow the Biden's an opportunity to discuss their views on the future of American education and to promote the Vice President's book. I hope a win for all of us. but this would mostly be a "win" for Lilly and her parents. Lilly has made significant progress with us over the last year and a half, and I am certain that an additional year will put her well along the way towards handling a competitive academic curriculum. I so very much want to see her return for one more year.

Other details can be worked out. Certainly Benchmark can arrange for a limousine to pick up the Vice President and Dr. Biden to transport them to the event from their Delaware home. We can certainly work with their schedule, although I am imagining something in early November, perhaps before the Vice President's appearance in Philadelphia around his book release. And perhaps it is too much to ask for both to present, although as I said, I thought they'd enjoy such. So we are open to discussion and negotiation.

The big factor now, is timing. We need to have an agreement, at least in principle, in place before next Tuesday in order for Lilly to start with the rest of her class (clearly optimal). There is a Board policy that students cannot return with an outstanding balance (which we have already waved once for Lilly and her parents). We can't let Lilly start next week until we have resolved her tuition situation. Additionally, candidly, the Benchmark School Board of Directors has not yet approved this proposal, so it remains only a possibility (although I have permission to start the discussion with you as the representative of the Vice President and Dr. Biden). There have been preliminary discussions with Dr. Robb Gaskins (who is Head of School) and the Board Director, but the finance committee chair and the executive committee must also sign off on the proposal. Assuming they do so, we would need a letter of intent (a contractual agreement, if you would) from the Bidens, agreeing to a speaking engagement sometime this school year. And as I have already stated, we are getting very close to the beginning of the school year, so....

I anxiously await your response. If you would like to speak by phone my numbers are: 610-565-3741 (BMK); 610-525-5030 (my practice office in Bryn Mawr); 610-420-1410 (my mobile). I also look forward to meeting you in person. Both Lilly and Liz have had such kind and fond things to share about you. I understand you are likely traveling abroad, but I do hope we can continue this discussion soon.

Respectfully,
Tom Hurster

10/01/2017	"[P]aybacks can come later."	Joe, Jimmy Biden & Obama

One of the most well-known (and pathetic) emails from the Biden Laptop was a ridiculous 120-word missive from Hunter's uncle, Jimmy, which would be hilarious if it were not so incriminating. Akin to Michael Scott's fire drill breakdown[1674] scene from the "Stress Relief" episode on The Office, Jimmy sent conflicting instructions to Hunter: "You need to call me now. Just got off the phone with your father. He is meeting with the O!! Some outrageous acquisitions!! We have the two biggest days of our business life in front of us!!!!! …You / me we have to deal with this now!!!!! … You have to let me in to help! I'm with you 100 %. , trust me, you need me in on this!! We/ you have to much to loose [sic], we must be smart, or everything goes up in smoke! Please call me. You MUST remain calm. Timing could not be worse.. Calm and measured!!!! paybacks can come later." As the Report illustrated in Section II, the paybacks for Jimmy and the rest of the Biden clan did come later. In fact, Jimmy—the man who sent the email below—was paid $82,500 per month for "International Business Development" from companies controlled by the CCP-connected oligarch, YE. But who was "the O!!"? The answer to that question eluded us for a time, but news reports from that period deciphered the puzzle: During that weekend in 2017, Joe was with Obama in Canada.[1675] In fact, Joe sat next to "the O" and another scandal-ridden princeling similar to Joe's own son, the so-called "Prince" Harry.[1676]

Please find attached for some thoughts I have on 2018 business opportunities. I have attached both the editable ppt version and the pdf version. Maybe it make more sense to elaborate on each specific point further over the phone. I have also mentioned to you on some of the ideas listed in previous email. Please let me know when would be a convenient time to catch up. I'm sharing everything with you first. Any feedback and constructive criticism from you would be greatly appreciated. Once I receive your feedback, I will make updates/revisions, then share with the group.

On another note: your birthday is coming up. I want to give something special to you (I actually bought as part of your Fengshui office set, but it may draw "too much attention" for office desk display, better to have it at your home office desk. I'm sure you will like what I picked for you and it is very auspicious + took a long time to pick out :)) What is your mailing address? So that I can send the package to you. In an email with a subject line labeled "confidential," BAO laid out how Hunter should loot whatever remaining funds there were from Hudson West III. BAO explained—in her characteristic broken English—that Hunter should do this because YE had disappeared[1679] earlier that month: "Whatever agreement or labels of the money doesn't mean anything, especially because Ye's situation changed, and whatever arrangement was made was at the personal level anyway."[1680] Hunter would do just that, as Section II of the Report laid out in detail. BAO sprinkled in the following phrase at the end: "Don't be a stranger. I still owe you a home cooked Chinese dinner; hold on to your rain check ;p[.]"

Hi Hunter,

I just learned from Mervyn about the dissolution of the LLC...and I was told that my last day in the office should be March 31 this morning...It's a bit of surprise to me as I didn't expect everything will happy so sudden and so quickly. Just hope everything is going well with you. Even though Mervyn didn't tell me the specifics/rationales behind the decision, I understand that there must be a good reason for the decision you, Uncle Jim, Kevin and Mervyn made.

All I wanted to tell you is that if there is anything I can do to be helpful to you, please just let me know. More than happy to help as a friend going forward. It has been a pleasure working for you, though I wish I could know you better and spend more time with you. Wishing you all the best and hope our paths will cross again in the future.

Since you mentioned to me that it's better to contact you first, therefore I'm not going to reach out to Uncle Jim or anyone before catching up with you. I would like to say a proper goodbye to him though. Please forward my greetings to Uncle Jim. It has been a pleasure working for both of you. Please stay in touch :)

Before packing up, please see below for a couple of administrative items I want to following up with you:

1. Your travel expense reimbursement: I haven't receive the expense file you mentioned yet. Please send to me whenever you can. Meanwhile, I'm going to put together an expense report for your record based on whatever invoice I could obtain from the hotel on your last trip to NY. Once it is finished, I will send it for your approval. As of now, I'm waiting for the invoice from hotel, and please let me know if there is any additional expense I should account for you or whom I should reach out to obtain invoice/credit card statement/billing statement besides 6 Columbus Circle and Yale Club.

2. Your doggy chain necklace: I thought I would simply bring it to you whenever I see you during your last trip in NY, but you were too busy and that didn't happen. Please let me know when and where I should bring it to you or how would you like it to be delivered. I think the most convenient way might be to simply pick it up whenever you are in NY next time. For the meanwhile, it is in a safe place awaiting for you.

3. Office items/office administrative tasks: Are there anything in the office that you would like me to pick up/organize for you? Or anything I should do in the office for you before my last day of March 31?

Personally, I have the following thoughts hope to share with you:

1. Ideas / thoughts on business: After you deal with whatever you need to deal with, let's sit down and recap on business. No matter what you do, whom you decide to partner with in the future, or how you decide to work on the business side going forward, I thought it would be helpful information to discuss and catch up on some of the status of the related fields / extended thinking based on past projects/topics we touched on, plus observations from my perspective that I hope to be helpful to you.

2. Keep as much money as you can: I'm a bit hesitated to say this to you, because I don't want you to misunderstood me as a messed up bad girl. However, for your benefit, I can't hold it back to myself. Here is my two cents: Whatever money from Hudson West, please take them, take as much as possible, or figure out a way to spend them for your own benefit. It doesn't matter whether the left-over operational fund for Hudson West is labeled as "personal goodwill / loan" or "non-recourse" "recourse" "borrowing/drawing"...just take it and keep as much as possible. Whatever agreement or labels of the money doesn't mean anything, especially because Ye's situation changed, and whatever arrangement was made was at the personal level anyway. If you do not take that money, the money would ended up become "nobody's money." So it is better to use it for good. "Nobody's money" means they take away whatever you give up to no body knows where in the system it will end up and whomever stranger might simply take the money for granted. Further, think of all the work you have done and time/effort contributed, you are more than entitled to take the money as fair share. In a private equity shop, no matter whether you loss money or earn money, your money is locked down and you have to pay operational fees to fund manager anyway. The same concept apply in this case. Further, for attorney and consultant, no matter whether the deal is done or not, or the lawsuit is winning or losing, you have to be compensated for your time and you have to keep your retainers, etc. Therefore, more than justified to keep as much as whatever left on Hudson West operation fund as your compensation. So take whatever money you can take, as long as the money is available to claim in the U. S., or you guys (You/Mervyn/Kevin) figure out a way to have the money transferred to the right U. S. account before any restriction levied by Chinese regulators or appointed new boss in charge of manage the enterprise Ye left behind. And do not worry about anyone will say anything or reject the idea, as long as whomever help execute / facilitate the process also benefit or get to keep a bit of something (this is based on my understanding of how things worked in China). I don't know the specifics about your arrangement with your friend and them...but i hope you get it that the bottom line I'm trying to express here is to forget about whatever labels/arrangement was said in previous agreement (before the situation in China changed), and just try to keep + take as much money as possible. Do not worry about people know, as long as it is handled right, keep a low key, and all done before any further changes occur again in China, it is safe money to have, no body will care whereabouts of "nobody's money." Please note, I did not say anything to you ;)

As I said, I will always think of you as a great friend and happy to help when you need me, regardless of whether I work for you or not. Don't be a stranger. I still owe you a home cooked Chinese dinner; hold on to your rain check ;p

Best,

JiaQi

The next day, BAO[1681] sent Hunter the $16,578.69 expense report she previously alluded to, which included his quarterly dues, room service, and bar tab at the Yale Club. She added that he shouldn't "worry about our drinks, it's on me, no need to be included in this report." BAO also reminded Hunter to send "Uncle Jim's" four-star hotel expenses—Jimmy would certainly not want BAO to forget that!

Hey Hunter,

6 Columbus + Yale Club Expense:

Please see attached for your expense report. I just got the reports from Six Columbus and Yale Club this afternoon. It took a bit longer to obtain these invoices as I requested a modification of format to make things easier.

Different from the itemized list they usually gave out, I thought it might be easier for the accounting girl to simply include the total charges, without tedious breakdowns like $5 minibar and $20 movie etc, and have your address removed, so I asked them to format their invoice based on day and payment amount. Also asked them to run bills to include whatever they could get for me from Q3 2017 and up to today, so that way might be able to include some of the earlier expenses into this month's report. Please see attached for our expense report (1 for you and 1 for myself from March). Let me know if there is any additional receipts I should include in yours.

Don't worry about our drinks, it's on me, no need to be included in this report.

I included your Yale Club Quarterly Contribution starting from last year up to the latest one, not sure if the accounting department will let this go, but let's try. I was told not supposed to include items from previous month in this current month, unless obtained approval in advance.

Fitzgerald Hotel Expense Follow Up:

Additionally, just make sure you got all your Fitzgerald Hotel stays expensed together with Uncle Jim's Fitzgerald Hotel travel expense. If not, or you are not sure, please let me know. I will follow up for you with the hotel.

If you need the detailed, itemized list, please let me know. I have them, but for the sake of not get confused and not waste your time, I only attached the "good version" here.

03/13/2018ff	Home (Chancery) Court Advantage	DONG Kevin & YAN Mervyn

Hunter had to flex his muscles to get those expenses reimbursed. Just two weeks earlier, YAN[1682] lit a fuse when he told Hunter that DONG[1683] would "not sign off on" the proposed reimbursements. The next day, Hunter threatened to sue DONG in a lengthy and rambling email, and he even gave DONG an ultimatum: "If you refuse to sign the wire Kevin I will seek to have you removed from the board…I will bring suit in the Chancery Court[1684] in Delaware- which as you k ow [sic] is my home state and I am privileged to have worked with and know every judge on the chancery court. … If my expenses as submitted are not wired into the Owasco account today I will file an injunction to freeze allHW accounts at Cathay Pacific and simultaneously seek a determination of control of HW3." He ended the note by saying he could put into motion a chain of events that would "swallow" DONG and YAN's careers "for the next ten years." In a very atypical move for Hunter, he actually included a salutation: "Sincerely, R. Hunter Biden Managing Director Partner and 50% Equity Owner[.]" Less than an hour later, Jimmy—who was always hungry for a buck—sent a hilariously ironic note, considering Jimmy possessed a sixth grade writing level: "Know / miss spelled. I would also insist that the mo[nthly] draw of [$]165,00[0] [sic] be up to date and current!" The Bidens' so-called "draw" was money laundering.

Hunter,

I got 2 emails, not 3, please send me the third expenses report.

At a first glance, there are lot of things were not HW3 business related, like house in Sweden. Kevin will not sign off on these.

Can we have both our back office accountants connected to sort out these tomorrow? We need the invoice receipts as well.

Know / miss spelled. I would also insist that the mo draw of 165,00 be up to date and current! They have done us great harm , monkey island was a deal that your partner had said we were moving forward on. We are completely in the dark. We trust that you will honor your commitment, your legal commitment. I truly hope we can resolve this in an amicable way. Sincerely, Jim

Mervyn and Kevin,

The house of Sweden is my D.C. Office space. It will be reimbursed. As for a Cefc accountant going over my expense report I will personally sue you Kevin and the accountant if you forward my expense report to them.

I am sorry to be so direct but for the final time I am not In Business with CEFC. I have never been a partner with nor an affiliate of CEFC.

I am amazed that my fellow board members do not see the inherent conflict such an arrangement if true would create for the chairman and Mervyn and Kevin and Jaqi personally.

Under US law if the Chairman and equity holder of a corporation partnered with a US LLC (Owasco) through ownership of his wholly owned US llc (Hudson West) was in reality and practice using CEFC employees and money to operate a privately held company there would be an enormous conflict of interest.

The notion that you and Kevin and Jackie are insisting that such an illegal scheme is in fact your understanding of how this company is organized - well then I would say in light of the ongoing investigations you should not be surprised by warrant being issued related to this.

That is why I am stating unequivocally with no room for different opinions or interpretation- I am not in a JV with CEFC. I am not partners with CEFC. I am not employed nor funded by CEFC.

My expenses will not be reviewed by any CEFC employee. The President of CEFC has no right reason nor ability to terminate HW3.

I am the managing director of CEFC. I have complete authority as to who I hire and who I fire. I have only employees that work for me in DC, Reimbursement of expenses is not a matter for the board. The decision lies with the managing director alone.

If you refuse to sign the wire Kevin I will seek to have you removed from the board for unjust obstruction of equity holder rights. I am the only equity holder on the board. I will bring suit in the Chancery Court in Delaware- which as you k ow is my home state and I am privileged to have worked with and know every judge on the chancery court.

Because the chairman is unavailable and his equity according to you has been transferred to the president (in direct violation of the LLC agreement I am certIn the court will issue subpoenas for both the president and the chairman and if they refuse to comply the court will seek to "pierce the corporate veil" of CEFC through any of its remaining holdings in the US.

I could go on but I don't think it necessary.

All expenses submitted will be reviewed for any obvious error in the moment and a accountant hired by HW3 will review when preparing HW3 taxes.

Thank you in advance for your cooperation. If my expenses as submitted are not wired into the Owasco account today I will file an injunction to freeze allHW accounts at Cathay Pacific and simultaneously seek a determination of control of HW3.

My fellow board members- your insistence on control of my capital in my account for my company is counter productive in the extreme. Your insistence on control by an entity that has no legal connection to HW3 by contract or any verbal agreement will be the the single biggest reason you will become even more entangled in issues that will swallow your careers for the next ten years.

Sincerely,
R. Hunter Biden

Seven months later, Hunter messaged the doctor again for a generic Viagra refill. She called it in while fielding compliments from Hunter about being the "actual Wonder Woman from the movie." Hunter received an email reminiscent of a scene[1694] from the best comedy in the 21st century, The Office. Attorney Bill McManus wanted Hunter to go in with him on a Zimbabwean gold mine, along with another (hilarious) opportunity: Bill's "friend" had "the right" to de-silt "160 miles of the Odzi river" in the "Marange diamond fields region" and they wanted to make a killing. What a deal! Because Hunter was smoking crack cocaine and paying pimps in the month of July, he offered three different excuses for why he could not speak to McManus, but eventually they connected. The result of the Zimbabwean proposal was inconclusive—McManus refused to answer Marco Polo's questions.

The long and short of it is a long time friend's uncle has been mining for gold in Zimbabwe for 15 plus years. As you might expect, access to capital was limited with the previous government and it was very difficult to expand. He believes that based on his knowledge of the region and his relationships he could assemble claims (including his) that could yield up to 2 million ounces of gold (of course there will be other minerals in the ore).

This is interesting because the primary purpose is to desilt the river. Thus, apparently this is not technically a diamond mine that requires any type of government ownership. The gentleman has indicated he would like to sell or create a jv as he is struggling with access to capital. He has told me that they recover 100,000 carats a month with roughly 20 percent being gem quality. I have not verified this but because of the location it seemed plausible.

10/25/2018	"Your visit … coincides with the launch of our Obama Scholars Program."	Jill

Jill received a gushing invitation to deliver the commencement address at Occidental College and receive an honorary "Doctor of Humane Letters" degree.[1695] The president of the college, Jonathan Veitch,[1696] told Jill that her address would be "particularly timely" as they planned to launch[1697] the Obama Scholars Program, named after the 44th president who attended the school for two years.[1698]

OXY Occidental College

Jill Biden

Dear Jill,

On behalf of the faculty, students, and trustees of Occidental College, it is my pleasure to invite you to receive an honorary Doctor of Humane Letters degree. We would like to bestow this honorary degree at our Commencement ceremony on Sunday, May 19, 2018 at which we hope you will deliver the Commencement address to our graduating students and their families.

It would be an honor to highlight your remarkable career as a dedicated and resolute advocate for the importance of higher education, as well as your tireless efforts in support of military families. Your dedication to serving others exemplifies the cornerstone values of an Occidental education – excellence, equity, community and service. Your work with these crucial initiatives is admirable and will serve as a tremendous example for our graduating students and the entire Occidental community.

As a grant recipient of the Ahmanson Veteran Scholarship Initiative, Occidental College is committed to making a liberal arts education attainable for veterans. Since 2014 we have had the honor of seeing four veterans cross our Commencement stage. In 2019 we plan to open a housing complex dedicated solely to our veteran students and their families, as we strive to recruit and retain veterans by offering continued support throughout their college experience. Occidental College is one of the most highly selective liberal arts colleges in the United States. We have a long-standing commitment to provide the highest quality educational experience to a gifted and diverse group of students to prepare them for leadership in an increasingly complex, interdependent and pluralistic world. A full 25 percent of our students are on Pell grants (most of whom are first generation college students), while 41 percent of our student population is composed of men and women of color. We are especially proud of the fact that we have managed to support these talented students from disadvantaged backgrounds while maintaining our status as among the most selective liberal arts colleges in the country. Our graduates have gone on to distinguished careers in the arts (Terry Gilliam), journalism (Steve Coll), and politics (Jack Kemp). Of course, our most distinguished student sat in the White House: President Barack Obama.

Your visit will be particularly timely as it coincides with the launch of our Obama Scholars Program. Aimed at providing a comprehensive experience for outstanding students of all backgrounds, the Obama Scholars Program at Occidental College empowers the next generation of leaders in active pursuit of social justice and the public good. The program, which provides access to higher education for first-generation, community college transfers and veterans, gives a unique and multi-faceted liberal arts education to students committed to meaningful change – all while honoring the legacy of former president Barack Obama.

Recent recipients of Occidental honorary degrees include both alums and non-alums: Jeh Johnson (2015 Commencement speaker), Brenda Shockley '68, Andrea Elliot '96, the Rev. Dr. William Barber, Odessa Woolfolk '73, Frank Gehry, David Brooks and Samantha Power. Our 2017 Commencement Speaker was California Attorney General Xavier Becerra.

I would be enormously pleased to have you accept our invitation to join this prestigious group. If your schedule permits, we would like to invite you and your guests to a very special dinner on Saturday, May 18, 2018 (the evening before Commencement). Please contact Kimberly Uribe, Chief of Staff, at (323) 259-2523 or kuribe@oxy.edu, with any questions you may have. I look forward to hearing from you.

Sincerely,

Jonathan Veitch

[1701] "2018 Form 990," Beau Biden Foundation for the Protection of Children, archive.ph/G6v23

Submitted by the Foundation's Executive Director, Patty Lewis,[1702] the Form 990 stated that $104,250 went to "Other direct expenses," which was $24,246 more than what Ron was originally allotted in the initial contract. As you can see below, the laundering entity—Event Fundraising LLC—was incorporated[1703] on 11/05/2018, six days after the Foundation board approved the contract. Said differently, along with not having any experience in the field for which he was hired, Ron did not even have the LLC set up yet. In summary: Even though the Oliveres have struggled financially in the past (they were summoned[1704] in a home foreclosure lawsuit in 2010 but apparently avoided eviction), using a foundation named after your deceased son-in-law to rake in over $100,000 was egregious.

In a rambling, middle-of-the-night iMessage group with the Olivere sisters, Hunter complained to Hallie: "Talking on the phone with you is a torture because you have no interest in anything I find significant and important to me- my desire to finish the projects witrh [sic] Phillipa [HORAN], Doug Brinkley the most influential historian of his generation wants to write a book with me. And best of all you will spend another 3 months not including me or telling me as single thing you and the kids do with your day.s [sic] and nights." (Brinkley is a liberal historian and professor[1705] at Rice University; he is the author of, among other books, The Nixon Tapes.[1706] Brinkley pleaded[1707] with Joe and Hunter to let him help write their semi-fictional memoirs.) Hunter also complained that Hallie was not attentive to his concerns regarding his daughter Maisy's apparent lesbianism/bisexualism.

Hunter's daughter, Finnegan,[1708] broke her leg while skiing; she needed a cut in line and "red carpet" treatment at the hospital because, according to Hunter's former psychiatrist, the Bidens were "a royal family."[1709] In fact, Dr. Rock Positano was going to "part the seas" for them. In truth, the Biden family does share at least one proclivity[171017111712] with monarchs, as shown below during 2020 campaign.

After notifying[1713] Hunter that Joe Boardman—the "loyal" Amtrak chief[1714] who helped Hunter grift[1715] from his board membership on the government-owned entity—had died, Joe informed Hunter that he was pulling all the strings to ensure that Hunter's youngest daughter, Maisy, was going to be admitted to the University of Pennsylvania. In fact, Joe had spoken to the dean of admission on Maisy's behalf and expected the president of the university to call him (for the second time). Unsurprisingly, Maisy is now a student at the school.[1716] The then-president of the Ivy League university, Amy Guttman, received her payoff[1717] for the nepotism with the highly-coveted U.S. ambassadorship to Germany.[1718]

2020 [S]ELECTION

The preceding pages have displayed the breadth and depth of the Biden political operation that has infected America for over five decades. Nevertheless, as egregious as those crimes and insider deals may be (and they are), their relevance is underscored due to the fact that Joe is the sitting pResident of the United States. The blackmail that Marco Polo has uncovered and laid out in detail—through its own proprietary research and its collaboration with other groups—emanated from the family's one overarching strategy: utilize Joe's public office for private gain. The existence of that strategy is not an opinion or merely a "perspective," but a reality based in facts that this Report details extensively. The family's journey to the highest public office in America required extraordinary intervention[1719] by the press[1720] and by [s]election operatives around the country, from Brooklyn[1721] to Bentonville, Arkansas.[1722] A key plank of this journey was laid bare by the pResidential candidate himself: "We [the Biden campaign] have put together I think the most extensive and and inclusive voter fraud organization in the history of American politics."[1723] The climax of the Biden Laptop was the revelation of the behind-the-scenes machinery of that electoral journey. The following sub-section, INFLUENCE PEDDLING, reveals and explains those scenes—down to the last sycophant and Chinese honeypot.

[1719] "As the Wall Street Journal's Mike Bird tweeted, the Chinese yuan plunged precipitously in currency trading against the dollar as early results favored Trump. But when Biden appeared to surpass the president, the yuan recovered much of its value. By Nov. 6, the yuan had reached heights not seen since mid-2018."

When	What	Who

Hunter's classmate at Georgetown, Greg Penner, has been in his life for decades. Penner struck gold when he married into the Walton family. As the Chairman of Walmart Inc. since 2015, Penner directs the largest employer in the United States and the largest corporation—by revenue—on planet Earth. In April 2018, Penner emailed his old pal and asked to speak with him about "some options" he had "been working on for the 2020 election." The election was more than thirty months away, but President Trump's tariffs were expected to hurt the bottom line[1724] of Walmart, which, by that time, had effectively become a Chinese merchant whose interests aligned with the Chinese state. Building off of an event[1725] with Joe and former republican governor John Kasich in 2017, Penner called Hunter in October 2018 and discussed when Joe would have to "pull the trigger"[1726] and decide whether to run on a joint ticket with Kasich. An ardent financial backer of Kasich, Penner was ecstatic about this possibility on the call, the full transcript of which can be read on Marco Polo's website.

Nearly one week after Hunter told Joe that they needed to "revisit meeting with my friend [Penner] from Walmart," Hunter reminded Joe that his poll numbers were positive because voters "desire[d]" a a leader with a strong "moral compass" and "decorum," which, in Hunter's mind, Joe possessed.[1727]

1. You have 82% net favorable and 15% Unfavorable. Next closest Sanders 74/22. None else comes close.

2. you are 50% of caucus goers 1st or 2nd choice and only 8% of caucus goers would "NEVER" vote for you. obviously thats where Iowa is won - when everyone goes into second round of voting its about who you definitely won't vote for as much as it is who you would be just as happy to vote for. You have the highest 1st 2nd choice and essentially 3rd choice and lowest "I would Never vote for him" ratio and the widest margin (Sanders Never is 15% - and even candidates like O'Rourke who has 21% unknown still has a 17% "Never will vote for him." Overall your #s and the underlying sentiment regarding experience vs "new" and the desire for a sr=trong moral compass, decorum etc.., are the highest most favorable numbers of any candidate that I can see in the last 30 years they've asked most of these questions.

Biden embraces his one-time foe: Walmart

Not so long ago, it would have been unimaginable for a Democratic president to ally himself with the retail giant. But that's what this one has done.

An iMessage from Penner to Hunter on 03/13/2019 coincided with an entry[1728] on page 67 of Ashley Biden's diary, providing yet even more direct evidence of its authenticity.[1729] Ashley stated the following just one day before Penner's iMessage: "So… we are running [for pResident]. Announcement will be in April[1730] or early May. It is all super anxiety producing but I just have to take it one day at a time [and] relax." Penner's iMessage on 03/13/2019 proves that Penner already knew that Joe was going to announce his candidacy, suggesting that Penner was in the inner ring of the elite financial backers' circle (although Penner had apparently not met with Joe in person just yet).

On the morning of 03/16/2019, Hunter messaged Joe about Penner's support[1731] and brokered a call between the two: "My friend[,] the Chairman of that family run company out of AR[,] said that he [Penner] would like to talk and determine the best way he and his family [Waltons] can support you through the primary." We are unsure if Hunter was being coy over the phone or if he really was ignorant of the fact that Walmart is not only a public company, but also the largest corporation on the globe with over half a trillion USD in annual revenue.[1732] Although the Walton dynasty lost[1733] nearly $100M from the Theranos scam, the family's investment in their "key ally"[1734] Joe paid off: Walmart's revenues were at a record high[1735] after the first year under Joe's regime, as were Chinese exports.

They had an 11 percent equity stake, through Madrone, in solar-panel maker Solyndra when it filed for Chapter 11 bankruptcy protection in 2011. That company had raised nearly $1 billion in private-equity financing. We have mutual friends and I'm sure you [would] never want a man to do what [yo]u have done [to] me! … Is this all to keep [yo]ur dad safe[?]"

Gallagher repeatedly conveyed—while he was a career federal employee—his desire to "be a part of" Joe's future presidential campaign. Gallagher also conspired with the late Amtrak chief, Joe Boardman, to violate 18 USC § 641 by sharing nonpublic, proprietary information about Amtrak's operations with Hunter and sought Hunter's "guidance" on the material. Gallagher dreamed about Hunter becoming the front-man CEO of Amtrak and posted a photo with Joe a couple weeks before the latter announced his 2020 campaign for the presidency.

Bob has been a union fatcat[1744] and party chief for the Democrats in Philadelphia for decades. Naturally, Brady is now trading in on the connections he made while living on the public dole—such as with Joe and his family—to lobby for behemoth corporations in D.C.

When	What	Who
12/14/2018ff	"You need to help Uncle Joe run for President."	1-202-679-0168

Beginning in December 2018 and running through the following spring, the aforementioned Chinese honeypot—and Hunter's former colleague at the CCP-connected entity, Hudson West III—BAO JiaQi repeatedly urged Joe to run for president in iMessages to Hunter: "Uncle Joe should run for President in 2020. You [Hunter] should not be distracted by that Nee [sic] York Times article from yesterday."

Less than a month before Hunter dropped off his laptop at the repair shop, BAO pleaded with him to stay focused on Joe's future campaign: "You should not be distracted by random media articles. You need to help Uncle Joe run for President. Your father really should run for 2020 for this country. He will be one of the best presidents in our[1751] country's history! … Not only for our country and for [the] American people, his party, [but] also for Beau and for the spirit of your family, he really should run!" An anonymous comment (shown below) from an online article[1752] explained the situation quite well.

BAO rattled on—in her broken English—about how Trump was actually nepotistic, not Joe, who she said was the "most qualified."[1753] The obvious question—which no media outlet has asked—was why BAO felt comfortable sharing this advice with Hunter. Her iMessages and emails with Hunter indicated that they had spoken about Joe's political ambitions in great detail. BAO confessed that she "cherished" her relationship with him and kept Hunter's "doggy chain" necklace. Congressman Eric Swalwell (D-CA-15) and Joe's son could trade stories for hours about their Chinese honeypots.[1754]

Hunter, Ignore Media Nonsense!
Focus on Priority = Support Your Father

1. Whoever you date/hangout is your personal matter, and it is your freedom. Your personal life has nothing to do with your business outside of your household. More importantly, your personal life has nothing to do with your father. Regardless who you are, your personal space and your freedom in personal life deserve to be respected and protected. Don't let bad people abuse every small gossip they can find to distract you. There is an adage that says if someone wants to find fault in you, they will always find a way, no matter what you do. Why care about what they say?

2. Maybe some people feel entitled to criticize their leader/president's marital life, but they should not disturb the private life of president's children and relatives, unless you are Donald Trump who practices nepotism obsessively by granting his family members top security clearance and promoting his children into key posts/government positions.

3. You should be proud of your work as a lawyer and as a business executive. Through my work with you, I could tell you are a righteous person always interested in helping others and helping this country through your involvement in the business world. You were helping American companies and American entrepreneurs to make money in energy, agriculture, real estate, and sectors that our national policy promotes exports and investments globally. You have contributed to "Made in America" for this country's best interest.

You treat your business partners not only fairly, but try to find the best solution with everyone's interest in mind, even sometimes that sacrifices your own interest. No matter how experienced and gifted businessman you are, you will always stumble upon bad deals, dishonest individuals, or bad people who took advantage of you, and run into incompetent partners who cause burdens without your knowledge. These people's conduct has nothing to do with you.

Trump advocate's stupid book with exaggeration and fabrication on your business connection with Chinese or that NYTimes article mentioning a retired Hong Kong official trying to reach you/Uncle Jim when need help have no relevance whatsoever! "Fake friends", "acquaintance of all sorts", and even strangers, may have access to your contact info, so what? In business, you have no control over your counterparties' action, you can't predict the conduct of random businessmen who claim to "know you well" either. Some folks love to "namedrop" and call your number simply because of a casual conversation in public events, your attendance of formal business engagement, or after meeting in conferences. Nevertheless, as with any professionals or business executives, you are obligated to attend such functions/events and meet people from all walks of life from diverse cultures.

Uncle Joe 2020

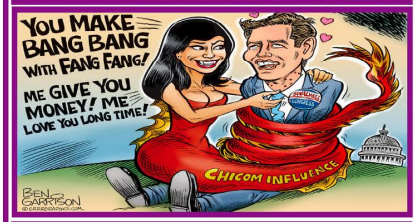
Lead by example
Running for 2020 is not about winning, it is about presenting constructive, alternative (better) solutions that our country needs to hear, and it is about inspiring other leaders / next generation of politicians to do something and have their voice heard as Uncle Joe exemplifies through action.

Bring back sensibility
The positions taken by current Democratic candidates are too radical – full of empty promises and unrealistic proposals to grab attention. People from conservative Asian cultures start to look at our democratic election as a joke or some sort of reality TV drama. We need experienced politicians to bring back some good sense back. Democratic party needs a wise elderly to unify and to lead.

Most qualified
Your father's experience, character, wisdom, reputation, and leadership make him the most qualified person for the job of president. A lot of people we can't stand Trump anymore.

Trump, despite of his age, still acts like a kid and he is so "blind" (arrogant + ignorant). Shut down the government for his border wall is merely one example of his backward thinking and immaturity. Constructing a border wall is worse than throwing money down the drain. Besides this border wall proposal, if you count this wall as an "infrastructure", I don't see how he is helping this country updating our infrastructure.

Yes, illegal immigration, and even loop-holes within legal immigration process, should be addressed, but we need someone who can address these issues smartly and practically. Immigration reform is not a showmanship of photogenic walls, especially in today's digital world, with sophisticated transportation and communication tools, it does not require people to jump over a wall to committee crime, and when conmen could enter this country legally to defraud our community resource, they don't need to jump over a border fence. The Chinese spent more than a hundred years to build and upgrade their Great Wall to keep out "barbarians", but how come China was ruled then colonized by "barbarians" for over 500 years (Mongolians, Manchurians, Europeans, Japanese, etc.) and the wall didn't stop various small to large scale invasions by "barbarians" throughout Chinese history? USSR built Berlin Wall, but what happened to the Berlin Wall and to USSR in less than three decades since the wall construction?



Trump is not focusing on the right issue and not using the right approach. His inefficient and ineffective way of d gs can le this country onto the wrong path.

With age, comes wisdom
Frankly, before I thought age is a big obstacle against Uncle Joe, but not anymore. Hey, if Trump is running a Joe? Winston Churchill was already 77 when he started his second term PM. Further, Mahathir—whom I but thought that he is too old—was sworn into office at the age of 92 (surprise to many people)! Now I und superficial factor (like appearance, skin color, and gender) that doesn't mean anything. What matters the most i country and for your people.

Take Malaysia Prime Minister, Mahathir bin Mohamad as an example, at the age of 92, I have more resp younger president. At his age, he is entitled to choose an easy life, but thinking of what is best for his count make things better for his people, he made the challenging decision of running for office. Like him, Uncle Joe kind selfless leader.

It was great catching up the other day. Thanks a million for the invitation to the Nats' game. Good luck with all that you have going on and, again, please tell Beau that I'm pulling for him to be back in action soon.

Also, I want to clarify my confusion over your and Kathleen's address. The address I believe we erroneously sent the "save-the-date" to was: 4301 43rd Street, NW

Washington, DC 20016. Seeing as you told me you're living near Foxhall, 43rd Street strikes me as your old address.

Do you mind sending your new address, so that we can at least get the wedding invitation sent to the right place?

Thanks. I hope to see you befor the 20 November wedding.

All the best, Danny.

Dear friends,

Most of you know what Fran Person means to me and my family. He is like a brother to me and Beau, and a third son to my dad. Our family is excited to support Fran's run for Congress in South Carolina, and we are all trying to do as much as we can to help him. If we have a chance to take back the House this November, Fran's seat is one we need to win.

We hope that you can join us for a reception in DC next week on Thursday, September 22, 5:00-7:00pm at the Jameson Residence (616 North Carolina Avenue, SE, Washington DC 20003). Democratic Whip Steny Hoyer and Assistant Democratic Leader James Clyburn will also be joining to show their support.

The invitation is attached.

Look forward to seeing you there and thank you in advance for your support of Fran.

VI. LEGAL ACCOUNTABILITY

The mission statement[1769] of the U.S. Department of Justice (DOJ) is to "enforce the law [] and ensure fair and impartial administration of justice for all Americans." As the preceding sections of this Report demonstrated, there are over 450 documented violations of state and federal laws and regulations on the Biden Laptop. A majority of these 450+ violations are felonies, and the penalties for some of the felonies include substantial time (by mandate) in state and/or federal prison. (Ironically, Joe was the driving force behind several of these so-called "mandatory minimum"[1770] requirements.) For three years—and during two presidential administrations—the DOJ has utterly failed at its mission. This sober analysis of the DOJ's work is not an "opinion" or "perspective"; this analysis is verified by the vast paper trail of crimes that the Biden Laptop reveals and the fact that the device has done little more than collect dust on the DOJ's shelf since 12/09/2019 (when FBI agents from the BA field office seized it pursuant to a grand jury subpoena). The DOJ's failure is not the result of faceless bureaucratic inertia—particular people[1771] with particular biases and agendas[1772] are responsible for this grave miscarriage of justice and sad limited hangout.

Matthew "Matt" Glen Olsen
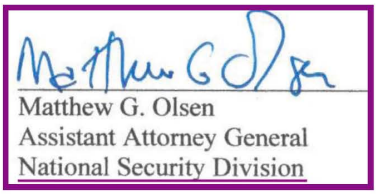
archive.ph/mUnWa



As explained in great detail in Section II (Business-Related Crimes), the Biden family's money laundering/FARA violations in relation to CEFC Energy—disguised, many times, as "consulting fees"—affects not only the Bidens, but the entire nation. Matt Olsen is the DOJ's top official responsible for working with U.S. attorneys to prosecute these crimes. Instead, Olsen is worried about "harmful"[1773] ethnic profiling; Olsen, at AG Merrick Garland's direction, cancelled[1774] the DOJ's China Initiative.[1775]

[1771] "President Joe Biden has, for a second time, selected a nominee with ties to his son Hunter Biden for a top post at the Justice Department, picking a former longtime partner at the law firm where his son worked for years and that was involved in helping the younger Biden in his business dealings with Burisma. Biden announced on Friday that he had nominated Hampton Dellinger, a Yale Law School graduate and former deputy attorney general in North Carolina, to be assistant attorney general for DOJ's Office of Legal Policy. Dellinger's LinkedIn indicates he founded Hampton Dellinger PLLC in November after working as a partner at Boies, Schiller, and Flexner from May 2013 through last year. Hunter Biden was a counsel at the same firm, starting there in 2010 and reportedly leaving in 2017. In 2014, the president's son landed the Ukrainian energy giant as a client for the firm and took a lucrative position on its board."

[1773] "But by grouping cases under the China Initiative rubric, we helped give rise to a harmful perception that the department applies a lower standard to investigate and prosecute criminal conduct related to that country or that we in some way view people with racial, ethnic or familial ties to China differently."

In addition to FBI personnel Laura Dehmlow and Elvis Chan, among several others (who were referenced in Section I) colluding[1776] with the social media oligopoly to throw cold water on the Bidens' crimes (which were on the Laptop), Jennifer Kennedy Gellie—Olsen's subordinate at the DOJ—has refused to take action on the dozens of FARA violations committed by the family.[1777] As FARA's "Unit Chief," Jennifer is responsible for making recommendations to Olsen for prosecutions. Again, as explained in Section I, the Department is nothing more than the makeup and motives of its personnel. The biases of particular feds—such as Bryan Vorndran, who had the gall to tell U.S. congressmen which questions he was going to address—are impeding[1778] the equal application of U.S. federal law. Few issues are more important to the legitimacy of the U.S. government.

TWO-TIER SYSTEM

Take but one concrete example: Hunter was arrested for cocaine possession following his graduation from high school. Exactly three years later, his dad delivered an impassioned speech on the floor of the U.S. Senate: "If you have a piece of crack cocaine no bigger than this quarter that I am holding in my hand, one-quarter of $1, we passed a law, through the leadership of Senator Thurmond, myself, and others, a law that says if you are caught with that you go to jail for 5 years. You get no probation. You get nothing other than 5 years in jail. The judge does not have a choice."[1779] Joe praised the central role[1780] he played in creating laws that—if applied equally—would put his son behind bars for years: "We changed the law so that if you are arrested and you are a drug dealer, under our forfeiture statutes, the Government can take everything you own, everything from your car to your house to your bank account. Not merely what they confiscate in terms of the dollars from the transaction that you have just got caught engaging in, they can take everything. We have laws in the last several years where we do not allow judges discretion to sentence people. Flat-time sentencing. You get caught, you go to jail." The screenshot below—from a video[1781] that is freely available to anyone with an Internet connection—reveals a double standard[1782] and absence of "equal justice under law."[1783]

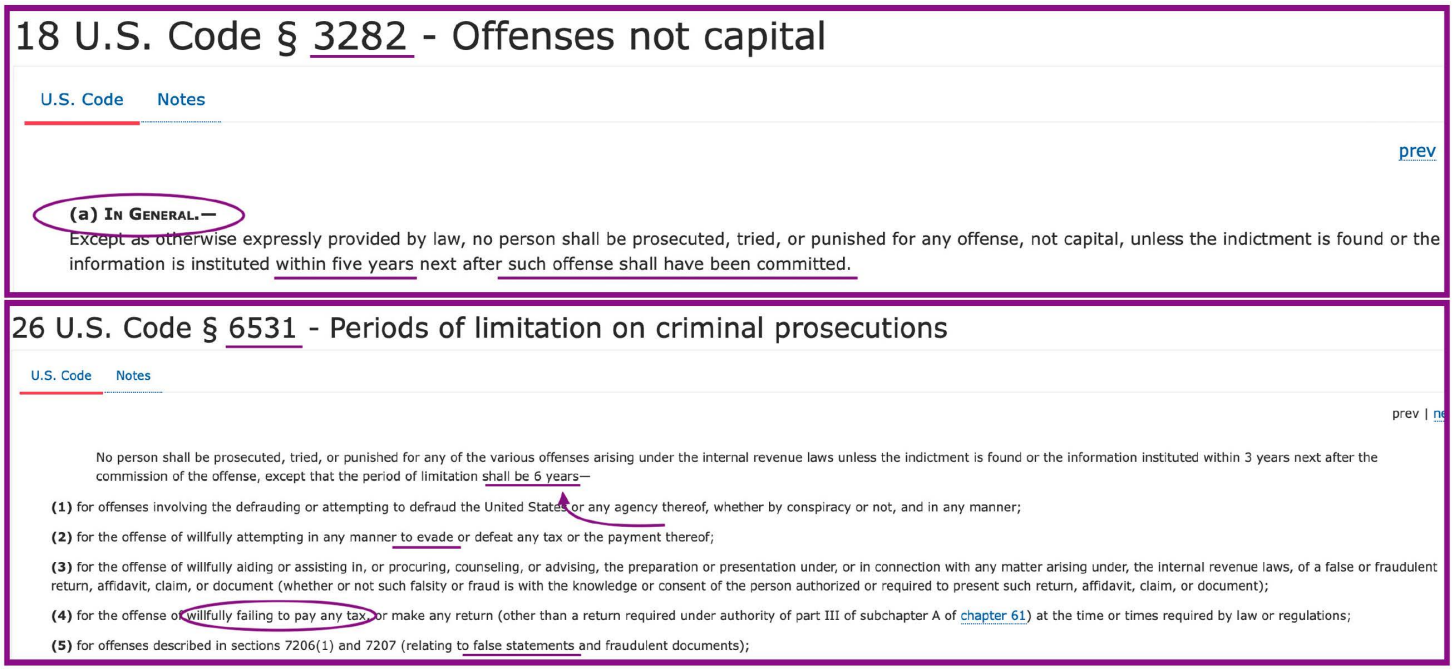
STATUTE OF LIMITATIONS

If fortune provides new personnel who are committed to dismantling our two-tier system of justice, those new personnel will need to be reminded that the statute of limitations[1784] have not expired for dozens of felonies that the Biden family[1785] has committed. The drug, interstate sex trafficking, and FARA violations[1786] (as with most non-capital federal crimes) expire after five years. However, as explained in Section II, Joe—the sitting pResident—is implicated in tax evasion schemes, which carry a six-year window from the date of the last offense. Hunter left the board of Burisma in April 2019, just as Joe announced his bid for the pResidency. As an example: If prosecutors follow the evidence in this Report, which definitively proves that Hunter (and his band of fixers) was an unregistered[1787] agent for a foreign principal (Burisma), an indictment can be issued anytime before 04/2024.[1788]



18 U.S. Code § 3282 - Offenses not capital

prev

(a) In General.—

Except as otherwise expressly provided by law, no person shall be prosecuted, tried, or punished for any offense, not capital, unless the indictment is found or the information is instituted within five years next after such offense shall have been committed.

26 U.S. Code § 6531 - Periods of limitation on criminal prosecutions

No person shall be prosecuted, tried, or punished for any of the various offenses arising under the internal revenue laws unless the indictment is found or the information instituted within 3 years next after the commission of the offense, except that the period of limitation shall be 6 years—

(1) for offenses involving the defrauding or attempting to defraud the United States or any agency thereof, whether by conspiracy or not, and in any manner;

(2) for the offense of willfully attempting in any manner to evade or defeat any tax or the payment thereof;

(3) for the offense of willfully aiding or assisting in, or procuring, counseling, or advising, the preparation or presentation under, or in connection with any matter arising under, the internal revenue laws, of a false or fraudulent return, affidavit, claim, or document (whether or not such falsity or fraud is with the knowledge or consent of the person authorized or required to present such return, affidavit, claim, or document);

(4) for the offense of willfully failing to pay any tax, or make any return (other than a return required under authority of part III of subchapter A of chapter 61) at the time or times required by law or regulations;

(5) for offenses described in sections 7206(1) and 7207 (relating to false statements and fraudulent documents);

CIVIL PENALTIES

Criminal penalties must be handed down in tandem with civil fines. Financial industry[1789] and other whistleblowers—such as Brent Sheehan,[1790] who worked at Morgan Stanley—should put more pressure[1791] on regulators,[1792] such as the SEC.[1793] Sheehan evidently submitted a detailed complaint about Hunter's many financial crimes to the IRS (CAF # 0100-73482R) on 12/10/2019.[1794]

NON-FEDERAL JURISDICTIONS

The DOJ's failure to faithfully enforce the law is a travesty, to be sure, but its failure should be no excuse for other layers of law enforcement within the nation to sit on their hands. The Catholic social teaching of subsidiarity—which Hunter heard about at Georgetown University—ought to be applied.

STATE

Attorneys General, especially in the Republican Party, enjoy sending[1795] letters and writing op-eds.[1796] What justice requires, however, is more than just words. Justice requires vigorously enforcing the law. The opportunities to do so are numerous: start by examining the people affiliated with the Bidens' multimillion dollar partnership with CEFC Energy proxies, who have given[1797] thousands to Confucius Institutes, several of which are located in states whose representatives penned articulate letters to Joe's appointees. To date, evidence has surfaced of only one official attempting to work with state police—i.e. doing his job without fear or favor—and that is Mark Lubischer, based in New Jersey.

MUNICIPAL & COUNTY

Applying the principle of subsidiarity to its logical conclusion, law enforcement at the municipal and county level may be the only[1798] officials willing[1799] to simply enforce the rules—no matter who it implicates. For example, a recent[1800] indictment at the county level in Los Angeles for siphoning off PII to CCP-linked entities is a reminder of how much power local authorities possess. Even if prosecuting the pResident's[1801] son[1802] in their jurisdiction is not feasible due to evidentiary or witness issues, Sheriffs should explore the criminal networks[1803] that Hunter traversed, which were revealed in this Report. Doing so will provide insights to the Sheriff and (likely) valuable leads.

VII. CONCLUSION

The Biden Laptop suppression operation by the corporate press, social media oligopoly, and officials associated with the intelligence community was only possible because of the now-verified[1804] hoax that Russians hacked the DNC in 2016. The political dividends that the lie paid out were quite considerable: numerous congressional and DOJ investigations commenced. Ergo, when evidence surfaced proving that the pResident,[1805] his son, and their associates committed numerous[1806] federal felonies, the same people who received dividends went back to that trough of lies so that they could throw cold water on the laptop's evidence and dispute its provenance. To this day, Hunter repeats the fairy tale that "Russian intelligence" was behind the material from the laptop which he forgot to pick up at Mac Isaac's shop. In the midst of (and after) this suppression operation, multiple U.S. officials (some of whom unknowingly[1807] enabled Hunter's FARA violations with Burisma) have submitted toothless resolutions[1808] and letters.[1809] Marco Polo sought to bring clarity to this thick fog of lies.[1810]

[1807] Senator Ron Johnson (R-WI), who released an excellent report in September 2020 which exposed the international Biden crime syndicate, inexplicably signed a letter on 02/12/2016 which "urge[d President POROSHENKO] to press ahead with urgent reforms to the Prosecutor General's office," an office which SHOKIN led. Johnson has not given a clear answer as to why he signed this letter when U.S. government documents clearly demonstrate that Joe reversed the U.S. government's position about SHOKIN following a New York Times story from 12/07/2015 about Burisma and SHOKIN.

Conversely, the first people to be made aware of the Biden Laptop made numerous mistakes. Rudy Giuliani, who is[1811] technically deficient, did not convene forensic experts to verify the authenticity of the material, especially the emails which Giuliani handed to the New York Post. Additionally, GUO Wengui "Miles"[1812] was given a copy—chaos ensued.[1813] GUO's site, GNews, under the banner of battling the CCP, perpetrated numerous hoaxes[1814] about the content on the Biden Laptop. For example, GNews stated that Hunter had sex with Malia Obama and that he used her credit card[1815] to ingest cocaine.[1816] GUO's lieutenant, WANG Dinggang, was largely responsible for the proliferation of these lies, which gave the press an excuse to cast doubt on any material said to be from the laptop.

Regardless, the numerous (and somewhat pathetic)[1817] mistakes by the first people to bring attention to the laptop's crimes were no excuse for the sheer incuriosity displayed by the mainstream media. Indeed, spin doctors in the press simply repeated the lie that the laptop was "unverified," when, in fact, their biases and laziness were the key reasons that it remained "unverified." These biases also prevented them from reporting on Joe's hypocrisy[1818] during the presidential campaign—when it really mattered—about so-called "dark money," for which Joe set a record.[1819] Furthermore, even after numerous misdeeds[1820] by the FBI during the Biden Laptop investigation came to light, many in the press have put forth only "modified limited hangouts"[1821] about the laptop.[1822] Even John F. Kennedy, who many consider to be a media darling, received more criticism[1823] about his sins than Joe. This Report lays out how Joe is the patriarch of a family filled with drunks, drug abusers, and sex addicts. Coupled with the Biden family's well-documented penchant for shoveling in cash from overseas, those abuses have created national security and foreign espionage threats for the U.S.

Biden's winning campaign was backed by $145 million in so-called dark money donations, a type of fundraising Democrats have decried for years. Those fundraising streams augmented Biden's $1.5 billion haul, in itself a record for a challenger to an incumbent president. That amount of dark money dwarfs the $28.4 million spent on behalf of his rival, former President Donald Trump. And it tops the previous record of $113 million in anonymous donations backing Republican presidential nominee Mitt Romney in 2012."

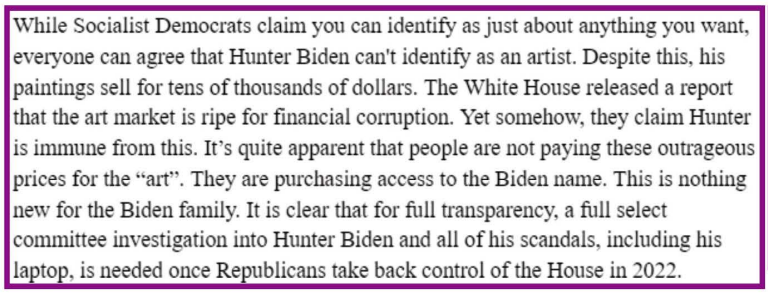
WHAT MUST HAPPEN NEXT

Marco Polo endeavored to chronicle the crimes on the Biden Laptop in a copacetic manner. This endeavor was not undertaken merely for historical purposes, although that is a worthwhile reason in its own right.[1824] This report was written, in large part, because the crimes on the Biden Laptop are affecting America right now.[1825] Firing off more questions to feds at congressional hearings—where they hide behind the excuse of "not commenting on ongoing investigations"—will get us nowhere. In fact, astute observers have posited that the feds want the investigation into the Bidens to be "open" perpetually[1826] so that they can hide behind the shield of "not commenting." While our research group is not in the business of formally endorsing legislation,[1827] efforts to "rename" the FARA to something that "elicits less stigma"[1828] is a proposal so ridiculous that only an organization as biased as the American Bar Association could champion it as a plausible remedy for our foreign influence problems. To the contrary, multiple legislators have recognized the need to strengthen[1829] enforcement of the FARA.[1830] Marco Polo's role is to tell the full, nuanced truth—no matter who it implicates—and that is why this Report is being sent to the U.S. Marshals Service, several U.S. Attorney offices, and select field offices of the FBI, along with dozens of state, county, and municipal law enforcement entities.



While Socialist Democrats claim you can identify as just about anything you want, everyone can agree that Hunter Biden can't identify as an artist. Despite this, his paintings sell for tens of thousands of dollars. The White House released a report that the art market is ripe for financial corruption. Yet somehow, they claim Hunter is immune from this. It's quite apparent that people are not paying these outrageous prices for the "art". They are purchasing access to the Biden name. This is nothing new for the Biden family. It is clear that for full transparency, a full select committee investigation into Hunter Biden and all of his scandals, including his laptop, is needed once Republicans take back control of the House in 2022.

And those links are real and proven unlike Trump and Russia."

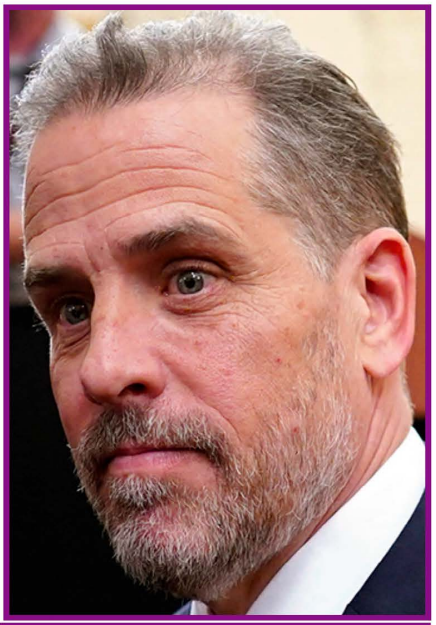
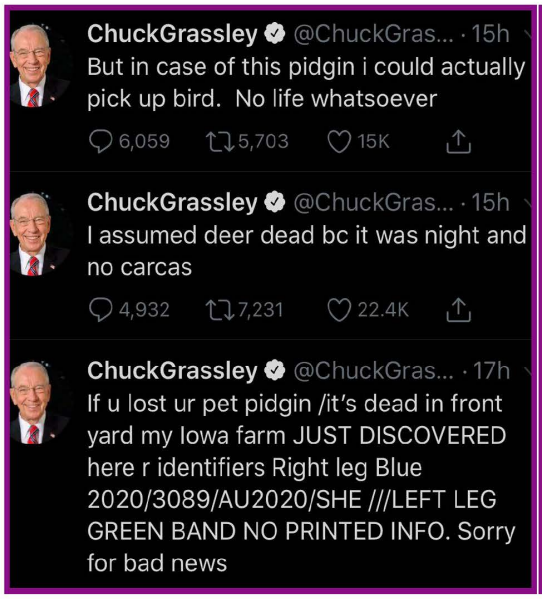
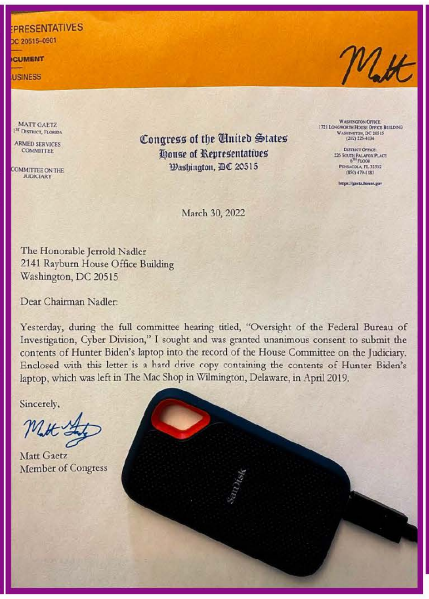
We have no illusions about the challenge of finding federal officials who are not compromised or distracted. Even U.S. senators who have, in the past, been committed to holding the Bidens accountable get distracted[1831] with trivial matters at a time when the stakes could not be higher.[1832] The good news is that this Report is a simple roadmap of steps that any level of law enforcement can take: who to subpoena, for which time period, and where. As one example: Hunter's sinophilic art dealer not only managed to scrape his court records for "making terrorist threats,"[1833] but he also—and more importantly—has documented connections to Chinese art buyers. Hunter's dealer even brags about those connections. Issuing just a handful of subpoenas could reveal who is purchasing influence over American policy with Hunter's "art." The sobering truth is that the Biden corruption[1834] scheme has—over decades—developed into a well-choreographed dance.[1835] Prosecutors now have no excuse to sit on their hands; this Report explained the self-dealing tango in detail.







Congress of the United States
House of Representatives
Washington, DC 20515

March 30, 2022

The Honorable Jerrold Nadler
2141 Rayburn House Office Building
Washington, DC 20515

Dear Chairman Nadler:

Yesterday, during the full committee hearing titled, "Oversight of the Federal Bureau of Investigation, Cyber Division," I sought and was granted unanimous consent to submit the contents of Hunter Biden's laptop into the record of the House Committee on the Judiciary. Enclosed with this letter is a hard drive copy containing the contents of Hunter Biden's laptop, which was left in The Mac Shop in Wilmington, Delaware, in April 2019.

Sincerely,

Matt Gaetz
Member of Congress

ENDNOTES

As stated on our website masthead, the mission of Marco Polo is to expose corruption[1836] and blackmail to drive an American renaissance.[1837] Accordingly, the Biden Laptop was ripe for a thorough exposition. In fact, publishing material from the Biden Laptop lessens[1838] any potential blackmailer's power, as the threat of disclosure is no longer in their arsenal. Although the laptop[1839] contains compromising material on dozens of figures in Hunter's life, the DEGENERACY subsection in this ENDNOTES section includes only those images which feature Hunter or were sent to him, as those were arguably the only images relevant to U.S. national security (from a potential blackmailer's perspective). For all of the alligator tears[1840] and faux concerns about the supposed kompromat held by Vladimir PUTIN over Donald Trump, it is richly ironic that the Bidens' sexual sins, drug abuse, and business-related[184118421843] crimes[1844] (not to mention evidence about Joe's obvious[1845] cognitive decline) are likely in the hands of every sophisticated[1846] foreign intelligence agency on the globe.[1847]

CHAIN OF CUSTODY

The schematic below is the chain of custody[1848] for the Biden Laptop as it pertains to this Report. Many observers[1849] do not realize—or purposely ignore—that Bob Costello is the former deputy chief of the criminal division at the S.D.N.Y., one of the jurisdictions in which Hunter should be charged.[1850] Said differently: not everyone involved in this saga is as ridiculous as GUO dancing on his yacht.

"THE TRUTH"

1) 12/05/2020

"Hello. My name is John Paul Mac Isaac. I would like to take this opportunity to explain my story and to disprove any of the rumors[1851] and speculations regarding my actions and my character. Where to begin? … my grandfather, John Alexander Mac Isaac, a Scottish Canadian who, after WWII, flew and fought for the United States Air Force against the Soviets in the early parts of the Cold War.

In time, my father, Steve Mac Isaac, would follow in my grandfather's footsteps, graduate from the Air Force Academy, and become a military pilot. He deployed to Vietnam to fly AC119 gun ships and continue my family's fight in the Cold War. That fight would consume over half of his decorated thirty year career defending freedom for America and its allies.[1852]

For two generations, the Mac Isaac family has fought during the entirety of the Cold War against Communism and the Soviets. That's why it's completely absurd[1853] that anyone would ever consider me to be a Russian agent or influenced by Russia. I'm proud of my family, I'm proud of my country, and I'm proud to be an American.

If I could see well, I would have followed in my family's profession and joined the Air Force. But instead, I spend my free time going to veterans' reunions, archiving and preserving true American heroes and their stories—men who fought in the warmer parts of the Cold War against the very people I am accused of actually being.

Another term that I have been labeled which, unfortunately, is a death sentence in my industry is hacker. For the record: I am not nor have I ever been a hacker. Those guys make so much more money than I do.

I was hired, and never paid, to perform a data transfer from a MacBook Pro to an external hard drive.[1854] The signed paperwork clearly states the process and sets the expectations. There's no magic or Hollywood; the process is no different than dragging and dropping from a USB drive. The only difference is that I had to perform some surgery on the Mac to get it to boot to the point where I could recover the data. To imply that I am a hacker and that that information was hacked has had an irreversible impact on my business[1855] and my character."[1856]

[1851] "Mac Isaac claimed that he was emailing someone from the FBI about the laptop. At another point he claimed a special agent from the Baltimore office had contacted him after he alerted the FBI to the device's existence. At another point, he said the FBI reached out to him for 'help accessing his drive.'"

"My name is John Paul Mac Isaac and I am legally blind. I'm an ocular albino. My vision is in direct relationship to my albinism. I have an operational vision of about six to eight feet. I can see good enough to move around in a couple feet, but after that it's mostly blurry shapes. Through the use of visual aids and larger screens, I've been professionally repairing Macintosh computers for over a quarter of a century.

(Female Reporter): I think the issue for us is the longer we don't understand these key points, the longer we're just going to keep showing up here and this is going to continue. And all we want to know is just the order of things that had happened so that we can get it right. And until then, you're going to continue to face these questions...you aren't going to portray what your true motivations are…I'm just warning… I understand that's what your stance is now... you don't want to give misinformation… I will try to write this as straight as possible. This happened, this happened, this happened.
(Male Reporter): All of us.
(Female Reporter): All of us, yeah.
(Male Reporter): I appreciate that.

On October 14, 2020, reporters ambushed me in my Wilmington repair shop, demanding that I confirm that it was really the client that had dropped off the laptop for service. I was concerned that if I had told them I was 100% sure that the client was who he said he was, that they would ultimately see my cane or use my visual impairment to discredit me. As it would stand and, ultimately, these same reporters—without citing my visual impairment—would go on to actually question my ability to identify the client.

(Male Reporter): Thank you for sharing your medical condition—you not being able to see potentially whoever walked in here.

The client came into my shop on April 12, 2019. I'd never seen the client before nor had I paid enough attention to the client to recognize him. But, when checking him in, he provided a first name, a last name, an email address, and a phone number. The client did seem surprised that I didn't recognize him during the check-in process. But I made a further connection when I noticed that one of the three MacBook Pros had a sticker that represented the client's deceased brother's foundation. But after checking in the machine and performing the data recovery, I am 100% sure that the person in those videos, photos, and other data that I was hired to recover is the same person that came into my shop and dropped off that machine. The copy of the driver's license signature, the other documents, and bank statement signatures all match the signature on the check-in document.[1857] With the realization of who he was and what I had seen on that laptop, concern for my safety grew. I can't imagine a family that would be comfortable with that kind of information being in the hands of someone they didn't know—especially if that family is running for President of the United States."

"My name is John Paul Mac Isaac. Initially, I was reluctant to tell the media about my family's involvement with reaching out to the FBI. My efforts to protect my family from the press ultimately were used by the press to discredit me and discredit my account of my interactions with the FBI. This is my opportunity to clear things up.

(Male Reporter): See that's what we were talking about earlier. You did something; you made some action that tipped the FBI off… Or maybe you didn't. Maybe Hunter Biden told the FBI, which I doubt.
(Female Reporter): I'm also confused because you told me that you did reach out to the FBI and that they didn't really do much with it. So was it that they came to you or you went to them?

By the end of the summer, and feeling pressured by the events of the news, I turned to one of the smartest and most trusted people I know: my father. During a return trip from a gun ship reunion[1858] in Salt Lake City, I had ample time to explain to my father what I had seen and voice my concerns.

We decided that the best course of action was to contact the FBI and persuade them to collect the abandoned equipment to provide some level of security should someone come looking for it. We decided, out of an abundance of caution, that my father would reach out to the FBI through their Albuquerque, New Mexico field office, and, hopefully, get a feeling of how receptive they would be to helping us.[1859]

So on October 9, 2019, my father walked into the FBI office in Albuquerque, New Mexico, and spoke to an agent—this is what my father, a retired colonel of thirty years in the United States Air Force, described to me [as] the most humiliating experience of his entire life. My father spoke to an agent that refused to give his name. Then, that agent, after hearing my father's concerns, promptly made a copy of the paperwork, told my father to lawyer up, and get out of his office. Defeated, my father and I spent the next three weeks wondering what we were going to do.

And then, on November 1, my father received a phone call. On November 1, 2019, Agent Joshua [Wilson] from the FBI reached out to my father, requesting to contact me. My father collected his contact information and passed it on to me. A quick Google search revealed that Agent Joshua [Wilson] had been making a name for himself busting child predators. I instantly trusted and respected Agent Joshua [Wilson] and instructed my father to pass along my contact information.

Soon, Agent Joshua [Wilson] called and requested a time to meet and talk about my concerns. I agreed and on November 21, 2019, Agent Joshua [Wilson] arrived at my home with an additional agent, Agent Mike [Dzielak]. When seated in my living room, Agent Joshua [Wilson] asked if I had seen any child pornography on the client's laptop. I responded that I had seen a lot of questionable material but I wasn't paying that close of attention to see if there were children involved, but it was a concern based on the personal and private nature of the material.

When asked what I was concerned about, I told them it was the personal material as well as financial and political information that could be criminal or illegal and it should be in the hands of the authorities. I was also concerned about individuals, both foreign and domestic, that might seek to do me harm based on what I knew and what I was in possession of—and I just wanted it out of my shop.[1860] They told me that they'd have to contact their legal team to see if this was something that they could take possession of, but they could not make any promises. Agent Mike [Dzielak] texted me and requested a timeline of the events leading up to me reaching out to the FBI.[1861] I responded and awaited further instructions.

About a week later, agents advised me that they wanted to come into the shop to make a forensic copy of the laptop but, unfortunately, they would be unable to take possession or custody of the laptop at that time. A little disappointed, and a little reluctant, I agreed to meet them at the shop on December 9, 2019.

I first received a phone call in the morning around 9:50 from Agent Mike [Dzielak] requesting that I text him the serial number of the hard drive that the client had abandoned. Both agents arrived at the shop at around 11 a.m. Agent Joshua [Wilson] immediately handed me a subpoena commanding me to appear before a Grand Jury. A note in the middle of the first page stated, "In lieu of personal appearance, please see Attachment A." Attachment A included two items: the MacBook Pro with the serial number and the external hard drive with the serial number that was requested an hour earlier.

I was ecstatic. I was getting everything that I wanted. I was getting protection from the FBI. I felt safe. I finally was getting this abandoned laptop and its questionable data out of my shop.[1862] And, if there was evidence there, that it was finally in the hands of proper authorities.

For the first time in months, I was at ease—and I thought that this whole ordeal might finally be over."

“My name is John Paul Mac Isaac, and this is the story of what happened after I gave the laptop to the FBI.

(Male Reporter): Well, it sounds like you just said you sought out help from several people and, so, was there an intermediary?
(Female Reporter): … stakes are incredibly high and hedging on this question... it could impact the safety of a lot more people than just the people you care about.

It wasn’t long after my December ninth interaction with the FBI that events transpired that would cause my previous concerns for my safety to return. Agent Mike [Dzielak] instructed me that, moving forward, we should only communicate through text message. No email. He also said that, if somebody came into the shop looking for the laptop, that I was to contact them immediately and stall them for twenty-four hours and agents would return the equipment.

When leaving the shop that day, Agent Mike [Dzielak] turned to me and said, “In our experience, nothing ever happens to those that don’t talk about these things.” And, at that time, I was just so happy that the laptop was leaving my shop, I didn’t hardly notice the odd instructions or the thinly-veiled threat.[1863]

Shortly after agents collected the laptop, I received a call from Agent Mike [Dzielak] requesting assistance in accessing the drive. I assisted them by providing phone support until they were able to access the drive and its data. I thought that it was odd that they required my help and I was starting to get uncomfortable, but I figured that I had no choice but to cooperate with the FBI.

About two weeks later, I got a call at the shop from Agent Mike [Dzielak] seeing if anybody had been in about the laptop. I said no and that was the last I heard from the FBI. By that time, I started to reflect on my interactions and I was getting the feeling that the FBI’s agenda no longer included my safety. Why was this laptop not in a lab being professionally inspected? Why was it not admitted as evidence during the impeachment? I was getting the feeling that the FBI was holding onto it until the owner returned for it and that they cared more about protecting it than they were in protecting me. And, ultimately, I was—when it came to my safety—worse off than I was before. Towards the end of the summer of 2019, before my father reached out to the FBI, I did probably the smartest thing I’ve ever done in my entire life—and that was to make a copy of the drive. I knew I had to get my story told and I knew I had to find a voice to tell it.

At this time, I was trying to have a business and I was trying to have a life. I knew that I needed to study the material on the drive and, seeing how there’s no expectation of privacy when it comes to things you have abandoned, I chose a couple emails and files that I thought were topical and that would raise concern. Once again, I enlisted my father—and later my uncle—and armed them with the tools needed to go out and share my story.

[1863] The Lincoln Project, ostensibly a nonprofit which has been plagued by a sexual predation scandal (archive.ph/MvH3x), scooped up the website domain for Mac Isaac’s shop after he was forced to close his business due to threats and other harassment: demacshop.com redirected to lincolnproject.us for over 18 months.

(Mac Isaac's Father): I am Col. Steve Mac Isaac, United States Air Force Ret. I was basically out of the story until a few days after the FBI had taken legal custody of the laptop. He did call me a few days later and said he thought it was strange that the FBI was calling him and asking him for technical support on the Mac laptop. And I said, "Yes, that's very strange" because the FBI has one of the best forensic labs in the world—it's outside Washington D.C. and I had assumed, wrongly, that the day that they took custody of the laptop it would be on an airplane and down there for proper disposition. So, once again, I thought that the FBI had turned their back on us and they were trying to solve it in-house or just find out what was on the computer locally.

So then I decided the next best thing to do would be to go to Congress. There were two particular people I admired: one in the Senate and a young lad that was over on the Judicial [sic] Committee in the House of Representatives. I attempted to get through to both of those offices. I got the same thing: "If you're not willing to talk to me, then you can talk to one of our lawyers." I said, "You don't understand. I'm not supposed to talk to you. I can only talk to a lawyer. Sorry, have a great day." About this time, I upped the ante with my brother-in-law, Col. Ron Scott, and said, "OK. We've got to do something. We're running out of time."

(Mac Isaac's Uncle): My name is Col. Ronald J. Scott, Jr., United States Air Force, retired after 34 years of service (to include my time at the Air Force Academy). J.P. Mac Isaac is my nephew. J.P.'s father, Col. Steve Mac Isaac, reached out to me towards the end of 2019 to fill me in on the laptop and hard drive and their efforts to get the drive into the proper hands once they discovered its contents.

On May 8, 2020, I posted a message on the White House contact page indicating that I had access to potential national security and criminal information and requested a referral to the Justice Department. No response.

On May 13, 2020, I reached out to an investigative journalist[1864] in response to an article he published regarding Blue Star Strategies. No response.

On May 18, 2020, I sent documentation via email and through the postal system. This consisted of a one page summary of three documents on the hard drive and a copy of the redacted FBI subpoena. No response.

On May 29, 2020, I sent a similar one page summary and redacted subpoena via facsimile to a Senator's office. No response.

I think it's a combination of a country that's so paranoid to be fed misinformation combined with other major world issues at the time that caused my cries for help to fall on deaf ears. I was running out of time and I was running out of options and I had one last hope."

"I still can't believe everything that has happened. I wouldn't have to be here telling my story if people had done their job and followed the law. I would still have a business. I would still have a place in my community. I would still have my friends. I would still be in my home—safe!—sleeping in my own bed.

But I no longer have any of these things because people refused to do their job. After the FBI abandoned me, and at great cost, I tried to get the truth to the highest levels of our government. I would discover that that cost—there's no end to it.

I never wanted to cause any additional pain to the client. From what I had seen, he had been suffering for quite some time and I wasn't going to add to that. My goal was to get the criminal material to law enforcement and to the Department of Justice. And never to the press or to profit off of selling the story to a tabloid.[1865]

I felt bad for him because I fully understand what it's like to have a powerful father impose his will upon his son. But my father's will included a sense of honor and respect, dignity, and pride—not only for myself but for my family and my country. When I was young, I admired my father for his courage and his bravery. And, recently, his two lessons have proved invaluable to getting me through my ordeal and I wish every son had a father like mine.

I was twenty-five years old on September 11, 2001, and, after the attacks on our Nation, I remember reading and hearing, "If you see something, you say something." And I never forgot those words and why they exist. They're a tool for protecting the nation and its citizens. And it's the responsibility of the citizen to sound the alarm when there's danger. And I saw danger. I remember thinking to myself: if I get exposed, there's the potential that I could lose everything and I thought that I would actually be O.K. with losing everything as long as the truth got out and I was safe and the people I cared about were safe.

So, here I am. My business is closed. I'm forced from my home and I'm waiting for the next chapter in my life to unfold. But I know that, if it were to happen again, and I was put in a similar situation, I would sacrifice it all and again sound the alarm."

Hunter met Kathleen Buhle at a Jesuit volunteer program in Portland after he graduated from Georgetown University. Hunter impregnated Kathleen after a couple of months of dating, and they put together a shotgun wedding in her hometown of Chicago. Their marriage ended with a disastrous[1877] and tabloid-ridden[1878] divorce settlement, which (unsurprisingly) resulted in a handsome payout[1879] agreement for Kathleen, which, as the Biden Laptop revealed, exacerbated Hunter's many vices.[1880]

HUNTER'S FIRST DAUGHTER

Peter Neal was an intern in the White House during Joe's vice-presidency and a staffer on Hillary Clinton's failed 2016 presidential campaign. Neal has already benefited from his relationship with Joe's granddaughter, Naomi: In 2021, Neal interned at the U.S. DOJ—in the Counterintelligence and Export Control Section of the National Security Division, no less. Naomi and her younger fiancé, who attended Burke Mountain Academy in VT, are getting married at the White House on 11/19/2022.[1889]

[1894] "In 2018, my wife and I bought a charming fixer-upper in Seattle's Magnolia neighborhood. The scope we originally discussed—to update 'a bathroom or two'—quickly grew as my passion for residential construction took root. I tackled most of the projects myself, but in some cases, I assumed the role of general contractor, carefully guiding and managing the subs I'd selected to complete specialized work like plumbing and laying tile. Each new project brought me back to my young adult years when I learned the construction trades, working long hours with my father and uncle (both engineers), fueled by PB&Js and water. However, far more valuable than nostalgia, working on our house provided a sense of excitement and fulfillment that was noticeably absent from my corporate day job. Amidst the cacophony of power tools, project plans, and unforeseen curve balls, I'd found my calling. That's ultimately why I decided to start my own full-service, residential design build firm. My mission is simple: provide homeowners what they deserve—bespoke designs, unsurpassed craftsmanship … License #: CASTEDB806LJ[.]"

Jamie Biden: A D.J. Related to a V.P.

By ALYSON KRUEGER JULY 16, 2016

HOMETOWN Washington, D.C.

NOW LIVES In an artsy loft near the South Street Seaport that he shares with his fiancée, the model Amy Bracco.

CLAIM TO FAME He is the nephew of Vice President Joseph R. Biden Jr. (his father, James Biden Sr., is the vice president's brother) and is a rising D.J. on the New York-Hamptons party circuit. He spins regularly at the Surf Lodge in Montauk, N.Y., and at parties hosted by Ronnie Flynn, one of the promoters behind the downtown club Up & Down. When he is not playing records, Mr. Biden is a lead guitarist for Bloody Social, the rock band headed by Jamie Burke.

BIG BREAK His famous last name notwithstanding, Mr. Biden credits his success to being in the right place. In 2006, he met Mr. Burke outside the club Bungalow 8 when Mr. Burke was throwing up; the two decided to start a band. One night in 2009, he was spinning at the former nightclub Don Hill's when Rachid Kallamni, a D.J. manager, recruited him to play at Juliet Supper Club and 1 OAK.

LATEST PROJECT He is completing an album ("It's like rock with a little bit of country, a little bit of folk," he said) with his friend Petter Stakee, lead singer of the English rock band Alberta Cross. It is scheduled to be released this summer with New

As was the case with Hunter, Frankie (Joe's youngest brother) also has an unacknowledged daughter.[1902] Megan is not recognized by the Bidens and her name is excluded from the obituaries for Frankie's parents and other family members.[1903] Megan's mother, Judy Rodgers, was eight years older than Frankie.[1904] Frankie now lives with his "partner" in a home owned by his partner's parents.

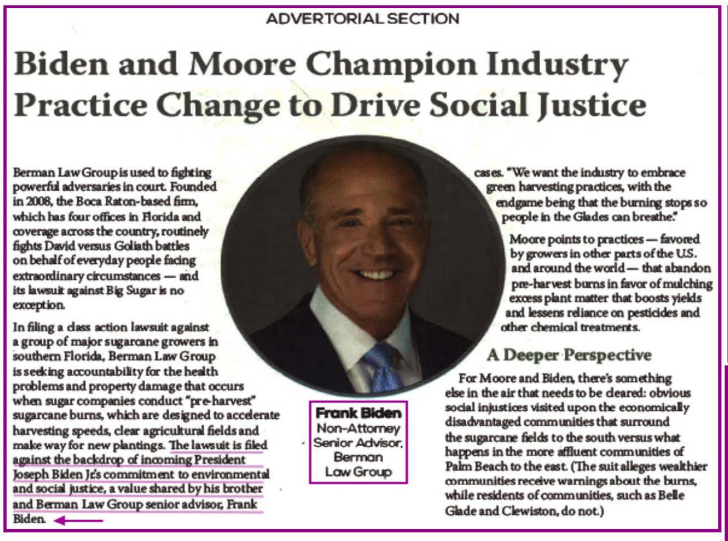
For decades, Joe dreamed of becoming the patriarch of a Kennedyesque clan. Joe achieved that dream in more ways than one: Frankie had his own Chappaquiddick-like fiasco that left two teenage girls without a father in a felony hit-and-run.[1907] According to the other passengers, Frankie told the driver of the car (which Frankie rented) to "keep driving" after Michael Albano was struck. (The Jaguar convertible was estimated to be traveling at 80mph in a 35mph speed zone.) For two decades, Joe's youngest brother ignored[1908] court orders and did not pay one "dime" to Albano's two daughters.[1909]

Frankie is still creating headaches.[1910] On the day his brother was inaugurated, the law firm where Frankie works—he is not a lawyer, by the way—ran an ad plugging Frankie's connection to Joe.[1911]



ADVERTORIAL SECTION

Biden and Moore Champion Industry Practice Change to Drive Social Justice

Berman Law Group is used to fighting powerful adversaries in court. Founded in 2008, the Boca Raton-based firm, which has four offices in Florida and coverage across the country, routinely fights David versus Goliath battles on behalf of everyday people facing extraordinary circumstances — and its lawsuit against Big Sugar is no exception.

In filing a class action lawsuit against a group of major sugarcane growers in southern Florida, Berman Law Group is seeking accountability for the health problems and property damage that occurs when sugar companies conduct "pre-harvest" sugarcane burns, which are designed to accelerate harvesting speeds, clear agricultural fields and make way for new plantings. The lawsuit is filed against the backdrop of incoming President Joseph Biden Jr.'s commitment to environmental and social justice, a value shared by his brother and Berman Law Group senior advisor, Frank Biden.

cases. "We want the industry to embrace green harvesting practices, with the endgame being that the burning stops so people in the Glades can breathe."

Moore points to practices — favored by growers in other parts of the U.S. and around the world — that abandon pre-harvest burns in favor of mulching excess plant matter that boosts yields and lessens reliance on pesticides and other chemical treatments.

A Deeper Perspective

For Moore and Biden, there's something else in the air that needs to be cleared: obvious social injustices visited upon the economically disadvantaged communities that surround the sugarcane fields to the south versus what happens in the more affluent communities of Palm Beach to the east. (The suit alleges wealthier communities receive warnings about the burns, while residents of communities, such as Belle Glade and Clewiston, do not.)

BIDEN was trying to impress young TURTON with the Jaguar automobile. It was BIDEN who physically switched the automobile from automatic to manual shift and then urged TURTON to drive it fast. BIDEN told TURTON not to shift it from 3rd to 4th gear until he, BIDEN told him to do so. It was also BIDEN who, overheard by both the female passengers, told TURTON after the incident to "keep driving."

MEMORANDUM OF POINTS AND AUTHORITIES

Eighteen years have passed since this Court entered judgment in favor of two young girls against Francis W. Biden for his part in the tragic death of the girls' father. Despite the passage of time and his ability to do so, Mr. Biden has refused to voluntarily pay even a single dollar toward satisfaction of the judgment. To compound his obstinacy, Mr. Biden is now willfully withholding information that would aid in the enforcement of the judgment.

For most teenagers, rock bottom would be getting arrested for attempting to steal DVDs. Frankie did just that, but he was 49-years-old when it occurred. On 10/27/2003 in Pompano Beach, Frankie purchased Blood Work but then stuffed Rabbit-Proof Fence and They down his pants and tried to walk out of Blockbuster. Frankie[1912] still lives in Florida[1913] with his partner, a former Hooters waitress.

Frankie claims he attended Cornell University from '75-'78 and Pepperdine School of Law, but he apparently did not graduate from either institution and neither school will confirm that he attended.[1914]

Probable Cause Affidavit

Before me this date personally appeared French, Sean 9518 who being first duly sworn deposes and says that on 27 day of October, 2003 (year), at 281 South Pompano Parkway Pompano Beach (crime location) the above named defendant committed the above offenses charged and the facts showing probable cause to believe the same are as follows:

On 10/27/03, I was dispatched to 281 South Pompano Parkway <Blockbuster> in reference to a in progress theft. While enroute, dispatch advised that the defendant was having an argument with the store workers. Upon arrival, Deputy Roberts and I made contact with the defendant who was at the cash register still causing a disturbance. The defendant had paid for one DVD Bloodworks and had received his receipt and was going to exit the store. At that time, contact was made with the defendant. Underneath of his shirt in the front of his pants, the defendant had concealed two other DVD's <Rabbit-Proof Fence 12.99 and They 14.99>. As the defendant was reaching for his waist bag, I saw the DVD's in the defendant's pants. The defendant's intent was to exit the store without paying for the above DVD's, however, he was unable to exit the store due to Deputies being on scene and making contact.

BANKROLLERS: BUCCINIS

An Italian clan whose patriarch[1920] recently passed, the Buccinis have built a formidable mid-Atlantic real estate empire and given tens of thousands of dollars to political action committees[1921] connected to Joe. The family[1922] featured prominently on the Biden Laptop and was an ever-present force[1923] in the Bidens' social lives and gatherings, which almost always included the Buccinis' patronage.[1924]

"STATEMENT" FROM BUREAUCRATS & SPOOKS

The statement below should stand as a solemn monument of the harm[1928] that the U.S. intelligence agencies and their current and former officials have done to the American republic and her future.[1929]

"We are all individuals who devoted significant portions of our lives to national security. Some of us served in senior positions in policy departments and agencies, and some of us served in senior positions in the Intelligence Community. Some of us were political appointees, and some were career officials. Many of us worked for presidents of both political parties.

We are all also individuals who see Russia as one of our nation's primary adversaries. All of us have an understanding of the wide range of Russian overt and covert activities that undermine US national security, with some of us knowing Russian behavior intimately, as we worked to defend our nation against it for a career. A few of us worked against Russian information operations in the United States in the last several years.

Perhaps most important, each of us believes deeply that American citizens should determine the outcome of elections, not foreign governments. All of us agree with the founding fathers' concern about the damage that foreign interference in our politics can do to our democracy.

It is for all these reasons that we write to say that the arrival on the US political scene of emails purportedly belonging to Vice President Biden's son Hunter, much of it related to his time serving on the Board of the Ukrainian gas company Burisma, has all the classic earmarks of a Russian information operation.

We want to emphasize that we do not know if the emails, provided to the New York Post by President Trump's personal attorney Rudy Giuliani, are genuine or not and that we do not have evidence of Russian involvement -- just that our experience makes us deeply suspicious that the Russian government played a significant role in this case.

If we are right, this is Russia trying to influence how Americans vote in this election, and we believe strongly that Americans need to be aware of this.

There are a number of factors that make us suspicious of Russian involvement.

Such an operation would be consistent with Russian objectives, as outlined publicly and recently by the Intelligence Community, to create political chaos in the United States and to deepen political divisions here but also to undermine the candidacy of former Vice President Biden and thereby help the candidacy of President Trump. For the Russians at this point, with Trump down in the polls, there is incentive for Moscow to pull out the stops to do anything possible to help Trump win and/or to weaken Biden should he win. A "laptop op" fits the bill, as the publication of the emails are clearly designed to discredit Biden.

[1928] "Talk about burying the lead—for 17 months."
See "Hunter Biden's Laptop is Finally News Fit to Print," Wall Street Journal, March 2022, archive.ph/88Hg7

[1929] "Public Statement on the Hunter Biden Emails," Politico, October 2020, web.archive.org/web/20201020061505/https://www.politico.com/f/?id=00000175-4393-d7aa-af77-579f9b330000

Such an operation would be consistent with some of the key methods Russia has used in its now multi-year operation to interfere in our democracy – the hacking (via cyber operations) and the dumping of accurate information or the distribution of inaccurate or misinformation. Russia did both of these during the 2016 presidential election – judgments shared by the US Intelligence Community, the investigation into Russian activities by Special Counsel Robert Mueller, and the entirety (all Republicans and Democrats) on the current Senate Intelligence Committee.

Such an operation is also consistent with several data points. The Russians, according to media reports and cybersecurity experts, targeted Burisma late last year for cyber collection and gained access to its emails. And Ukrainian politician and businessman Adriy Derkach, identified and sanctioned by the US Treasury Department for being a 10-year Russian agent interfering in the 2020 election, passed purported materials on Burisma and Hunter Biden to Giuliani.

Our view that the Russians are involved in the Hunter Biden email issue is consistent with two other significant data points as well. According to the Washington Post, citing four sources, “U.S. intelligence agencies warned the White House last year that Giuliani was the target of an influence operation by Russian intelligence.”

In addition, media reports say that the FBI has now opened an investigation into Russian involvement in this case. According to USA Today, “...federal authorities are investigating whether the material supplied to the New York Post by Rudy Giuliani...is part of a smoke bomb of disinformation pushed by Russia.”

We do not know whether these press reports are accurate, but they do suggest concern within Executive Branch departments and agencies that mirrors ours. It is high time that Russia stops interfering in our democracy.”

DEGENERACY

While serving on the board[1939] of Burisma and brokering deals[1940] with CCP-linked firms, Hunter and his associates—including[1941] his family—engaged in behavior that is reminiscent of Nero's era.[1942]

Archibald's was one of Hunter's go-to[1946] strip clubs in the nation's capital, and he often held court in the "VIP room." Hunter told Ivan [Novakovic], who worked at the club, that they "need some ladies[.]"

[1946] "The incident, which took place at Archibald's Gentlemen's Club in Washington, DC, late last year, represents the most recent alleged drug use by Biden, 49, who has acknowledged six stints in rehab for alcoholism and addiction that included a crack binge in 2016. Workers at Archibald's, located about three blocks north of the White House, said Biden was a regular there, with two bartenders and a security worker all instantly recognizing his photo and one worker identifying him by name. Security worker Ranko Petrovic said Biden — the son of former Vice President Joe Biden, the Democratic front-runner to challenge President Trump next year — would routinely hole up in a VIP room and drink during his visits."

[1950] "The full vice presidential treatment was in effect when Delaware National Guard troops came back from a year in Iraq with a Biden … Many soldiers were greeted by huge family contingents, probably none larger than the Bidens, welcoming home Beau Biden, the JAG captain, the attorney general, perhaps a Senate candidate. There were Joe and Jill, and Joe's sister Valerie and brother Jimmy, and Beau's wife Hallie and his brother Hunter … Joe and Jill left early, the vice president bound for a presidential meeting in the Situation Room. Beau Biden collected Natalie, his five-year-old daughter, in his arms and had little Hunter, his three-year-old son, astride his shoulders."

As Mr Lonely[1953] by "Portugal. The Man" raged in the background, Hunter shot a pornographic video at his rental home by propping his iPhone against an object. It is unclear, based on the video, whether or not the female[1954] was aware that Hunter was recording. Based on this ambiguity, the tryst is not included in the NON-CONSENSUAL PORNOGRAPHY subsection—there was no evidence on the Biden Laptop proving that the video was uploaded to one of Hunter's many pornography accounts.

Beau Biden & his widow (11/30/2002)

[1955] "The return of Hunter Biden into the news cycle is a reminder that most of our big mainstream media institutions are not merely biased, but partisan. They don't merely lean in a particular direction; their level of interest in a story is often directly proportional to the amount of damage that story could do to the Democrats at that time … It's not just that the son of a prominent political figure spent years working as a lobbyist and influence peddler in Washington, while insisting he never influenced his father's votes or decisions. It's not just that the son of a prominent political figure has a serious drug problem [] or hooked up with his late brother's widow. It's not just that the son of a prominent political figure had a child out of wedlock with a stripper. … It's not just that the son of a prominent political figure was hired do to minimal work on the corporate board of a foreign gas company … It's that Hunter Biden is all of that, combined, and then he decides one day he's going to be an artist, and starts selling his paintings for five-figure sums to buyers who will not be disclosed to the public, in an arrangement that enraged even Walter Shaub, head of the Office of Government Ethics in the Obama administration."

Hunter's addiction to crack cocaine severely damaged[1956] his dental health and hastened the demise of his teeth. However, CCP-linked[1957] firms ultimately paid for Hunter to have veneers installed, dubbed by some as the "CEFC Chiclets." Hunter took a photo after his teeth had been ground to a stump and before the veneers were put on, which has inspired numerous memes[1958] and shirts.[1959]

Hunter and his first cousin, Caroline, engaged in a makeshift photo shoot at the Surf and Sand Resort.[1974] After midnight, the pair (neither of whom were wearing pants) activated a strobe light-like device and proceeded to pose with outstretched arms in the doorway of their beachside villa. Hunter was, in his own[1975] words, "babysitting" Caroline; just one year earlier, Caroline pleaded guilty in New York City to stealing over $110,000 in a credit card scam, for which she received ten days of community service and probation.[1976] Unsurprisingly, that was not Caroline's first run-in with the law.

A month before the midnight strobe light photos were taken, Hunter's uncle Jimmy (Caroline's father) was busy supplicating on her behalf to her potential employers. Jimmy wrote to James GILLIAR that, although Caroline was "very attractive" and "fabulous with high profile people and is a great public speaker but is also very engaging with intellectuals and creative sorts," she had a number of problems. Namely, Caroline's chief struggle was that "most of her friends are independently wealthy," such as Ryan McKillen, one of the first[1977] employees for Uber.[1978] Jimmy also made sure to note that, even though Caroline "has had some ups and downs[1979] in her personal and professional life[,]"[1980] her family was still very proud of her. Jimmy then invoked his ever-present older brother: "As her uncle Joe would say, she [Caroline] has the most raw talent of any of us [in the Biden family]."

Subject: Caroline job opportunities in LA

James,

If you could also pass along to Tony that Caroline is very friendly with Ryan McKillen (who was head engineer for Uber?). I understand that Ryan is no longer with Uber, but Caroline and he became friends and neighbors in NYC. Caroline is very, very well-connected in social circles but so far has little ability to put personal relationships into business transactions. She is very attractive and incredibly bright, charismatic and creative. For the last 5 years she goes from one peak income (from selling art or real estate) to another with troughs in between, but is now ready to engage in a steady creative business atmosphere. She wants to do it on her own. She would do very well in any sales, marketing and creative endeavors. She is fabulous with high profile people and is a great public speaker but is also very engaging with intellectuals and creative sorts. The problem Caroline has had is that most of her friends are independently wealthy and she has not had a steady work environment that was challenging and engaging. Anything you can do in the immediate to help Caroline secure a job where she can earn a livable self-supporting income with the possibility of upward advancement would be greatly appreciated.

Caroline has had some ups and downs in her personal and professional life, but is now ready to take personal responsibility and prove herself. As her uncle Joe would say, she has the most raw talent of any of us. She's just looking for the right opportunity to start.

Thank you for any help and assistance you can provide. Right now she is staying with a friend in the Pacific Palisades. Attaching her resume again for your reference. She is prepared to take interviews/meetings immediately.

A conversation between Caroline and Hunter in January 2019 shed more light on the character and priorities of the person with the most "raw talent" of anyone in the Biden family. Caroline claimed her doctor violated HIPAA (42 USC § 1320d-6) by disclosing to Caroline that a famous model, Bella Hadid,[1981] had an inverted penis, to which Hunter responded: "[T]hAt may be interesting … Ha[.]" Caroline confided to Hunter that she "got a designer[1982] vagina for 35 K from her [Hadid's] doctor and there wasn't a thing wrong with [hers][.] [Caroline] wanted the best vagina in the world … [she's] never having kids … why not[?]" The exchange between the first cousins ended with Caroline giving Hunter access to her Raya online dating account, an invite-only application for so-called "elites."[1983]

Hunter commissioned[1994] multiple naked paintings of himself from a British artist, Phillipa HORAN.[1995] An Isle of Wight native, HORAN[1996] received this iMessage from Hunter: "I would like a photo of your unfinished portrait - I promise to show know [sic] one but it really does in spire me for sop ne [sic] reason." In a portrait entitled "Love Is A Dog," Hunter is naked and pointing with his left hand while his favorite sex webcam site is visible on a screen. HORAN[1997] also sent to Hunter another unfinished pencil sketch and painting of Hunter's back, which features his snake-like Finger Lakes tattoo.[1998]

ACKNOWLEDGMENTS

Vicious lies and numerous other derogatory comments from a former[2008] podcast co-host, a bisexual "essayist"[2009] for Rolling Stone, and a plethora of anonymous[2010] critics fueled this Report's completion. Marco Polo earnestly hopes that these obstructionists[2011][2012][2013][2014] will be remembered for their (futile) attempts to sabotage the full exposure of the hundreds of crimes on the Biden Laptop.

Conversely, the authors tip their hats in sincere gratitude to the following institutions and individuals:

- The School of Law at the University of Akron for their abbreviation guide[2015] to U.S. courts
- Google Inc. and their "Earth"[2016] tool, which helped map out Hunter's human trafficking networks
- Derek Galanis[2017] for his time discussing the Indian bond fraud case, which implicated Hunter
- Seamus Bruner for his well-organized writings[2018] on the Bidens' foreign entanglements
- Ron Scott[2019] for his assistance, Christian brotherliness, and candid assessment of the saga
- Mike McCormick[2020] for his unique first-hand insights into Joe's foreign (business) travels
- Enrique, Michael, & Linda for their generosity, along with each and every supporter of Marco Polo

Most importantly, we thank our wives for their counsel and our children for inspiration. PLVS VLTRA

- "Drug use???? You have to be ducking kidding me. I was banned for drug use at the Chateau Marmont. You have to be fucking kidding me." (Mike Racanelli on 07/19/2018)
- "Don't talk to anyone about me other than to say he's great. Period the end. I expect you to defend me against any and everyone who even hints that they mAy say something negative about me even if you know I'm Wrong." (Ashley Biden on 09/22/2018)
- "I've decided to become a male stripper" (Phillipa HORAN on 09/27/2018)
- "So no need to ask for warnings of when you need to hide under whom ever's wife you're fucking in Greenville . … I realized there really isn't anyone now that would give a shit if you fell off a bridge drunk and were never seen again. Really I don't even think you're kids would care" (David I. Walsh II on 10/14/2018)
- "What a cunt you are. Ive never been dishonest about whether I'm using or not. Your the l;ieing piece of shit in that regard and every other. Stay the fuck out of my head Hallie no more help from you because you love. It is driving me insane." (Hallie Olivere Biden on 11/21/2018)
- "I think women should be able to veto the sperm a man purposely or accidentally released into a woman's vagina with her consent and often without her consent. I think men who don't know are responsibility fully for children they have produced through their intent or their irresponsibility should be required to shoulder exactly half of all the work and emotion that raising a child requires." (Brianna Bardhi on 12/21/2018)
- "Love is love love is a dog and I'm a dog" (Erin Elizabeth Tessitore Varriale Hendry Alberto on 12/27/2018)
- "I can't wait to watch you beg me to fuck you. I can't wait for you to sit alone and wonder why you had to be such a cunt while you suck some fat husbands Dick you had to marry because you can't take care of yourself … If you were to die tomorrow I wouldn't shed a single tear. … how I fucking was seduced by a middle aged whore like you is beyond me. … Fuck my step mother for always being as much of a selfish silly entitled cunt as you" (Hallie Olivere Biden on 12/27/2018)
- God is "just a fictional character from the imagination of the collective frightened" (George Mesires on 01/01/2019)
- "Lets have you shut the fuck up and go for a run and maybe get uber eats with maisy off of my account" (Kathleen Buhle on 01/02/2019)
- "seeing that you actually had the nerve to ask a 49 year old man and father of 5 if my Dad may not run for President because its been reported during my divorce that i've gone strip clubs, or whether I went to rehab and quit drinking when my brother asked me to when I 33 years old because he said it took up too much time we could be spending together, or that I relapsed when Beau died and Kathleen and I separated 2 months later— the answer I=s No and what a stupid fucking question." (Doug Brinkley in a draft email in response to a Vanity Fair story (archive.ph/OeUny) by Chris Smith on 01/18/2019)
- "I'm more respectful than anyone you've ever met!" (Aleksandra MASHKIVTSEVA on 01/18/2019)
- "for Christs sake man get me some girls any half decent looking girls number. II's truly seems the last available distraction I can supposedly indulge in and im stuck with a woman who either has ice in her veins or she more likely is borderline narcissist with real issues around the pain she still carry's from her earliest experiences with men. In other words help me get the fuck out before I sink the fuck back down again. And not with the psychotherapy bullshit (kidding) I need a girl to seduce (not kidding)." (Keith Ablow on 01/27/2019)
- "You're manipulative slow witted liar that does not deserve my respect seeing as you lost all notion what self respect is beginning with the likes of kermit justice all the way through to the small dicked town drunk David Walsh who was fucking your sister a hooters waitress from smyrna the whore dupont and you at the same time. It amazes me how desperate women of a certain age can become. You and liz and Lisa stone can all be out looking for married men to fuck while they watch tv and get fat liken there mothers." (Hallie Olivere Biden on 01/28/2019)
- "Ive never done a dishonest business transaction in my life … Im the most ethical man you will ever know" (Hallie Olivere Biden on 02/24/19)

“A nation can survive its fools and even the ambitious. But it cannot survive treason from within. An enemy at the gates is less formidable, for he is known and he carries his banners openly against the city. But the traitor moves among those within the gates freely, his sly whispers rustling through all the alleys, heard in the very halls of government itself. For the traitor appears no traitor; he speaks in the accents familiar to his victims, and he wears their face and their garments, and he appeals to the baseness that lies deep in the hearts of all men. He rots the soul of a nation; he works secretly and unknown in the night to undermine the pillars of a city; he infects the body politic so that it can no longer resist. A murderer is less to be feared.”

A Pillar of Iron (1965) by Taylor Caldwell
